Frondizi Arrival Well Guarded

Red Roses, 21-Gun Salute Greet Argentine President

Bouquet For President Frondizi's Wife

. . . from Argentine-born Miami girl, Alacia Lewis

President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina flew into Miami Friday night to a reception of red roses, a 21-gun salute, handshakes and a cordon of police, fearful of rumors of an assasination attempt.

His 10-day visit in the U.S. had been "very satisfying in every way," the president said.

"I did not come to this country seeking anything," he said.

"My mission was one of brotherhood between our nations and my reception in this country has been very gratifying."

The most comprehensive and extensive security precautions witnessed in the Miami area in recent years covered President Frondizi from three hours before his plane landed until he was safely tucked away for the night at the Fontainebleau Hotel on Miami Beach.

Francis X. Watterson, special agent for security of the State Department's Miami office, said that every possible precaution had been taken.

Precautions were intensified because of reports reaching State Department intelligence sources that an attempt on President Frondizi's life might be made by disgruntled followers of the former Argentine dictator, Juan Peron.

Watterson declined to comment on the reports but he admitted that abnormal security precautions were taken.

The reports of the Peronista activity arose about seven or eight days ago. The fact that Miami is the last U.S. stopping point of the Argentine president pin-pointed this area as a possible site for an assassination attempt.

The president and his smiling wife were presented with a bouquet of flaming red roses by a pretty 12-year-old Argentine girl.

Alacia Lewis, who now lives with her parents at 1070 NW 108th Ter. bowed as she handed the roses to Mrs. Frondizi, saying in Spanish:

"On behalf of Dade County, I present you with these roses. Welcome to Miami."

President Frondizi will be guest of honor tonight at a state dinner which ambassadors from all of the Latin American countries and the consular corps of Miami will attend. He will be honor guest at the dedication of Miami's new airport Sunday.

U.S. Sen. George Smathers, recognized as the "spokesman" for Latin America in the upper house of Congress, will deliver the principal address.

Progress Knocks At Salerno's Door

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

SALERNO — It's nice to be able to report that my favorite to-heck-with-progress town is still resisting nobly—in the face of swelling odds.

How much longer they can hold the line is debatable. The bulldozers are clanking and puffing all around the town's perimeter. One enterprising real estate operator has cut a big canal into Manatee Pocket, around which the town lies.

There's more huffing and puffing over on Rocky Point, within rifle shot of the St. Lucie inlet.

The commercial fishermen, who make up the core of this town's year around population, remain quite unimpressed. Most of them still hold to the theory that paint is stuff you must put on boats, but not necessarily on houses.

Only real shocker of the downtown area is the huge and modernistic Salerno Apartment Motel, which looks about as out of place as a Park Ave. dowager tieing one on in a back country juke joint.

Business there appeared far from brisk.

Friends said that the type of people who come to Salerno as tourists—sports fishermen, artists, writers and other seekers of the "different"—prefer the more simple local accommodations.

One rambling old fish house has given up the ghost and its site now is occupied by the new and shiny Manatee Marina with modern cottages, a boat ramp and complete marine service.

But places like the long established Fishin' Hole and Pirates Cove Hotel still draw the faithful, the ones who come here year after year. Trailer folks predominate at the Fishin' Hole, although there is also a brisk trade in cottage and boat rentals.

The Manatee Marina was financed by the fellow who

To Our Readers

Effective Sunday, February 1, the price of The Miami Herald Sunday edition will be 20 cents. This is the first Sunday increase in 13 years.

Expanded editorial coverage, plus greatly increased costs of newsprint, larger payrolls and higher printing and distribution costs account for the change.

The seven-day weekly home delivered rate will be 50 cents. Your carrier and street vendors will share in this increase.

Blast Rocks Big Plant

FOLLANSBEE, W.VA. — (AP) —A series of explosions touched off a raging fire at the Koppers Co. Plant here early today.

There was no immediate report on the number of casualties, if any, but plant officials and Follansbee police appealed for fire equipment and ambulances.

At least 25 towns and villages within a 26-mile radius sent fire and rescue equipment to the scene, just across the Ohio River from Steubenville, Ohio.

A company watchman reached by telephone said he did not know if there were any casualties.

Reports in Follansbee indicated that at least three huge storage tanks containing naptha, ammonia or some similar coal-tar by-product may have gone up in the blasts.

Cuba Cuts Off Civil Liberties

Move Designed To Speed Trials

HAVANA, Cuba — (UPI) — The Cuban government suspended three articles of the constitution for 90 days Friday to give revolutionary tribunals sweeping jurisdiction over "war criminals" and to speed trials.

The action will let revolutionary authorities arrest and hold suspects for more than 72 hours without producing them in court and will permit the tribunals to try civilian as well as military defendants.

The trials were scheduled to be resumed in Havana's Cabana fortress and nearby Camp Columbia on an accelerated basis. Foremost defendent was "war criminal No. 3," Lt. Col. Ricardo L. Grao.

Simultaneously, the supreme military tribunal was summoned to hear appeals of the top two "war criminals," Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco and Maj. Pedro Morejon Valdes.

Informed sources predicted the appeals would be rejected and the two men would be shot at dawn.

Firing squads Friday executed one soldier and four members of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer's private army in Manzanillo. They were convicted of being "war assassins."

The council of ministers moved to legalize gambling again in the same session in which it suspended the constitutional guarantees.

Meeting until nearly dawn—much of Cuba's official business is conducted at night to escape the daytime heat — the ministers designated a high-level three-man commission to draft a new gambling law.

Revolutionary Leader Fidel Castro has said that if the casinos were reopened, "respectable businessmen" would have to operate them, no Cubans could gamble in them and the government would get 50 to 70 per cent of the take.

This appeared to mean the old Las Vegas crowd that operated the casinos under President Fulgencio Batista was out.

Castro and President Manuel Urrutia had opposed any organized gambling under the new regime, but apparently pressure from about 10,000 Cubans who benefit directly or indirectly from the casinos, plus their value as a tourist attraction, changed their minds.

25th Thor Roars Off On Full-Range Test

CAPE CANAVERAL — (AP) — The nation's 25th Thor intermediate range ballistic missile surged up Friday night on the roaring start of another full-range space test.

The powerful Thor — already on operational alert status with NATO forces in England — shot skyward from a cascade of white flame and smoke at 8:53 p.m. The blastoff appeared to run smoothly in contrast with the last shoot Dec. 20 when the 65-foot war rocket blew apart in spectacular style, high in the sky.

The Thor was blinking as it climbed. Once again it was equipped with a huge light capable of generating 17 million candlepower.

As the Douglas weapon reached spaceward huge ballistic tracking cameras stationed at strategic spots along the range zeroed in on the flashing light.

The cameras record the missile's space trip with pinpoint accuracy. The launching was another 1,700 statute mile full-range shot. Thor was designed for this distance but it once traveled as far as 2,600 miles on an earlier test.

North Florida Will Get Cold

A south-bound cold wave will push into North Florida today — but the Gold Coast area won't be hit, the weatherman said Friday.

Rain was also forecast for northernmost Florida.

Everywhere else in Florida, the weatherman said, temperatures will remain in the high 60s to low 80s, with clear skies.

Proud to Be Chosen

2 Pilots Named Space Candidates

FAIRBANKS, Alaska —(AP)— Bewildered but proud, two veteran Air Force test pilots are trying to digest the news that they might soon swap their super-sonic jet planes for a spaceship.

Capt. Bogan

. . . 'hard to believe'

Capt. Bradbury

. . . wife doesn't know

Capt. Tom Bogan, 35, and Capt. William Bradbury, 33, were informed that they had been chosen with 108 other men as candidates for man's first venture to outer space.

Their names were the first to be released after the spaceman program was announced Tuesday by Keith Glennan, U.S. space chief.

"It was pretty hard to believe," Bogan said and Bradbury nodded in agreement.

The two pilots were interviewed by News Director Ken Conner of Radio Station KFRB, who had learned of the men's selection for the space project from an undisclosed news source. Air Force officials confirmed it.

Bogan and Bradbury are on temporary duty at Eielson Air Force Base near here from Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Bogan flies an F106 in subzero temperature tests while Bradbury speed tests an F101B.

Bogan, of Goodland, Ind., and Bradbury, who hails from Houston, Tex., told Conner they have had no special training as yet for the space venture. But both have more than double the required 1,500 flying hours and are within the maximum height of 5 feet 11 inches.

"My six-year-old daughter is just learning to say jet airplane," Bradbury said thoughtfully, "and would not realize what the mission involves."

The two pilots are married but their wives do not yet know of their husbands' candidacy as U.S. spacemen.

Debbie Asks Early Trial

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Debbie Reynolds Friday asked for early trial of her suit for divorce from Eddie Fisher and the date was set as Feb. 17.

Her attorney told the court the two have reached a property settlement, terms undisclosed. He said she wants an early divorce so she can go to Spain at the end of the month to make a movie.

The screen beauty and the crooner split last year over the latter's attentions to Actress Elizabeth Taylor. Eddie and Liz have been frequent companions since.

When Miss Reynolds filed her suit last December she did not mention Miss Taylor. Her charge was cruelty of an unspecified nature. Fisher is not contesting the action.

John L. Lewis Enters Hospital

WASHINGTON — (AP) — John L. Lewis, 78, president of the United Mine Workers of America, entered Georgetown University Hospital Friday night for observation.

Dr. John Minor said Lewis had had a little trouble the past few days and there was some question as to whether it had been a heart attack. The doctor said Lewis' condition was serious enough to suggest hospital observation for a few days.

Lewis suffered a minor heart attack in 1955 and spent two weeks in a hospital then.

Titanic's Death Toll Was 1,517

By United Press International

The ramming of an iceberg by a Danish freighter in the North Atlantic Friday was reminiscent of the sinking of the liner Titanic in 1912 — the worst peace-time ship disaster in recent history.

The $7,500,000 Titanic, described by its builders as unsinkable, was on its maiden voyage from England to the U.S. when it struck an iceberg off Newfoundland.

A total of 1,517 persons, including John Jacob Astor and others prominent in business, industry and society, lost their lives. The liner Carpathia, which heard the Titanic's SOS, rescued about 706 persons from the water and from lifeboats.

The same year that the Titanic sank the Japanese steamship Kickermaru went down off the coast of Japan. That disaster killed 1,000 persons.

The collision of the liner Andrea Doria and the Stockholm off Nantucket island on July 25, 1956, was the last major ship disaster in the Atlantic. The Andrea Doria sank with a loss of 50 lives.

Other major ship disasters have included:

Collision of the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Ireland with a Danish collier in the St. Lawrence river in 1914, with a loss of 1,024 lives.

Sinking of the Chinese steamer Hain Yu off the China coast in 1916, with a loss of 1,000 lives.

Sinking of the steamer Hong Kong off the China coast after hitting a rock in 1921, with a loss of 1,200 lives.

Parallels Titanic Disaster

20-Foot-Waves May Doom Danish Vessel

HALIFAX, N.S. — (AP) — A little Danish ship on her maiden voyage smashed into an iceberg off Greenland Friday and radioed she was sinking slowly in the pitching, icy blackness of the North Atlantic.

Ships within call moved swiftly to the bleak area but stood by helpless to aid the stricken ship because of fog and heavy seas.

The 2,875-ton Hans Hedtoft, with 95 aboard was going down about 1,300 miles from the North Atlantic graveyard of the Titanic in an uncanny parallel to one of history's great disasters.

The Titanic was on her maiden voyage in 1912 when she struck an iceberg south of Newfoundland and went down with the loss of more than 1,500 passengers and crew.

Ships within call of the Hans Hedtoft moved swiftly to the bleak area but were buffeted wildly by the heavy seas in a hazardous, suspenseful rescue effort.

Denmark's Greenland department said in Copenhagen there were 95 persons aboard the vessel — 40 crew members and 55 passengers. The passengers were all Danes and Greenlanders, the department said.

Three ships early Saturday were reported to have reached the area of the Hedtoft but they were fighting 60 m.p.h. winds and 20-foot waves in their effort to aid her.

They were identified as the German trawler Justus Haslinger, the German cargo ship Johanna Kreuz and an unidentified Faroe Island trawler.

The Johanna Kreuz was said to have got a spotlight aimed at the Danish ship but there was no word of how close the rescuers actually were to the vessel.

The Faroe trawler later reported she was running into difficulty herself in the battering seas and asked the two German ships to be ready to assist her.

Nine smaller ships set out from Greenland through a blizzard to try assisting the sinking ship but the Greenland Navy Command said three of the nine had been forced to drop anchor because they found it impossible to navigate in the blinding storm.

The weather station here said there was little hope conditions would improve before Sunday.

The Greenland Navy said all radio contact with the Hedtoft was lost at 7:52 p.m. Friday. Until that time the Greenland radio station at Prins Christians Sound had been in contact with the ship.

But the messages from the

Russia 5 Years Ahead On ICBMs, Expert Says

Von Braun Reports To Senate

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Dr. Wernher von Braun said Friday it would take the U.S. five years to overtake Russia in the intercontinental ballistic missile field even if this country decided to go all out.

The German-born rocket expert, head of developmental work at the Army's Ballistic Missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., told Senate investigators he was speaking from a technological standpoint, without reference to numbers of ICBM's.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy testified Thursday that Russia will have more ICBM's in a year or two because this country is not trying to match the Soviet missile for missile. He said neither nation now has an "operational" ICBM.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) said that McElroy was "not correct" when he said Thursday the U.S. would have a squadron of intercontinental ballistic missiles ready for use on the west coast in July.

Symington, a former Air Force secretary, said "there is no plan to have anything like one operational squadron of ICBM's in July of this year."

Von Braun, referring to peaceful space exploration, also said it would take the U.S. a year to overtake Russia in that field even if the Soviets stood still during that time.

Von Braun joined Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the Federal Space Agency, in testifying before the Senate Space-Preparedness Committee that Russia is ahead of the U.S. in space exploration.

Glennan said it was reasonable to assume that Russia's great rocket power had shot the Soviets a year and a half ahead. Like others, he said it is in rocket thrust that the Soviets enjoy an advantage. Glennan said this country is equal in most other fields and is working with wartime speed on rockets.

As for ICBM's, Von Braun said that if Russia continues full speed ahead, it would take the U.S. five years to catch up — provided the U.S. decided on an accelerated program.

Von Braun asked for an additional $140,000,000 alone to speed construction of a cluster of Jupiter rockets. They would be used to hurl a militarily valuable communications satellite into orbit or to send tons of equipment deep into space.

The cluster would have one and a half million pounds of thrust. But according to committee testimony it would not be ready for three years under present planning.

Von Braun agreed with Glennan and two of Glennan's aides — Drs. Homer Stewart and W. H. Pickering — that there is nothing phony about Russis's claim that its "Lunik" rocket shot past the moon and is now orbiting the sun.

Flames Rage Through Castle-Like Nursing Home

9 Die as Flames Hit Nursing Home

GLEN ELLYN, Ill. — (UPI) — Uncontrollable fire raged through an old, castle-like nursing home Friday, trapping elderly and crippled patients in their beds and killing at least nine persons.

The last charred body was taken from the ruins of the Glen Ellyn Acres Nursing Home Friday night, after flames swept the second floor of the rambling stucco and frame mansion.

Seven bodies, none identified, were found in the burned-out building. Another man was dead of burns on arrival at a hospital and Assistant Fire Chief Don Stoffrengan, 58, suffered a fatal heart attack while manning a fire truck.

Fire Chief James Brody called off the search for more bodies after the discovery of the last victim huddled on the first floor near the chimney.

Ten patients and seven employes of the home were hospitalized with burns and other injuries.

The fire apparently started in the electrical wiring on the second floor of the home, an antique building known as "The Castle" which was believed to be almost 100 years old. Only the walls of the building were left standing. Damage was estimated at $50,000.

Nurses, orderlies and firemen carried the survivors, many of them screaming, from the building as flames leaped 40 feet into the air. Many of the patients were unable to walk. A 200-pound bedfast woman was too heavy to carry and had to be abandoned to the flames.

Firemen and orderlies told how they were unable to save old persons even though they reached their sides. In many cases, the would be rescuers were driven back by flames which licked at the victims' bodies.

Colombia's Ex-Dictator Well-Heeled

BOGOTA, Colombia—(UPI) Former Dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla admitted under direct questioning by a senate prosecutor that his personal fortune was increased by presents accepted from both Colombian and foreign citizens while he was president.

He also admitted that he filed no income tax returns or kept books on a cattle business owned by himself and other members of his family.

The interrogation was conducted by Sen. Carlos Lleras Restrepo, head of the Liberal Party. Rojas Pinilla is being tried by the senate on charges of abuse of power, violation of the constitution and undignified conduct while in office.

The former dictator burst into a rage when told to stand up to answer the questions asked him. He shouted that he should be shown respect as a former president of Colombia. However, he then stood up to answer every time he was questioned.

Under Lleras Restrepo's grilling, Rojas Pinilla contradicted himself several times, hesitated and eluded direct answers to several questions.

UF to Admit Another Negro

GAINESVILLE — (P — The University of Florida said Friday it will admit a Negro in-service teacher to the graduate school for the second semester beginning Feb. 9.

University officials declined to disclose the student's name in advance of registration.

The new student will be the second Negro to enter the university. George Starke Jr., 27, of Orlando, son of a Sanford physician enrolled in the college of law Sept. 15.

The University's announcement followed close on a statement by Gov. LeRoy Collins that the 1959 legislature ought to consider closing graduate schools at Florida A&M University at Tallahassee.

Fire Sweeps Chicago School

CHICAGO —(UPI)— A special alarm fire tore through an old three-story public grammar school on the city's South Side Friday night.

Police said it was not immediately known whether anyone was in the school at the time.

Fire officials sounded a general alarm, then followed with two specials, sending 50 pieces of equipment and 250 men to the Ferrin Grammar School at (50th and Wabash).

It was the city's second major public elementary school fire in two weeks. In mid-January the roof and fourth floor of the Arnold Elementary School were burned through while firemen fought in subzero cold.

A 14-member precision drill team from the Homestead Air Base and a four-man color guard carrying the flags of both the U.S. and Argentina participated in the formal greetings.

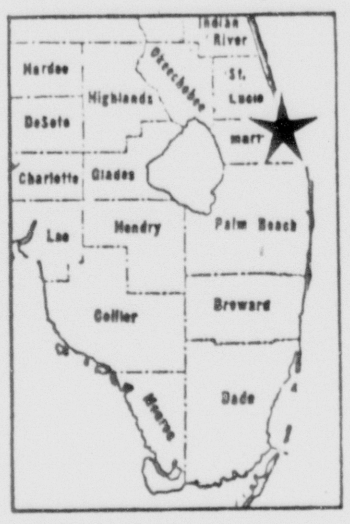
makes those vibrating chairs, and as the local folks watched the big place take form there were a lot of gags about how efficient they must be in shaking money out of their purchasers.

My longtime friend here, Lee Frazier, the fellow who gained immortal fame by sawing a boat in two when he and his partner argued about its ownership, has pulled up and gone. No one was quite sure where, but there was a report that he decided the town was getting "too danged grown up."

Lee's murals still decorate one of the downtown bistros. The fellow held to the theory that no picture was worth painting if it required anything smaller than a three inch brush.

Harold Kline, another friend and who sometimes doubles as my local spy here, is back for his umpteenth winter, and as enthusiastic about the old town as he always has been. Harold owns the big Lost Lake summer resort in New York state.



Salerno Location

When that is locked up for the season he hurries down here and occupies a fisherman's little cottage he bought years ago on a street lined with drying fish nets and boats in various stages of disrepair. The inside is modernized. The outside remains untouched.

Harold is an ardent apostle of the let's-keep-things-simple school of thought, but he has done quite well on the splurge of real estate activities around the town. He did his buying in the years before everyone went crazy.

William M. Stanger, a resident here, is currently waging a one-man and apparently not quite successful campaign against juvenile delinquency. Probably these kids are no worse than the kids in other towns, but Stanger thinks there's a very broad sprinkling of young hellions.

In letters to The Stuart News, the county judge, the sheriff, and the prosecuting attorney, he charged that a house burned to the ground because some young so and so stole the gas out of the Volunteer Fire Department's truck.

With tongue in cheek, he listed a long list of other depredations the kids might try, virtually everything from pulling up young corn to poisoning the well at the orphanage.

Still another new touch here is a small but fine state park and boat-launching site where boats turn in from the main channel. The place bulges with family groups having fun.

O'Conner's Restaurant, whose beef stews we have touted the length of Florida, has been sold and is now the Pendora (it is NOT Pandora). Our local spy says the food is good, and at prices so low they would make a Miami restaurant keeper drop dead.

It's still a nice old town, but progress may get 'em yet.

Ship Hits Iceberg: 95 Aboard

ship gradually grew weaker and scattered words indicating the ship was going down at the time of the last transmission. The Greenland command said, however, it thought the message could have been misunderstood because of heavy garbling.

The scene of the battle against the savage Northern Sea was just off the storm-enshrouded southern tip of Greenland.

The first distress signal from the Hedtoft crackled over the air at 11:54 a.m. Friday. It gave her position as 37 miles off Greenland and 600 miles below the Arctic Circle. Then the message added tersely:

"Collision with an iceberg."

Shortly after the Hedtoft flashed her first SOS she reported she was "filling fast." Later she added to the urgency of her plight with the word: "Taking a lot of water in engine room . . . need immediate assistance."

American and Canadian planes tried to take to the air from Newfoundland and Labrador with survival gear for the ship. But they were halted as they taxied toward takeoff because of the slashing storm surrounding the disaster area.

The Danish shipbuilders who constructed her for their government regarded her as the safest and most modern of Arctic ships. She was designed especially to push her way through the heavy pack ice around Greenland.

She was equipped with the latest navigation and warning instruments and her lifeboats were said to be the most modern of any on merchant ships.

Her skipper, Capt. P. L. Rasmussen, 58, was reputed to be the greatest of all his nation's Arctic navigators. For more than 30 years he has tested his skill against the treacherous waters around Greenland.

The ship left Copenhagen Jan. 7 and docked at Godthaab, capital of Greenland, on her maiden voyage that was to put her in service on the Denmark-Greenland run.

Then she began the return voyage to Denmark. She cleared the tip of Greenland and turned her heavy, welded hull east and headed for home. She was 37 miles south of Cape Farewell, the extreme southern tip of the big island, when the iceberg crossed her path.

There was no explanation why the ship's warning equipment did not detect the ice barrier.

Sedition Trial Ends

SAN FRANCISCO — (UPI) — A mistrial was declared Friday in the Powell-Schuman sedition case and the government immediately charged the three defendants with treason. Maximum penalty for a treason conviction is death.

Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman, 67, dismissed the sedition trial because of what were described as "exaggerated" news reports that Goodman considered the evidence sufficient for a conviction of treason.

The defendants were John Powell, 39, and his wife, Sylvia, 38, both of San Francisco, and Julian Schuman, 38, of New York City.

The Powells published the China Monthly Review in Shanghai during the Korean war and Schuman worked for them. They were charged with printing lies such as that the U.S. used germ warfare in Korea.

These articles, it was charged, harmed the war effort of the U.S. and its allies.

Surges of Pacific winds across the Northwestern states have continued to spread moisture for light snow through the northern Rockies and into South Dakota and Nebraska while the build up of cool air over the plateau states has given snow thru eastern Nevada and stormy weather in the mountains of western Utah.

Clearing skies are expected over New England with colder weather from the Plains to the Atlantic and most of the Gulf states. A moist pattern across the southland will spread northward again Saturday offering chance of snow and sleet from Western Tennessee into portions of the lower Ohio Valley.

Snow flurries will be scattered over the Great Lakes and into the Northern and Central Appalachians.

Fair weather should remain in the Southwest with slightly cooler air settling into northern Airzona but in the cold pattern of fair skies over northern portions of the plains and Mississippi Valley temperatures are forecast as low as 35 below zero in Minnesota and North Dakota.

Periods of rainy weather are in view over the northern Pacific states with light rain reaching northern California during the night while showers of rain or snow are likely across the northern plateau region.

Horsemeat Suspect Is A Parolee

By C. G. BERNING
Herald Staff Writer

George B. Turner, 45-year-old meat cutter charged with butchering stolen horses, is under life sentence for murder in Georgia.

His record, including a federal hold order for alleged "rustling," was disclosed when Assistant Public Defender Arthur Starke asked Judge Ben C. Willard to release Turner without bond pending trial.

Starke said Turner has not been in any other trouble during seven years residence in Dade County.

He withdrew the request when he learned Turner was sentenced to life imprisonment for murder at Reidsville, Ga. April 24, 1941 and later released on parole

Judge Willard dismissed one information against Turner and Max Breeden, 32, of 6840 SW 28th Ter. as technically defective and set Feb. 10 for trial on amended charges.

Breeden is charged with renting a riding horse and selling it to Turner.

Judge Willard also set for Feb. 10 trial of Turner and James Wood, 35 of NW 57th Ave. and 167th St., who is missing under bond. They are charged with lassoing and killing two race horses.

The horsemeat was sold to greyhound owners. Metro police brought some of it to court as evidence.

6 Airlines Get Route Certificates

Six Greater Miami airlines are among 23 applicants to receive operating certificates by the Civil Aeronautics Board in a new class — the supplemental airline.

The new lines will be permitted to operate scheduled passenger and freight services in the U.S., but will be limited to 10 round-trips a month each between any two cities. They also may conduct unlimited scheduled domestic charter service.

Five-year certificates went to Southern Air Transport Inc., Miami, and World Airways Inc., Miami Springs.

Two-year certificates were awarded to All American Airways Inc. and Associated Air Transport Inc., both of Miami, and Regina Cargo Airlines Inc., and Conner Airlines Inc., both of Miami Springs.

The board ruled Argonaut Airways Corp., Miami, was qualified, but had to apply specifically for certificates before it can be granted final authorization.

Sheriff Plea Nets Rebuff

Metro Sheriff Tom Kelly's appeal for a 105 per cent increase in the size of his Safety Department force met deaf ears in County Manager O. W. Campbell's office.

Campbell said he wouldn't even consider the request until it was "made through channels"—submitted to Budget Director Harry Toulmin.

Kelly made public his 1959-60 budget request at the same time he sent a copy to Campbell. The Sheriff wants money to increase the force from 753 to 1,538 members, with the fire department getting the largest share.

Tout Shot Wrong Madala, Hialeah Track Officials Say

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Joe Madala John Madala

. . . peeved at Joe, gunman shot John

Maxim Gay, the crippled tout who pumped three bullets into John Madala, Hialeah Race Course security chief, meant to shoot Madala's brother instead, track authorities disclosed Friday.

The brother, Joseph Madala, is a member of the security force in charge of tip sheet operations.

Gay, an elderly tip sheet peddler, bent with arthritis, told investigators he sought revenge because the track had "taken away my living" by prohibiting sales on the premises.

"Joe was the one that Gay was looking for," revealed Everett Clay, track executive.

Witnesses to the shooting recalled that Gay later told Joseph Madala:

"You are the one I was trying to kill."

Track officials further noted that John Madala was not acquainted with Gay.

John had just finished talking with his brother at the track Thursday when Gay walked up and suddenly fired three .38 caliber slugs into the security director.

Madala's condition was listed as serious Friday at Doctor's Hospital, where doctors are treating him for bullet wounds in the abdomen, left side and left hand.

Actually, Clay said, tip sheet salesmen have not been allowed to hawk their wares at the Hialeah track for the last five years.

"Gay apparently was angry because tip sheet peddlers were permitted to operate at Tropical this year and not at Hialeah," Clay commented.

Tip sheets attempt to pick winners for racing fans willing to pay 35 or 50 cents for the information.

At Hialeah the cards are sold at news stands in the clubhouse and grandstand for 35 cents. At other tracks, the peddlers, who sell direct to the customer, generally charge 50 cents.

Eight different cards are sold at Hialeah. Publishers are required to pay a $1,000 license fee to the City of Hialeah and $500 to the state.

After the races the tip sheet salesmen boost their product by giving away cards listing their winners for the day.

Meanwhile, State Attorney Richard Gerstein reported he was withholding the filing of charges against Gay pending the outcome of Madala's injuries.

At present Gay is booked in county jail on charges of assault with intent to commit murder in the first degree.

Gay himself, formerly loquacious and unremorseful, clammed up Friday and refused to talk.

Track Crook War Continuing Affair

Trying to stamp out crooked horseplayers — like athlete's foot — is a never-ending battle which keeps racetrace detectives like John Madala on their collective toes.

A crooked horseplayer, in racetrack parlance, is a hood who tries to outsmart the house by promoting a "fix" or a sure thing. In other words, they try to take the gamble out of gambling.

These days drugging race horses and putting ringers in with a bunch of slow-footed nags is a good bet only for a jail term.

Modern crooks have discovered science — mainly the science of getting race results out before they are officially released. It takes only a second to get a bet down on a horse that has already won the race.

Since the best way to catch a crook is to think like a crook, racetrack detectives must know all the gimmicks.

The repertoire of the complete racetrack swindler includes tiny short-wave radio transmitters which can be strapped inside his clothing.

He usually sends a dot-and-dash code of the results to a nearby relay man, who transmits the message by telephone to the bookies or the bettors, depending on what side they're on.

This is done to beat a state regulation which makes it illegal to transmit track results for a period of 30 minutes following a race.

A less refined technique is to wig-wag the results from the stands to a confederate outside the track.

Another method is to telephone from a mobile radio while parked in an automobile at the track parking lot.

One neat scheme was to equip cars with short wave transmitters and leaving the automobiles parked in the racetrack lot where they picked up the running race accounts described by the track announcer.

A recent innovation is the counterfeiting of pari-mutuel tickets.

The counterfeiters try to make a fast killing by cashing in a load of bogus tickets on one race.

Their antics are always discovered during the day's post-race checkup because more winning tickets are cashed than sold.

Battling science with science, the staff of John Madala, Hialeah Race Course security chief who was shot by a tout Thursday, is equipped with tiny transistor radios.

With the radios worn inside a coat pocket or attached to their belts, security police can receive or send messages to and from the main office.

Hialeah, which has one of the most efficient racetrack police forces in the nation, employs about 150 security officers, including guards.

Bus Driver Saves Child

A modest Coral Gables city bus driver, Currie Cull, father of nine-year-old twin boys, was credited Friday with saving the life of a child about the age of his own sons.

Cull, 35, was driving his bus through the University of Miami campus when he saw the child hanging by his fingertips from the ledge of a second story window.

A passenger on the bus said Cull stopped the bus as soon as he saw the danger, ran to the building, climbed halfway up a flight of stairs and pulled the scared youngster to safety.

Cull, unaware he had done anything out of the ordinary, did not even know the child's name.

Car Jumps Sidewalk

A car, driven by a woman who apparently blacked out, jumped a sidewalk in downtown Miami Friday and cracked a plate glass window at 74 NE 2nd Ave.

Mrs. Marie McCormick, 40, wife of Dr. James McCormick, physician for the Miami Boxing Commission, 250 NE 90th St., was taken to Jackson Memorial Hospital for observation.

A witness, Keith Perry, told police he saw Mrs. McCormick drive by.

"Her head was on the back of the seat. At first I thought she was looking back; then I thought she was looking for a parking space.".

The car jumped the curb and struck the window of the Rattan and Bamboo Shop.

GM Split Urged by Car Maker

DETROIT —(UPI)— American Motors President George Romney Friday proposed that General Motors be split into two companies as the first step in a program to curb "giantism" in the U.S.

Romney proposed that the world's largest automobile manufacturer be forced to split by the federal government but that the corporation be permitted to decide how the split should be made if it splits voluntarily.

Speaking before the Detroit Adcraft Club, Romney said splitting of General Motors would aid in curbing the "monopolistic" powers of labor unions and ultimately result in a reduction in the size of government.

Splitting of GM, he said, would restore the type of competition to the auto industry where the consumer profits because the manufacturers are striving to produce the best possible product at the lowest possible cost.

Public opinion would force a reduction in the size of government if "giantism" in industry and labor was abolished because it would reduce the need for government controls, Romney said.

The American Motors president emphasized he did not consider his plan an attack on General Motors.

"The highest compliment a person can pay another person is to say 'I wish you were twins' and this, in effect, is what I'm saying about General Motors," he said.

Personality at Keyboard

Noted Organist's Debut Impressive

By DORIS RENO
Herald Music Editor

Music Review

Alexander Schreiner, organist for the past 30 years of the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, Utah, played his debut recital in this area in White Temple auditorium Friday night.

Dr. Schreiner, one of the best-known organists in the country, is a top technician on his instrument, and a man of personality at the keyboard.

The organ on which he played his recital lacks a bright, fresh tone, and for virtuoso-playing is limited as to the amount of leashed power a performer can call upon, but Dr. Schreiner made an impressive showing nevertheless.

His program was geared to an audience of varying tastes, and included, besides the grand works of Bach and Franck, a large group of program and impressionistic smaller works by contemporary American and French composers.

The Toccata, Adagio and Fugue in C major was the biggest and most effective Bach work performed. The Franck work was the beautiful Fantasie in A major.

The smaller works of American vintage were by Richard Keys Biggs, Edward Shippen Barnes and Leo Sowerby, and of French vintage by Henri Mulet, Louis Vierne and Marcel Dupre. The encores included the "Bird Etude" of Adolph Hensel.

Grant Presented By Smathers

Sen. George Smathers presented a $2,000 grant to the University of Miami Friday.

The money was donated in Smathers' name as the Seley Transportation Award which he won as "the individual who did most for transportation in 1958."

'Cycle Officer Hurt in Crash

A Miami motorcycle policeman suffered a skull fracture Friday when he plowed into the side of a car at SW Third Ave. and 20th Rd.

W. T. Walsh, 30, of 3102 NW 158th Ter., on the force for two years, was in serious condition at Jackson Memorial Hospital after the 8:30 a.m. accident.

The driver of the car, Albert Schiller, 23, of 3134 Carter St., was charged with failing to yield the right of way.

According to Officer L. W. Sauls, Schiller said he stopped as he was going east on 20th Rd., but did not see the oncoming motorcylist. He pulled out into the path of the policeman, Sauls said.

Dedicating The Terminal

Our New Day In The Air

THE SNIPPING of a ribbon tomorrow by President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina will signal the opening of Dade County's new terminal at Miami International Airport—and a new day for aviation in this area.

At last we have a terminal in keeping with our position as the nation's second busiest airport, the first to get domestic jet service, the doorway to all of Latin America.

It is the largest unit air terminal in the world, yet many who attend the dedication will remember the birth of aviation here, when the terminal was a small Pan American World Airways hangar. Growth has been so fast, because of our climate and fortunate location, that we haven't been able to keep up with it. But for the moment, thanks to the Port Authority and its director, George M. McSherry, we have a terminal adequate to our needs for a long time to come. We can be proud and thankful, for our very existence as a booming community now depends on air service.

That we have beyond question. Luxury airliners take off from our airport every few minutes, flying directly to every major United States city and every metropolis of Latin America. Soon, big jets will link us directly to Europe.

The handsome new terminal has been described again and again, and the nation peeked in at its opening by television. The important thing is that its opening was a symbol of accomplishment that cannot be obscured by petty bickering and political feuds. We have a terminal in keeping with our dignity as a community. Our handling of airport affairs can and should be maintained on this same level.

IF YOUR automobile still displays its 1958 tag you can save yourself a lot of inconvenience by going out to 701 NW 25th St. and getting its 1959 replacement.

Prospects are that the last minute rush this year will be the worst on record, while just now the clerks are not too busy.

"We are," says I. D. Smith, auto tag bureau manager, "more than 10,000 behind last year on the same date. With the increase in cars we should be 12,000 or 15,000 ahead.

"So we actually are lagging by about 25,000."

Your decision to "do it now" will help.

Taxes And Children: A Balance

ONE of the most difficult tasks the Florida Legislature faces this year is to strike a balance between the needs of the State Department of Public Welfare and the ability of taxpayers to meet them.

The economy-minded lawmakers are certain to do some sharp pruning on the department's asking figure of $218,981,170 in state and federal funds for the biennium. It is a whopping 43 per cent increase over the current budget period and on its face seems unjustifiable in these times of relative prosperity.

An analysis of the budget request discloses an interesting fact — that most of the new money would be for dependent children. In this area, the state department would more than double its benefits.

The department asks for $80 million for children, up $44 million from present figures. The large increase is even more striking when federal funds are eliminated from the calculations. On the basis of state funds alone, the department would spend $22 million, a jump of more than $15 million, or 300 per cent.

Startling as these requests seem, the welfare department defends its position vigorously. It says that the present aid to dependent children's program should be a blot on the conscience of a wealthy state such as Florida.

WE ARE relatively generous to our old people, for whom $101 million of the new budget is earmarked. A study shows that the average grant of $53.83 last year came within $4.64 of meeting the average budgetary need of the individual beneficiary. But when it came to children, the average family grant, which included 3.63 people — children and caretaker — was $59.19 and lacked $43.65 of meeting minimum needs.

Putting it bluntly, the average ADC ward of the state existed on the ragged edge of starvation.

Why this discrepancy between treatment of children, who face the future, and senior citizens whose day is waning? Again bluntly, because many children on welfare rolls were born out of wedlock.

Legislators have stated frankly they do not wish to subsidize such a situation even when it penalizes others. But this is what the welfare department has to say about it:

"We do not believe that our outraged moral sense is good reason for the further degradation of poor children by withholding from them shoes to walk to school, coats to keep them warm, and food and medicine to keep them healthy and strong."

Thus, as the Legislature wrestles with the budget of the welfare department, it will have moral as well as economic questions to answer. They are hard questions. They must be answered with the interests of the taxpayers as well as the children in mind.

Campus Caper, And Welcome!

THAT academic rumble out at the University of Miami after most members of a class in beginning physics found they had flunked is a spectacle to be greeted with mixed emotions.

We're sorry for those who busted.

We regret some aspects of the student demonstration — a window was busted, too, among other things.

We think, however, that in sum the whole thing's refreshing. E equals MC2, say, or, Education equals More Consternation doubled.

It's refreshing, we say, for student indignation is expressed most often on a college campus when the homecoming game is lost or the gendarmes enfilade a panty raid.

This time the students are indignant about flunking physics, and we salute them as the most eccentric scholars since the days of goldfish swallowing.

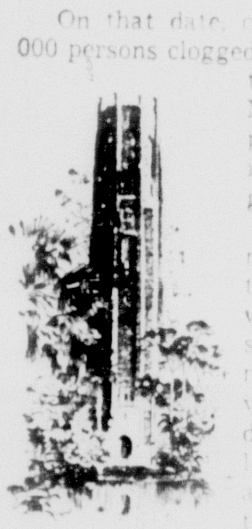
Eccentric, that is, about something that really matters.

Three rahs for Bohr, Einstein, Fermi and Physics 105!

When The Tower First Sang

THE carved stone top of the Singing Tower at Lake Wales is unchanged since the day it was dedicated 30 years ago tomorrow. But the Florida of today, in which it is a familiar landmark, bears little resemblance to the state as it was on Feb. 1, 1929.

On that date, cars carrying some 70,000 persons clogged roads for miles around the tower atop Iron Mountain, an island of pines, palms and azaleas in a sea of orange groves.



Florida roads were narrow and zig-zag in those days. Automobiles were higher and much slower than the 1959 models. Fashionable women attending the dedication wore hemlines above the knees and waistlines around the hips.

The crowd of 70,000 was equal to more than half the population of Miami in 1929. This metropolitan area of 900,000 today was then a cozy little city of 110,000.

When the tower's bells chimed for the first time, all Florida contained only 1½ million people. Now this state has more than 4 million people, many of them clustered around skyscrapers built since 1929.

The dedication day crowd converged on Lake Wales not only to hear the tower sing but also to hear President Calvin Coolidge make a speech. "Silent Cal" surprisingly obliged with no less than 3,400 words in praise of the "sanctuary for humans and birds" built by Edward W. Bok, an immigrant from the Netherlands who gained fame and fortune in his adopted land.

Beside the pool that reflects his tower is a motto given to Mr. Bok by his grandmother: "Make you the world a bit better or more beautiful because you have lived in it."

His Mountain Lake Sanctuary was his way of doing that. The Singing Tower there has witnessed three decades of Florida's spectacular growth. Doubtless it will look down on changes even more striking during the next 30 years.

Scattering Our Shots

THE PEOPLE of Florida, townfolk as well as producers from the land, will applaud the move to reorganize the State Department of Agriculture for the first time in 70 years.

The truth is that this department, the nearest thing in state government to a political satrapy, has failed to adapt itself to changing times and still operates by rules laid down to meet outdated conditions.

This department in fiscal year 1958 collected $6,497,357.89 in inspection and license fees with little benefit to anyone.

For instance, it took in $1,840,091 for citrus inspection. But leaders of the industry said this state service was so poor growers had to employ their own inspectors. Another $219,089 came from poultry inspection, "of little benefit to industry or public."

But the most serious criticism by the joint legislative-citizens committee investigating the department, which met last week in Miami, was that it is engaged in uncalled-for and costly competition with the Florida State Development Commission to promote the state, forgetting its primary mission to promote agriculture.

The department used dollars collected from growers to publish and distribute 266,350 bulletins advertising state resources and scenic attractions, while putting out only 71,189 bulletins on improved farm and grove methods.

The study committee wants to streamline the agency into a "true" agricultural department by lopping off 8 of its 16 divisions, and putting the rest to work solely to help the grower and protect the public.

Florida's peculiar advantages which make us the nation's winter vegetable garden and the world's greatest citrus producer, must be fostered by a dedicated agency. It's time to stop these scatter-shot practices and take dead aim on the target.

Voice Of The People

Spot Menaces--Steer Clear

Editor The Herald: I have been home from work for a few days with a cold and plenty of time to read the newspapers. It makes me even sicker when I read of the accidents every day.

I would like to compliment your paper for the safety campaign that is so well written so the people can take heed and maybe save a life.

I drive a mail truck more than a hundred miles a day. There isn't a day that I don't see at least 10 drivers infringe on the safety laws and safety of others. Maybe they don't do it intentionally but they do it.

A few years back in one of our bigger states it was found that several hundred drivers were drawing state aid for the blind. These people at some time had passed a driver's test and then simply kept renewing their licenses.

Of course there is no way that we can spot a nearly blind person, but there are a lot of characters we can spot and defend against.

For instance there is the all-American Punk who got together the down payment on a jalopy and proceeded to decorate it. He stuck all the chrome he could gather on his pride and joy and topped it off by hanging a fox-tail on the antenna of his radio, if he could afford a radio. One of the prime reasons in connection with his purchase was the fact that the car would "dig in" on starts. This gives the effect of great speed.

It never occurred to this jerk that while he was giving out with flashy speed effect he was actually sitting in one place with his wheels spinning. When this boob makes a corner without his tires screeching he feels that his day is ruined.

The only good thing that you could say about this menace is that he at least advertises the fact that he is dangerous. You can spot him a mile away cutting in and out of traffic.

Is there any defense against him and his reckless acts against public life? Recognize him, and give him plenty of room and hope that he does his final bleeding in another city, if he makes it that far.

Another character is the slow poke driver who gets on the highway where the normal flow of traffic is 30 miles per hour and he chugs along at 10 to 15. He can cause more accidents than the driver doing 30.

Another common type is the guy who drives a vehicle that is all bashed and dented. He, too, advertises. His vehicle tells you at a glance that he has been in plenty of trouble before and he probably will be in more trouble again.

Flirting with this type can cause you to spend time in a hospital. These are only a few of the types that can cause trouble. The important thing is to recognize them and not let them get you into trouble.

I wish to commend you and your employes for publishing a wonderful newspaper, The Miami Herald. Every issue has something for practically everyone and the price of each issue makes it the best buy today. Driving Skill Can Be Misused

Editor The Herald: In regard to Al Finkelstein's story about race driver Lee Wallard giving talks on car safety to Dade high school students, I think this is a wonderful thing and there should be more of it.

I do not believe youngsters are our biggest traffic problem, but we can't teach too much safety too soon.

It's just too bad there is no captive audience of some of the older people who are habitually careless or thoughtless drivers.

Too many people confuse the words skill and good. Some of the most skillful drivers I've ever known are the most dangerous, when they misuse their skill.

Replacement Value Should Govern In Roadway Condemnation Cases

Editor The Herald: Some people who have been compelled to give up their homes for right-of-way for the new expressway have not been properly compensated for their properties.

The so called fair market value has been used to establish the values of these needed properties, but the question arises as to just what is fair market value or actually fair value?

If a person wants to sell his home, he will probably be willing to accept fair market value to dispose of his property, and he might not want to acquire the same kind of property again. When a person is compelled to give up his home, this is an entirely different matter and he will doubtless want another home at least as good.

When properties are needed for public improvements, these properties should be acquired at prices which would permit the affected owners to relocate at no added expense, and even in better homes to partly compensate for having been dispossessed for no reason of their own.

The public has no right to single out certain citizens and force them to vacate their homes without making ample provision for their proper relocation.

Under the law of eminent domain the appraiser's figures do not have to be accepted, but failure to accept them means a court fight, which may be a long drawn out affair.

Fair market value should be changed to "actual replacement value," and people dispossessed by the law of eminent domain should be amply compensated so that a court fight is not necessary.

Such a program would be approved by fair minded citizens who would be willing to assume the added expense needed for obtaining the right-of-way.

Behind The Front Page

'We've Already Paid Plenty To Schools'

By JOHN PENNEKAMP

HOW IT STARTED:

City Commissioner James High took a look at the trailer park situation in Miami. He found there were 15 with 1,432 spaces and that the city was getting as license fees $37.50 yearly for the first 25 places, then 75 cents for each additional space.

That was all, except for the real estate tax on the land and improvements, usually minor, which the operators were paying. License tags and other charges went to the state.

Pennekamp

High said he thought both the trailerites as well as the operators were getting by too lightly in Miami, and proposed upping the rates. I relayed what he had to say here.

That opened the floodgates:

Trailerites spoke firmly in defense of their homes, were critical of high costs.

Operators protested that they paid substantial fees, maintained attractives sites and conditions.

But, all of the protesters were from outside the city limits; High had referred only to those within the city.

SO, WITH this final summary of some recent letters, we'll declare a moratorium on a thoroughly discussed situation.

Writes M.R.T. from North Miami Beach:

"The homeowner who has homestead exemption and takes up about three times as much space as the average trailer pays very little taxes. The average size of a lot for a mobile home is 30 by 50 feet and the owner pays $10 each year tax.

"About 90 per cent of the mobile home dwellers are people who have already paid plenty of school taxes before retiring to the comforts of mobile home living."

A LETTER writer from northwest Dade County points out that electricity is "retailed" at her park, and so costly that she sits in the dark at night with television her only diversion. That she turns off at 10:30 p.m.

"Did you know," she asks, "that it costs $2 a month for each child in a family. Some places charge $5 a month for a dog."

CHARLES KIEFER of Moss Ranch Road, who is vice president of the Wally Byam Caravan Clubs, explains that a mobile home is a movable house, while a trailer is a lightly constructed, easy to pull device that is used by its owner for travel.

"I belong to a travel trailer club that is nationwide and has thousands of members who use travel trailers for travel and who maintain permanent homes on which they pay their share of real estate taxes.

"Most of our members are retired business and professional people varying from those with modest incomes to multi-millionaires.

"We travel all over the world and have been welcomed by kings, presidents, dictators, governors and mayors.

"All are keenly aware of the large amount of money we spend everyplace we go. In one city in Europe we spent $22,000 in one week buying photographic goods."

HIS CLASSIFICATION, he adds, faces a problem in legislation:

"As an example, California, realizing that some mobile homes do not have the type plumbing considered necessary for health safety, passed a law calling for the kind of plumbing that is used in houses.

"Although we agree with the law, we feel that it is unfair to ignore the fact that carting all that heavy cast iron plumbing is an unnecessary burden to place on travel trailers.

"Many other laws in various states have led us to the realization that we have a long fight in front of us to educate the public and our lawmakers in the difference between mobile homes and travel trailers."

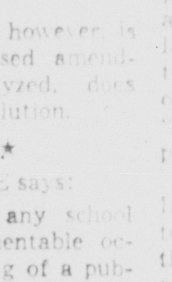
Talmadge Amendment Should Spell Rights

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Eight Southern senators have taken a significant step to refute the notion that the South believes in lawless ways.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D., Ga.) has introduced a proposed amendment to the Constitution which is intended to give the states exclusive control of their school systems.



Lawrence

Whether one agrees or disagrees with this proposal as a solution of the tragic conditions brought about by the segregation - integration controversy, the fact is that the Southern senators have come forward with a legitimate means of overcoming what they consider the ill effects of the 1954 "desegregation" decision of the Supreme Court.

The big question, however, is whether the proposed amendment, when analyzed, does really provide the solution.

SEN. TALMADGE says:

"The closing of any school anywhere is a lamentable occurrence. The closing of a public school system is a terrible tragedy. The destruction of public education in an entire region of our nation would be an unparalleled catastrophe.

"Yet a realistic appraisal of the facts of the matter affords no conclusion but that that will be the inevitable result of binding the citizens of the South in the chains of circumstance now being forged around them. And the real losers of such an eventuality unfortunately will be those who have the least to say about it — the school children of the South and their parents."

But the amendment which Sen. Talmadge offers does not delineate the fundamental Constitutional right of the parents to decide for themselves how their children shall be educated.

THE TEXT of the proposed amendment is as follows:

"Administrative control of any public school, public educational institution, or public educational system operated by any state or by any political or other subdivision thereof shall be vested exclusively in such state and subdivision and nothing contained in this constitution shall be construed to deny to the residents thereof the right to determine for themselves the manner in which any such school, institution or system is administered by such state and subdivision."

It would be easy enough, however, for the Supreme Court to rule that even today nothing in the Constitution interferes with the right of local school authorities to "administer" the educational institutions themselves and that discrimination on the basis of race or color or creed is not an "administrative" matter at all but a question of citizenship rights.

WHAT NEEDS to be done is to include an affirmation of the right of parents — the citizens themselves — to determine what kind of educational institutions they wish their children to attend. The individual may discriminate but the state cannot.

Obviously there are parents who do not mind seeing their children enrolled in integrated schools. Other parents want their children in segregated schools.

A constitutional amendment that spells out the rights of parents and gives a discretionary right to the state legislatures or local school boards to set up a dual system is the only method that will assure "freedom of choice" for the parents.

The school controversy is not likely to be over for decades to come. The experience with the 18th amendment and its subsequent repeal by the adoption of the 21st amendment is an example of how a basic issue of sociological reform is finally handled by the American people. The question of whether drinking is morally right or wrong has not been settled yet by the provisions of the Constitution, but the right of each locality to control liquor sales now has been affirmed as constitutional.

PRECISELY this kind of solution is inevitable in the school controversy and, while the Talmadge amendment has that broad aim, it needs to be specifically amended to transfer the power of choice to the citizens, who can then demand of the states the type of schools they want their children to attend.

A dual system is the only answer not only for the South but for many cities in the North where an increasing Negro population has merely served to introduce evasive schemes of residential gerrymandering to achieve something for which the Southern people, when they try it, are denounced as attempting a "lawless defiance" of the Constitution.

Huey Is Still King Of Louisiana Bayous

By DREW PEARSON

NEW ORLEANS — Huey Long, the late "Kingfish," has been dead more than 20 years, but his ghost still hangs over the bayous of Louisiana.

PEARSON

His brother still sits as governor in the executive mansion, his son is in the United States Senate, his former associate, Allen Ellender, is the other senator, while up until his death his brother served in the House of Representatives.

With the magic name of "Long" you can be elected to anything hereabouts.

And the light which focuses on the statue of Huey in front of the Louisiana capitol still burns, day and night.

Sam Jones, when governor, pulled the fuse for a time, but aside from that the light has never flickered.

"I don't care what the cities think about me," Huey used to say, "as long as the country folks are with me."

And the country folks who elected him governor and senator and would have kept on electing him indefinitely if he had not died of an assassin's bullet, are still with him.

The bridges he built, the free schoobooks he instituted, are still remembered. The harangues, the filibusters, the clowning, the grotesque grandstanding, are forgotten.

No one has yet solved the mystery of who really shot Huey Long. Was it the mild little doctor, Carl Weiss, who was mowed down by Huey's bodyguard?

Or was it a member of the bodyguard?

There have been years of speculation and no one still really knows the answer.

The only sure thing is that the man who built up a little political empire for himself in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi and was feared in the North as a potential dictator, is still revered along the bayous of Louisiana.

THIS CITY is famous for its oil, its beautiful Creole women, its bizarre French quarter, its Mardi Gras, and for the Mississippi "Mother of Waters" which pours 406,250,000 tons of midwest silt into the Gulf of Mexico every year.

Less famous is a resident of New Orleans who has affected the lives of millions. He is Dr. Alton Ochsner of Tulane University, who about 20 years ago began pounding away at the theory that cigaret smoking caused lung cancer.

Nobody paid much attention to him at the time. Even most of his medical associates doubted his research. But Ochsner kept pounding, kept reading papers to medical meetings showing what happened to rats when subjected to cigaret smoke.

Today, as a result of Ochsner's crusade, the U.S. Public Health Service has officially warned American smokers that cigarets are conducive of lung cancer.

The British Medical Society, the American Cancer Society and others have also gone on record regarding cancer and cigarets.

"I am so proud of the American Cancer Society," Dr. Ochsner said when I talked to him in the Boston Club in New Orleans.

"One year ago it passed a resolution that it was its duty to call attention to the effect of cigarets not only on the lungs but the heart. The American Heart Society proceeded to criticize us for invading its territory. But the Cancer Society stuck to its guns.

"It's the tobacco tars which cause cancer of the lung and it's the nicotine which affects the arteries," Dr. Ochsner explained. "Tobacco can be grown today without nicotine, but the cigaret companies won't use it, because it's the nicotine which gives the cigaret smoker a lift."

Dr. Ochsner, though long a resident of New Orleans, was born in South Dakota. He is watching a bill introduced in the South Dakota legislature by Don Stransky, which would require a skull and crossbones to be stamped on every package of cigarets sold in that state.

A Cracker Viewpoint by Nixon Smiley

Female Doodle Lives Longer

IF SO INCLINED, I might worry about my rather low and simple tastes, and particularly about my preoccupation with things that others would not give a second glance.

Take the lowly doodle bug, for instance. This little fellow, which builds conical-shaped depressions in dry sand that become death traps for hapless insects that fall into them, has held my interest since I was a youngster.

It was not until I was grown and had gorged my passion for reading about science that I learned the preferred name of the doodle.

It is ant lion. The ant is the doodle's most common food.

But the doodle doesn't seem to care what people call it or what they say about it. Haven't you heard the expression: "as low as a doodle bug?"

That's getting pretty low, from the standpoint of accurate measurement; but the fact remains that the doodle is well adjusted to its way of life, and may well be among the earth's inhabitants long after the last of the man-made stone heaps have been weathered to dust.

THE DOODLE IS about one-third of an inch long—a fantastically hideous, six-legged creature with a protruding head ending in a pair of tong-shaped jaws of unbelievable strength.

It lives hidden beneath the sand, at the bottom of the conical trap it builds, waiting patiently and quietly for whatever insect may happen along.

What the doodle can't see he can hear. Let an ant walk by. The ant need not walk blindly into the trap.

An ant isn't that stupid. Let's watch him.

He ambles along, stopping here and there to examine various objects for possible food, until he finds himself on the border of a doodle trap.

Here he stops and turns aside to go around. But the doodle has heard him approach and knows he's up there, teetering on the edge of the trap. With a flip of his head, the doodle sends up a shower of sand.

This excites the ant, which hastens almost panic-like in an effort to get away.

In his excitement the ant causes the sand on the edge of the doodle trap to give way, and the ant, caught in the shift, finds himself tumbling into the pit.

Now the ant panics sure enough. He scrambles with tremendous effort to climb out of the pit, but each effort ends with the collapsing sand carrying him back to the bottom.

In the meantime, the doodle is sending up showers of sand to aid in trapping the hapless ant.

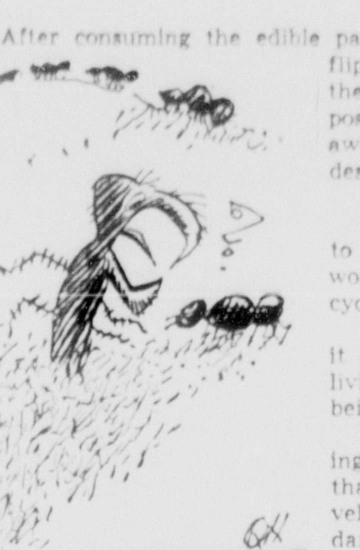
NOW UTTERLY helpless, the ant is at the mercy of the doodle, which grasps the body of the ant in its powerful jaws.

An injection of poison puts an end to the ant's struggle, and the doodle settles down to a leisurely meal.



After consuming the edible part of the ant, the doodle flips the dry carcass out of the trap, and returns to its position at the bottom to await the next careless pedestrian.

IT NEVER OCCURRED to me as a youngster to wonder about the doodle's cycle of life.

I merely wondered about it as an odd critter, forever living in the sand and never being sure of a meal.

But when I began reading nature books, I learned that the doodle eventually develops wings and leaves its dark and lonely home to enjoy a brief sojourn of life and love in the ethereal world that people and birds know.

The doodle lives in the sand for two years or more, depending perhaps on how frequently it manages to dine.

This is the doodle's larval stage, when it is a youthful but greedy monster, ready to kill and to eat anything that comes along, even another doodle bug.

But a day comes when the doodle finds itself ready to give up this monster stage.

It spins a cocoon about its ugly body and drifts into a deep sleep, still beneath the earth's mantle.

During this sleep, which lasts two or three months, the doodle is changed into a form that bears not the slightest resemblance to its original form.

Out of the cocoon emerges an insect that looks like a dragonfly, some three inches across, a graceful creature, no less, its monster life past, and now living only for love.

For the adult doodle can't eat or drink—not even sip the sweet nectar of the colorful flowers as a butterfly might do.

It's only aim is to find a creature like itself, but of the opposite sex.

And here is another of nature's mysteries: Since the doodle has never before seen another doodle bug, how does it recognize one?

After mating, the female doodle flies away to deposit her eggs. After that she dies.

But the male, his energies spent in the love flight, probably already has expired.

For the female, being more rugged, usually lives longer in the insect world than does the male, just as in the human world, where the female is superior to the male in her ability to survive.

Ike vs. Kennedy

Differences Listed In 2 Labor Bills

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Here is a comparison of main features in President Eisenhower's labor legislation proposals and those of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass):

1. REPORTS TO GOVERNMENT — Same except for details. Both would require complete annual accounting of union fund handling, union payments to officers and agents, conflict-of-interest payments from employers.

Employers would be required to report all payments to union officers or union agents, to labor relations consultants or middlemen retained to influence union relations.

2. UNION RESPONSIBILITY — Eisenhower would clothe union officers with fiduciary responsibility for proper handling of union funds and property, with permission for union members to sue for enforcement. Kennedy bill lacks this.

3. UNION PROCEDURES- Both proposals would require regular secret ballot election of union officers and convention delegates, with provision for such elections to remove officers. Delay in paying checked-off dues would not disqualify member from candidacy or vote. Use of union or employer money to promote union candidates would be prohibited.

Both would bar persons convicted to certain felonies from holding union office.

4. TRUSTEESHIPS— Both would establish procedures for operating and safeguarding funds and members' rights in local unions placed under trusteeship or supervisory control of national unions.

5. CODES — Kennedy bill would encourage labor union ethical practices codes and self-policing measures. It would invite employer organizations to do the same. Eisenhower bill lacks this.

6. PENALTIES — Both proposals would vest broad powers in secretary of labor to investigate union funds and practices. Both specify stiff fines and prison terms for unions and employers convicted of refusing to file or falsifying required reports to government, or for destroying records.

Eisenhower bill, but not Kennedy's, would permit stiff government sanctions by denying recalcitrant employers or unions access to the National Labor Relations Board and by withdrawing a union's tax exemption privilege. Eisenhower bill would make bribery between employes and unions a felony. Kennedy bill would not.

7. SECONDARY BOYCOTTS — Present law prohibits a union from requiring concerted action by employes of one employer as a means of pressuring another employer with whom the union has a dispute.

Eisenhower proposes to extend that ban to bar pressuring the third party employer himself or his employes. Kennedy proposes no change in boycott restrictions.

8. PICKETING — Eisenhower proposes banning picketing where another union already holds bargaining rights or where employes demonstrate they don't want to be represented by the picketing union. Such picketing could be stopped by court injunction.

Kennedy proposes no such picketing ban, but would outlaw picketing where the object is to extort money from an employer.

9. JURISDICTION — Eisenhower proposes that states could take jurisdiction over labor complaint cases in which the NLRB declines jurisdiction. Kennedy proposes that NLRB exercise full jurisdiction.

10. BARGAINING ELECTIONS — Eisenhower proposes to speed up union bargaining rights elections by holding them and then arguing out technicalities later. Kennedy bill lacks this. (Kennedy's bill last year did contain such a proposal).

11. ECONOMIC STRIKERS — Both bills propose elimination of present ban against replaced strikers voting in elections called to determine whether workers still want union representation in struck plant.

12. AFFIDAVITS — Eisenhower would require employers to file non-Communist affidavits like those now required from union officials as condition to access to NLRB. Kennedy proposes no change from present requirement for filing by union officials only.

13. SUPERVISORS — Kennedy proposes changing Taft-Hartley law definition of supervisors to permit more such employes to be included in union bargaining units. Administration bill would leave present, broader exemption undisturbed.

West Point Supports Fascell Plan

By DAVID J. KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — West Point has deferred to Rep. Dante Fascell's unique method of selecting nominees for appointment to the military academies.

KRASLOW

These appointments add up to important political patronage every year, and the large majority of congressmen use them in just that way.

Fascell's system, centered around a local citizen's rating board, is based solely on merit.

What the boy knows is the important factor, not who his father knows.

IN AN EFFORT to get less politics and more merit into West Point appointments, congressmen were asked by Lt. Gen. G. H. Davidson, academy superintendent, to adopt a nomination procedure known as "congressional competitive."

Instead of designating one boy as the principal nominee and the remainder as alternates, all nominees would be given equal footing.

The candidates would then be checked by the academic board at West Point. The board would determine the order in which the nominees are to be offered admission to the academy.

"Your method is very similar to ours," Davidson wrote Fascell after the Miami congressman had explained the citizen's board manner of scoring applicants.

"It is indeed encouraging to learn that such a highly effective system has been developed and that you are willing to devote so much time and effort to the problem," Davidson said.

FASCELL HAD said in his letter to Davidson that he appoints leading citizens of Dade and Monroe counties to the rating board.

"A board established in a local community . . . would more readily have access to information regarding the boy's background and traits as well as his proven ability," Fascell wrote.

Fascell's method has paid off in the number of his nominees who have been accepted by the academies.

He pointed out to Davidson that the principal nominee and five alternates selected for admission in 1958 to the naval academy all made the grade and are now attending classes at Annapolis.

"I assure you that you shall have my continuous support," Davidson told Fascell.

W. Germans Still Respect Heuss, 75

By DAVID M. NICHOL
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

BONN, Germany—Prof. Theodor Heuss, the gentle and scholarly figure who has been West Germany's first and only president for nearly 10 years, is 75 today.

It is no exaggeration to say that he probably is the most respected single individual in the country.

NICHOL

Others may be admired, or emulated, or hated with more passion and vigor.

Dr. Heuss, with his cigar, his soft hat, his glass of red wine, his genuine democratic convictions, his sketch block and his unruffled temper somehow represents what many Germans would like most to be in their benevolent and unselfish moments.

WEST GERMANY'S constitution, which Heuss himself helped to draft, delimits, the powers of the president very narrowly.

By temperament again, he is not "forceful," in the restless sense of some of his contemporaries.

He has been overshadowed by the figure of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the country's political leader.

Yet it would be an error and an historical injustice to underestimate Dr. Heuss' influence. Throughout the formative, fluid first decade of West Germany's existence he has been a stabilizing and morally effective force of a kind that was needed desperately.

The greetings that come to Dr. Heuss on his birthday will be more genuine than those that go to many other individuals on similar occasions.

THE ELEMENT of "respect" which surrounds him has served as well to damp down a smouldering fire. Who will be his successor?

The constitution provides that the president can serve no more than two years. These terms are fixed now at five years each. His tenure of office will expire this summer.

Rather than face the divisions and the awkwardness that a new election will create, a variety of temporary solutions have been proposed. As one suggestion, it has been urged that the constitution should be amended to permit a third term.

DLR. HEUSS SEEMS to be opposed to any such personalized remodeling of the basic law. It is doubtful as well whether a two-thirds' vote of the parliament members would support it.

Others have suggested that his present term should be extended two years until 1961. In that way the election of a new president would coincide with federal elections.

Both Adenauer's followers and his opponents would hope to gain by this maneuver.

Everything Was in the Pink At Sykes Party

By HELEN WELLS
Herald Society Editor

Rose colored glasses weren't needed when Eleanor and Charles Sykes entertained 275 friends at a cocktail dance at the Surf Club on Friday. Everything, including Eleanor, was in the pink such as the deep pink gladiola, gold leaves, pink table cloths and the hostess' handsome pink and gold brocade.

Mrs. Sykes

Mr. Sykes

Dancing from 6:30 til 8:30 was in the Fountain room where long refreshment and canape tables stood, and small tables surrounded the dance floor.

With Hazel and Dr. Jay F. W. Pearson, president of University of Miami, was distinguished visitor here, Dr. Young Seek Choue. He is president of Shin Hung University in Seoul, capitol of Korea.

Down from Winter Park were the Gaylord Williamses They are in Miami for a double purpose, to attend the Tuesday wedding of their niece, Kiki Gerken and to dance at the Sykes' merry soiree.

Kiki was there with her fiance, Hugh Whitehead, and her parents, the John Gerkens. Helen and Loren Berry — he arrived on Friday — had with them their houseguest, Phyllis Cooper, of Dayton, the Berrys' home town.

Two of the Sykes' friends from Charlotte were (alert to the girls!) eligible bachelor, Frank Harty, who visits Eleanor and Charles at their home in Blowing Rock each summer, and Sidney Hamrick.

Mr. Hamrick's wife, Grace, is a society writer for the Charlotte Observer. She was called back to N.C. and missed the party.

Esther and Don Allen brought her brother, James Arnold, with them. He is visiting the Allens at their LaGorce Island home from Ohio. Others gliding about the dance floor included Inez McKeown of Miami Shores which is where the Sykes live, and Polly and Bill Stevens. Dora Belle Reed was keeping her eyes on the door as Earl flew in on Friday and was expected at the party.

Dinner Bell Rang Once

The big brass cowbell Edna and Dick Lackey use to summon guests to the "chow line," had to be rung only once on Thursday when they entertained a group of bridge club and other friends at a cocktail - hamburger soiree.

Mr. Lackey

Mrs. Lackey

When the aroma of charcoal broiled 'burgers drifted into the Lackeys Golden Beach home from the patio, "some came running!"

Edna wore a colorful aqua and white Hawaiian printed cotton with lei around her neck. Actually, this is an annual party to celebrate Dick's natal day though they never call it a birthday party.

Petie Bettendorf, looking so very pretty in red and her short hair-do brought along her houseguest, Fanita (Mrs. E. J.) Schneider of St. Louis, Petie's home town. They left for the Keys on Friday.

Another vision in red was that beautiful Odette Stewart (sometimes I get tired of calling her beautiful, but what other adjective describes her??). Arriving together were Mary Ann and James L. Knight with her mother, Mrs. John Pritchard and Mr. Pritchard.

Over from Indian Creek Island were Jeannie Storer minus George . . . he is in California; Pat and Ted Gary; Mrs. Judson Sayre; Fran and Glenn Warren. Fran had news of Charlotte (Mrs. Earl) Harwick, who is hospitalized with a broken hip. She is being moved from St. Francis to the Heart Institute.

Kay Marshall To Visit

One of the hostesses at the Young Patronesses Opera Star luncheon, Feb. 27 at the Dupont Plaza Hotel, is Elsa (Mrs. Bill) Stubblefield. She is entertaining in honor of Kay (Mrs. James) Marshall who arrives Feb. 22 from Rio de Janeiro for a month's visit with daughter Joan and husband Gene Caldwell at their home in the Gables.

After her visit here, Kay is going to California and Canada. Elsa's other honor guests is Florence Bourke Ellis, book reviewer extraordinary at the Surf Club, who in private life is Mrs. Jean Fardulli.

Young Presidents' Jaunt

Meeting in Nassau's Coral Harbour Club this weekend are some 40 members of the Young President's Organization, a national group of men who became presidents of million dollar companies before they were 40 years old.

We have some of those "youngsters" here in Miami, and Wednesday three of them and their wives left for five days for seminars and sociability. Olive and Howe E. Moredock Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. H. Earl Smalley putted over in the James A. Ryders' new half-million dollar yacht Jarane.

Other local members of the Rebel (southern states) Chapter who arrived in Nassau Thursday are Mr. and Mrs. Guy B. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. C. Jack Baldwin, Mr and Mrs. Maurice Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hector, Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen Morris.

Part of the Show?

AMUSING TWIST to the finale of a weekly fashion show dinner dance at La Bastille was the appearance of Canadian Willie Sweeney, complete in bowler hat, wrapped umbrella and dapper business suit.

This surprise performer "brought the house down" when he came out to escort pretty blonde Hilda (Mrs. Brad) Dresser off the scene. Mrs. D. had commentated the parade of fashions.

Edgar Bergen: Relaxed and Witty

—Herald Staff Photos by Bill Sanders

"Charlie McCarthy, Why Were You So Late?"
. . . Edgar Bergen talks to dummies as if they were people

By BEVERLEY WILSON
Herald Staff Writer

You'd think it would do terrible things to a man to share a hotel room with an assortment of heads and headless bodies.

But when the macabre aspects of his art get Edgar Bergen down, he goes happily home to one of his desert ranches and counts his alfafa crop and his money.

After 30 years in show business, the famed ventriloquist thinks he really has it made.

Semi-retired? "Never," he says. "I work every now and again, when it doesn't interfere too much with my loafing or my hobbies."

Celebrity Parade

The original act he dreamed up while allegedly studying history in a Chicago high school is still paying off handsomely.

Brash Charlie McCarthy looks about as he did in the original sketches Bergen made behind his history book. He sees no reason to change now.

The familiar roster: Edgar, Charlie, Mortimer Snerd and Effie Clinker, are currently getting as many belly-laughs in a nightclub act at the Eden Roc Hotel as they ever did on the radio or vaudeville circuits Bergen trod so many years.

A balding, pleasant man, Bergen positively oozes peace and well-being.

If he's a worrier, he keeps it well hidden.

He's very polite and precise in his speech, which still sounds more like Swedish ancestry and Chicago than Hollywood.

THE BODIES that litter his hotel room? Charlie McCarthy has one of the most unique costume changes in show business.

Instead of changing his clothes between acts, he changes bodies. Bergen travels with about five Charlie McCarthy bodies, in different dress. And he has a few spare heads, for changes of expression.

He also carries a tool kit with a formidable assortment of operating tools. On tour he frequently has to repaint heads, rewire arms and legs.

Charlie is still carved from wood. Mortimer has entered the jet age, though. He's made of plastic.

While Bergen is taking his dummies out of three voluminous suitcases and assembling heads, he's all serious technician.

But once they're all assembled, a curious change takes place in Bergen. The dummies become people. He carries on a running line of witty talk that includes Mortimer or Charlie as often as it does his flesh and blood onlooker.

"Hey, let's get on the ball, boy," he yelled at Mortimer, as the dummy started to list off the table he'd been propped up on.

"Charlie doesn't like it when I do my solo acts (as an old man with wig). But it gives me a feeling of being important" he says, and he sounds half serious.

If Bergen didn't belong to the Perry Como school of relaxed comedians, he'd have been a nervous wreck by the time he reached Miami Beach. The trunks containing his dummies got lost in New Orleans, causing him to miss his opening night here.

"Oh, well it's only the third time that's happened in 30 years," he shrugged.

Once before the baggage got lost, and once New York columnist Frank Farrell kidnaped Charlie as a gag.

USUALLY, he gets around all this nerve strain, by flying to engagements in his own twin motor plane.

The list of his other hobbies belies his description of himself as a lazy man.

He runs two ranches in the desert near Palm Springs, and is landlord of his own office building in town. He's an avid photographer, has his own darkroom. He's a stalwart supporter of the Steam Car Club, and is currently busy restoring a 1911 White Steamer automobile, for jaunts around Hollywood.

Married to television actress Frances Westerman, he's buttons-busting proud of his pretty 12-year-old daughter, Candy (short for Candice).

"Retired? Never"
. . . relaxed comedian

"She's a real hokey comedian already, but I'll never press her into any career," he says easily.

If Bergen and family feel like traveling, Edgar just packs his act, and off they go —to do appearances in Johannesburg or Stockholm or wherever.

Regular TV shows are for the birds. "I'd rather do an hour-long show two or three times a year, and once and awhile a nightclub act. As I say, I'm a lazy man.

"When I was a kid, I taught myself ventriloquism as a stepping stone to a Broadway acting career. I never quite got there."

The way Bergen has things figured out, who needs it?

Creamy Yam Casserole Is a Treat for Supper

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Homemaking Editor

Put a sweet potato casserole in the oven, pan-brown or broil some generous slices of ham and you can serve a hearty, hot supper without much effort.

Daily Food Guide

The yam casserole is made with canned or fresh yams. Cream and butter are blended in for richness. A few snipped chives are a surprise flavor accent.

An easy-does-it salad and fruit for dessert round out this supper.

HEARTY FAMILY SUPPER
Browned Ham Slices
Bayou Yam Bake*
Pimiento Cole Slaw
Heated Rolls, Butter
Fresh Apples and Pears

The yam casserole bakes 30 minutes, time to brown the ham and make the cole slaw.

BAYOU YAM BAKE

- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 4 medium-size yams, cooked, peeled and mashed or 1 1-pound can yams, drained and mashed
- 1/3 cup chopped chives

Add cream, butter, salt and pepper to yams. Blend well. Stir in chives. Turn into a lightly greased 1-quart casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Mrs. Drummond Is New FFWC 2nd Vice President

Mrs. Addison P. Drummond of Bonifay is the new second vice president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. C. L. Menser of Vero Beach, state president, announced the appointment Friday.

Mrs. Drummond, a former district director and a member at large of the federation executive committee, fills the vacancy created when Mrs. M. Lewis Hall of Coral Gables moved up to first vice president.

Mrs. Edward J. Clark of Jacksonville is the new member at large and continues as district 4 director.

Mrs. Art S. Whitmer of Lakeland, former first vice president, resigned because of illness.

A Veteran of the Old West Speaks:

'TV Cowboys Are Bunk'

A Real Cowboy, 40 Years Ago
... but Roy Brandt hates today's TV phonies

"Come alive!

"And come out of your corners a'fightin', all you horned toads of the Southwest . . .

"All you old sourdough porcupines of the Northwest . . .

"All you old sodhouse prairie dogs of the plains country!"

LeRoy Lester Brandt hollering. He's a real, honest-to-shooting cowboy of the Old West, now settled down in HIALEAH.

"The domain of western folklore is being contaminated by piddlin' promoters who couldn't mount an old sleepy plow horse," said Brandt, of 61 Hialeah Dr., Hialeah.

Brandt, a janitor and part-time freelance western writer, was born and raised in the West.

And, seein' as how he knew the real West he's getting pretty tired of the way today's movies and TV shows are giving the wrong impression of the cowboy.

"There's entirely too much gunfighting in movies about the west," he said. "Sure, there was gunplay between the law and bad men but this wholesale business of two men meeting and drawing on each other is overdone."

He calls the modern TV cowboys "cow punks."

"You didn't need two guns to protect yourself in those days."

"Only smart alec's who wanted to show off carried two guns," said the old cowpuncher.

Roy Brandt
. . . Hialean today

Brandt, who writes under the pen name of "Mark Trey," thinks the folklore of the West should be preserved authentically.

Here are some more of his pet peeves:

TOO MANY screen cowboys mount their horses incorrectly. "They mount facing the same direction as the horse—this is dangerous and a bad example for others. A green bronco and even a saddle horse can hurt you this way."

THE SCREEN never emphasizes the hard life of being a cowboy. "The cowboys of today wouldn't last a minute under the hardships of the true West. Roping, branding, and bulldogging would weed 'em out purty fast."

RODEO COWBOYS who can't stay on a bronco horse even when they get on in a safe chute. "Many a time I've lassoed a wild mustang around the neck, choked him to the ground, bridled him, saddled him and broke him."

Brandt, who carries himself straight as a standing groundhog, is having a hard time making ends meet today. But he hopes to write serious and authentic stories of the West.

"It took Zane Grey seven years to get a story published and I've been trying for 15 years — and haven't given up yet," he says.

Headlight Study Set for Feb. 12

An automobile headlight adjustment program will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 12 in the NORTH MIAMI National Guard Building.

It will be sponsored by Metro Public Safety Auto Inspection service and the Automobile Manufacturer's Association and will be open to all garage mechanics, new and used car dealers and gas station operators.

Precision's Their Flyword

Fabulous Pilots, The Thunderbirds, Buzz Into Miami

By GENE MILLER
Herald Staff Writer

A harmless — and untrue — story the Air Force likes to tell is about the Florida Cracker and his wife who came out of the Everglades to watch the Thunderbirds.

The Thunderbirds are a precision flying team. At 500 miles an hour they roar around the sky in a tight wing-over-wing diamond formation performing feats of derring for the gathered multitude.

The Cracker and his spouse, goes the story, gawk unbelievingly.

And then, in the last "bomb burst" maneuver, the diamond screams straight up. The jets break away in different directions, smoke trailing out the exhausts.

Says the Cracker to his spouse, says he, "I knew that new-fangled contraption would fly apart sooner or later."

Anyway, the Thunderbirds buzzed into Miami Friday for a "flat" (under 2,500 feet) show, and will crank up their machines for two more shows at Masters Field in Opa-locka today and Sunday afternoons.

Garbed in dapper blue blazers, gray flannels and red and black striped neckties, they landed at the the Everglades Hotel Friday long enough to relate tales of the wild blue.

Their four-year-old jets, F100C supersonic Sabres, once upon a time held the world's speed record — 822 miles an hour. The record now is 1,408 mph.

In the team are seven men, the four in the diamond, a soloist, a spare pilot, and a radio announcer. The Thunderbird tour of duty is 1½ years, and since the group was formed six years ago 21 pilots have joined the alumni club.

This bunch, captained by Maj. Robby Robinson, has six wives and 11 children. The last bunch had 21 children, all but four, girls.

In the 412 shows since 1953, the Thunderbirds haven't as much as scratched a wing. On the corkscrew rolls, upside down U-turns and 360 degree vertical circle, the swept-back wings are "broomstick distance" apart—about five feet.

They fly anywhere they are sent.

And if Ike can fix things up with Khrushchev, they'll be delighted to do their stuff over Red Square on May Day.

Air Show Official Program

Rohlfs Wins Chess Title

Jeff Rohlfs, a Miami Edison sophomore, won the DADE COUNTY Interscholastic Chess Tournament championship Friday.

Rohlfs defeated Stan Kurzban, also of Miami Edison, to win his seventh straight game for the title.

Team championships were won by Miami Edison in the Senior Division and South Dade High in the Junior Division.

Steve Raskin of Horace Mann Junior High was the Junior title winner.

Coast Cities To Up Fares

Nickel Hike Will Start On Feb. 8

By PHIL FORTMAN
Herald Staff Writer

Coast Cities Coaches—which operate a fleet of 46 buses carrying about 12,000 passengers a day in HIALEAH and NORTH DADE — won a nickel fare increase Friday from the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission.

The increase will become effective Sunday, Feb. 8, John Williams, president of the bus line, said.

PRESENT 20-cent local fares in Hialeah, and at points north of 79th Street, will be increased to 25 cents.

EXPRESS fares, now 30 cents, to Miami from outlying areas, will be increased to 35 cents.

SCHOOL fares will remain at 10 cents.

The new fares will bring the line an estimated $95,000 a year in additional revenue.

Williams said the fare hikes were needed because of a 23-cent-an-hour increase in wages granted drivers and mechanics in a new contract with the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America.

Increased payroll taxes and higher operational costs were also cited.

Coast Cities had its last nickel-across-the-board fare increases in Oct., 1957.

The 110-route miles Coast Cities serves, in addition to Hialeah, are in OPA-LOCKA, EL PORTAL, MIAMI SHORES, NORTH MIAMI, NORTH MIAMI BEACH, MIAMI BEACH, SURFSIDE, BAL HARBOUR, GOLDEN BEACH, HALLANDALE and HOLLYWOOD.

Farm Youth Wins Award

He's Hard Worker Has Green Thumb

By JOY WINANS
Herald Writer

Beans mean a lot to 22-year-old David Rutzke of HOMESTEAD.

He's a career farmer, his father's partner, and owner of Dade County's top green thumb.

And beans played a big part in his winning the Miami Junior Chamber of Commerce award for being the farm youth of the year.

Since 1952, David has made a total profit of $35,254 in the art of growing green beans on 400 acres of South Dade's fertile soil.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Rutzke, of Coconut Palm Drive, Homestead, works long hours on his farm.

"I get up at five and finish at 6 p.m. and when it's not bean-picking season the hours are longer," he said.

Lansing Gordon, who taught David at South Dade High School, cited his leadership from his high school days in Future Farmers of America.

"His fellow students always had tremendous respect for his knowledge of farming and his dedication to farming," said Gordon.

David, holder of the Green Hand, State Farmer, and American Farmer degrees, can build a barn, fix a tractor and calculate to a cent what beans will bring in for profit.

But he can't stand interruption of his farming program. "And he's always very level-headed," said his new bride, Patty.

Despite his dedication to the art of farming, David finds time to be an assistant scoutmaster, member of the National Guard, a toastmaster and staunch church member.

But he is happiest when his sharp eyes survey the green of distant fields — a symbol of a rugged individualist working the dark earth to success.

Police Hunt 'Poodlenaper'

CORAL GABLES police Friday were hunting a poodlenaper.

Frank Viscount, 2930 SW 22nd Ter., reported his family's white toy poodle, valued at $350, stolen from his car.

Someone, he said, pried open a vent window and took Jicki, the dog.

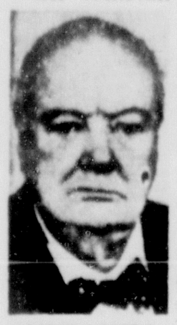
They'll Hang Winnie—His Art, That Is

LONDON —(AP)— Sir Winston Churchill now has reached the top in British art, the Conservative top, that is.



CHURCHILL

Sir Winston will have a one-man show at the Royal Academy of Art, 50 canvases on exhibit during the first two weeks in March. Many of the paintings have been on tour in the U.S., Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Only four other living artists have had one-man exhibitions at the famous gallery on Piccadilly — Augustus John, Sir Gerald Kelly, Sir Alfred Munnings and Leslie Brangyne. The Royal Academy is known for its conservative standards, and so is Sir Winston's painting.

Two Mothers With a Bond of Sorrow and Joy

Mrs. Tavarez

NEW YORK —(AP)— Two mothers — with the common bond of deep sorrow and then great joy — met for the first time. They are Mrs. Frances Chionchio and Mrs. Jose Tavarez.

Lisa Rose Chionchio, kidnaped Jan. 2 from St. Peter's Hospital, and John Tavarez, stolen three weeks later from the family apartment, were born only three days apart. Lisa Rose is home with her parents. Johnny is being treated at Roosevelt Hospital for a slight cold.

Mrs. Tavarez was taken to the Brooklyn home of Mrs. Chionchio, where both women embraced and beamed at one another.

"What a beautiful little girl," Mrs. Tavarez exclaimed in Spanish, pointing at Lisa Rose.

The women told each other how they had prayed that their respective babies would be restored to their homes.

Actress Hepburn Hurts a Little

DURANGO, Mexico —(AP)— "I only hurt when I laugh," Audrey Hepburn told visitors, "so don't say anything funny."

X-rays indicate the 29-year-old actress suffered two fractured vertebrae Wednesday when she was thrown from a horse during filming of the Western "Unforgiven." Shooting of the movie was suspended for at least two weeks.

Miss Hepburn was being kept immobile in bed at the home she rented here.

Miss Hepburn was galloping an Arabian stallion along a river bank 16 miles from Durango when camera trouble developed. Someone yelled "cut!" The horse stopped abruptly and she was pitched over its head.

His Slap Puts End to Romance

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. —(AP)— A roughhouse scene that wasn't in any script seems to have broken up the engagement of Comedienne Joan Davis and her fiance.

JOAN

Miss Davis, 46, had Real Estate Agent Harvey Stock, 35, arrested on a misdemeanor complaint charging assault and battery. She protested that a slap he gave her was much too hard to be called a love tap.

At her Palm Springs home, Miss Davis was asked if they are still engaged.

"It doesn't look that way, does it?" she replied sadly.

Bond or Jail, So He Settles

MELBOURNE, Australia —(AP)— Ave Gardner's visiting Italian boy friend got out of a troublesome lawsuit by agreeing to go ahead with a show in Melbourne Stadium Feb. 7.

Italian Movie Star Walter Chiari came to Australia 12 days ago to see Miss Gardner, who is making a movie. He agreed to star in the show, then remembered a TV commitment in Rome.

Chiari said he would come back in a month to do the Melbourne show. But the sponsors demanded and got a court order requiring Chiari to post 1,000 pounds ($2,240) bond or go to jail.

Several hours before he was due to catch a Rome-bound plane, Chiari reached an out-of-court agreement. He decided his TV commitments in Italy could wait until Feb. 13.

Thrill Killer Hospitalized

HOUSTON, Tex. —(AP)— Diana Daye Humphries, 16, who killed her brother because nothing exciting happened around their home was sent to a state hospital at Austin for an indefinite period.

The commitment order wasn't contested. Robert D. Humphries Jr., 14, was shot to death Sept. 10.

"I was bored," Diana said in a signed statement to officers. "All we do is eat, sleep and watch TV."

Breakfast Nude Just Too Much

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (UPI)— Mrs. Jessie Hicks told the judge she didn't mind when her 76-year-old husband didn't dress for dinner, but it was too much when he came for his toast and coffee each morning in the nude. She won a divorce.

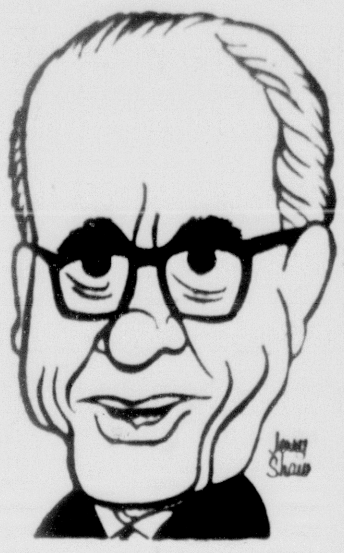
Today's Cele-Birthday

By JOY and JERRY SHAW
Of The Herald Staff



LEWIS L. STRAUSS, secretary of commerce; born Jan. 31, 1896, in Charleston, W. Va.

Former chairman of Atomic Energy Commission, Strauss was the big push behind development of the hydrogen bomb. The banker took AEC membership at a huge money loss, declaring: "I feel like a man who is amputating his own leg." The soft-spoken official owns a 1,500-acre farm, raises cattle, entertains with sleight-of-hand tricks. First Jewish member of President Eisenhower's cabinet, and deeply religious, he is trustee president of Congregation Emanuel in New York City.

Guest Back On Schedule

Guest Airways has resumed full flight schedules between Miami and its Mexican points, ending a six-day shutdown brought on by a pilots' strike against other Mexican airlines.

Guest's pilots were not involved in the pilot walkouts but the company instructed them to honor picket lines around various terminals.

The strike was halted Wednesday night when operation of eight Mexican lines was taken over by the government.

The last Miami-Mexico City flight went out of Miami on Jan. 22. Company officials here said Thursday that all schedules have been resumed "and operations are normal."

Quack-Detector

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Interior Department library has acquired an intriguing circular from the Wild Life Commission of Australia. It is entitled "Free Chest X-ray for Ducks."

Lie Test Clears Youth in Slaying

A lie detector test has eliminated an 18-year-old Minnesota youth as a suspect in the unsolved killing of an Ojus bartender last Saturday night.

However, Sheriff Thomas J. Kelly said a charge of armed robbery was filed against Herbert Leland Richard of Austin, Minn., who unsuccessfully held up the Kwik Chek store, 5299 NE Second Ave., Monday.

Richard's .32 caliber pistol was the same type of weapon used in the fatal shooting of Vernon Brubaker, 54, operator of the Melody Lane Bar, 18320 Biscayne Blvd.

When arrested, Leland gave police a false name, admitted a lengthy series of thefts in St. Paul, Minn., and said he came to Miami to "live it up."

'Chain' Speakers To Discuss World Hot Spots

The inside story of such world hot spots as Cuba and the Middle East will be told at the annual Florida Chain of Missionary Assemblies opening here Monday at the White Temple Methodist Church.

"The Real Cuban Revolution" will be discussed at the 11:25 a.m. Wednesday session by Dr. Alfonso Rodriguez, president of the interdenominational Evangelical Theological Seminary in Matanzas, Cuba, and a vice president of the International Missionary Council.

The first Cuban to hold the doctor of theology degree, earned at Princeton, Dr. Rodriguez also holds a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Havana. He is vice president of the World Council of United Bible Societies and a member of the committee working on the revision of the Spanish Valera Bible.

He has been president of the seminary — a joint project of Presbyterians, Methodists and Episcopalians — for eight of its 10 years. Students from Honduras, Guatemala, Panama and Spain are enrolled along with those from Cuba.

Dr. Rodriguez also will be speaking at the 8:30 p.m. Monday session and the Wednesday luncheon forum.

"The Communist Bid for Iran" will be described by Dr. John Elder at the luncheon forum on Tuesday. He is secretary of the Presbyterian mission and secretary of the interchurch literature committee in Iran, where he has served more than 30 years. He has been literature secretary of the Near East Christian Council.

Dr. Elder also will be the speaker at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Another Near East expert on the program is the Rev. Paul E. Nilson, a Congregational Christian educational missionary who has served on the Russian border of Turkey for nearly half a century.

At one time on the teaching staff of the American College at Tarsus — birthplace of Paul, the Rev. Mr. Nilson will describe "The Lands of Paul's Travels" at the 10:30 a.m. Wednesday session.

Still another speaker from that area will be Miss Gloria M. Wysner, secretary of the International Missionary Council who formerly served in Algeria. A sociologist with a doctor of philosophy degree in anthropology, Miss Wysner has written extensively about the people of the Near and Middle East.

Dr. Wysner, a Methodist, will be the speaker for the 7:30 p.m. Monday session of the assemblies.

One more woman from the Middle East who will be on the program is Miss Lois Kingan, principal of a Presbyterian girls school just outside Cairo, Egypt, for 30 years. She will speak at the Tuesday luncheon of the Miami Woman's Club and at the 7:30 p.m. Wednesday meeting.

From other parts of the world will come the Rev. Harry Komuro, of Hawaii; the Rev. P. Gordon Gould, of Alaska; Miss Elizabeth M. Lee, representing Europe; the Rev. B. Frank Hall, a world traveller from North Carolina; and Mrs. James D. Wyker, a vice president of the National Council of Churches from Ohio, to be on the program.

RODRIGUEZ

ELDER

GOULD

MRS. WYKER

The Rev. Mr. Komuro is a second generation Methodist missionary and is a member of the Commission of Labor and Industrial Relations for the Territory of Hawaii. He will describe the Christian work in that land at the 7:30 p.m. Tuesday session.

The Rev. Mr. Gould, who grew up in a Methodist orphanage, was the first native-born Alaskan to be ordained to the Methodist ministry. He will describe the work of the church in the newest state and talk about the future of the states as a whole at the 10:30 a.m. Monday session and the luncheon meeting that day.

Miss Lee has been spending much time in Europe dealing with refugees as a representative of the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief. She also has been a missionary to Japan and was in charge of Methodist work in Latin America for a time. She will be speaking on both Europe and South America at the 11:25 a.m. meeting and luncheon forum on Monday.

The Rev. Mr. Hall, a Presbyterian minister from Wilmington, N. C., has toured NATO bases for the Navy, made study tours to Lebanon, Jordan and Israel and has taken part in world conferences in Europe. He will discuss the church's role in today's world and how the daily behavior in America affects missions. His talks will be at the 11:20 a.m. and luncheon meetings Tuesday.

Mrs. Wyker has been named by "The Christian Century" magazine as one of the six Protestant women exerting the greatest influence in American church life today. A member of the Disciples of Christ, she has held many national and international church posts. She will discuss America's influence abroad and the role of women at the 8:30 p.m. Tuesday session and the Wednesday luncheon forum.

Kicking off the chain of assemblies will be the annual dinner to honor the visiting "ambassadors" at 6:30 tonight at the Miami Woman's Club.

There will be a youth rally, led by the Rev. Mr. Gould and Miss Lee, at 3 p.m. Sunday at White Temple. The youth choir of First Baptist Church, conducted by William Keltner and accompanied by Martha Scott, will be featured.

Young people on the worship program will be Pat Hughes, of Coral Gables Congregational Church; Elizabeth Banks, of Kelly's Chapel (Methodist); Ginny Truit, Miami Shores Community Church; and Barbara Caldwell, Riviera Presbyterian Church.

Other sessions in connection with the assemblies will include a young adult dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Miami Shores Community Church. The Rev. Mr. Gould and the Rev. Mr. Komuro will be the speakers there.

Miss Lee will speak at Booker T. Washington High at 9:50 a.m. Tuesday and the Rev. Mr. Komuro will speak at Edison Senior High at 8:30 and 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Dr. Nilson will speak at the Civitan Club at noon Tuesday; Miss Lee will address the Miami Beach Woman's Club at noon Wednesday; and the Rev. Mr. Komuro will talk to the Miami Rotary Club at noon Wednesday.

Mrs. Ernest Williams is chairman for the assemblies and Miss Ethel Tracy is in charge of the musical program.

Wyrtzen Rallies Slated

Jack Wyrtzen, of the famous "Word of Life" radio broadcasts, will stage a series of youth rallies in this area beginning Sunday.

CLAYTON

He and his team of musicians will open at the Miami Beach Independent Presbyterian Church at 11 a.m. Sunday, then go to the Florida City Methodist Church for a 7:30 p.m. rally, and move back to the Beach church for 7 p.m. rallies Monday through Friday.

Norman Clayton, composer of such familiar hymns as "Now I Belong to Jesus" and "If We Could See Beyond Today," will be organist for the rallies. He has been playing the organ for churches in the New York area since he was 12 years old.

Singer with the team will be Ken Nanfelt, 21-year-old tenor who toured Europe as soloist with the Wheaton Academy Choir.

Wyrtzen, a former bandleader, directs three large youth camps near New York and others in Brazil and Mexico in addition to his radio program which is broadcast weekly from Times Square on a coast-to-coast Mutual network.

Crane To Lead Revival Campaign

A nationally-known preacher — Dr. Henry Hitt Crane — will lead a revival campaign at the small Coral Way Methodist Church beginning Tuesday.

The famed pacifist who just retired after 20 years as pastor of Central Methodist Church in Detroit, will be preaching at 7:30 each night except Saturday through Sunday.

DR. CRANE

He is a fifth-generation Methodist preacher who has received five honorary doctor degrees for his accomplishments in a wide range of activities. A former all-American basketball player who is a pilot, he has been active in music and drama groups, fraternal organizations, and civic clubs.

Dr. Crane has been a world traveller and has written and lectured about many areas of the globe.

He will be honored at a reception marking his 69th birthday following the opening service of the revival for which the Rev. John Davenport, of the Opa-locka Methodist Church, will be the song leader.

Chalk Artist Will Be Evangelist

An artist-preacher will be the special speaker for a series of evangelistic services scheduled to begin Wednesday at the Calvary Church of the Nazarene.

He is the Rev. Dwight F. Steininger, of Nashville, Ind., who will conduct 7:45 p.m. services through Feb. 15.

Each night he will illustrate a familiar hymn with a chalk drawing in color. Colored lights will be used to give a changing effect to the pictures which will be given away to persons in the congregation.

Population Growth Topic

A program on the "Population Pressures in the Greater Miami Area" will be presented at the 1 p.m. Monday meeting of the Greater Miami Ministerial Assn. at Jackson Memorial Hospital.

Panelists will be Nestor Morales, attorney representing Spanish-speaking peoples; Daniel Lang, of the Urban League, speaking for the Negro community; and Haley Sofge, executive director of the Miami Housing Authority.

Sussman Heads Beach YMHA

William Sussman has been elected president of the Miami Beach Branch of the Young Men's Hebrew Association.

Other officers are Clemen Ehrlich, vice president; Mrs. James Hoo, recording secretary, and Mrs. Philip Samet, financial secretary.

Sclerosis Drive Heads Named

Area chairmen for the Multiple Sclerosis campaign in Miami Beach have been appointed.

Paul Grand is chairman of the area from Biscayne St. north to Dade Blvd.; Doris Weinstein from Dade Blvd. north to 63rd St., and Mrs. Jack Waxenberg, from 63rd St. north to 87th St.

This door-to-door fund-raising campaign has a $25,000 goal. Campaigning will begin Sunday and run through Feb. 14, tag day.

Bon Secours To Staff Villa

The Sisters of Bon Secours, of Baltimore, have accepted an invitation of Bishop Coleman F. Carroll to operate the Villa Maria home for the aged in North Miami. Five nuns will staff the institution beginning in September.

Barry Alumnae Plan Retreat

The annual Day of Recollection for the Barry College alumnae will be held Sunday when the Rev. James J. Walsh, of St. Francis Hospital, will be retreat master.

The day will begin with a Mass at 10:30 a.m. and end with a Benediction at 3 p.m.

Holland Given Education Post

George Russell Holland, of Miami Shores, has been named educational director at West Little River Baptist Church. He is the son of Dr. George Q. Holland, outstanding Miami layman, and Mrs. Holland who is president of the Florida Baptist Women's Missionary Union.

Alliance Churches Plan Conference

Missionaries from three spots in the East will be the speakers for the annual missionary conference held jointly at the Miami Gospel Tabernacle and the Hialeah Alliance Church.

Heading the group will be the Rev. James W. Nabors, who has been in Thailand since 1953 where he was the first resident missionary for the province of Chaiyapoom.

With him will be the Rev. George Breaden, who has worked with the Bedouin tribes of Lebanon, Syria and Arabia since 1923, and the Rev. Gustav Woerner, who has served in the islands of the New Guinea area and now heads the missions department of the Toccoa Falls (Ga.) Bible College.

Each of the men has curios, costumes and pictures of his work which will be on display at the 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. sessions at the Tabernacle each day for a week beginning Sunday. The sessions in Hialeah will be at 7:30 p.m. only and will start on Wednesday.

Baptists on Knees for Record Goal

Miami area Baptists next week will start toward a goal of the most far-reaching revival campaign in history. And they'll start on their knees, with more than 1,000 cottage prayer meetings scheduled in the homes of deacons and other lay leaders.

Nearly 100 Southern Baptist churches and missions in the Gold Coast area will be uniting in the effort which will culminate in a week's evangelistic crusade here Feb. 15-22.

Every Southern Baptist church in the Miami Baptist Association will take part in the revival campaign which is the kick-off for an evangelistic crusade in all Baptist churches in North America.

Seven Baptist denominations, representing 19 million people in 75,000 churches, will hold revival services during February, March, and April as part of a campaign to win people to Christ and strengthen conditions for world peace.

"Our only hope for peace is the love of Christ," said the Rev. Lathan T. Merchant, pastor of the North Miami Baptist Church, who is chairman for the prayer committee. "Prayer can bring about this love in the hearts of men."

With the help of Dr. Arthur Stainback, pastor of Little River Baptist Church, he started the prayer meetings rolling Thursday night at that church.

Leading the evangelistic crusade for this area will be Dr. Paul A. Meigs, director of evangelism for the Florida Baptist Convention, from Jacksonville.

Dr. T. Rupert Coleman, of University Baptist Church, is chairman of the steering committee. Serving with him are Dr. Floyd Folsom, Dr. John Haldeman, Dr. R. B. Culbreth, the Rev. Luther Key, the Rev. Richard Whipple, the Rev. William Hinson, Dr. Perry Carter, the Rev. Forrest Watkins, E. R. Anderson and Ward A. Weaver.

Building Rites On Tap

Different stages of building campaigns will be marked in four churches this weekend.

A fund-drive to erect a new church for St. Rose of Lima Catholic Parish will be set up Sunday. Parishioners will be asked to subscribe to a "day's pay a month for 30 months" plan beginning Feb. 27.

The proposed church will seat 1,200 worshipers, according to Msgr. James F. Enright. Masses now are held in the school auditorium.

Groundbreaking for the $200,000 auditorium for the New Testament Baptist Church will take place at the close of the 11 a.m. Sunday service.

The Rev. A. C. Janney will perform the ceremony for the 85 by 150-foot structure which will have a horseshoe balcony and be air conditioned and heated.

The cornerstone for the new sanctuary of the Rudy Memorial Methodist Church in Cutler Ridge will be laid during the 11 a.m. Sunday service.

Performing the rite will be Dr. P. M. Boyd, district superintendent who will preach the first sermon in the $40,344 structure.

St. Timothy Lutheran Church has purchased a six acre site at 183rd St. and 44th Ave. in Carol City. The new congregation now meets in the Carol City Center Building.

'Partnership Day' To Highlight Week

A "Partnership with God Day" at the Norland Methodist Church and a series of denominational youth rallies will highlight activities in Greater Miami churches next week.

Kenneth S. Keyes, noted realtor and Presbyterian layman, will be the speaker for the "Partnership" services at 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday. He will give his testimony in which he will attribute his success to the fact that he has tried to honor God in his business operations and has used his time, ability and money in His work.

Following his talks, the members of the church will be urged to sign cards indicating a vow to join in a similar "partnership."

Members of the Catholic Youth Organizations of the area will hold a joint meeting at 4 p.m. Sunday at St. Mary's Cathedral to honor their patron saint, St. John Bosco by attending Holy Hour.

The Episcopal Young Churchmen of the Miami Deanery will meet at St. Philip's Episcopal Church in Coral Gables at 3 p.m. Sunday to hear Father Joseph, of the Order of St. Francis. Some 250 young people from Miami to Key West are expected.

Fr. Joseph also will preach for the 9:15 and 11 a.m. services there.

The Rev. Paul Wagner, of Tampa, will be the speaker for the 6:30 p.m. Thursday rally of Miami Methodist senior high school boys and girls at Riverside Methodist Church.

The annual dinner to finance scholarships to Piedmont College will be served at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Coral Gables Congregational Church.

Another dinner, to aid in rebuilding a fire-damaged building at Washington College Academy, will be served at 5:30 p.m. today at First Presbyterian Church by the Windjammer chapter of the National Mariners.

Catholics To Publish Newspaper

The Catholic Diocese of Miami will publish its own newspaper, to be called The Voice, beginning March 12.

Editor of the new tabloid size weekly, the first Catholic paper in the country to be printed by the offset method, will be John Ward, former editor of the Pittsburgh Catholic and the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Assistant editor will be Charles F. Shriner, of the Catholic Standard and Times of Philadelphia. William F. Dale, of the Florida Catholic, will be business manager.

Three Diocesan priests will be consultants. They are Msgr. John J. Fitspatrick, former executive editor of the Florida Catholic, of Stuart; Msgr. James F. Nelan, of Miami Beach; and the Rev. James J. Walsh, director of the diocesan bureau of information.

Pastors To Be Feted

A pair of Miami pastors—the Rev. Frank L. Titus and Dr. Arthur Stainback—will be honored on anniversaries this weekend.

To mark the 25th anniversary of his entering the priesthood, Fr. Titus will be feted by members of the congregation at Holy Cross Episcopal Church at a banquet at 7 p.m. Monday.

Gen. Lewis B. Rock, the Rev. Donald Stuart, and Col. Paul Roland (one of the survivors of the Bataan death march) will recall the events of Fr. Titus's term as an Army chaplain.

Tomas P. Lynch, commander of the Military Order of World Wars; Thomas Sharpe, of the 40 and 8 and American Legion; Edward Boardman, president of the Biscayne Bay Kiwanis Club; Mrs. James R. Brumby, Dr. Smythe Lindsay, Sheriff Thomas Kelly and Gordon Moyer will describe his life as rector at Holy Cross.

Members of Little River Baptist Church will mark the first anniversary of Dr. Stainback as their pastor by dedicating a three-story educational building at the close of the 11 a.m. Sunday service when the 155 new members who have joined under his ministry will be special guests.

The church also has redecorated and airconditioned the auditorium, purchased a lot for parking, purchased a pastorium and a house for the minister of education, paid off the debt and employed a minister of education and music and a records secretary under Dr. Stainback's leadership.

Missions Study Planned at Wesley

A two-week "Adventure in Missions" program will be launched Sunday at Wesley Methodist Church in Coral Gables.

The first session, at 7:45 p.m., will deal with Alaska. Speakers for the occasion will be the Rev. and Mrs. Ed Purviance, who spent six years in Fairbanks. They will present pictures of their work.

The second session will be Wednesday when a movie on Methodist work in Hawaii will be shown.

The third session will be Feb. 8 when Col. Gilbert Hatfield, who served in the Philippines, will discuss Methodist work in those islands.

The fourth session on Feb. 11 will be a panel discussion by members of the Weslyan service guild and the final session on Feb. 15 will be a "festival of missions."

Diocesan Organist Named

Clayton Brenneman, of Pittsburgh, has been named organist for the Cathedral and the Catholic Diocese of Miami.

BRENNEMAN

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll also announced Friday that Brenneman will be a member of the diocesan music commission and will direct the Cathedral choir during liturgical ceremonies.

A native of Altoona, Pa., Brenneman trained in organ, composition and choral work at Carnegie Institute of Technology, St. Bonaventure University, Duquesne University, Pius X School of Liturgical Music, and the Christiansen Choral School. He has served churches in three states and was a professor at the College of St. Teresa in Winona, Minn.

He has been organist and choir director at Sacred Heart Church in Pittsburgh since 1945 and has served as an officer of many professional organizations in that city.

Guild To Hear Fr. John Walsh

The Rev. James J. Walsh, diocesan director of retreats, will be the speaker for the 8 p.m. Wednesday meeting of the Notre Dame Academy Guild. He will discuss "Vocations and Parents."

Bible School Courses, Dates Set

The second semester of the Tropical Bible Institute will begin Tuesday with registration from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The Rev. Marvin L. Smith, principal of the night school aimed at training ministers, missionaries and church workers, said several survey courses of the Bible will be offered.

Other courses will include comparative religion, Pentecostal doctrines, church history, personal evangelism, principles of teaching; homiletics, hermeneutics, pastory theology and Spanish.

The school is operated in conjunction with the Full Gospel Tabernacle at 4801 West Flagler St.

Temple Men Set Workshop

The annual leadership workshop of the southeastern division of the Florida Federation of Temple Brotherhoods will be held Sunday at Temple Beth Sholom in Miami Beach.

Sylvan Lebow, executive director of the national federation from New York, will be the featured speaker for the clinic which begins at noon.

Sacred Concerts Slated

Singers who have performed for President Eisenhower and European royalty will sing in South Florida in a big week of sacred music beginning Sunday.

On the program are the University of Maryland Chapel Choir, the Florida Southern College Choir, the North Miami Concert Orchestra, the Gesu Catholic Choir and the Miami Lutheran Chorus.

SPRINGMAN

With the Maryland choir will be Fague Springman and the University Choral Singers who sing annually at the President's Breakfast in Washington. Springman has sung for the last two presidential inaugurations as well as for European royalty.

A former member of the Philadelphia Opera Co. and a frequent soloist at Radio City Music Hall and on the Telephone Hour, Springman is well known here for his work with the Howard Butt crusades.

Springman, who is a music professor at Maryland, and the choir will give a recital at 2 p.m. Sunday and another at 3:30 p.m. at the Boca Raton Bible Conference Grounds.

The Florida Southern College Choir from Lakeland will give a concert at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at White Temple Methodist Church. Dr. W. Wynn York will direct the mixed chorus. William Spivey will be accompanist and soloist.

The 50-piece North Miami Concert Orchestra will give a combined secular and sacred concert at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church under the direction of Frank V. DiNino.

A feature of the concert will be a number by the rhythm band of the host church school's first, second and third graders.

Guest soloist will be lyric soprano Susan Bogusky.

A 130 - voice choir from Faith, Mt. Calvary, St. Andrews and Holy Cross Lutheran churches also will sing. Aileen DiNino will direct.

The choir of the Gesu Catholic Church will present a "Night of Music" at 8 p.m. Sunday under the sponsorship of the Our Lady of Lourds Guild.

Soloists will be Ailene Edgeworth, Marguerite Barnes, Anthony Canadeo and Joseph Good. Guest artists will be Veronica and James McCormick, Phillip De Stefano, Fred Riebel and Larry Sands.

Betty Lessey and Tony Ronzo will perform a comedy in pantomime from a Broadway production.

Peter Stevens, church organist, will direct the concert.

The Miami Lutheran Chorus will sing a sacred concert at Trinity Lutheran Church in Opa-locka at 4 p.m. Sunday.

The program will be broken into two segments—the hymn hour and the anthem hour. In the first, many favorite hymns will be sung in their original settings with a variation of descants added to them.

Featured number in the anthem hour will be "Hallelujah, Amen" from Handel's "Judas Maccabaeus."

The 40 - voice chorus is directed by Willard F. Luecke and is made up of members from all the Missouri Synod Lutheran churches of the area.

Printing Probe OKd By Collins

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. LeRoy Collins Friday gave his blessing to a legislative investigation of state printing practices and at the same time announced he intends to renew his efforts in the next Legislature for a broad central purchasing system.

The governor said that in both 1955 and 1957 he had recommended the creation of a broad purchasing procedure including printing, but that there was not enough support in the Legislature to get his program adopted.

The governor said that he does not approve of the present system which sets up a state purchasing commission, composed of the state Cabinet.

He will again recommend the creation of a commission composed of the state budget director as chairman, and two other members appointed by the governor, one upon recommendation of the Cabinet and one upon recommendation of the Legislative council.

Collins said that during his administration, he has attempted to make sure that bidding on all purchases, including printing, by agencies directly under his supervision are made by open competitive bidding.

The governor said that until 1957, state printing was regulated by a law which had been on the books since 1887. The law now provides that state printing must be done by Florida firms and subject to competitive bids.

State Rep. John E. Mathews Jr. of Jacksonville has announced that he will ask the 1959 Legislature to make a thorough study of printing practices by all state agencies and call for putting printing under a central purchasing system.

Collins said, "I have no feeling of opposition to that of any kind. I welcome such, especially if the committee is to be chairmaned by Rep. Mathews. But I hope it gets under way soon rather than be postponed until the Legislature convenes."

Collins said the six agencies under his direct supervision when he assumed office were the State Road Department, Industrial Commission, Hotel and Restaurant Commission, Motor Vehicle Bureau, Beverage Department and Department of Water Conservation.

Since then, the Development Commission has been added as a part of the governor's "little Cabinet."

The governor said he has asked each agency for a full report on their printing practices and that if any loose, careless or improper practices are detected, he will call for an immediate tightening of procedure under existing printing laws.

The governor said, however, that he was pleased to find that since 1951, the Motor Vehicle Bureau's costs for its biggest printing job dropped from $16 per thousand to $6.91 when the printing of vehicle registration cards was let on wide open bidding.

Prior to the time Collins took office in 1955, this job was given to the Rose Printing Co., just across the street from the state Capitol. The price ranged from $13 to $16 per thousand.

Collins said that since he took office, the low bidder had been in each case an out-of-town firm.

Collins also said he does not consider it a desirable practice for a state employe to be on the payroll of a company that sells supplies to the state.

"This presumption is that it would be contrary to public policy," Collins said. He said as far as individuals go, their character and integrity would also be a factor.

Collins was asked for comment after Howard J. Friedman, an employe of State School Superintendent Thomas Bailey, disclosed he is on the payroll of the Rose Printing Co. at $100 a month.

Helped Develop Routes

Floyd E. Nelson, Air Pioneer, Dies

Capt. Floyd E. Nelson, 50, who pioneered South American flying routes, died Thursday in Jackson Memorial Hospital.

He lived at 831 Andalusia Ave., Coral Gables.

At the time of his death, he had accumulated 21,000 flying hours. He was one of the pioneer pilots to develop air routes in South America.

Capt. F. E. Nelson
. . . Gables man dead

Capt. Nelson had flown every type of aircraft from the single-engine Fairchild monoplanes to tri-motor Fords and the modern four-engine luxury liners over every Panagra route.

Before joining that airline in 1937, he accumulated more than 5,000 flying hours as a military pilot and as one of the pioneers of China National Aviation Corp.

Born in Salt Lake City, he attended the University of Utah. He was graduated from the U.S. Army Air Corps flying school at Kelly Field, Tex. in 1930.

Play's Plot Was Dated But Siobhan Was NOT

ANDERSON

IT IS AMUSING to hear the criticism that Sir James Barrie's plays are dated. By current Broadway standards, this is quite true. They are as quaint as the crinoline. By television standards—particularly weekly television—his plays are completely timely.

"What Every Woman Knows," CBS' Show of the Month Wednesday night on Channel 4 was almost the precursor of the modern day TV family situation comedy.

The Barrie play set forth the proposition that man is essentially a boob who, if it were not for his woman, would be scarcely house broken, much less capable of leaving home unattended.

This must have struck the English males of Edwardian England as hilarious but hardly credible whimsey.

In any event, except perhaps to help advance the cause of women's suffrage there, the play wrought no revolution in the English household. The Englishman to this day still firmly rules his roost.

I DOUBT IF BARRIE realized how accurately he was representing a growing American social attitude. He should have lived to watch a typical week of our television comedy involving Danny Thomas or Ozzie Nelson, for example.

It would amaze him to see how much Barrie has been out-Barried since he propounded his then unique idea in 1908. As a matter of fact, he could get rich turning out scripts for the big eye.

In "What Every Woman Knows," Barrie's counterpart to television's Harriet Nelsons and Marjorie Lords was wiley Maggie Wylie, a Scotch lass of indifferent looks but with the mental capacity of Dr. Frankenstein.

Her three brothers, fearing for her marital future, offered to finance the education of an ambitious young Scotsman provided he would marry Maggie at the end of one year.

The unwitting Scot accepted their offer. He not only got his education but embarked on a political career so successful he became one of England's most promising parliamentarians.

And guess who got him where he was? Maggie, of course. She virtually wrote his speeches and plotted his strategy, all without hubby realizing it and without his giving her credit for it.

Maggie didn't mind. She just kept on smiling sympathetically across her knitting and letting the fool have his head.

She even offered to release him from wedlock when a bright young society belle caught his fancy.

Inevitably, however, the Scot came to the realization of what Maggie had meant to and done for him. This took place in a scene as humiliating as Lee's surrender to Grant. He and his society light-of-love gave each other the gate and he fumbled his way back into Maggie's tender trap.

ALL THAT KEPT this reviewer from developing diabetes Wednesday night was the insulin of Siobhan McKenna's charm in the role of Maggie.

The Irish actress is a woman of such captivating radiance she could make Jezebel seem like Little Eva. Her Maggie was as irresistibly persuasive as Barrie's creation should be.

James Donald was suitably gruff and blockheaded as the helpless Scot. The role is an unenviable one. Barrie used his Scot as a sacrifice on the altar of womanhood with all the dignity of a wienie roast.

There was a fine performance by the regal Martita Hunt as a French countess, a sort of boudoir H. V. Kaltenborn who sees through Maggie's loving game and comments on it throughout the play with admiring relish.

WE HAVE an unfortunate switch of time on Ben Hecht's play, "The Third Commandment," on NBC in Sunday's Fun in Florida television section.

You will find it listed for presentation this Sunday. This is an error which I hope you will duly note. The play will not be presented until the following Sunday, Feb. 8. We're sorry.

BURNS

WALLACE

The NBC-TV George Burns show gets the ax on April 14. It'll probably be replaced by The Californians, which in turn is turning over its Tuesday night time spot to a David Niven anthology series . . .

ABC-TV's Mike Wallace turned down the title role in NBC-TV's Ellery Queen . . . Right now, Gig Young is a lead contender for the part.

When the NBC-TV George Gobel hour shrinks to 30 minutes in April, its vacant half hour probably will be filled by switching Dragnet into the spot.

June Allyson, Kim Novak, Larry Oliver, Mort Sahl, Millie Perkins, Dick Powell, Bob Hope, Louis Jourdan, Tony Martin, Cyd Charisse and Bob Wagner all are ticketed in for NBC-TV's telecast of Hollywood's Oscar derby on April 6.

What's the Use?

VANCOUVER, Wash. —(AP)— A burglar broke into a safe at the Vancouver Food Center here Thursday. He found 45 cents. He left it there.

4 — BOLD VENTURE — Shannon is commissioned to transfer unidentified cargo from a Caribbean steamer to Jamaica. It turns out to be contraband guns.

7 — D.A.'S MAN — Shannon is assigned to convince a hold-up victim that the duty of a citizen is to identify his assailants. This victim, though, is afraid of the two who mugged him and won't testify. So Shannon gets an idea. It wasn't very original, but it does leave room for some two-fisted and one-gunned action.

10 — JOHN WAYNE THEATRE — "Flying Tigers," (1942), John Carroll. An American in the Chinese National Air Force patrols the Burma Road.

7 — COMMAND PERFORMANCE — "White Cargo," (1942), Hedy LaMarr, Walter Pidgeon, Frank Morgan. A new man arrives to oversee the native laborers on an African plantation and falls under the spell of a beautiful white goddess.

11:15

College Study

Bachelor Of TV Next?

WASHINGTON —(AP)— An educator envisions the day when it may be possible to get a college degree by TV study without going near a campus.

John Ivey, executive vice president of New York University, told the Senate Commerce Committee it could be done. He added, however, "this wouldn't be the ideal way to do it."

Ivey urged creation of state educational networks which could be linked into regional networks and ultimately into a national network.

In this way, he said, it would be possible to spread the talents of top flight teachers much thinner.

Coffee Prices Slump; Lowest in 10 Years

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

Coffee prices continued their downward spiral Friday, with fresh cuts announced by three packagers.

The Maxwell House division of General Foods announced wholesale price reductions of three cents a pound in all its grocery-packed regular ground coffees, effective Monday.

The wholesale prices of regular Maxwell House, Sanka, Yuban and Bliss will be the lowest in nearly 10 years when these price cuts go into effect, the company said.

Maxwell House is being retailed in the Miami area for about 86 cents a pound, but grocers were uncertain if all of the reduction would be passed on to retailers.

"We're already working on a pretty close margin," said one supermarket executive.

Another three-cent wholesale cut was announced by Albert Ehlers Inc., bringing its wholesale price down to 73 cents a pound.

Grand Union Co. announced a two-cent cut in the retail price of its private brand coffees, which are not sold in the Miami area.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN stock held by James D. Norris and Arthur M. Wirtz has been purchased by Graham-Paige Corp., an investment company, for about four million dollars. Norris and Wirtz owned 219,350 shares, or about 40 per cent, of the common stock in the corporation.

SWIFT & CO. cut shortening prices one-half to one cent a pound Friday, bringing both hydrogenated and standard types of 18¾ cents a pound for 2,000-drum lots delivered east of the Rockies. The new price is the lowest in a decade for hydrogenated shortening.

GEORGIA & FLORIDA RAILROAD, now in receivership, has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to underwrite loans totaling two million dollars. The money would be used for rehabilitation and maintenance of its tracks and to finance the purchase of 100 new box cars.

NORTHEAST AIRLINES announced it will inaugurate Sunday the first new Miami-Jacksonville plane service in 14 years. Daily jet-prop service will be provided with a new fleet of Vickers Viscount planes.

RAYTHEON MANUFACTURING CO. has reduced prices of six types of transistors 5 to 20 per cent with an average cut of 12 per cent. The transistors are high frequency switching types used in computer and control applications.

WELBILT CORP announced that negotiations for a merger with a manufacturing business in excess of 20 million dollars a year have proceeded to "an agreement on principal terms." Welbilt Chairman Alexander P. Hirsch declined to name the company, but said it is a large, privately-held Midwest concern.

CANNON MILLS CO. was reported to have told its employes their wages will go up Feb. 15, the first break in a long-rumored textile industry wage increase. The increase could be expected to trigger a general raise throughout the Southern textile industry.

* * *

GEORGE ROMNEY, president of American Motors Corp., again urged that General Motors Corp. be broken up to keep the auto industry competitive. He said other carmakers exist only because General Motors allows them to do so.

* * *

THRIFTY DRUG STORE CO. shareholders have approved a two-for-one split of the company's common stock.

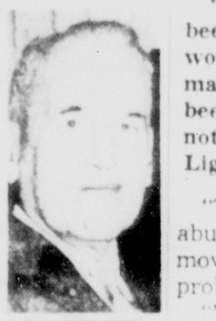
PEPSI COLA CO expects net earnings for fiscal 1958 will jump to $1.80 from $1.61 in the previous year because of a big sales increase late in the year.

NAM Chairman Hits Business Controls

By STAN JOHNSON

Herald Business Writer



LIGHTNER

Businessmen must take the blame for many of the "unnecessary" government controls which now plague them, the chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers said here Friday.

"A great many of the stringent control which have lately proven both unworkable and undesirable were originated by businessmen who thought they were acting in the public interest," said Milton C. Lightner.

Lightner, a past president of the NAM and the chairman of the Singer Sewing Machine Co., spoke at a Miami Kiwanis Club luncheon in the Columbus Hotel.

He said that businessmen should not oppose controls that are in the public interest, but should take the lead in opposing those that are not.

He cited a proposal of the Justice Department to require corporations to give advance notice of mergers as an example of an undesirable and unnecessary control.

"Many mergers which have been in the public interest would not have been consummated if those responsible had been required to make public notices in advance," said Lightner.

"Today," Lightner said, "the abuse of power in the labor movement presents a similar problem.

"We have seen labor developing a power free from control of law which inevitably would lead to corruption and abuse."

He said businessmen should take the responsibility for seeing that "intelligent legislation in the public interest" is adopted to regulate labor unions.

The manufacturer also criticized the federal grant-in aid programs to state as "a festering cancer which should be removed."

He is scheduled to address the Greater Miami Manufacturers' Assn. at a dinner here tonight.

But Week's Average Is Still Down

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market Friday mounted its best rally in a couple of weeks but it failed to wipe out the losses of the previous four sessions.

The result was that the market registered its first weekly decline in nine weeks.

Steels, coppers and other industrials paced the upturn which added an estimated $1,678,000,000 to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The industrials were buoyed by some solid news indicating a continuation of the economic recovery. An upsurge of new business was reported by Bethlehem.

U.S. Steel has re-lighted idle openhearth furnaces. Copper prices continued on the upbeat. Federal Reserve officials painted an optimistic economic forecast for the Senate banking committee.

In addition, the market was entitled to a technical snapback after the waves of profit taking it has been subjected to this week, brokers said.

Lower-priced stocks continued to play a prominent role on the upside. Among key issues, the chemicals, airlines, building materials, rubbers and rails joined in the advance. Motors were uneasy and shaded a bit.

Volume was 3,360,000 shares compared with 3,470,000 Thursday.

‘Avenger’ Shoots Christian Scientist

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO—A Christian Scientist practitioner was shot and severely wounded Friday by a man who, police said, declared he wanted to avenge the death of his daughter.

The practitioner felled in his eighth floor office in the Orchestra Hall Building on Michigan Ave. is William F. Rubert, 69. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital.

A few moments after the shooting, a man who identified himself as Edward Whitney, 58, of Birmingham, Ala., surrendered a pistol to a traffic policeman at a corner near Rubert's office.

"I shot him because he killed my daughter," Whitney told police. He said his daughter died in Birmingham 21 years ago after seeking help from Rubert during an illness.

Policeman John Raiman, to whom Whitney surrendered a .32 caliber gun quoted him as saying he came to Chicago three days ago to seek out Rubert.

He said his 11-year-old daughter, Kay, died in 1937.

Whitney accused Rubert of persuading the family to substitute faith healing for insulin injections the girl had been receiving under medical supervision.

Indians Balk Power Project

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — The Tuscarora Indians have rejected what the State Power Authority called a final bid to acquire part of their land for the Niagara Power Project.

The Indians voted unanimously to turn down an offer of three million dollars plus some fringe benefits for 1,383 acres of their reservation.

This seemed to spell defeat of the State Power Authority in its long fight to acquire the land for part of a water storage reservoir in the power project.

Authority Chairman Robert Moses had announced that if the Tuscaroras rejected the latest offer the authority will build a smaller reservoir elsewhere.

Flames Damage Minister's Home

CLEVELAND — Someone smashed a kitchen window, entered the home of the Rev. H. Robert Gemmer while the family was away and started four fires that caused damage estimated by firemen at $4,500.

Mr. Gemmer, director of the Cleveland Area Church Federation's social welfare division, said the arsonists may have set the house afire because of opposition he voiced to the City Council to Sunday sales of 3.2 beer.

Crash in Water Kills Pilot

NEW YORK — An aviation company's small plane ran out of gas in a dense fog and crashed early Friday in the water just short of LaGuardia airport. The body of the pilot was recovered several hours later.

The pilot, James Herrick, 51, an executive of the Cessna Aircraft Co., was believed flying alone in the plane.

He radioed a distress report at the end of a nonstop flight from Wichita, Kan., where the Cessna firm has its headquarters.

As Herrick was turning over the water for an approach to LaGuardia he radioed that he was out of fuel and was going into the water. He was not heard from again.

Unclad Girls Target of Bill

CARSON CITY, Nev. — A Nevada legislator wants a law passed banning night club shows that include bare-chested girls.

Democratic State Sen. Floyd Lamb introduced a measure in the Legislature which would make bare bosom shows illegal. In Las Vegas, Beldon Katleman of El Rancho Vegas stoutly defended his show.

"Perhaps it is time to differentiate between an artistic performance and mere burlesque," Katleman said. "The current production at El Rancho Vegas is a Parisian revue I brought over intact from Paris."

But Marion Hicks of the Thunderbird, who has tried such shows, said he is "100 per cent for eliminating such shows completely."

Lamb says wryly: "They've gone too far—there's nothing beautiful about it."

Unionists Jailed

KHARTOUM, Sudan—(UPI)—Three union leaders were sentenced to five years in prison for holding an illegal meeting and associating with members of International Communist organizations.

Latins to Hear Port Ceremony

Miami's airport dedication is being covered by the World Wide Broadcasting Co., and its president, Walter S. Lemmon, hopes to make it the beginning of a "Voice of Miami" series.

WRUL broadcasts two hours daily in Spanish and Lemmon estimates that the shortwave station has between 300,000 and 400,000 listeners in Latin America.

"We are trying to organize a regular series of programs from Miami," Lemmon said, "and we believe this series would acquaint Latin American listeners with events of Greater Miami and promote tourism."

William A. Caram, chief of WRUL's Latin American program division, will interview Argentine President Arturo Frondizi here Sunday for his network.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

BELL

YOUR TOWN CRIER now is in the horse show business. Knowing we need about $300,000 a year to care for sick and crippled indigent children at Variety Children's Hospital, I just can't seem to say "no" when someone wants to help.

My horse show will be staged by South Miami Riding Club, Feb. 13-14-15. There's a prior show at Dinner Key Feb. 5-8, opening the Sunshine Circuit. The same champions then will shift to the South Miami grounds on Kendall Dr.

The South Miami horsemen want to help the hospital, which is in their sector of Greater Miami. Variety Club officers decided they'd rather not sponsor the show. So I feel honored that Walter Pierce and his South Miami group said "If you'll help us we'll give all the money to the hospital anyway." I will, so they will. I'm a sucker for horse shows anyway.

Now all I need are purchasers of trophies and boxes. The South Miami folks have worked so hard the show expenses are already in the bank. Every cent we take in goes to the hospital. Boxes are $35 for the three days, six chairs each. The parking space behind the box is an extra $5. Trophies are $25 or $50. It's deductible.

Scene Change

The old Everglades Hotel is under transformation into the new Everglades. And a little party Friday evening sort of set up the new idea, even if there were a few echoes from World War II.

The party was for Air Force men, here for the big show opening our new International airport. Col. Benjamin B. Cassiday Jr., deputy commander of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, represented the academy.

Maj. Gen. John W. Persons, commander of the famous 14th Flying Tiger Air Force; Col. Seth McKee, skipper of Homestead Air Force base; pilots of the famous Thunderbird precision flying team; missile wisemen from Cape Canaveral: They were all over the place in their military sartorial splendor.

Y'know, harking back to World War II, the Everglades had a far different military demeanor. It was taken over by the Navy and used as a barracks for enlisted men.

Fish Counting

Here's a new bit of science. They're using electronics to count fish. Two electrodes are lowered into a stream. Fish are "electronarcotized." Stunned, it's easy to pick them up with nets, get a "house count," then drop them back uninjured.

Witness' Affidavit Fails

New Trial Denied For Mrs. Lewis

By PHIL FORTMAN
Herald Staff Writer

Coral Gables Municipal Judge Charles Spooner Friday denied a new trial for Mrs. George T. Lewis after a surprise witness said he saw a big oil truck back into her tiny sports car.

The judge sent Mrs. Lewis, past president of the Coral Gables League of Women Voters, to jail for five days last Monday for driving her small Fiat car into the rear of the truck. Her term will be up at 5 p.m. today.

She insisted the truck backed into her car and chose to go to jail rather than pay a $20 fine. The truck driver, Nevo Goodlak, 58, testified she hit him.

Mrs. Lewis said small cars do not get a "break" on the road and said she went to jail as a matter of principle.

The incident occurred Jan. 9 in a stalled line of traffic in the 5700 block on Maynada St.

The surprise witness as the case was reopened Friday was Marcellino A. Suarez, 1126 NW 18th Pl., a Spanish interpreter for the Miami Police Department for the past four-and-a-half years.

Suarez, in a sworn affidavit, said he witnessed the accident and that Mrs. Lewis was not at fault.

His affidavit said he "heard a horn blowing, and a woman screaming. Then I saw the big truck back into Mrs. Lewis' little car."

Suarez said he proceeded on his way because he believed "there would be no question of who was at fault as the small vehicle was not moving at the time it was hit by the truck."

Judge Spooner questioned why a witness "should turn up at this time." Mrs. Lewis' attorney, Julian M. Quarles, said Suarez did not come to Mrs. Lewis' aid until he read newspaper accounts of the accident.

Denying the motion for a new trial, the judge said: "I may be wrong, but I am concerned where such matters will wind up in similar cases."

He Pleads Guilty, Goes On Force

By ARTHUR JOHNSEY
Herald Staff Writer

A former postmaster of Florida City pleaded guilty Friday to a charge that he converted postal money orders to his use.

But that didn't deter the town of Florida City from plans to rehire him—as a policeman.

William B. Hillier, one-time postmaster of the Homestead branch substation at Florida City, faced charges by postal inspectors that he came up short $600 in postal money order funds—but quickly restored the funds.

U.S. Attorney David Clark told Federal Judge Choate that the violation was a "technical" one.

Neither the government nor any individual had suffered any loss, Clark said. He recalled that Hillier has been working as a policeman.

Clark told Judge Choate a letter from the town manager at Florida City stated he'd "be anxious to re-engage him on the termination of this case."

The postal inspector recommended extreme leniency. And Clark said the town manager and police chief made it clear "if he pleads guilty to a misdemeanor they need him badly and will take him back on the force."

Judge Choate put him on probation for a year. He fined him $1,000.

"I know there's some temptation to do these things" said Judge Choate. "I don't think I'm justified in destroying your future."

Friday night City Manager Richard Schmunk said Hillier will be back on the force Sunday as one of the town's two patrolmen.

Fake Salesmen Prey on Blind

Imposters, claiming to be salesmen from the Lighthouse for the Blind, have been making the Miami circuit, Lighthouse officials said Friday.

Clifford Low, Lighthouse sales manager, urged residents to insist on full credentials from the salesmen. All products are labeled as those of Miami blind craftsmen, he said.

The Lighthouse sales program provided steady employment for 40 blind Miamians last year and brought them almost $2,000 each in direct wages.

Is Giblin's Case Legal? 'Prove It'

By C. G. BERNING
Herald Staff Writer

Coral Gables must prove it arrested Circuit Judge Vincent C. Giblin legally before bringing the judge to trial, a Circuit Court order said Friday.

The city has until Feb. 10 to prove his arrest was legal or cancel his case.

Giblin's trial was knocked off Wednesday's docket as a result of the order signed by Judge Marshall C. Wiseheart.

The order was issued after Giblin filed suit saying he was unlawfully and illegally arrested while en route to his own court Jan. 23.

Gables Officer Seymour Anderson arrested Giblin when the judge drove off as Anderson was writing a ticket against Mrs. Giblin.

Giblin's suit contends there was no cause for his arrest and detention, and he was within his rights to drive on.

The judge said the Supreme Court holds that a judge can't be detained — for anything short of a criminal offense—en route to his court.

Judge Wiseheart's order required the city judges to cancel Judge Giblin's case or answer his suit by Feb. 10.

Tripped By Prints

If the boss hadn't asked for his fingerprints, Leon Butler would be a free man today.

But the Miami Negro is back in Raiford State Prison, his former home of three years ago, serving his second sentence for jewel robbery.

In Criminal Court here Friday, Butler told Judge George E. Schulz he escaped from Raiford and came to Miami where he got a job as gardener with the county parks department.

He planned to go straight, he said, until the county set up its fingerprinting system.

Rather than risk identification, Butler returned to his old profession, stealing jewels—and got caught again.

Traffic Bureau Runs Him Down

Professional Pedestrian Lands in Toils of Law

Ted Bronstein, 54, is a professional walker.

To keep in training he walks 35 or 40 miles a day. He thinks nothing of walking from his clerk's job at the Belvedere Hotel at 843 Euclid Ave., Miami Beach, to Tropical or Hialeah Race Tracks.

And he never worries about losing his carfare home. He walks.

But Friday he suffered great humiliation. Thomas Frederick, supervisor of the Miami Traffic Fines Bureau, told him a warrant had been issued for a $2 violation he neglected to pay after a policeman stopped him a few months ago.

The charge: Jaywalking.

Despite Last Year's Slump

Miami's '59 Air Outlook Is Bright

Traffic May Snap '57 Record

Recession, Cold Hurt '58 Totals

By CHARLES TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

A costly drop of more than a quarter-million in the number of passengers flown in and out of Miami International Airport during 1958 was blamed Friday on last winter's cold weather and the national recession.

But officials of the major airlines, the Dade County Port Authority — which directs operation of the airport — and the county's Chamber of Commerce-run Development Department agreed that the outlook for 1959 is much brighter.

A Port Authority spokesman said that good weather so far this winter and heavy passenger traffic at the start of this year's tourist season indicate that the number of passengers in 1959 "will outstrip even 1957" — the best year so far.

The annual report of traffic at the airport came from the Port Authority as officials embarked on a weekend of ceremonies dedicating the multi-million dollar new terminal designed to put Greater Miami in the forefront of jet-age commercial aviation.

The statistics showed that 3,688,223 passengers flew in and out of Miami International — both on intra-continental and international flights — in 1958, compared to 3,980,534 in 1957. That's a drop of 292,311 passengers.

It was the first year since 1952 that passenger traffic decreased instead of increased.

There were 60,187 fewer passengers flying to and from points outside the continental limits, and 232,124 fewer passengers to and from points within the continental limits.

The only month of 1958 in which combined passenger traffic showed an increase over the previous year was January, when there was a jump of some 13,000 — from 386,720 in January of 1957 to 399,223 last January.

The only other increases on the statistical chart were small ones for January and August in passengers flying to and from points outside the continent. There was a decrease in every month in the intra-continental traffic.

In the combined totals, the heaviest drop-off was for December, when some 67,000 fewer passengers were handled in 1958 than in 1957.

This was explained chiefly by the Eastern Air Lines strike, which began last Nov. 24 and did not end until New Year's Eve — putting the huge carrier out of business for the last week of November and all of December.

The heaviest decreases came from February to July, then tapered off during the summer and spurted back up in November and December.

"It was a combination of bad breaks" which caused the fall-off, the Port Authority spokesman said.

He said the cold weather last winter and part of last spring brought "poor publicity for Miami that affected the number of persons coming here even later on."

A National Airlines official said the national recession was "undoubtedly the basic factor" in the passenger decrease.

Both Eastern and Pan American World Airways agreed that the recession and the bad weather were the major causes.

Dick Welsh of the Dade County Development Board pointed out that in the early months of 1958 several million persons were unemployed —"and these were the people who normally would have come here for vacations in the summer. But they had their 'forced vacations' earlier."

None of the airlines had figures available for passenger traffic so far this year, but all of them said they felt it was considerably up from last year and that indications are the flow of traffic to and from Miami will continue to be heavy.

Ever hear of No-Mar, Ja Wood Co., Jasco, Japsco, Twist-Et, Sockettes, Woodja, Kibco, Da-Re-Co, Printco, Plas-T-Pad, Cosme'Valet, Futures Unlimited Vindow, Handy Andy, Novel-Tel, Chur-Brite Co., Monette, and Presco?

No?

Well, if you haven't heard of these 19-up-and-coming companies, you're sure to be hearing from their bright-eyed executives.

They're all members of Junior Achievement of Greater Miami — a prospering program designed to give high school students practical experience in running their own businesses.

Junior Achievement opened its two-day trade show Friday on the Dupont Plaza's third floor for what appeared to be one of Miami's most successful trade marts of the year.

Each of the junior companies had a booth from which they energetically hawked their home - manufactured wares.

The items, which were selling like hot cakes, included just about everything except hot cakes.

Handsome green chalk boards were heaped around the Futures Unlimited Co. booth.

"They've got a million uses," assured Futures's president, Bill Planes, 17, of Coral Gables High School. "You can put it next to the telephone, or out in the kitchen or . . ."

"Sen. George Smathers was here today and showed considerable interest in them," chimed in Richard Causey, 18, of Edison High.

How many did he buy?

"Well, he didn't exactly buy any — but he showed considerable interest," Causey insisted.

"A vice president of the Edwards Shoe Co. of Philadelphia bought 244 of them," said Jim Davis, 16, of Jackson High.

At $1.25 per.

They were the JA Company of the Month in October and December; they pay themselves a 20-cent-an-hour wage; they expect to make a mint.

Air Show's Off Ground But Public's Up in Air

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

The Dade County Commissioners' Air Show was fogbound in more ways than one Friday — and got off the ground two hours late.

Meanwhile, hundreds of fathers and mothers with auto loads of children were told "no show today," and at the same time asked to pay a dollar for what they had been told previously would be free performances at Masters Field, Opa-locka.

The fog was blamed by officials for the delay in the start of the performance. And the would-be audience blamed a fog in high levels of the County Commission which permitted the snafu.

Late Friday, Maurey Ashmann and Dick Olson, in charge of the Aviation Week Air Show held in connection with the dedication — miles away—or Miami's new 26 million dollar airline terminal building, said "everything is all right now."

They said planes were flying over, "at irregular intervals, but there's something going on every few minutes."

Early arrivals, at the scheduled 10 a.m. opening, found nothing. The promised missile and aircraft exhibits had not been set up. Nor was anything going on at noon when The Herald's reporter arrived.

And there were guards at the Masters Field gates collecting one dollar a car from those who wished to park in the assigned area.

Ashmann said later this was strictly a "parking charge, and not an admittance."

"These people can park on the side streets and walk onto the grounds without paying," he said. State road patrolmen were keeping NW 27th Ave., adjoining the field, clear of parking for normal traffic.

Ashmann also said that "massive missile displays" were being set up late Friday afternoon. On their visit, a Herald reporter and a photographer found only miniature displays.

The parking and hot dog charges, Ashmann said, "are strictly to meet operating expenses, and none of the money is going to pay for entertainment in connection with the dedication ceremonies."

Ashmann heads Exhibitors Services, Inc., a firm appointed by County Publicity Agent Dick Troxel to handle the Air Show. They are operating under a verbal contract.

High Schools Get Most of Blame

By PHIL MEYER
Herald Staff Writer

University of Miami President Jay F. W. Pearson Friday night laid part of the blame for the failure of UM physics students on high schools which do not prepare them adequately.

"Students who have had the recommended math in high school should have enough to pass the course" at the university, Pearson said.

But he said that "unfortunately, not all the students prepare adequately" in high schools, but still are passed and are accepted into college.

He admitted on a radio show that the university takes many students who were in the lower half of their high school classes because "we feel students should be allowed to show whether they can perform at college level or not."

"We were disappointed in the performance of the physics students," Pearson said, "but it was not a surprise to us. The failure rate is about the same here as nationally."

He said the university is "undertaking studies to see what we can do to stimulate students to do better."

Earlier in the day, a "mass meeting" called for the 221 of 319 students who flunked freshman physics drew only 15 interested persons. But Oscar New, leader of the flunked faction who sported blue-tinted spectacles and a day's start on a rebel-type beard, vowed that "this isn't the end of it."

NEW

When he headed for an empty classroom on the suggestion of another student to draw up a list of grievances "to present to somebody," only a few of the 15 followed him. The rest straggled off.

Meanwhile, rumors of stolen exams in other subjects flew through the campus but officials tended to doubt them. The rumored stolen exams concerned mostly beginning courses in economics and psychology.

"That story gets out everytime," said Dr. John Fetzer, chairman of the economics department.

"I got an anonymous letter saying the exam was out and 25 students had it. But I'm convinced it was not out. There are always previous exams floating around and that may have been the cause of the rumors.

The chairman of the psychology department, Dr. Granville Fisher, reported two anonymous phone calls last Friday telling one of his staff members that the psychology answers were being sold.

The same night, a psychology office was broken into. The examinations, kept in a locked cabinet in an adjoining room, had apparently not been disturbed, Fisher said. However, a substitute final was given "to be on the safe side."

Timid Gunman Loses 20 Cents in Holdup

A tall soft-spoken holdup man, who frightens easily, ran out of a Miami Beach restaurant Friday poorer than when he walked in.

He plunked down a quarter at the cashier's counter at 1675 Alton Rd., meekly asked for a package of gum, and then shoved a note to Miss Florence Starman.

"Give me all your paper money. Hold up," said the note.

Unimpressed, Miss Starman said, "Now, you get out!"

The man pulled the butt of a pistol from his jacket. Impressed, Miss Starman screamed.

The man turned and ran for the door. Left behind on the counter was his 20 cents in change.

DeMille's Last Movie Advice: 'Dirt Not Always Pay Dirt'

Nightlife with George Bourke

DURING the past 18 months Joseph Laitin taped interviews with the greats of the film industry and is broadcasting the edited result over KNX radio in Hollywood this current weekend under the title of "The Changing Face of Hollywood." Some of the quotes are extremely interesting but none is more pertinent than the posthumous caution of Cecil B. DeMille who said: "Our greatest danger from within the industry is worship of the golden calf. Dirt is not necessarily pay dirt."

And exhibitions won't cheer Jane Russell's contribution to the forum: "If I could sit and see a good picture at home I would never go out," she is quoted out of context as saying. Always the kitchen cynic, Shelley Winters commented that: "The trouble (with the star system) is the way it's set up now, you become a star and then get enough money to study acting."

Treniers Join Variety Show

THE TRENIERS, one of the big hits of last year's Variety Show of Shows benefit at the Miami Beach Auditorium have agreed to try a repeat this year. They'll take time out from their chores at the Riot Room on the night of Feb. 5 to join Bob Hope in raising funds for the Variety Children's Hospital. Tickets are available at the auditorium or at the Variety Club, Miami Colonial Hotel for from $2.50 to $20 . . .

Claire Kelly, former wife of George DeWitt is under pressure from actor Perry Lopez to "Name That Time." For the wedding bells, that is . . . Roger Vadim, who discovered Brigitte Bardot, is hoping lightning will strike twice—he has a 15-year-old protege named Gillian Hills who is expected to make Bardot look like a plateau.

Brave fellow is Claude Chabrol, a French film-critic. He's turned producer! . . . Emerson Buckley, bearded musical conductor, is at the Algiers. Stay away from Havana, E.B., or they'll pin a 26th of July armband on you. Incidentally, Fidel Castro's $250-a-day suite at the Havana-Hilton is on the 23rd floor, three shy of the 26th.

BETTER HURRY around to Ciro's to grab a look and a laugh at comedian Alan Gale. Alan is considering a stab at serious theater and if you know Alan's determination you know that the "stab" will be a successful operation. So enjoy him while you can without taking a trip to the Broadway theater belt. Gale is truly one of the great cafe performers of our time. Although he always has an act or three on his bills, just for variety, he is as much the one-man show as is Victor Borge, or Red Skelton. He dominates any room he is in with his alternating sallies of wisdom and wit.

Sid Kuller and company have been working overtime making adjustments on Copa City's "Jump for Joy," which, in its opening night version, was joyful but didn't have the "jump" you'd expect of a show boasting of the talents of Duke Ellington, Barbara McNair, Timmie Rodgers, Stump and Stumpy and other Negro show personalities.

One of the additions has been a frenzied production number featuring the primitive rhythms of song and dance which were the mainstay of every successful colored revue that ever hit the boards of theater or cafe.

Lend-a-Hand Tickets on Sale

ADD TITLE CHANGES: The SIM to DIER. SIM was the Military Intelligence Service of the Batista regime. DIER, its successor (accent on the first three letters?) is Department of Investigation of Revolutionary Army.

Producer Rex Carlton—didn't he make a movie here once with Lili St. Cyr? — is producing "Witchcraft." with Linda Christian and Robert Alda . . . And Ferde Grofe, Jr., and Buddy Rogers are making one called "The Sea Witch." Sounds like Halloween around the corner.

Incidentally, Ferde Grofe, Sr., will be represented on the preview premiere bill with "Sleeping Beauty" for the benefit of Lend-a-Hand on Feb. 10 at the Sheridan Theater. His Grand Canyon Suite has been translated into pictorial terms and made into a featurette by Walt Disney.

Some of the Grofe arrangement was used in "Fantasia," which Disney made more than 10 years ago and which pioneered with stereophonic processes just coming into use.

Tickets for the Lend-a-Hand benefit showing of the $6,000,000 wide-screen film may be had at the Sheridan and Florida Theaters or at The Miami Herald.

Girl Meets Rosten, Doubts He Is Author

BEACH SKETCH: Leo Rosten was finishing a new book on the beach at Miami . . . On each side of him were honeymooners, models, holidayers and others gabbing cheerfully . . . One day a memorable blonde put down a book she was reading and smiled . . . "Don't you ever talk to anyone?" she cooed. "All you ever do is write, write, write. What are you, a lawyer?" . . . "No," said the author. "I'm a writer" . . . "Really?" she really'd . . . "Really," he replied . . . "How romantic," said the Beautiful Thing. "What do you write?" . . . "Books such as the one you're reading," said Rosten. It was his "Education of Hyman Kaplan" best-seller . . . "Actually," added Leo proudly, "I'm just finishing a sequel to the one you have there" . . . She looked at him a moment and hmf'd: "Very funny" . . . She never talked to him again.

TIN PAN ALLEY NOVELET: "Miss You" remains one of the better ballads . . . It was written in 1930 . . . By Henry Tobias (melody) and his brothers Charles and Harry wrote the lyrics . . . Dick Clark, the television star, features it daily . . . He spins Jaye P. Morgan's disc and one by the Keymen . . . This time the new generation dances to its new beat . . . "Miss You" has gone through three generations of dancers and lovers. Rudy Vallee first recorded it in 1930 . . . Bing got around to it in 1942 (as did other stars) and now it is destined for the Hit Parade again . . . But it is tied up in litigation . . . The composers are suing the original publisher for return of the copyright after 28 years. All the money is tied up.

Leo Rosten
. . . a story

Ava Gardner
. . . applause

Debbie Reynolds
. . . annoyed

AVA's temper tremens on the set of "On the Beach" depressed the stage crew so much they applauded loud when she finished a death scene . . . Edith Piaf's booking at the Waldorf marks her first appearance there . . . Debbie Reynolds is reported very annoyed at the scads of sob-stories being written about her . . . First Cousins: Presley's "One Night" and the famous "O, Sole Mio" . . . "Nine Lives," the first Norwegian movie released in the U. S., is getting a wow buildup among previewers . . . Shelley Winters, the star, model'd swimsuits and nightgowns when she was 15 . . . Many foreign films are censored for sophisticated New York City. But not for smaller burgs . . . Mitzi Gaynor's full name is mighty impressive: Francesca Mitzi Marlene de Czerhy von Gerber.

An essay in the Saturday Review observes: "The only journalists who are consistently successful in keeping rumor and gossip out of the news are the Communists" . . . Harry Belafonte's platter of "Tarrytown" is one of his most listenable. A folk song with lyrics that sound like poetry . . . The gals on the Bob Cummings program are usually worth a look or two . . . Barbara McNair is the stand-out in the new Duke Ellington show at Miami Beach's Copa City . . . She has class, talent, stage presence . . . Too much of the production limps . . . If you're in the market for melody "The Great Artie Shaw" lp is a bargain. Crowded with fine jazzamatazz and nostalgia . . . Eyecatcher title over a movie mag essay: "A Lot of Love Went Into Our Divorce."

MANHATTAN MURALS: The army of handsome elevator operators in Madison Avenue's ultra-office edifices. Some starters resemble movie stars. Wear custom-tailored uniforms costing $235 . . . The many shops in the 60s along Madison which are hobbies for their owners. Some open from noon to 4:30 p.m. Many are closed 3 days a week. Most are shuttered in Summer . . . The female bouncers in some of the Greenwich Village gay places . . . The out-of-town newsstand in Times Square. Papers from over 400 cities and 45 nations.

THE LATE WATCH: One of the "Whoop-Up" cast astonished the Sardi's crowd by getting stoned before her performance . . . Mitzie Gaynor and David Niven start filming, "Ann'y Waltz" in mid-Feb. at the De Luxe studios, 54th and Tenth . . . The sound of walking through snow (on radio) is produced by simply biting into an apple. (Sqoosh) . . . Dancer Illona Murai of "Goldilocks" and her groom are imaging.

Is Charlie McCarthy Jealous?

By GEORGE BOURKE
Herald Amusement Editor

Cafe Review

Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen have been reunited but nasty rumors are flying from pillar to post that maybe it wasn't only a slow freight shipment which separated them on the eve of Mr. Bergen's opening at the Eden Roc Cafe Pompeii.

The Bergen opening, delayed one night when Charlie, Mortimer and the rest of the champ ventriloquist's troupe failed to arrive on time, revealed that something new, tall and blonde has been added to the Bergen show entourage.

Her name is Caroline Richter and her frame is of a design which could bring the green — and we don't mean foliage — out of Edgar's woodsy friend.

We imagine that any show now, the never backward in the repartee department McCarthy is going to feel the sap rising and sound off with something such as a sarcastic "Timber!" while Miss Richter is in the spotlight. Charlie hasn't said so but it is possible he will threaten to do a "shingle" act.

Miss Richter is an off-beat singing comedienne, who does weird lyrics in an even weirder style — the sort of thing you find at Frisco's the hungry i or the off-Fifth Avenue lounges in New York.

Her work is layered between plys of the familiar Bergen patter on topical subjects with McCarthy, Mortimer Snerd and Effie Clinker. Bergen ends his stint with a new departure, a straight bit of character presentation of an old man watching the day disappear in a small town.

Livliest spot in the current bill is Elaine Dunn, a well-built lass who taps delightfully and sings effectively. Her act is well produced and features a quicker than you can say Elaine Dunn costume change. Bergen will be on hand through Tuesday, with Eartha Kitt and the comedy team of Rowan and Martin slated to open next Friday.

GENTLEMEN'S Agreement? Is clasping of hands by Fidel Castro, victorious Cuban rebel leader and American Charles Baron a colonel himself once and now executive vice president of the Havana Riviera Hotel, a sign of amiable things to come on the tourist-gambling scene? Picture was taken at reception for 400 newsmen from 20 countries.

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

Sat in Some Red Ants

THERE IS A RULE at Miss Jennie's nursery school against carrying guns. But once a year, they have a "Gun Day" and the children can come armed to the teeth.

On this day, Miss Jennie takes the young cowboys and cowgirls to a park, where they bang-bang each other most of the morning.

Our children took all of their artillery with them on Gun Day this week.

It must have been a busy morning. They were almost half an hour late coming home.

My wife was beginning to worry, but I told her I was sure the delay was caused because it took the teachers so long to pick up all the corpses.

When they got home, I anticipated a rousing description of the gory morning. "What did you do at the park today?" I asked Carl.

"I sat in some red ants," he said.

Even Wyatt Earp couldn't have coped with that.

WE HEREBY BESTOW a special orchid on Helen O'Hagerty, 103 NE Second Ave., because she's a special girl. She's 96 years old and finds life lots of fun.

She loves music, can remember the words to songs she used to sing 70 or 80 years ago, and plays her piano every day.

I'm short of that age by several years, but I can't even play the piano once a week.

GEOGRAPHICAL INTELLIGENCE, from Vincent L. Gallagher, 3575 N. Moorings Way, Coconut Grove: "If Minnie Sizemore had sailed down Buzzards Bay from her home near Bear Hole, Mass., past Wood's Hole, Naushon, Nashawena, across Quick's Hole and past Penikese, she'd have come to Cutty Hunk, where she could have feasted her eyes on the broad Atlantic, Gay Head, and No Man's Land. And it's beautiful, too."

THEY HAD A HAPPY BIRTHDAY the other day in the home of Jack Leahy, 551 Breakers Ave., Fort Lauderdale. Their parakeet was 17 years old.

Mr. Leahy wants to know if anyone else has a parakeet that old. He thinks he may have a champion of some kind. And he wonders how old parakeets can get.

Parakeet lovers usually aren't backward in offering information about parakeets, and I imagine Mr. Leahy soon will be well informed on the subject.

And if anyone does have a parakeet older than 17, I'd like to know about it, too.

THAT CANARD THAT Florida oranges aren't orange is debunked by Belle Johnson, 735 NW 108th St. who says that the oranges in her trees are "a beautiful orange color" and so are those in her neighbor's trees.

I guess I don't know how to pamper an orange tree, because my oranges are pretty repulsive looking—sort of a sickly brownish yellow.

But they're full of sweet juice, and we love the ugly rascals.

THERE WAS A TIME when I made some snide remark about Strunk, Ky., and the former residents of that fair city nearly organized a posse to escort me out of town by rail. I made amends, and they're speaking to me again.

Alma Garrett, 641 NE Sixth Pl., Hialeah, proudly identifies herself as a Strunker. She is a granddaughter of Uncle Murray Strunk's sister, Elizabeth, better known as Aunt Bett.

The Strunks are a well known family in Strunk.

Mark Twain's Words Were Well Selected

I'VE BEEN reading Mark Twain's autobiography. It stirs some envy, because I would love to be able to write as beautifully as he did, but never will.

An autobiography is a kind of wonderful smelling stew, cooked with a fine stock of memories, seasoned with imagination.

When I read a good one, it starts me kicking around incidents of what we call "the good old days," though those days weren't nearly as terrific as we like to pretend.

Mark Twain was born in a tiny village called Florida in Missouri. He recalls, when he was a little fellow around 1840, the cost of living was trifling.

Apples, peaches, corn, potatoes averaged around 10 cents a bushel, a good sized chicken cost a dime. Eggs were three cents a dozen, butter six cents a pound, coffee and sugar five, whisky 10 cents a gallon.

Mark Twain also reported that a husky farm laborer, who sweat through a 12 hour day, was paid between $75 and $100 a year, plus two pairs of jeans and a pair of "stodgy" shoes, valued at three dollars. So, considering the buck-and-a-half to two dollars a week pay, three cents a dozen eggs, and 10 cents a gallon whisky don't seem so wonderful after all.

WHEN I WAS the age Mark Twain talked about, the year was 1900. Things were expensive compared with 1840 standards, but cheap in comparison with those of 1959.

There was no income tax . . . no jitters about war.

Tobacco companies sold cigarets on the premise that you'd enjoy them, not that they were less likely to give you cancer than any other brand.

The moon was something to make love under; not go into orbit around. That's lousy grammar, but what I mean.

We laughed at European countries for drafting young men into their armies. People, as one editor said, were more interested in a fist fight at Germantown and Lehigh than a war in Korea.

When you traveled, you went in a creaking railroad car, and, if it was summer, and the windows open, you inhaled enough cinders to lay a mile of roadbed. No, the old days always had disadvantages to balance the advantages.

The same can be said for what is now regarded as a glamorous, exciting prohibition era. I worked in New York through those years.

They returned quite clearly the other night when I saw Paul Whiteman, Harry Richman, Buster Keaton, Rudy Vallee, Fifi D'Orsay and Billy Gilbert in "The Newcomers of 1928" at the Deauville. There were bits portraying such bathtub gin favorites as Texas Guinan, Helen Morgan and Helen Kane. It was pretty exciting in those days, and in remembering them, too. But, veteran rounders of the 20s looked back to "Diamond Jim" Brady, Lillian Russell, Lillian Lorraine, suffering from nostalgic migraine, they said the old Broadway was gone forever. One could no longer dine and wine in dignity at Rector's, Churchill's and Reisenweber's, but were compelled to eat bad food and drink unspeakable booze in dimly lit speakeasies.

"Newcomers of '28" got us all swelled up in the throat and applauding like mad by their re-creation of a n'er-to-be-forgotten period. Each has its good points and its bad points, but in retrospect we are inclined to overlook the latter.

In 1989 people will undoubtedly shake their heads, and complain that nothing's as good as it was 30 years in the past. That's the past we're living in now, and complaining about, too.

THIS IS "National Kraut and Frankfurter Week." Mark it down in your book as one of the really significant seven days of the year. The hot dog has become one of the most popular edibles in the United States, and even visiting royalty sink regal teeth into it as initiation into the American way of life. And, nothing goes better with a weiner than a batch of sauer kraut.

Neither is an American dish. The hot dog was invented in 1850 by a German butcher, who wrapped sausage meat in a jacket, and named it after his home town of Frankfurt.

Sauerkraut is also of Teutonic origin. This was so well known that, during World War One some rock head tried to change its name to "liberty cabbage." Thank heavens, it failed to take.

On a cold night, there is no more satisfactory meal than frankfurters and sauerkraut, though why anyone wants to dedicate a week to it any more than they'd dedicate one to snails and vichysoisse I have no way of knowing.

HOTEL EMPLOYES, from managing directors to bus boys change jobs as often as movie actors change wives. That's why the record of Tom Raffington's people strikes an off-beat note. Bob Lace, who runs the Pump Room, has been with Tom since 1946, as has accordionist Ruth Palmer. Violinist Crawford Adams has an 11-year record, and bartender Joe, Callahan, 16. The only exception to the rule, if you go all the way to the top, is Raffington, himself. In the 23 years he's been on the local scene, the Irishman has bought and sold hotels as though they were a dime a dozen. And I don't recall that he ever lost a dime on any of them.

Boost Appeal

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Saturday, January 31, 1959

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Particular care must be taken today in matters of good name and increasing popular appeal. And ultimately you will realize that some change must occur in you if you are to get the very best results of today's thinking and acting.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) The ideal A.M. to know what your real ambitions are and how to take the right steps in that direction. Personal anxieties can then be solved by introspection.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Rather poor judgment on your part in monetary matters during A.M. could cause you to be suspicious of a very true friend. Tension often does this, so be on your guard.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) One of those days when you get into a hassle with dynamic associate who could become an enemy if you don't use real wisdom now. Be most thoughtful and kind.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get busy putting residence in A-1 condition now and keep out of mischief's way. Clear out all debris for maximum efficiency of living in the future. Rest and take it easy.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Since you want to have a day of fun and frolic, get beauty treatments early and be on the go. Later, some rather strange people try to get you interested in peculiar matters. Steer clear.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A.M. can be very peaceful and profitable provided you do not make sarcastic remarks to close ties. Also, guard your words and manner with associates and outsiders, especially in P.M.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) It may be that you interpret incorrectly something in today's correspondence. So, don't let it bother you. Be generous and give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt. FOR YOUR COPY of Carroll Righter's individual 16-page Forecast for February send your birth date and 50c in coin (no stamps) to Carroll Righter Forecast, (Miami Herald), Box 1895, Grand Central Sta., N.Y. 17, N.Y.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't permit yourself the annoyance of worrying about property or financial matters. Think lucidly and all will be well. P.M. have fun, but do not be extravagant.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Provided you keep nice sense of balance today, you will make the right decisions in all important affairs. Any nervousness will be very harmful.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Attempting to judge others when you do not know the reasons for their actions would be very bad today. Be most kind and thoughtful with those in need.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Look for the reasons behind the actions of friends, associates or relatives. In this way you avoid criticism and get to the bottom of things properly.

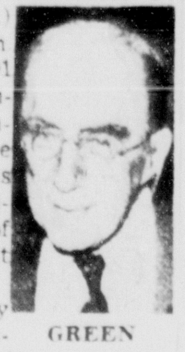
Sen. Green Bows Out Of Post

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday accepted the resignation of Sen. Theodore F. Green (D., R.I.) as its chairman.



GREEN

Green, at 91 the oldest member of the Senate, asked to be relieved of his chairmanship because of failing eyesight and hearing.

After a hastily summoned closed meeting of the committee members said they had unanimously urged Green to reconsider his resignation, but he declined to do so.

A new chairman was not elected at the meeting, but Sen. J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.) is the next ranking Democratic member in seniority and his election is expected to be only a formality.

Fulbright already is chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, but presumably would relinquish that post to head the Foreign Relations Committee.

Fulbright gave reporters a rundown on his views after the Green resignation was announced.

He called on the administration to "get off dead center" in its relations with Russia and Communist China and stuck to his past criticism of the Eisenhower foreign policies as "inadequate, outmoded and misdirected."

Fulbright said the U.S. should offer to negotiate with Russia and China on such issues as West Berlin, Korea, Viet Nam and Formosa.

The Providence (R.I.) Journal had called editorially Thursday for Green to step down from the chairmanship. The editorial said it believed Green lacked the physical strength and was too old to hold the important post at this time.

Green's letter to Johnson said "as we both well know, my decision to resign is not based upon misleading newspaper articles or slanted editorials by a few callous newspaper writers."

Milton Eisenhower Urges American Common Market

By JOHN B. McDERMOTT
Herald Foreign Affairs Writer

Dr. Milton Eisenhower predicted in Miami Friday a great economic development of Latin American provided the nation there work out a "common market concept."

The President's brother said he feels certain that American private investment and loans will be quickly forthcoming if the Latin countries come up with a planned economic program.

Dr. Eisenhower, here for a talk to the South Florida Alumni Association of Johns Hopkins University at the Dupont Plaza Hotel, made his observations during an interview.

He is president of Johns Hopkins as well as being an expert and trouble shooter for President Eisenhower on Latin American affairs.

"Think of what would have happened to this country had each state set up its own tariff regulations and tried to conduct its economy on a separate basis," Dr. Eisenhower said.

"Our national economy would have suffered greatly and we could never have achieved the development which we enjoy today."

The same situation exists in Latin America, he said, where 21 relatively small nations, each independent of each other, try to develop individually.

The "common market" would be a means of coordinating the efforts of all the nations patterned somewhat along the lines of a similar united effort now being tried by some of the West European nations.

He emphasized that Latin America is not seeking either charity or grants from the U.S.

"What they are asking for are loans — loans which they will pay back," he said.

He pointed out that Latin nations have established a habit of repaying such loans which so far have been too small to do much more than scratch the surface in their economic struggles.

De Soto Owners

YOU can have your cake and eat it too with this one. It's our 1957 DESOTO FIREDOME 2 door SPORTSMAN HARDTOP finished in cool solid Winter white that is in spotless condition and of course, completely factory original, bumper to bumper inside and out. There's a gorgeous interior that includes a special headliner, Naugahyde trimmed nylon seats, doorpanels and thick pile floor carpeting.

There's all the equipment in the books — POWER STEERING — POWER BRAKES — POWER WINDOW — 6 WAY POWER SEAT — TORQUE FLIGHT transmission, the big "8" tube push button radio, clock, directional signals, EZ eye Solex tinted glass and excellent white wall tires. We're putting this exceptional automobile on sale for you today for ONLY

$1,995

BEST of all — No cash needed for the down payment — just trade in your 1952 model automobile. And — — It's insured in writing by American Bankers Insurance Co. for a period of one year against major mechanical repairs — parts and labor at no cost to you. Enough said?

WOW! Heres the best price yet for America's most popular imported automobile. It's our completely factory original 1957 English Ford ANGLIA 2-door sedan at a really low sales price. Because at the price of only $995 it's priced way below it's actual value. You'll find the Dover white original finish in A-1 condition. The original Naugahyde seats and door panels are washable and will stay clean with a damp cloth wiping. The Firestone "Gum Dipped" tubeless white wall tires are above average and in fact, the spare has never been used.
This is your chance to get up to 35 miles per gallon of gas and make part of your payments with the gas money saved. Don't miss it. No cash needed Just trade in your 1952 model for the down payment.

the sports car today

is an MGA

Lively instant power, road-hugging stability, tremendous strength and stamina — here are all the top performance features with flawless M.G. craftsmanship. Dashing open two-seater or luxurious weather-tight Coupe, the MGA is way ahead—today's best sports car buy.

NOTE: If you're after top competition performance you should specify the new TWIN-CAM engine. This power unit developing 108 b.h.p. at 6,700 r.p.m. can be fitted jointly with Dunlop Disc Brakes on either version, (new models only) as an optional extra.

Two special exhibit MG's will be offered below market value at close of show.

NOLAN BROWN
Cadillac

OPEN LETTER TO USED CAR BUYERS

Three reasons why you see more Cadillacs on the road today than any other make in its price field:

First — Cadillac is the most beautiful car on the road.

Second — Cadillac is the easiest handling and the most comfortable car to ride in.

Third — Cadillac is one of the most economical cars to own and operate over a period of time.

In our used car department we have the most beautiful and reasonable priced used Cadillacs you can find anywhere. They are traded from the original owners and look and run like new. We can make you a very attractive offer for your present car. Our stock also consists of many other makes and models of clean used cars.

Come by, see them, drive them, or call us for a demonstration. Then you will see why you should . . .

MAKE THE MOVE TO CADILLAC AND NOLAN BROWN NOW!

"hey, joe!
My Dad is gonna be home with me
this Sunday!" . . .

" . . . I'm not sure what we're gonna do . . . we'll probably go to church together and then go fishing or swimming or just monkey around the house most of the day. I'm just sure that he'll be home Sunday because he promised.

"And he's promised that he'll be home Sundays just as long as the automobile dealer that he works for can manage to stay closed on Sundays. He says that

33 AUTO DEALERS
who belong to the MIAMI AUTO DEALERS ASSOCIATION have agreed that their NEW CAR SHOWROOMS
and their
USED CAR LOTS
WILL BE . . .

CLOSED
ALL DAY
SUNDAY

This boy's Dad and hundreds of other Dads will be at home Sunday with their families because we feel that our employees are entitled to Sundays off.

We have by unanimous vote agreed to close all our New Car showrooms and Used Car Lots on Sunday to improve the working conditions of our employees.

WE ASK YOUR SUPPORT BY SHOPPING FOR YOUR CARS ON SATURDAYS, MONDAYS AND OTHER DAYS OF THE WEEK.

Grass Ace Tudor Era, Petare Favored Today

By RUSS HARRIS
Herald Turf Writer

Petare, the eight-year-old equine invader which has made U.S. racing fans Venezuela-conscious, is in the spotlight again today at Hialeah.

Petare scored a sensational triumph in last Saturday's Royal Palm Handicap only five days after arriving in Miami. That race was on the dirt and against a rather moderate field.

This afternoon Petare has a chance to prove he is truly a wonder horse. He will be taking on some of America's best grass runners and conceding them from four to 22 pounds at one mile and three-sixteenths in the $25,000 Bougainvillea Turf Handicap.

There is no turf racing in Venezuela and it has been five years since the Argentine-bred Petare saw "combat" on the grass.

However, the ease of his first victory in the U.S. has made him co-favorite with Mrs. Herbert Herff's Tudor Era in the Bougainvillea.

Tudor Era won the International at Laurel last November in a smashing performance only to be disqualified for interference. Last Saturday he breezed to an impressive tally on Hialeah's grass course while packing 121 pounds.

Petare must pack 126 today against Tudor Era's 122.

Bill Harmatz, regular pilot of the razor-sharp Tudor Era, is flying in from California to guide him today. Gustavo Avila, who finished last in Wednesday's Palm Beach handicap on Petare's stablemate Ajaccio, will ride Petare.

As if Tudor Era weren't enough to handle, the Venezuelans have 12 others to beat, several which have won stakes on the turf.

Included are two couplings.

Hasty House Farm will send out Mahan (114 pounds and Sam Boulmetis) and Ekaba (112 and Ken Church). Hasty House ran one-two with Stephanotis and Mahan in last year's Bougainvillea.

Cain Hoy Stable will saddle Victory Morn (112 and Bob Ussery) and One-Eyed King (113 and Ismael Valenzuela). Victory Morn has appeared especially fit, closing fast to get second money in a sprint last week.

Others include General Arthur, 63-1 winner in his first try on the turf here; A Dragon Killer, a dangerous stretch runner; Pop Corn, which finished third in his tuneup against Tudor Era, and King Grail, which ran second to Tudor Era last Saturday.

Mrs. Tilyou Christopher's Amerigo, which has disappointed in his last two outings on the dirt, will be switching to grass and might improve.

The field is completed by Mystic 2nd, Rafty and Snuffy Sneezer, the latter a $2,500 claimer shipped in from Sunshine Park.

Following the Bougainvillea, which will be televised locally and nationally, Hialeah patrons will get another look at Ajaccio. He will tangle with six good sprinters in the seven-furlong eighth race.

Petare
. . . can he repeat?

It'll Take A Lot of Ballyhoo To Sell Patterson's Fight

FLOYD PATTERSON has finally agreed to defend his heavyweight championship next summer against Swedish Champion Ingemar Johansson. Miami didn't get a mention in the story saying that Floyd's title defense will be held probably in New York, Los Angeles, or Colorado Springs.

If it had been a winter fight, Miami would have been mentioned as one of the probable sites just as it has in the past without anything happening. Just once I would have liked to have seen a legitimate heavyweight championship fight held here, although it would be difficult to go along with Maj. W. H. Peeples' reasoning that it would gross a million.

Now that the promoters have Patterson—idle since last August — and Johansson signed, they will have to warm up the fans.

My guess at this stage of the game is that Patterson will win. First, I think he is a better fighter than he has been given credit for being. Second, Manager Cus D'Amato probably scouted the field of contenders carefully before agreeing for Patterson to fight.

Mantle Talks Back to Casey

APPARENTLY MICKEY MANTLE thinks he is one of the two Yankees singled out for criticism by Manager Casey Stengel in a newspaper story. Stengel called no names in saying "two players on this club should be making $75,000 and $125,000 a year, but they have kept themselves from earning it."

Mickey Mantle

This nettled Mantle now engaged in a salary row with the front office. The story is Mickey's $75,000 salary has been sliced $5,000 and that he is holding out for $85,000.

"Stengel is out of line," Mantle was quoted as telling Dallas newspapermen. Few ball players would be brash enough to publicly criticize Stengel, but Mantle can get away with it, if he hits enough home runs.

Last winter when Mantle was here for the baseball players' golf tournament, which he says he is skipping this year, there was a story quoting Stengel as criticizing Mantle's fielding.

"Casey is always after me about something," Mickey said in shrugging off the incident. Stengel probably reasons Mantle is the type who responds to riding and hopes he'll improve upon his .304 batting average.

Turley Becomes of Age

A DIFFERENT picture is presented by Bob Turley, who last season became the American League's only 20-game winner and hero of the Yankees' World Series comeback.

TURLEY

Turley, who has been touring the country to be honored at one dinner after another, has signed for a reported $32,000.

There were times when it appeared Turley would not justify the deal, which the Yankees made for him with Baltimore.

He has come of age and his 21-7 record of last season, plus a 2.98 earned run average and winning two Series games and saving another, put him in line for more pay. In addition, he is the best of the Yankees for reporters to interview.

Orange Brook Sets Record

IF MIAMI CITY officials would take a day off and visit the Orange Brook golf course at Hollywood, they might end their indecision about building the proposed LeJeune road links . . . Hollywood has done so well with 27 holes at Orange Brook, Chairman George Lunney and the golf commission are planning another nine . . . Pro-Manager Sam Frost reports record play of 455 rounds last Monday, plus 20 Women's International Four Ball contestants getting in practice rounds . . . "The longest wait on the tee was an hour and 20 minutes," said Bill Primm, Sam's assistant . . . Frost also keeps a teaching staff, comprised of Joe Lally, Jim Dugan, Jack Sherwood and Augie Nordone, busy . . . Bill Murray does a good job with the concessions and is pleased because the golf commission voted unanimously to extend his contract, although there was one higher bid . . . Orange Brook also has a great asset in "Frenchie," the All-American doorman . . . He's a real diplomat.

Patty Berg Is 'Miss Golf'

IF YOU strike up a conversation with Patty Berg, Sunday at Miami Springs, where the final round of the LPGA tournament will be played, she is as likely to discuss football and baseball as golf.

Patty Berg

Patty is an all sports fan and as a youngster was a star ice speed skater. She also captained the 50th Street Tigers in Minneapolis, a sandlot football team which included Bud Wilkinson, now Oklahoma coach, among its players.

At times they've called Sam Snead, Ben Hogan and others "Mr. Golf." Patty certainly is more deserving of being hailed as "Miss Golf," because her accomplishments outshine those of any other feminine golfer.

Patty gained fame locally by winning the Doherty golf championship five staight times. She became a golf pro in 1940. Most amateur athletes switch to the play-for-pay ranks for selfish reasons.

"Golf has given me so much that I wanted to do something in return," Patty said. Along with setting individual records—a 64 for 18 holes for one—she is the all-time money winner of the LPGA and has won more tournaments than any player in history—81 to be exact.

Patty will be interviewed tonight at 6:30 p.m. over television station WCKT, and listeners will discover she's quite a personality, along with being a great golfer.

By Rich-Hartson

4-Ball Champs Ousted

By JIMMY BURNS
Herald Sports Editor

HOLLYWOOD — Alternating in sinking winning putts, Bobbie Hartson, Piedmont, Calif. and Francis Rich, Bainbridge, Ga. Friday eliminated defending champions Marjorie Lindsay and Mary Ann Downey, 4-3, in the second round of the Women's International Four-Ball golf championship.

It was the first time the two had teamed at Orange Brook and also was the first time either had played on a team, reaching the semifinals.

Mrs. Hartson, who teamed with Pat Devany in the 1951 four ball and with Miss Lindsay in 1954, produced three of her team's seven birdies on putts ranging from four to eight feet.

The first came on the fourth hole, where she blasted from a trap within six feet of the pin.

Miss Rich scored four birdies, acquiring two on 10-foot putts and the other two via eight-foot ones. The victors acquired a four-up lead with a best ball of 32, four under men's par, on the front nine. They were six under for the distance.

The Hartson-Rich team today meets Barbara McIntire, Lake Park, and Judy Bell, Wichita, who defeated Doris Phillips, Belleville, Ill. and Dale Fleming, Tulsa, 2-1. The rivals matched men's par of 36 in turning all even. Barbara won the 10th with a birdie three and after Judy won the 12th with a par three, the next five holes were halved.

Semifinal Pairings

12:00 — Hartson-Rich vs. Bell-McIntire.
12:10 — Kerby-Goodwin vs. Streit-Johnstone.

Easiest victory of the day was posted by Marlene Streit, current Doherty champion from Toronto, and Ann Casey Johnstone, Mason City, Iowa, in beating Berridge Long, Huntington, W. Va. and Alice O'Neil Dye, Indianapolis, 5-3.

The winners were only one-up after scoring a 34 on the front nine, but Marlene put on the pressure by scoring three successive birdies, starting with the 11th where she sank an eight-footer for a three.

She downed a four-footer for a birdie two on the 12th, and a birdie three on the 13th when her approach shot hit the pin and rolled two feet away. She won the 14th with a par four despite being trapped.

The Streit-Johnstone team, beaten in the finals last year, was five under par for the 14 holes, but led only one up at the turn.

Toughest competition of the day was produced as Betty Kerby, Akron, O., and Joanne Goodwin, Haverhill, Mass. who had to wait until the 18th green to defeat Cookie Swift Berger, Buffalo, and Carolyn Cudone West Caldwell, N. J., two-up.

After they had turned all even, Miss Kerby won the 10th with a 15-foot putt for par four. They halved the remaining holes but won the 18th when their opponents experienced trouble reaching the green.

Russ Lands Big Tarpon

A tarpon scaling 131½ pounds was caught from the Channel 5 bridge in the Keys Friday by Jim Russ of Des Moines.

Russ used a heavy rod and reel baited with a 2 pound mullet to capture the tarpon, which becomes general division leader in the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament.

The battle lasted two hours and 10 minutes, and ended after Russ dragged the fish more than a half-mile so it could be beached.

Less than three hours later, Russ hooked and landed another kingsized tarpon of 97¼ pounds, according to Ted Wilson, manager of the Craig Tackle Shop.

Cincy Obtains Thomas, 3 Others

Redlegs, Pirates Swap 7

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs and the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday night completed a seven-man player deal. The Redlegs obtained Frank Thomas, John Powers, Jim Pendleton and Whammy Douglas in exchange for Smoky Burgess, Don Hoak and Harvey Haddix.

The deal, announced by General Manager Gabe Paul of Cincinnati and Joe Brown, Pirates' general manager, came as a surprise and was completed after the two executives conferred here Friday.

Paul said it was a straight player deal with no money involved.

"Actually we have been talking about such a trade ever since the season closed last fall," Brown said. "But it finally came to a head when Gabe and I got together today. I think it is a deal that will help both clubs. We got what we wanted and I'm sure Gabe must have got what he also wanted."

Thomas, a 29-year-old right-handed hitting outfielder who played third base most of last season, hit .281 for the Pirates with 35 homers and 109 runs batted in. Powers, also 29, appeared in 57 games, mostly as a pinch hitter, and batted .183.

Pendleton, 33-year-old utility man, spent last season in the minors after previous trials with the Milwaukee Braves and Pirates. Douglas, a 23-year-old right-hander, also was in the minors after posting a 3-3 mark with Pittsburgh late in the 1957 season.

Haddix, a 33-year-old left-hander, and a former 20-game winner with the Cardinals, won eight and lost seven with a 3.52 earned run average for the Redlegs last season. Cincinnati had obtained him from the Philadelphia Phillies last winter.

Third Baseman Hoak, 30, slumped to .261 for Cincinnati with only six homers and 50 RBI after banging at a .293 clip the previous season. He previously played with the Dodgers and the Chicago Cubs. Burgess, a left-handed hitting catcher, played in 99 games and hit for a .283 average with six homers and 31 runs batted in.

Hurricanes Face Western Kentucky

By LUTHER EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

Western Kentucky's basketball team, which usually beats the University of Miami with taking-candy-from-a-baby ease, may be in for a surprise tonight at Beach Auditorium.

The UM's sophomores don't beat easy — not on their home floor.

Only local loss by the Hurricanes, 9-6 for the season, was a grudging overtime surrender to classy Miami (Ohio) in the Hurricane Classic finals.

Tradition and the odds, however, favor colorful Ed (Where's My Red Towel?) Diddle and his big speedy Hilltoppers.

In a rivalry dating back to 1947, they have licked Miami 11 consecutive times, including a couple of sad occasions by more than 40 points.

Diddle, now in his 30th year at Western, has turned out only three losing teams. The current edition, which appeared it might be No. 4, recently has been hitting on all five cylinders.

They've won four of their last five and the lone defeat

Sanders Cops Lead At Diego

SAN DIEGO — (AP) — Dashing young Doug Sanders of Miami Beach fired his second successive 66, six strokes under par, and grabbed the lead in the second round of the $20,000 San Diego Open golf tournament Friday with a 36-hole total of 132.

The 25-year-old professional, who won the Western Open last year and the Canadian Open while he was still an amateur in 1956, toured the par 36-36-72 Mission Valley Country Club course in 36-34-66 to move into a one-stroke lead.

Anthony Decisioned By Vargas

NEW YORK — (AP) — Reuben Vargas, a 5 to 1 underdog, dropped Tony Anthony for a nine-count in the eighth round and won a split decision in a bloody 10-round brawl Friday night at Madison Square Garden. Anthony weighed 177, Vargas 186¾.

Vargas, a stocky man with a mop of wavy black hair and a bristling mustache, won the votes of the referee and one judge. The other judge voted for Anthony, a lanky New Yorker who gave away 9¾ pounds to his opponent from Richmond, Calif.

Referee Dave Feld called it even in rounds but gave Vargas the edge in points 7-5 on the strength of the knockdown. Judge Charley Rosen saw it 5-4-1 for Vargas. Judge Mike Davidowitch scored it 6-4 in favor of Anthony. The AP card was 5-5 and would have put Vargas on top because of the knockdown, 7 points to 5.

Anthony, No. 1 light heavy contender moving into the heavy division for this fight, was the sharper puncher with frequent quick flurries. But he let Vargas bull him around the ring and proved a sucker for a long overhand right that Reuben uncorked.

The eighth round had hardly started when Vargas landed a solid left hook on Anthony's unprotected jaw. The former Olympic boxer went down on his back, his head hitting the ring apron. He was half outside the ring with his head under the bottom rope.

55 Junior Swimmers Honored

Fifty-five young Dade County swimmers will be given 1958 National Junior Olympic and Age-Group awards at a recognition luncheon Sunday afternoon at the Americana Hotel. The luncheon starts at 1:30.

Shirley Stobs of Miami Shores and Steve Florence of Miami Beach Recreation will receive major awards as the best Florida swimmers.

Steve grabbed 12 firsts, two seconds and two thirds. Shirley took eight firsts, four seconds and a third, and also won a berth on the AAU All-America swim team.

Others scoring very well were Smokey Ellis of Miami Recreation and Bubba Tongay.

Each of the swimmers will be awarded the official National AAU patch designating them as champs in their various age-groups.

McCreary Must Pay In Divorce

Jockey Conn N. McCreary, famous for his come-from-behind horse racing victories, came up short Friday in a divorce property settlement. He got only his wife's Volkswagen and their outboard motorboat.

The wife, Mrs. Norma M. McCreary, agreed to pay for the divorce which she obtained through her attorney-brother, J. Arthur Hawkesworth Jr. But . . .

In the settlement she received: the furnished Sunset Island No. 4 home at 1621 West 21st St., alimony of $335 a month with income tax paid, custody of four children with $400 a month for their support, plus a third of his net income as an educational trust fund, and medical and clothing allowances.

Mrs. McCreary's mother, Mrs. Mabel Hawkesworth, testifying as her witness, said her husband (J. Arthur Hawkesworth St.), a racehorse trainer, doesn't have to stay out all night at his job.

Norma, charging extreme cruelty, said her husband remains away from home unaccountably and becomes argumentative and moody. She said his net income averages $25,000 a year.

Brazil Whips U.S. Quintet; Reds Forfeit

SANTIAGO, Chile — (AP) — Unheralded Brazil burst into championship contention in the world amateur basketball tournament Friday night by whipping the United States, 81-67, after unbeaten Russia had forfeited its game with Nationalist China for political reasons.

The executive committee of the International Basketball Federation will meet this morning to consider Russia's refusal to play the Chinese. If they forfeit all of Russia's games in the final round robin, as they have suggested, Brazil could wrap up the championship by defeating host Chile tonight.

Brazil has a 4-1 record. The U.S., on the basis of a Russian forfeit, could have clinched the title by Russian default with a victory over Brazil.

Instead, the lack-lustre Americans were run off the court by the speedy Brazilians and virtually eliminated from contention with a final 4-2 record.

Gables Nips L's, 43-42

FORT LAUDERDALE — Wally Dale tapped in a rebound with six seconds left Friday night to give Coral Gables High a 43-42 basketball victory over host Fort Lauderdale High.

Gables led most of the way and was on top, 37-31, before the L's ran through six straight points to tie the game with two and a half minutes left.

The lead changed hands four times before Dale came up with his game-winning tap-in. Gables is now 7-4 for the season; Lauderdale is 2-8, but the L's won the B game, 76-64.

In the B game, Lauderdale ended a Gables JV nine-game winning streak as Guard Zeke Nealey poured in 28 points and Center Leo Burkey added 24.

Negron Sparks Rally

Palm Beachites Overhaul North Miami, 65 to 59

A spurt in the final minute and a half Friday night enabled Palm Beach High to shade North Miami, 65-59 in a basketball game at the Pioneer gymnasium.

Two free throws by John Negron broke a 58-58 standoff. The Wildcats went on from there to hike their victory margin.

West Palm Beach also won the B game, 55-50.

Kathy Cornelius' Record 69 Ties Rawls for MAGA Lead

Herald Service

TEQUESTA—Kathy Cornelius of Lake Worth Friday shot her "best round ever", a Tequesta course record 69, to move into a tie with Betsy Rawls in the second round of the MAGA pro-am golf tournament.

Mrs. Cornelius jumped all the way from eighth place. She had a 78 Wednesday at Boca Raton in the first round of the 54-hole, $7,500 tournament.

Her 147 total deadlocked Miss Rawls, who rose from second by adding a 73 to her first round 74. Patty Berg slipped from the top spot with a 77 and 148 total.

Final round will be played at Miami Springs Sunday.

Mrs. Cornelius' 69 was two under men's par and beat the women's course record of 71 set by Marlene Hagge last year. Mrs. Hagge fired a 72 Friday, the day's second best round, but could climb no higher than sixth because of her opening round 80.

Kathy had four birdies, one double bogey and the rest pars.

In the pro-am play, a best ball of twosome event, Wanda Sanches teamed with 14-year-old Charles McLaughlin of Miami Springs to card a 62. McLaughlin has a 12 handicap. Six teams tied for second place with 64s.

The leaders and Sunday's pairings and starting times:

Mrs. Kathy Cornelius	78-69—147

Record Fleet Of 34 Sails In Lipton Cup

By LUTHER EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

A record-making fleet of 34 yachts, including three former winners and a "dream boat," will trim sails at 10 a.m. today in the 26th annual Lipton Cup race.

Sponsored by the Biscayne Bay Yacht Club, the 25-mile test over a triangular course in the Atlantic off Miami Beach officially launches the 1959 Southern Ocean Racing Conference.

It also serves as an excellent shakedown for crews, rigging and boats going in the historic 184-mile Miami to Nassau classic, starting at noon Tuesday.

Defending champion in the Lipton, traditionally won by small boats, is Comanche, Miamian Jack Price's 39-foot yawl which was runnerup for the SORC championship two years ago.

Other past winners are Miamian Sandy Holt's 39-foot yawl Hoot Mon, a three-time champ (1952, '54 and '55) and Whispering Wind, 44-foot sloop owned by William G. Moran of New Orleans.

Originally named Larry, she was skippered to victory by Jacobo Cabassa in 1951 and '53.

The "dream boat" starter is Ariel V, new 44-foot yawl designed by Miami's Warren Bailey which soundly defeated a 20-boat fleet last weekend in her maiden race, the Miami-Gun Cay Light 71-mile run.

She will be skippered by Miami's Horace Binney who believed in Bailey's plans for a yawl with a deep flare forward, a straight run along the bottom and a wide stern.

Whether Ariel V carries sufficient sail area to make money in moderate breezes is likely to be determined today.

Forecast is for easterly winds ranging from 10 to 18 miles an hour, slight to moderate seas and clear-blue skies.

Some of America's foremost sailors will compete. Handling Caribbee, famed 58-foot yawl, will be the Cruising Club of America trio of Henry (Hank) duPont, Charlie Dell and Ed Disharoon.

Buz Mosbacher of New York, skipper of Vim in the America's Cup trials, will be at the helm of Jack Brown's 42-foot yawl, Callooh. Also aboard will be two other crewmen from Vim — Dick Bertram and Jakob Isbrandtsen.

A flock of respected newcomers will answer the starting gun from the Coast Guard cutter Androscoggin a mile northeast of Government Cut.

Included are Erivale, 54-foot sloop owned by Allan Carlisle, Miami Yacht Club; Meteor III, 38-foot cutter owned by Henry Burkard, Detroit's Bayview Yacht Club; Southern Star, 40-foot sloop owned by Brad Noyes, Essex (Conn.) Yacht Club.

Fleet is divided into three classes with 12 starters in A; 14 in B, and eight in C.

The starting fleet with owners, yachts clubs and time allowances:

CLASS A

Good Hope, 63-ft. yawl, E. J. Richardson, Nassau Yacht Club, Scratch boat.

Caribbee, 58-ft. yawl, Henry duPont-Charles Dell-Ed Disharoon, Cruising Club of America (Annapolis, Md.), 0:05.40.

Marie Amelie, 60-ft. yawl, G. M. Giannini, Los Angeles Yacht Club, 0:07.06.

Hilaria, 55-ft. yawl, Hugh Schaddelee, Macatawa (Wisc.) Yacht Club, 0:08.04.

Erivale, 54-ft. sloop, Allan Carlisle, Miami Yacht Club, 0:08.23.

Lismore, 50-ft. ketch, Dr. John Chesney, Coral Reef Yacht Club, 0:14.44.

Intermezzo, 40-ft. sloop, George Locke Jr., Halifax Yacht Club, Daytona Beach, Fla., 0:25.11.

Salty, 45-ft. sloop, David Morrison, Beaufort Yacht Club, Savannah, Ga., 0:19.04.

Shady Lady, 45-ft. sloop, Charles Sturgess, Pine Orchard (Conn.) Yacht Club, 0:20.44.

Whispering Wind, 44-ft. sloop, William Moran, Southern Yacht Club, New Orleans, 0:22.41.

CLASS B

Castro Agrees to Toss First Pitch in Havana

By Herald Wire Services

Fidel Castro, Cuba's celebrated revolutionist and a former university pitcher, will become a baseball player again April 14.

Sports Roundup

He's agreed to throw out the first pitch opening Havana's International League season against Toronto.

The announce- was made Friday at the IL annual meeting by Roberto Maduro, president of the Havana Sugar Kings.

Maduro said Castro "loves baseball" and had assured him of whole-hearted government cooperation. Maduro described as "silly" the reported plan by Buffalo to oppose continuation of IL play in Cuba.

Meanwhile, the Sugar Kings signed a new manager Pedro (Preston) Gomez, former infielder with the Washington Senators.

Gomez, 36, a native of Cuba, managed the Mexico Reds of the Mexican League last year. He succeeds Tony Pacheco, who was made a scout.

BENNY JACOBS, manager of British Heavyweight Joe Erskine, has refused to sign a return bout contract offered by Willie Pastrano of North Miami Beach.

The contract for a return bout at Miami Beach Exhibition Hall, March 27, was sent by Chris Dundee, Beach promoter. "If Erskine beats Pastrano, only then will I consider a return," said Jacobs. Erskine and Pastrano box Feb. 24 in London's Wembley Stadium.

BOXING: A spokesman for Toronto television company said Floyd Patterson, heavyweight champion, has agreed to defend his title in Canada this summer. The fight depends on the date of the just-signed Patterson-Ingemar Johansson title fight . . . Promoter Bill Rosensohn will start out next week on a tour of cities listed as possible sites for the Patterson-Johansson go.

FOOTBALL: The Mid-America Professional Football League has appointed Travis Tidwell, former New York Giants star, as league coordinator of the proposed loop.

GOLF: Pete Cooper of Lakeland fired an eight-under 64 to lead by three strokes at the halfway point of the Panama Open . . . Past champions J. Wolcott Brown and W. Freeman Darby headed a large field with 72s in the first round of the Sea Island Seniors Tournament . . . The rebellious action of a California group which wants to make some rules changes and selection of the 1959 Walker Cup team are the main business items for the USGA meeting today.

DOT'S ALL: Jack Frost, defending champion, beat Fritz Schunck, 6-1, 6-4, in the Florida State Open Tennis quarterfinals . . . Clearwater again will host the world softball championships, starting Sept. 21. The women's tourney returned to Stratford, Conn., Sept. 4-11 . . . Howard Boston, Mount Clemens, Mich., won his second straight Mid-Winter Thistle Sailing Class title at St. Petersburg . . . Tango of Argentina was afforded the best chance of winning the 1,200-mile sailing race from Buenos Aires to Rio de Janeiro on corrected time. United States' Argyll also is expected to be high in the standings.

Miteff Set To Continue Despite Loss

DENVER —(AP)— Big Alex Miteff, with a right eye the size and color of a ripe tomato, shook his head sorrowfully in his dressing room Thursday night.

"I no have any steam. I was tired from the first round. The very first, and he's a smart puncher."

Alex dropped a 10-round decision to sharp-punching Zora Folley, but he hasn't any plans to give up fighting despite this and other reverses.

"Tell them in Buenos Aires I go on, I go ahead. Give up? Why should I give up?"

Folley, quietly celebrating the victory in his dressing room, said he felt the two-handed attack he loosed in the fifth round was the decisive moment in the fight.

South Florida Anglers Wait THE Word

Waiting confirmation of world record catches are William Marshall of Coral Gables and Mrs. Dorothea Lincoln Dean of Palm Beach.

Both record catches were nailed during the recent Ocean Reef Club Tournament. Marshall's was a 78-pound amberjack on 18-pound line (20-pound class), while Mrs. Dean boated a rare, 46-pound Atlantic Big-Eye tuna on 12-pound test.

DUNAWAY

Available records list only four big-eye tuna previously taken; however, Mrs. Dean's prize was definitely identified by Miami taxidermist Al Pflueger — one of the leading authorities on marine fish.

Marshall's amberjack struck at the Whistly Buoy off Angelfish Creek and romped for three and one-half hours before succumbing to the gaff 11 miles out in the Gulfstream.

If recognized by the International Game Fish Association, Marshall's catch will become the third current record on amberjacks held by members of the Rod and Reel Club of Miami Beach. Others are in the 12 and 30-pound line classes.

Fast Action in Silver Sailfish Derby

SAILFISH TOURNAMENTS are thriving on Florida's Atlantic Coast this year.

The Silver Sailfish Derby, West Palm Beach, ends today after some of the fastest action in its 22-year history. Records compiled through the second week of the three-week event showed 235 sailfish boated.

This fancy figure averages out to two sailfish per boat trip, even though one out of four jaunts has drawn a blank. Four different anglers had taken five sails in a day during the first two weeks, while R. F. Raidle of Palm Beach, whipped six in a single sunrise-to-sunset period.

Of the 235 catches, only 15 sailfish have been killed, for a record-breaking release average of 93 per cent.

FISHING
with Vic Dunaway

And the nearby Boynton Beach Chamber of Commerce Fishing Tournament, which began Nov. 29, lists sailfish releases in the hundreds. Four contestants boast more than 10 releases each, with Leonard Dingee of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., on top at 22.

The Boynton tourney runs through Apr. 15.

Bonefish Nabbed in Nassau Harbor

FANCY CATCHES of speckled trout are coming from the north end of Dade County—in Dumbfoundling Bay and in Biscayne Bay between Marker 7 and the Haulover. They go for live shrimp drifted over grass beds on a sinkerless line.

Miami's Livio J. Pieretti nabbed three bonefish in Nassau on spinning tackle and artificial lure. All were small fish, but the catch was noteworthy in view of the fact they were taken in the busiest part of the harbor—a spot seldom worked by bonefish anglers.

Fanciest fish knife I've seen yet is one dubbed the Universal. Its toothed blade easily whacks through a fish's backbone for steaking, and it also rips right through frozen fish and meats.

A mail order item at $2.98 postpaid—and guaranteed—it's available from Outdoor Sports Products, Box 35, Vanderveer Station, Brooklyn 10, N.Y.

Hurricanes Take On W. Kentucky

was by nationally-ranked West Virginia, 74-72.

An example of the Kentuckians' improvement was a recent 96-74 triumph over La-Salle. Back in December, La-Salle had mastered the Hilltoppers, 84-76.

Big man, literally and figuratively of the invaders is Ralph Crosthwaite, 6-9 center.

He leads the Hilltoppers in scoring with a 21.8 average and in rebounds with 12.8 per game.

The nation's most successful percentage shooter last year with a 64.6 per cent average, Crosthwaite has connected with 62 per cent of his field goal attempts this semester.

Job of trying to handle Crosthwaite likely will be divided by Harry Manushaw, 6-7 sophomore center, and Jerry Davis, 6-6 senior. Davis, however, is scheduled to start as a forward.

Coach Bruce Hale will use Ron Godfrey, 6-4, at the other forward, and Dick (The Menace) Hickox, 5-6, and Joe Gardner, 6-2, at guards.

Mrs. Anderson Wins at Granada

Mrs. Albert Anderson took top honors Friday in the Coral Gables Women's Golf Association match play vs. par tournament at Granada.

Mrs. Capers Gibson and Mrs. Harold McClain tied for Class B honors with plus 2. Class C also was a standoff between Mrs. Robert Grant and Mrs. Louise Husband. Each had plus 1.

Butts, Cocco Pace Hialeah To 71-52 Win

With Bernie Butts and Eddie Cocco, their 1-2 gunners, sniping for 41 points between them, Hialeah High's cagers rolled past Miami Jackson, 71-52, Friday night in the Jax gymnasium.

Butts pitched in 11 field goals and one free throw for 23 points; Cocco hit for five fielders and eight foul-shots for 18.

Jackson earned a 13-9 lead in the first quarter, but Hialeah doubled the Jax output in the second period, 24-12, to take command, 33-25.

Ronnie Scott led the losing cause with 13 points.

Jackson won the B-game, 46-42.

Hollywood, Hialeah List Stock Races

Local stock car racing fans can take their choice tonight between an eight-event program at Hialeah Speedway and a seven-race card at Hollywood Speedway. Races at each track start at 8:30.

Alan Clarke and Ernie Reeves, both driving for the Daniels team of Hollywood, appear top choices in Hialeah's modified races. Bill Flingos and Buck Gibbs also will be on hand.

Still waiting to try his luck with the professionals is Bruce "Pee Wee" Griffen, one of the top men in Class B last year. During intermission tonight, trophies will be presented high point drivers for 1958.

Heavy favorites to win the 30-lap feature at Hollywood will be Red Farmer, who took the county fair championship at West Palm Beach last Sunday; Bobby Johns and Al Gorham.

Comparative "newcomers" in the amateur division, Curly Custis, Bill Yarrington and Lyle Puckheiser, will be in the spotlight.

The jalopy feature is scheduled for 15 laps with more than 25 cars entered.

Hillsdale Favored At Anita

ARCADIA, Calif. — (AP) — Hillsdale is rated the horse to beat in today's rich Santa Anita Maturity. And his owner is confident the Indiana-bred colt can pick up the winner's share in the mile and one quarter classic for 4-year-olds.

Nine were entered Friday and if all start the race will gross $177,150.

Whether C. W. Smith's Hillsdale will make the winner's circle depends, quite probably, on a pair of veteran Eastern stakes compaigners — Warhead and Jewel's Reward.

Warhead has been humbled twice by Hillsdale in recent stakes — by 19 lengths in the San Fernando and by 8 in the San Carlos. But the Virginia-bred colt bounced back to his winning Eastern form in the San Marino 'Cap.

Warhead clicked off a half mile workout Friday in 46 3-5. Hillsdale was clocked at 47 1-5.

Both Hillsdale and Warhead will carry 123 pounds and will spot Jewel's Reward 7 pounds.

Winner's share is $100,790 except for supplementary nominees Hillsdale and Warhead. If either wins the purse will be $91,150.

Others entered are Langollen Farm's Royal Living; California-bred Alibi Blue, The Shoe, Martins Rullah, Swaps Kin and King's Salute.

JOCKEY Eddie Arcaro Friday was set down for five days for interference in Thursday's eighth race at Santa Anita. However the suspension will not keep Arcaro off Warhead in today's $100,000-added Santa Anita Maturity.

The stewards grounded Arcaro after studying films of his ride on Spring Boy.

UM Mermen Host AF Team Today

University of Miami swimmers, turned to a fine pitch, will make an assault on school swim records today when they meet Homestead AFB in the Veterans Hospital Pool.

Coach Lloyd Bennett feels his squad has reached its peak. He lists Hal Mischner in the 50 yard freestyle and Jack Nelson in the 200 yard butterfly as best bets to shatter a school record.

Dick Lahde, in the 200 yard backstroke and Eduardo Carrera in the 200 and 440 freestyles are others expected to flirt with new marks.

The meet, open to the public, starts at 2 o'clock.

Fights at Beach

Boos? They Don't Faze Crawford

If a few hundred in the crowd at Miami Beach Auditorium boo youthful Mickey Crawford Tuesday night they can expect to be ignored rather completely.

The 24-year-old from Saginaw, Mich. learned about catcalls and hooting a long time ago, ironically enough in Saginaw.

Never overly popular in his home town, the fine welterweight contender—who meets Bimini's Gomeo Brennan here Tuesday — gets the "treatment" every time he fights in his home town.

Crawford, between sparring sessions at the Miami Beach Fifth Street gymasium Friday, explained it like this:

"They don't like me . . . not a little bit. They know all about my street fights. I had too many of them . . . some of the guys I licked are the ones that boo loudest. They come to see me get beat . . . they boo when I'm in the ring. They don't say anything when I pass them on the street."

Hoad Whips Cooper

PERTH, Australia — (AP) — Lew Hoad overpowered Ashley Cooper, the 1958 Wimbledon champion, 6-1, 6-3, Friday in the finals of a professional tennis tournament.

Pancho Gonzales, the world pro tennis champ, described Hoad's performance as "the greatest display of power tennis on grass under lights I ever have seen."

Hoad later teamed with Tony Trabert in doubles to defeat Cooper and Pancho Segura 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

Woodward Named To Sports Post

NEWARK — (AP) — Appointment of Stanley Woodward as general sports editor of the Newhouse Newspapers was announced Friday by Phillip Hochstein, editor of the Newark Star-Ledger.

Woodward will continue as sports editor of the Star-Ledger, a post he has held for the last four and one half years. His work with the 14 newspapers that comprise the Newhouse group will be advisory in character, said Hochstein.

'Oogie', Carea Pick At Dania

Ugartechea, popularly known as "Oogie" to his many Dania Jai-Alai Palace fans, is currently one of the hottest pelotaris on the roster.

The Mexican ace is the latest to win three games in one night and his record provides an excellent reason why he and Carea will probably be installed as favorites in the eighth game doubles contest tonight.

Ugartechea-Carea will operate out of the No. 4 position in that game, which should give them a jump on their main competition, Isasa-Aldecoa in post six.

Arratibel Gains In Trophy Race

Arratibel has jumped into contention in the race for the Most Victories trophy at Miami Jai Alai Fronton.

Through 39 nights of play Arratibel has racked up 22 wins while playing exceptional jai-alai in the seventh, eighth, 10th and 11th games.

UM Golfers Win Match

KINGSTON, Jamaica — (AP) — University of Miami men golfers, showing improved form, defeated a Caymanas Country Club team, 3½-2½, Friday. The Miami co-eds team lost to Kingston players, 3-1.

Judy Eller, U.S. junior girls champion from Old Hickory, Tenn., won the only match for the Miami girls, beating Heather Henriques, 5 and 4. Miss Eller completed the round with a score of 39-42—81, with an eight on the 13th hole where she hit a ball out of bounds.

Bright Plumes $8.40, 3.80, 3.20; dq—You Go 3.60, 2.90; Gone 5.90.

WINNER SELECTED BY: O'Neill, Castle.

OWNERS: 1, Copalan Stable; 2, Mrs. P. J. Mitchell; 3, Mrs. W. D. Carroll; 4, B. Hatskin; 5, Patty-Ann Stable; 6, Benvenuti & Turchi; 7, C. Brigley; 8, C. A. Adams; 9, E. Jacobs; 10, J. M. Small; 11, Mrs. N. J. Moran; 12, L. Rodriguez.

YOU GO improved his position steadily to be in front nearing the stretch, drew out near the furlongs pole and lasted after drifting out and bumping BRIGHT PLUMES. YOU GO was disqualified for interference nearing the finish and was placed second. BRIGHT PLUMES moved boldly through the stretch until bothered by YOU GO. GONE was slightly eased when YOU GO bore out nearing the finish.

SCRATCHES: Lebanon Lad, Refugee, Bactria, Requa.

497—SECOND—Purse $4,000, 3-year-olds,

DAILY DOUBLE (8-7) PAID $68.80

Kintaro $12.70, 6.50, 5.20; Bill Board 5.80, 5.00; Rimonte 12.50.

WINNER SELECTED BY: Ortell.

OWNERS: 1, R. Newsome; 2, R. Lowe; 3, W. P. Griffiths; 4, S. M. Barton; 5, Miss Frieda Arndt; 6, J. C. Toomey; 7, R. B. M. Stable; 8, J. Stelle; 9, Elias Bros.; 10, D. G. Neuman; 11, Colonnade Farm; 12, Mrs. R. L. Reineman.

KINTARO trailed for more than five furlongs, rallied from the outside and wore down BILL BOARD. The latter improved his position steadily to wrest command at the furlong pole, then was unable to resist the winner. RIMONTE was with the pace most of the way, appeared slightly crowded in early stretch and gave way.

SCRATCHES: Prompt Hero, Red Hot Mama, That Scoundrel, Double Spurs.

498—THIRD—Purse $3,500, 2-year-old maiden

Florida foals; 3 furlongs, chute; start good; won driving; place same; went 2:38; off 2:39½; winner b. f., 2, by Block Star-Conga Rhythm; owner Spring Hill Farm; trainer P. L. Kelley; value, $2,275, 700, 350, 175; time, 22 2-5, 34 1-5.

Conga Star $12.00, 6.40, 4.10; Confuse 18.90, 7.20; Pio 3.10.

Winner selected by Harris.

OWNERS: 1, Spring Hill Farm; 2, F. W. Hooper; 3, A. Marrone; 4, Elkcam Stable; 5, Mrs. E. Heubeck Jr.; 6, Hofbrau Stable; 7, J. Keelor; 8, Treso Stable; 9, Elton Stable; 10, Rosemere Farm; 11, R. T. O'Neil; 12, Robin Adair Stable; 13, J. W. LaCroix; 14, H. L. Duellman.

CONGA STAR was hurried into a clear lead and prevailed over CONFUSE. The latter was formidable from the start and was wearing down the winner. PIO raced evenly while just off the pace from the outset. RANDYPAAR lacked the needed late surge. RICCI C. was fractious at the starting point.

SCRATCHES: Ramify, Ruse De Guerre, My Dear Girl, Cable King.

499—FOURTH—Purse $3,500, 3-year-olds,

(claiming $5,000); 6 furlongs; start good; won driving; place same; went 3:08; off 3:08½; winner b. f., 3, by Scorpion II-Town Queen; owner G. L. Briggs; trainer D. W. Carroll; value, $2,275, 700, 350, 175; time, 22 1-5, 46 1-5, 1:12 1-5.

Royal Scorp (ENTRY) $8.60, 5.20, 5.70; Milwill 35.40, 19.90; Queen Of Sheeba (ENTRY) 5.70.

WINNER SELECTED BY: McLaughlin, Brooks, Consensus.

OWNERS: 1, G. L. Briggs; 2, J. Sher; 3, R. A. Firestone Jr.; 4, J. R. Weiner; 5, Mrs. G. H. Emick; 6, W. C. Ensor; 7, J. F. Luck; 8, Sherbrook Stable; 9, Mrs. C. Weipert; 10, K. Kemp; 11, M. M. Wolf; 12, Jumping Brook Farm.

ROYAL SCORP rallied well from the outside during the stretch run and wore down the leaders. MILWILL set the pace into the stretch, was headed for the lead, then outfinished QUEEN OF SHEEBA. The latter attained a slight advantage briefly at the furlong pole and weakened slightly. CHECK could not keep pace.

SCRATCHES: Be Moderate, Hashco, Sea Missile, Hit And Run.

500—FIFTH—Purse $4,500, 4-year-olds and up,

(claiming $10,000-8,000); 6 furlongs; start good; won ridden out; place driving; went 3:38; off 3:38½; winner b. g., 7, by Spy Song-Leslie Gray; owner E. Dolce; trainer F. Martin; value, $2,925, 900, 450, 225; time, 22 1-5, 45 2-5, 1:10 3-5.

THE IRISHMAN, under restraint while lacking room on the turn, moved through boldly when able and needed only mild encouragement to outfinish NAIK. The latter, while no match for the winner, was best of the others. MOONY finished willingly, as did ROUGH TEMPO.

Stewards Deprive Ussery of Double By Yelling Foul

By JOE McLAUGHLIN
Herald Turf Editor

Bobby Ussery, Hialeah's leading jockey, whipped home his mounts You Go and Kintaro first in both ends of the daily double but the stewards interrupted with a loud "whoa" to prevent his twin killing.

Ussery, starting the day with 14 triumphs, and his mount You Go were disqualified in the first race and were placed second after Paul J. Bailey, riding Bright Plumes lodged a claim of interference.

You Go with Ussery whipping left-handed, impeded Bright Plumes' right at the wire as the former bore out, bumping Bright Plumes twice. The film patrol pictures of the race substantiated Bailey's claim. You Go's margin was but a nose at the wire.

Kintaro, rolling up through the stretch from far back won the second by a length over Bill Board.

Bright Plumes, moved into first position, paid $8.40 and combined with Kintaro ($12.70) for an eight-seven daily double worth $68.80.

Spring Hill Farm's Conga Star, a daughter of Black Star-Conga Rhythm won the first strictly Florida-bred "baby" race beating Fred W. Hooper's Confuse by a neck.

Pio, winner of 'best in show honors' at the Florida-bred show at Hialeah and a $20,000 purchase by Anthony Marrone, finished third with Elkcam Stable's Randypaar fourth in the field of 14.

Congo Star, handled nicely by Larry Gilligan, raced the three furlongs in 34 1-5 and paid $12.00.

Refund Bets After Anita Race Mixup

ARCADIA, Calif. — (AP) — Stewards at Santa Anita Race Track made refunds Friday on two horses involved in a starting gate mishap in the fifth race.

Officials refunded all money wagered on Jet's Reward and Bombay Dear — a total of $133,785 — because Jet's Reward started early, wheeled and blocked Bombay Dear's stall gate as the race began.

The race was won by a 50-1 longshot, Beyond Time. After refunds had been made, the win money was $51.60.

Bill Shoemaker got Jet's Reward out of the starting gate and finished the race, many lengths behind the field. Jockey Eddie Arcaro and Bombay Dear remained in the gate.

Jot's Jiggs Makes Final Flagler Start

One of the winter's top greyhounds, Jot's Jiggs, makes his final appearance of the Flagler season in one of tonight's twin 5-16th mile features.

Jiggs started the season with a bang, turning in the fastest string of schooling victories in the memory of track officials.

He then proved these wins were no accident by turning in four official victories over the 5-16th mile route in 31.3 seconds, the finest individual performance at Flagler in nine years. In addition, his fine early speed carried him to one 3-16th mile sprint win in 18.8 seconds, equalling the nine-year track record.

In his final outing tonight, Jiggs will be shooting for an 11th winter victory and his 14th money finish in 21 starts.

Heading the opposition will be the season's most consistent runner, Mountain View's Frontier Scout, in the money 18 for 23.

Golden Jet In Beach 6th

Golden Jet, a winner over the marathon Rickard course in her last start, moves back to Grade A in tonight's sixth event over the shorter O. P. Smith course at Miami Beach Kennel club.

Among the top challengers will be Ramerue, veteran campaigner which closed plenty of ground to be third behind National Beauty and Sultry in a Smith course affair.

Fay's Fayzie heads the Grade A eighth race field.

'Guest' to Run At Hollywood

Easy Guest, which had been flirting with victory in just about every start finally swept home on top in his last outing, meets Bud Jack's powerful running brother, Shadow Bug, in tonight's 10th race feature at Hollywood Kennel Club.

Also on tap tonight at the Broward oval is a race over the long Gulfstream marathon course, which finds the greyhounds traveling close to 7-16th of a mile in the 11th event.

Bo's So Lucky and Born Rich, two dogs with late speed, will be in the spotlight.

GRATUITY is back at top form, should repeat; FABULIST'S last was a fine try; COBBER will take this distance; BORETTE is another distance campaigner.

506—SECOND—Purse $4,500, 4-year-olds and up, claiming $7,500, 1⅛ miles (turf) Post—2:00.

SUMMER SOLSTICE is preferred on grass; BOY D'AMOUR'S ast was real good; MIDONTRIAL was good on the Chicago turf; DEADLY ACTOR has a chance here at a good price.

507—THIRD—Purse $3,500, 3-year-old, maiden colts and geldings, 7 furlongs. Post—2:30.

Won't Close A&M Schools, Says Speaker Designate

By Herald Services

News About Florida

TALLAHASSEE — House Speaker-Designate Thomas D. Beasley said Friday there is "no chance the state legislature will seriously consider closing down graduate schools at Florida A&M University to same money.

"The people of Florida are willing to pay whatever is necessary to maintain segregation," Beasley declared.

Palm Beach Plea Is Denied

The request of a Negro attorney to order the Palm Beach County School Board to begin integration at the Northboro School was turned down Friday by Federal Judge Emett C. Choate.

Judge Choate said in Miami he will deny the motion of William M. Holland despite a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling in the same case at New Orleans that Florida school boards must make "a prompt and reasonable start to good faith compliance" with the U.S. Supreme Court integration mandate.

The judge said the Supreme Court's ruling since then, upholding Alabama's pupil assignment law — similar to the Florida law — changes the effect of the Court of Appeals decision.

Seventh Crash Victim Is Dead

COCOA BEACH — The seventh, and final victim of Brevard County's worst auto accident died Friday.

Head injuries brought death to Patrick Costello, 29, Orlando, who had not regained consciousness since the predawn Thursday crash on the ocean beach. Five Orlando teenagers died in the crash and a sixth, Kenneth Goepper, 19, died later.

7,500 Children Hear Concerts

About 7,500 Dade County school children attended the three Young People's Concerts in Dade County Auditorium Friday.

The University of Miami Symphony Orchestra, led by John Bitter, played three performances. Other features were a 200-voice high school choir organized by Mrs. Frances Dean, and 17-year-old Frances Raboin, coloratura soprano.

Film to Replace 'For Love or Money'

'Rigging' Puts Quiz Show Off Air

NEW YORK — (UPI) — A daily morning quiz show "For Love or Money" was canceled Friday by the CBS television network because of a "rigged" machine.

Hubbell Robinson Jr., executive vice president in charge of network programs for CBS-TV, announced that beginning Monday, Feb. 2, the Monday-through-Friday time period, 10-10:30 a.m., will be occupied by a filmed drama series.

"For Love or Money," (which is not shown in Miami) went on the air June 30, 1958. Bill Nimmo was master of ceremonies. Walt Framer Productions, an independent producing company, was the producer.

Robinson said the cancellation came after personnel assigned to the show revealed that "the decimal machine used on the show to determine the size of the cash prizes awarded to contestants had, from time to time and unknown to the management, not been free from control."

If contestants on the show chose a cash prize, a "dancing decimal" moved between numbers and gave the contestant a chance to win from $1 to $1,000.

Robinson said network personnel operated the machine, which was built by the network's electrical shop.

One spokesman for the Framer office expressed surprise when he heard of the cancellation.

"CBS was running the machine and had built the machine," he said. "I don't know how in the world it could be rigged. It's an electronic device and once it got going, its results were out of everybody's hands."

Old Town Resists Nobly

Progress Puts Its Foot Inside Salerno's Door

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

SALERNO — It's nice to be able to report that my favorite to-heck-with-progress town is still resisting nobly—in the face of swelling odds.

How much longer they can hold the line is debatable. The bulldozers are clanking and puffing all around the town's perimeter. One enterprising real estate operator has cut a big canal into Manatee Pocket, around which the town lies.

There's more huffing and puffing over on Rocky Point, within rifle shot of the St. Lucie inlet.

The commercial fishermen, who make up the core of this town's year around population, remain quite unimpressed. Most of them still hold to the theory that paint is stuff you must put on boats, but not necessarily on houses.

OFFBEAT

FLORIDA

Only real shocker of the downtown area is the huge and modernistic Salerno Apartment Motel, which looks about as out of place as a Park Ave. dowager tieing one on in a back country juke joint.

Business there appeared far from brisk the day I was there.

Friends said that the type of people who come to Salerno as tourists—sports fishermen, artists, writers and other seekers of the "different"—prefer the more simple local accommodations.

One rambling old fish house has given up the ghost and its site now is occupied by the new and shiny Manatee Marina with modern cottages, a boat ramp and complete marine service.

But places like the long established Fishin' Hole and Pirates Cove Hotel still draw the faithful, the ones who come here year after year. Trailer folks predominate at the Fishin' Hole, although there is also a brisk trade in cottage and boat rentals.

The Manatee Marina was financed by the fellow who makes those vibrating chairs, and as the local folks watched the big place take form there were a lot of gags about how efficient they must be in shaking money out of their purchasers.

My longtime friend here, Lee Frazier, the fellow who gained immortal fame by sawing a boat in two when he and his partner argued about its ownership, has pulled up and gone. No one was quite sure where, but there was a report that he decided the town was getting "too danged grown up."

Lee's murals still decorate one of the downtown bistros. The fellow held to the theory that no picture was worth painting if it required anything smaller than a three inch brush.

Harold Kline, another friend and who sometimes doubles as my local spy here, is back for Effective Sunday, February 1, the price of The Miami Herald Sunday edition will be 20 cents. This is the first Sunday increase in 13 years.

Expanded editorial coverage, plus greatly increased costs of newsprint, larger payrolls and higher printing and distribution costs account for the change.

The seven-day weekly home delivered rate will be 50 cents. Your carrier and street vendors will share in this increase.

Colombia's Ex-Dictator Well-Heeled

BOGOTA, Colombia—(UPI) Former Dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla admitted under direct questioning by a senate prosecutor that his personal fortune was increased by presents accepted from both Colombian and foreign citizens while he was president.

He also admitted that he filed no income tax returns or kept books on a cattle business owned by himself and other members of his family.

The interrogation was conducted by Sen. Carlos Lleras Restrepo, head of the Liberal Party. Rojas Pinilla is being tried by the senate on charges of abuse of power, violation of the constitution and undignified conduct while in office.

The former dictator burst into a rage when told to stand up to answer the questions asked him. He shouted that he should be shown respect as a former president of Colombia. However, he then stood up to answer every time he was questioned.

Under Lleras Restrepo's grilling, Rojas Pinilla contradicted himself several times, hesitated and eluded direct answers to several questions.

North Florida Will Get Cold

A south-bound cold wave will push into North Florida Saturday—but the Gold Coast area won't be hit, the weatherman said Friday.

Rain was also forecast for northernmost Florida.

Everywhere else, the weatherman said, temperatures will remain in the high 60s to low 80s, with clear skies.

Sen. Green Bows Out Of Post

Committee Chief, 91, Lightens Load

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday accepted the resignation of Sen. Theodore F. Green (D., R.I.) as its chairman.

Green, at 91 the oldest member of the Senate, asked to be relieved of his chairmanship because of failing eyesight and hearing.

After a hastily summoned closed meeting of the committee, members said they had unanimously urged Green to reconsider his resignation, but he declined to do so.

A new chairman was not elected at the meeting, but Sen. J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.) is the next ranking Democratic member in seniority and his election is expected to be only a formality.

Fulbright already is chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, but presumably would relinquish that post to head the Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.), said as he came out of the Foreign Relations Committee meeting that it "was a sad morning."

"We begged Sen. Green to reconsider but he wouldn't do so," Mansfield told newsmen.

Green wrote Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas that "while I have the physical stamina to carry on as chairman, I am forced to conclude that it will be a long while before my eyesight has been fully restored and this handicap removed."

The Providence (R.I.) Journal had called editorially Thursday for Green to step down from the chairmanship. The editorial said it believed Green lacked the physical strength and was too old to hold the important post at this time.

Green's letter to Johnson said "as we both well know, my decision to resign is not based upon misleading newspaper articles or slanted editorials by a few callous newspaper writers."

Green underwent an eye operation at Lankenau Hospital in Philadelphia last fall for the removal of a cataract.

De Gaulle Renews Plea

PAIRS — (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle renewed Friday night his offer to Algerian rebel leaders to come to France and arrange a cease-fire in the four-year-old war.

". . . The war can lead to nothing but useless miseries. It certainly should end," De Gaulle told a nationwide radio audience.

"When?" he asked. "Why not quickly, in the honorable conditions that I have proposed?"

De Gaulle's reference was to his Oct. 23 offer to rebel leaders to come to France under safe conduct to discuss a cease-fire.

The rebels promptly rejected De Gaulle's offer at that time.

Cuba Suspends Liberties To Speed up War Trials

Guarantees Lifted for 3 Months

Bankers Defense, 9A
At La Cabana, 9A

HAVANA, Cuba — (UPI) — The Cuban government suspended three articles of the constitution for 90 days Friday to give revolutionary tribunals sweeping jurisdiction over "war criminals" and speed up trials.

The action will let revolutionary authorities arrest and hold suspects for more than 72 hours without producing them in court and will permit the tribunals to try civilian as well as military defendants.

The trails were scheduled to be resumed in Havana's Cabana fortress and nearby Camp Columbia on an accelerated basis. Foremost defendent was "war criminal No. 3," Lt. Col. Ricardo L. Grao.

Simultaneously, the supreme military tribunal was summoned to hear appeals of the top two "war criminals," Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco and Maj. Pedro Morejon Valdes.

Informed sources predicted the appeals would be rejected and the two men would be shot at dawn.

Firing squads Friday executed one soldier and four members of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer's private army in Manzanillo. They were convicted of being "war assassins."

The council of ministers moved to legalize gambling again in the same session in which it suspended the constitutional guarantees.

Meeting until nearly dawn—much of Cuba's official business is conducted at night to escape the daytime heat — the ministers designated a high-level three-man commission to draft a new gambling law.

Revolutionary Leader Fidel Castro has said that if the casinos were reopened, "respectable businessmen" would have to operate them, no Cubans could gamble in them and the government would get 50 to 70 per cent of the take.

This appeared to mean the old Las Vegas crowd that operated the casinos under President Fulgencio Batista was out.

Castro and President Manuel Urrutria had opposed any organized gambling under the new regime, but apparently pressure from about 10,000 Cubans who benefit directly or indirectly from the casinos, plus their value as a tourist attraction, changed their minds.

Palace Secretary Luis Buch put out a formal announcement denying Urrutria intended to resign. He characterized rumors that he was leaving as designed to "create confusion."

Ex-President Carlos Prio Socarras threw his whole-hearted support behind the provisional government Friday and said he and Castro had no differences. He said Castro's movemgnt was making steady progress in eliminating Communists who infiltrated labor leadership under Batista.

The General Dies

After decorating an officer during a military ceremony in Tarbes, southern France, French General Pierre Agostini slumps to the ground. Rushing in from the left is his wife. Gen. Agostini, commander of the Fifth Military Region of France, died shortly thereafter in a hospital, victim of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Space Pilot Candidates Bewildered But Proud

Capt. Bogan
. . . 'hard to believe'

Capt. Bradbury
. . . wife doesn't know

FAIRBANKS, Alaska —(AP)— Bewildered but proud, two veteran Air Force test pilots are trying to digest the news that they might soon swap their super-sonic jet planes for a spaceship.

Capt. Tom Bogan, 35, and Capt. William Bradbury, 33, were informed that they had been chosen with 108 other men as candidates for man's first venture to outer space.

Their names were the first to be released after the spaceman program was announced Tuesday by Keith Glennan, U.S. space chief.

"It was pretty hard to believe," Bogan said and Bradbury nodded in agreement.

The two pilots were interviewed by News Director Ken Conner of Radio Station KFRB, who had learned of the men's selection for the space project from an undisclosed news source. Air Force officials confirmed it.

Bogan and Bradbury are on temporary duty at Eielson Air Force Base near here from Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Bogan flies a F106 in subzero temperature tests while Bradbury speed tests a F101B.

Bogan, of Goodland, Ind., and Bradbury, who hails from Houston, Tex., told Conner they have had no special training as yet for the space venture. But both have more than double the required 1,500 flying hours and are within the maximum height of 5 feet 11 inches.

"My six-year-old daughter is just learning to say jet airplane," Bradbury said thoughtfully, "and would not realize what the mission involves."

The two pilots are married but their wives do not yet know of their husband's candidacy as U.S. spacemen.

Ships Collide, One Sinking

DEN HELDER, Netherlands —(AP)—The Costa Rican freighter Ely, 4,123 tons, was involved in an English Channel collision Friday with the Liberian tanker Andreas, 13,262 tons, and is sinking, according to a radio message monitored here. The crew of the Ely has been picked up by the Andreas, the message said.

Two Dutch tugs are enroute to the scene, near the Isle of Wight.

Madala's Brother Was Target

Officials Say Tout Shot Wrong Man

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Maxim Gay, the crippled tout who pumped three bullets into John Madala, Hialeah Race Course security chief, meant to shoot Madala's brother instead, track authorities disclosed Friday.

The brother, Joseph Madala, is a member of the security force in charge of tip sheet operations.

Gay, an elderly tip sheet peddler, bent with arthritis, told investigators he sought revenge because the track had "taken away my living" by prohibiting sales on the premises.

"Joe was the one that Gay was looking for," revealed Everett Clay, track executive.

Witnesses to the shooting recalled that Gay later told Joseph Madala:

"You are the one I was trying to kill."

Track officials further noted that John Madala was not acquainted with Gay.

The brothers resemble each other except that Joseph is heavier.

John had just finished talking with his brother at the track Thursday when Gay walked up and suddenly fired three .38 caliber slugs into the security director.

Madala's condition was listed as serious Friday at Doctor's Hospital, where doctors are treating him for bullet wounds in the abdomen, left side and left hand.

Trawler Rushing To Aid

Raging Seas May Hamper Rescuers

NEW YORK — (AP) — A Danish ship on her maiden voyage with 130 persons aboard, struck an iceberg off Greenland Friday and quickly sent an SOS. Then she reported she was slowly sinking.

A crackling SOS from the 2,875-ton Hans Hedtoft gave her position 37 miles off the cloud-enshrouded southern tip of Greenland and 600 miles below the Arctic Circle. The distress message added tersely: "Collision with an iceberg."

The 130 persons aboard were face to face with an uncanny parallel to one of the history's great disasters, the sinking of the Titanic.

At 11:54 a. m. EST., her distress message crackled out of her transmitter. Shore stations and ships at sea heard her say:

"SOS from Hans Hedtoft, position 59.5 N 43.00 W, collision with iceberg."

The combination freighter-passenger vessel was on her maiden voyage just like the famed liner Titanic which sank in 1912 with more than 1,500 lost when she struck an iceberg.

Even as rescue ships turned rudder to head for the stricken vessel, the Hedtoft radioed that she was "filling fast."

And still later she added to the urgency of her plight with the report: "Taking a lot of water in engine room."

Another distress call, relayed to the Coast Guard at 3:36 p.m .,said: "Slowly sinking and need immediate assistance."

Rushing to the aid of the Hedtoft was the German trawler, Justus Haslinger. She was, not too far away and was hopeful of getting there before dark.

Also en route was the American Coast Guard cutter Campbell, which left its North Atlantic navigational patrol base some 300 miles to the southwest. But it was not expected to arrive at the scene before today.

Canadian and American planes sought to take to the air from Newfoundland and Labrador, with survival gear to be dropped to the Hedtoft. But they were recalled as they taxied toward takeoff because of foul weather in the area of the Hedtoft.

Low clouds enshrouded the bleak, icy seas off Greenland and icing conditions were reported.

The Hedtoft was built last year and launched about a month ago. It was named after the late Prime Minister of Denmark.

The ship left Copenhagen Jan. 22 with 90 passengers and 40 crewmen under command of Capt. P. L. Rasmussen, 50. She headed for Godthaab, capital of Greenland, on a maiden voyage that was her inaugural to the Denmark-Greenland run.

Besides passengers, the Hedtoft carried a cargo of salted and dried fish.

She groped her way across the North Sea and out onto

Space Experts Testify at Senate Hearing

Don't Scoff At Claims, Chief Says

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The government's civilian space chief said Friday it is reasonable to assume that Russia's great rocket power has shot the Soviets a year-and-a-half ahead of the U.S. in space exploration.

But Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said this country is working with wartime speed to close the gap. For example, he said it hopes to place a man in orbit around the earth "within the next couple of years."

Glennan and two of his aides told Senate investigators it does Americans no good to scoff at Soviet space claims. They said available evidence tends to bear them out, notably Soviet success in shooting its "Lunik" into orbit around the sun.

Dr. Homer Stewart, planning director for Glennan's agency, said the Lunik shot showed the Russians have developed a rocket guidance system that could direct a hydrogen missile to within 15 or 20 miles of its target.

Dr. W. H. Pickering, head of the agency's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, testified that he and his men picked up what they believed to be signals from Lunik as it was speeding beyond the moon.

The scientists testified before the Senate Space-preparedness subcommittee, which Thursday looked into the U.S. military missile program. Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D., Tex.) said the group wanted to know when the U.S. will "catch up" with Russia in space.

Glennan did not answer directly. But he said "we are calling upon every scientific and technological capability of the nation that can contribute to this program." Before the end of this year, he said, the X-15 rocket plane should carry man to the edge of space.

At one point, Glennan said that "speaking scientifically, in the overall, I would think we are on a par" with the Russians. But he quickly added that "on the propulsion side, they can do things we can't and would like to do."

He noted that the largest payload the U.S. has sent into space — 150 pounds — was aboard the Atlas satellite. He recalled that the Russians reported a 794-pound payload in their Lunik that was shot beyond the moon.

Glennan described as "reasonable" a statement read into the record which said the U.S. was perhaps 18 months behind the Soviets in exploring space.

Reporting on U.S. progress, Glennan predicted that a cluster of Jupiter rockets being put together by the Army will make it possible by 1962 to put 10 tons of payload into orbit and to send two tons "far beyond the moon." The cluster is expected to have a thrust of 1,500,000 pounds.

7 Perish In Nursing Home Fire

GLEN ELLYN, Ill. — (AP) — Seven persons perished Friday in a fire that destroyed an old mansion used as a convalescent home. Two others were unaccounted for.

Five bodies were taken from the smoking wreckage of the Glen Ellyn Acres Nursing Home, a turreted two-story home on the outskirts of Glen Ellyn, a suburb 30 miles west of Chicago.

Another victim died en route to a hospital. The seventh was a business man volunteer fireman who collapsed and died of a heart attack.

The dead fire fighter was Donald Stoffregen, 45, a volunteer officer of the Glen Ellyn department.

Ray Mortimer died en route to Du Page County Memorial Hospital in nearby Elmhurst.

James Clarke, assistant coroner of Du Page County, said the two unaccounted for may have been trapped in the flaming wreckage after the roof caved in.

Firemen said the names of the dead and missing are Ernest Huberkamp, John Ryder, Ed Warkentine, Matt Kline, John Esser, Helen Sanderson and Theresa Bonvrich.

The fire spread rapidly through the old turreted mansion. Nurses carried out some of the patients. Others walked out and some reached safety in wheelchairs.

Firemen were hampered by water and the fast start of the blaze. The nearest hydrant is about three blocks from the home.

Firemen reported there were 26 persons, patients and staff, in the home. Many of the patients are assigned there by Du Page County for care at $4 a day. The home is operated by Pearl R. Beard, a World War I nurse.

Show's Off Ground, Public's Up in Air

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

The Dade County Commissioners' Air Show was fogbound in more ways than one Friday — and got off the ground two hours late.

Meanwhile, hundreds of fathers and mothers with auto loads of children were told "no show today," and at the same time asked to pay a dollar for what they had been told previously would be free performances at Masters Field, Opa-locka.

The fog was blamed by promoters for the delay in the start of the sketchy performance. And the would-be audience blamed a fog in high levels of the County Commission which permitted the giant week-long snafu.

Late Friday afternoon, Maurey Ashmann and Dick Olson, co-promoters for the Aviation Week Air Show held in connection with the dedication — miles away — of Miami's new 26 million dollar airline terminal building, said "everything is all right now."

They said planes were flying over, "at irregular intervals, but there's something going on every few minutes."

Early arrivals, at the scheduled 10 a.m. opening, found nothing. The promised missile and aircraft exhibits had not been set up. Nor was anything going on at noon when The Herald's reporter arrived.

And there were guards at the Masters Field gates collecting one dollar a car from those who wished to park in the assigned area.

Ashmann said later this was strictly a "parking charge, and not an admittance."

"These people can park on the side streets and walk onto the grounds without paying," he said. How his forecasted 25,000 viewers were going to find "side street parking" he did not explain. State road patrolmen were keeping NW 27th Ave., adjoining the field, clear of parking for normal traffic.

Ashmann also said that "massive missile displays" were being set up late Friday afternoon. On their visit, The Herald's reporter and photographer found only miniature displays.

The parking and hot dog charges, Ashmann said, "are strictly to meet operating expenses, and none of the money is going to pay for entertainment in connection with the dedication ceremonies."

Asked how the price of hot dogs compared with the one dollar parking charge, Ashmann said, "I don't know what they're getting for the dogs out there, but we aren't gouging anybody."

Ashmann heads Exhibitors Services, Inc., a firm appointed by County Publicity Agent Dick Troxel to handle the Air Show. They are operating under a verbal contract.

Delay in the arrival of aircraft was blamed by Ashmann on "an early morning fog," and then again on "reports that the show might not go on." He said a misunderstanding about the insurance kept many Air Force, Navy and Marine units from arriving on time.

County officials, however, said the $5,200 premium had been paid early Thursday morning, and that it would not have been difficult to advise the armed services that the show was to proceed as scheduled.

the broad, winter-gripped surface of the North Atlantic. As she moved westward, she left behind her Iceland, far to the north.

Her long voyage was nearing an end as she drew abreast of, but 37 miles to the south of Cape Farewell, the extreme southern tip of Greenland. Now she had but to skirt the icebound cape and proceed a few hundred miles up along the west coast of Greenland to her destination.

But it was at this point that the iceberg crossed her path.

When that is locked up for the season he hurries down here and occupies a fisherman's little cottage he bought years ago on a street lined with drying fish nets and boats in various stages of disrepair. The inside is modernized. The outside remains untouched.

Harold is an ardent apostle of the let's-keep-things-simple school of thought, but he has done quite well on the splurge of real estate activities around the town. He did his buying in the years before everyone went crazy.

William M. Stanger, a resident here, is currently waging a one-man and apparently not quite successful campaign against juvenile delinquency. Probably these kids are no worse than the kids in other towns, but Stanger thinks there's a very broad sprinkling of young hellions.

In letters to The Stuart News, the county judge, the sheriff, and the prosecuting attorney, he charged that a house burned to the ground because some young so and so stole the gas out of the Volunteer Fire Department's truck.

With tongue in cheek, he listed a long list of other depredations the kids might try, virtually everything from pulling up young corn to poisoning the well at the orphanage.

Still another new touch here is a small but fine state park and boat-launching site where boats turn in from the main channel. The place bulges with family groups having fun.

O'Conner's Restaurant, whose beef stews we have touted the length of Florida, has been sold and is now the Pendora (it is NOT Pandora). Our local spy says the food is good, and at prices so low they would make a Miami restaurant keeper drop dead.

It's still a nice old town, but progress may get 'em yet.

'Not the End of It,' Say Flunked Students

By PHIL MEYER
Herald Staff Writer

A "mass meeting" of flunked physics students was called Friday at the University of Miami north campus.

Fifteen showed up.

The students, part of the 221 out of 319 who failed freshman physics, huddled under a spreading palm tree in the Anastasia Building courtyard and sympathized with each other.

"This isn't the end of it," said their leader, Oscar (Ozzie) New, who sported blue-tinted spectacles and a day's start toward a rebel-type beard.

"We've paid a total of $16,000 worth of tuition and there's nothing to show for it."

A few of the rebels broke for the shadows as a photographer, summoned by a tip on the mass meeting, appeared on the scene.

"See," said New. "No free speech. Afraid to be seen here."

One student in the group, sort of a non-conformist, admitted he had not flunked like the others. He'd gotten a C.

"I sure wish they would explain to me why I only got a 'C'" he muttered glumly.

The little band tried to lay plans for its next move.

"If only they wouldn't ignore us," said New. "Why doesn't the administration say something?"

Another student had an idea. "Why don't we draw up a list of our grievances and present 'em to somebody," he said.

There were nods of assent.

New, notebook in hand, headed for an empty classroom to work on the list of grievances. A few followed him.

The rest straggled out and strolled across the campus, soaking up the afternoon sun.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

BELL

YOUR TOWN CRIER now is in the horse show business. Knowing we need about $300,000 a year to care for sick and crippled indigent children at Variety Children's Hospital, I just can't seem to say "no" when someone wants to help.

My horse show will be staged by South Miami Riding Club, Feb. 13-14-15. There's a prior show at Dinner Key Feb. 5-8, opening the Sunshine Circuit. The same champions then will shift to the South Miami grounds on Kendall Dr.

The South Miami horsemen want to help the hospital, which is in their sector of Greater Miami. Variety Club officers decided they'd rather not sponsor the show. So I feel honored that Walter Pierce and his South Miami group said "If you'll help us we'll give all the money to the hospital anyway." I will, so they will. I'm a sucker for horse shows anyway.

Now all I need are purchasers of trophies and boxes. The South Miami folks have worked so hard the show expenses are already in the bank. Every cent we take in goes to the hospital. Boxes are $35 for the three days, six chairs each. The parking space behind the box is an extra $5. Trophies are $25 or $50. It's deductible.

Scene Change

The old Everglades Hotel is under transformation into the new Everglades. And a little party Friday evening sort of set up the new idea, even if there were a few echoes from World War II.

The party was for Air Force men, here for the big show opening our new International airport. Col. Benjamin B. Cassiday Jr., deputy commander of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, represented the academy.

Maj. Gen. John W. Persons, commander of the famous 14th Flying Tiger Air Force; Col. Seth McKee, skipper of Homestead Air Force base; pilots of the famous Thunderbird precision flying team; missile wisemen from Cape Canaveral: They were all over the place in their military sartorial splendor.

Y'know, harking back to World War II, the Everglades had a far different military demeanor. It was taken over by the Navy and used as a barracks for enlisted men.

Statistics

MIAMI READINGS AT 4:30 P.M. FRIDAY: Skies, clear; temperature, 79 degrees; winds from the east at 15 miles an hour; barometer, 30.17 inches; relative humidity, 69 per cent.

National Summary

Surges of Pacific winds across the Northwestern states have continued to spread moisture for light snow through the northern Rockies and into South Dakota and Nebraska while the build up of cool air over the plateau states has given snow thru eastern Nevada and stormy weather in the mountains of western Utah.

Clearing skies are expected over New England with colder weather from the Plains to the Atlantic and most of the Gulf states. A moist pattern across the southland will spread northward again Saturday offering chance of snow and sleet from Western Tennessee into portions of the lower Ohio Valley.

Snow flurries will be scattered over the Great Lakes and into the Northern and Central Appalachians.

Fair weather should remain in the Southwest with slightly cooler air settling into northern Airzona but in the cold pattern of fair skies over northern portions of the plains and Mississippi Valley temperatures are forecast as low as 35 below zero in Minnesota and North Dakota.

Periods of rainy weather are in view over the northern Pacific states with light rain reaching northern California during the night while showers of rain or snow are likely across the northern plateau region.

Tourist Building Slows

TALLAHASSEE — (AP) — Eating and sleeping facilities for Florida tourists were built at a slower rate last year than in 1957, the State Hotel and Restaurant Commission reported Friday.

It said building permits for apartments, hotels, motels, rooming houses and restaurants totaled 2,494 in 1958. In the previous year, before the round of freezes and the national recession slowed tourism permits had totaled 2,693.

Most of the 1958 slowdown in tourist building came in the first half of last year. The pace picked up as the state economy snapped back but failed to make up for the earlier slump.

Estimated value of the 1958 construction was 111 million dollars while that of the previous year was about 137 million dollars.

Miamian Killed

SOUTH BAY — (AP) — A 65-year-old Miami woman was killed last night when the car in which she was riding collided with a tractor-trailer on U.S. 27, 12 miles south of this Lake Okeechobee community.

Mrs. Gates Ferguson, 725 NE 22nd St., died of head injuries, the highway patrol said. Her husband was admitted to Belle Glade Hospital with a broken hip.

Trooper R. L. Wetherington said Ferguson, driving toward Miami, pulled into the path of the oncoming truck.

DAYTONA BEACH —(UPI) — The wife of ousted Cuban President Fulgencio Batista and a young son have returned to New York City, it was reported Friday.

Ben F. Brass, local attorney for the family, said Mrs. Marta Batista's son Roberto, is to have some dental work completed before the pair returns to the Batista home here.

Mrs. Batista, accompanied by two sons, arrived here last week from New York to visit her young daughter and another son, Fulgencio Jr. The daughter had been ill.

Sale Probed

TAVARES — (UPI) — The Lake County Grand Jury will be asked to investigate possible criminal charges against County Commission member Jack Hooten of Clermont.

The commission voted Thursday to file a civil damage suit against Hooten and his business associates, as suggested by State Attorney General Richard Ervin.

The dispute involved the sale to the county last year of four pieces of property, in which Hooten had an interest. The county claimed it acquired title to only two pieces of the property.

State law forbids a county official from doing business with the county in which he is an officer.

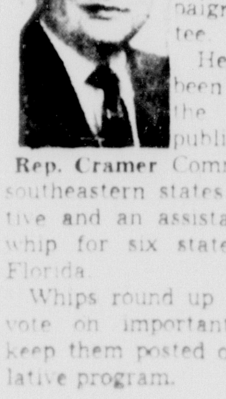
Cramer Named



Rep. Cramer

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. William C. Cramer (R., Fla.) has been appointed to the Executive Committee of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

He also has been named to the House Republican Policy Committee as a southeastern states representative and an assistant House whip for six states including Florida.

Whips round up members to vote on important bills and keep them posted on the legislative program.

Plane Crash Kills Two UF Students

GAINESVILLE —(UPI)— The bodies of two University of Florida students who had been missing in their small private plane were found three miles west of Gainesville Friday afternoon.

The Federal Aviation Agency here said the bodies were found in the wreckage of their plane just one and one-half miles southwest of Stengel Field where they took off Thursday afternoon.

Richard Parker, 19, of Lake Alfred, and Phillip Gould, 22, Winter Haven, left a small air field near Gainesville about 1 p.m. Thursday headed for New Orleans for the weekend.

The Civil Air Patrol at Pensacola, where the Cessna 140 was to refuel, said the small yellow craft never landed, prompting a wide-spread search for the pair.

Heavy fog, which probably was a factor in the disappearance, hampered the four-state air search for several hours.

A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said the scheduled aerial hunt did not get started until afternoon. Earlier, ground parties were dispatched at all airports in an area between Gainesville and New Orleans.

Parker, son of J. H. Parker, a citrus grove caretaker, filed a flight plan by telephone from Stengle Field to the CAA in this city, some 40 miles to the west.

The plan called for a six-hour flight, including a refueling stop at Pensacola, to New Orleans. The plane had a fuel capacity of 24 gallons or about five hours flying time, the CAA said.

Joining the search for the Polk County flyers were the CAP, Forestry Service, a corporation plane from Perry, and the U. S. Air Force at Eglin AFB.

Parker's father said his son was considered an excellent pilot with considerable cross-country flying experience. Parker is an aeronautical engineering student.

Gould is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Gould.

It was an Aeronca owned by Parker which was stolen by two Tampa bandits in October 1957 when the robbers staged the celebrated flying bank robbery at Fort Meade, about 20 miles south of Winter Haven.

Brother And Sister Reunited

JACKSONVILLE BEACH — (UPI) — It took a long time, but Miss Mary M. Baxley and her brother have reunited after a 30-year separation.

Miss Baxley and Phillip Baxley had not seen each other since 1928 when they lost their parents in Robeson County, N.C.

They were reared by different families in North Carolina, but never saw each other during that period.

Miss Baxley came to Florida in 1942 and saved enough money to launch a search for the brother. With the help of a county welfare physician and nurse, Phillip was found in Lumberton, N.C.

Ex-Slave Dies

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — A Negro woman who was born a slave died Thursday at the age of 118.

Birth record showed the age of Celia Crawley who died at the home of her son, Lonnie Preston, 78.

The woman was born in Gadsden County Jan. 6, 1841, and outlived four of her children.

She moved here in 1886 and worked as a midwife until 1945

Shoplifting Charged

3 Women Tourists Booked at City Jail

FORT LAUDERDALE —(UPI)— Judge John Douglass extended Friday a one-week vacation for three Minnesota women to 38 days in the city jail and fined each $100 on charges of shoplifting.

While their husbands went fishing Thursday, Mrs. Myrtle Cecka, 47, and Mrs. Hattie Lund, 42, both of Austin, Minn., and Mrs. Lillian Marie Tongen, 46, Zumbrota, Minn., went shopping.

The trouble was, the women failed to pay for a total of $79.84 worth of goods they took from a downtown clothing store, police testified.

Husbands of the three women protested they would lose their jobs if they failed to return home at the end of the week.

Judge Douglass told the men they could go back to Minnesota but would have to leave their wives behind to serve their sentences.

Mix Bid Rejected By Court

By ARTHUR JOHNSEY
Herald Staff Writer

Federal Judge Emett C. Choate turned down the request of a Negro attorney Friday to order the Palm Beach County School Board to begin integration at the Northboro School.

Choate said he will deny the motion of William M. Holland despite a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling in the same case at New Orleans that Florida school boards must make a "prompt and reasonable start to good faith compliance" with the U.S. Supreme Court integration mandate.

The judge said the Supreme Court's ruling since then, upholding Alabama's pupil assignment law—similar to the Florida law, changes the effect of the Court of Appeals decision.

Choate said that before taking final action in the case he would give Williams a chance to decide whether to amend his suit to challenge directly the Florida pupil assignment law, or to contend that Negroes seeking admittance to the school have complied with the law and the School Board has not.

Williams filed the suit seeking to have his eight-year-old son admitted to the Northboro School.

The New Orleans court ruled in September that responsibility to see that no child is deprived of his rights rests with school boards, and that it is up to district courts to require "good faith compliance" with the desegregation mandate of the Supreme Court.

The ruling reversed an earlier decision in the case by Choate.

At the Friday hearing, Williams sought to have Choate order integration at the Northboro school on the basis of the New Orleans decision.

Plane Talked Down at Eglin

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE —(UPI)— Two Army majors, one from Texas and the other from Canada, were talked down in zero-zero visibility fog Friday when one engine of their plane stopped and the other began running roughly.

Maj. Jack Cranford, San Marcos, Tex., and Maj. S. M. Pinkerton of the Royal Canadian Army ran into trouble in an Army L-26 Aero commander on a flight from Ft. Rucker, Ala., to Mineral Wells, Tex.

Cranford called the Federal Aviation Agency station at Crestview, Fla., near here, and was talked down from the Eglin Radar Approach Control Center.

Legislative Investigation

Collins Gives Nod To Printing Probe

Gov. Collins
. . . gives his blessing

Criticizes Present System

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capital Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. LeRoy Collins Friday gave his blessing to a legislative investigation of state printing practices and at the same time announced he intends to renew his efforts in the next Legislature for a broad central purchasing system.

The governor said that in both 1955 and 1957 he had recommended the creation of a broad purchasing procedure including printing, but that there was not enough support in the Legislature to get his program adopted.

The governor said that he does not approve of the present system which sets up a state purchasing commission, composed of the state Cabinet.

He will again recommend the creation of a commission composed of the state budget director as chairman, and two other members appointed by the governor, one upon recommendation of the Cabinet and one upon recommendation of the Legislative council.

Collins said that during his administration, he has attempted to make sure that bidding on all purchases, including printing, by agencies directly under his supervision are made by open competitive bidding.

The governor said that until 1957, state printing was regulated by a law which had been on the books since 1887. The law now provides that state printing must be done by Florida firms and subject to competitive bids.

State Rep. John E. Mathews Jr. of Jacksonville has announced that he will ask the 1959 Legislature to make a thorough study of printing practices by all state agencies and call for putting printing under a central purchasing system.

Collins said, "I have no feeling of opposition to that of any kind. I welcome such, especially if the committee is to be chairmaned by Rep. Mathews. But I hope it gets under way soon rather than be postponed until the Legislature convenes."

Collins said the six agencies under his direct supervision when he assumed office were the State Road Department, Industrial Commission, Hotel and Restaurant Commission, Motor Vehicle Bureau, Beverage Department and Department of Water Conservation.

Since then, the Development Commission has been added as a part of the governor's "little Cabinet."

The governor said he has asked each agency for a full report on their printing practices and that if any loose, careless or improper practices are detected, he will call for an immediate tightening of procedure under existing printing laws.

The governor said, however, that he was pleased to find that since 1951, the Motor Vehicle Bureau's costs for its biggest printing job dropped from $16 per thousand to $6.91 when the printing of vehicle registration cards was let on wide open bidding.

Prior to the time Collins took office in 1955, this job was given to the Rose Printing Co., just across the street from the state Capitol. The price ranged from $13 to $16 per thousand.

Collins said that since he took office, the low bidder had been in each case an out-of-town firm.

The governor also pointed out that with the exception of the Development Commission, which was not in existence in 1953, the other six agencies under his direct control have spent less money on printing, but have purchased 50 per cent more in quantity.

Collins was asked about the report of Charles Boogher, promotion director for the Development Commission, who said that on one occasion the representative of one firm brought along the bids of two of his competitors.

Collins said: "That doesn't sound like a very sound bid procedure."

Opposes Governor

Beasley: Florida To Hold Race Line

TALLAHASSEE —(UPI)— House Speaker-Designate Thomas D. Beasley said Friday there is "no chance" the Legislature will seriously consider closing down graduate schools at the state Negro university.

"The people of Florida are willing to pay whatever is necessary to maintain segregation," Beasley declared.

The House leader, an outspoken segregationist from Walton County, expressed surprise that Gov. LeRoy Collins would suggest the Legislature consider closing schools at A&M University to save money.

"That would be giving in to pressure being put on the south to force integration," he declared. He said it also would be unfair to Negroes "because many of them are getting an education at A&M University they otherwise would not get.

Collins told the Budget Commission Thursday that the graduate program at the Negro university should be reappraised in the light of Florida's financial plight as well as the racial situation.

He asked for exact figures on student costs, but said he understood that six attorneys were graduated from the A&M Law School at a cost of $60,000 per student.

A&M President George Gore said, however, that the school had graduated 11 attorneys since it opened in 1950. He said he did not have exact per student costs, but believed it currently is running about $13,000 per student.

Beasley said abolishment of A&M graduate schools "would create a bad situation."

"I want to see segregation in all phases of education, elementary, junior high, high school, university and graduate level," he said.

Beasley said he saw no particular significance in the fact that one Negro enrolled without incident in the previously all-white University of Florida Law School last fall.

"One got in all right, but if we make it a wholesale proposition, it would be a horse of a different color," he said.

Collins and Budget Director Harry Smith referred to graduate schools at A&M in law, pharmacy, education and agriculture. But Gore said pharmacy and agriculture courses are under-graduate programs.

James Love of Quincy, chairman of the Board of Control of the university system, said his board does not plan to make any recommendation for or against closing the graduate schools.

"We will simply get the cost figures and present them to the Legislature with no recommendation," Love said.

He added the Negro Law School is "terrifically expensive" with a staff of six professors, which is the required minimum for national accrediation.

New Trial Bid Eyed By King

BARTOW —(AP)— Harry E. King plans to seek a new trial on his conviction of conspiracy, one of several charges stemming from the former state senator's $10,000 payoff to a political opponent in 1956.

The stocky, greying Winter Haven lawyer said following the criminal court jury's verdict Thursday night:

"We're going to ask for a new trial. If we don't get it, we will go to the higher courts on appeal."

Although convicted on two counts of conspiracy to commit perjury, the verdict was a big victory for King. The jury acquitted him on two counts of subornation of perjury, much more serious charges.

Judge Roy Amidon withheld sentencing pending an appeal.

KING

King could receive a two-year prison term and $1,000 fine. Had the defendant been convicted on all four counts, he would have a maximum sentence of 42 years and $1,000 fine.

The jury's verdict carried a recommendation of mercy, which carries no mandatory action in this case.

The subornation counts were charges of inducing two ex-sheriff's deputies to lie to a grand jury investigating the payoff King made to Boone D. Tillett Feb. 4, 1956.

King received a five-year sentence following his conviction on all four counts after his first trial 32 months ago. The state Supreme Court threw out the convictions and ordered a new trial.

The 56-year-old defendant received the verdict at 9:37 p.m., more than five hours after the jury started deliberations.

Munching a sandwich in a hallway a few minutes after hearing the verdict, King told friends, "the big one (subornation) is out of the way. Now we've got to get clear on the conspiracy charges."

FLORIDA ESCAPEE grins broadly for his mother at Toronto, where he awaits a decision on whether he must return to Florida to face escape charges. Kenneth William Brymer, 20, of Toronto, swam an alligator-infested swamp in 1957, fleeing a road gang at Raiford. He had served two years of a 20-year breaking and entering sentence. He was rearrested Tuesday in Toronto after serving two years in a penitentiary there for breaking and entering and auto theft.

7th Victim Dies After Car Crash

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA BEACH — The seventh — and final — victim of Brevard County's worst auto accident died Friday.

Head injuries brought death to Patrick Costello, Orlando, who had not regained consciousness since the predawn Thursday crash on the ocean beach.

Five Orlando teenagers died instantly in the crash and a sixth died Thursday night.

The five were partially decapitated by an elevated sea water pipeline which sheared off the top of their car when they struck it at an estimated 75 mph at 2:50 a.m. Thursday.

The pipe, which was beging used to "jet in" piling for a bulkhead project, crosses the beach at a point where driving is not allowed. It was marked by a red lantern, according to the contractor who installed it.

Just before the crash the death car passed several "no driving" signs.

Instantly killed were John E. Roquemore, 1100 Chichester; James E. Weaver, 209 Concord Ave.; Nickie H. Morgan, 1216 Heron Dr.; Kenneth L. D. Gardiner, 426 Faber Dr., all of Orlando; and Richard C. Knobler, whose address was not determined.

All were 18.

Kenneth Goepper, 19, of 2603 Harrison St., Orlando, died at 10:20 p.m. Thursday in Orange Memorial Hospital.

The death of Costello, 20, of 219 West Princeton St., Orlando, came at 6:20 a.m. Friday at the same hospital.

The death car was owned by Roquemore, but police have been unable to determine who was driving at the time of the crash.

'Don't Mix, Sell Mansion'

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Rep. J. W. McAlpin of Hamilton County proposed Friday selling the governor's mansion as a more desirable state economy move than integrating graduate schools at state universities.

Gov. LeRoy Collins suggested Thursday that the Legislature should consider the money that would be saved by closing the Florida A & M graduate schools in favor of integration in the white university graduate schools.

"If we are going into this as an economy move, let's sell the governor's mansion, cut out his domestic help and chauffeur and raise his salary $2,500 a year to $25,000," McAlpin said. "That won't hurt anybody but this other would wreck our school system."

DeMille's Last Movie Advice: 'Dirt Not Always Pay Dirt'

Nightlife with George Bourke

DURING the past 18 months Joseph Laitin taped interviews with the greats of the film industry and is broadcasting the edited result over KNX radio in Hollywood this current weekend under the title of "The Changing Face of Hollywood." Some of the quotes are extremely interesting but none is more pertinent than the posthumous caution of Cecil B. DeMille who said: "Our greatest danger from within the industry is worship of the golden calf. Dirt is not necessarily pay dirt."

And exhibitions won't cheer Jane Russell's contribution to the forum: "If I could sit and see a good picture at home I would never go out," she is quoted out of context as saying. Always the kitchen cynic, Shelley Winters commented that: "The trouble (with the star system) is the way it's set up now, you become a star and then get enough money to study acting."

They'll take time out from their chores at the Riot Room on the night of Feb. 5 to join Bob Hope in raising funds for the Variety Children's Hospital. Tickets are available at the auditorium or at the Variety Club, Miami Colonial Hotel for from $2.50 to $20 . . .

Claire Kelly, former wife of George DeWitt is under pressure from actor Perry Lopez to "Name That Time." For the wedding bells, that is . . . Roger Vadim, who discovered Brigitte Bardot, is hoping lightning will strike twice—he has a 15-year-old protege named Gillian Hills who is expected to make Bardot look like a plateau.

Brave fellow is Claude Chabrol, a French film-critic. He's turned producer! . . . Emerson Buckley, bearded musical conductor, is at the Algiers. Stay away from Havana, E.B., or they'll pin a 26th of July armband on you. Incidentally, Fidel Castro's $250-a-day suite at the Havana-Hilton is on the 23rd floor, three shy of the 26th.

BETTER HURRY around to Ciro's to grab a look and a laugh at comedian Alan Gale. Alan is considering a stab at serious theater and if you know Alan's determination you know that the "stab" will be a successful operation. So enjoy him while you can without taking a trip to the Broadway theater belt. Gale is truly one of the great cafe performers of our time. Although he always has an act or three on his bills, just for variety, he is as much the one-man show as is Victor Borge, or Red Skelton. He dominates any room he is in with his alternating sallies of wisdom and wit.

Sid Kuller and company have been working overtime making adjustments on Copa City's "Jump for Joy," which, in its opening night version, was joyful but didn't have the "jump" you'd expect of a show boasting of the talents of Duke Ellington, Barbara McNair, Timmie Rodgers, Stump and Stumpy and other Negro show personalities.

One of the additions has been a frenzied production number featuring the primitive rhythms of song and dance which were the mainstay of every successful colored revue that ever hit the boards of theater or cafe.

Lend-a-Hand Tickets on Sale

ADD TITLE CHANGES: The SIM to DIER. SIM was the Military Intelligence Service of the Batista regime. DIER, its successor (accent on the first three letters?) is Department of Investigation of Revolutionary Army.

Producer Rex Carlton—didn't he make a movie here once with Lili St. Cyr? — is producing "Witchcraft." with Linda Christian and Robert Alda . . . And Ferde Grofe, Jr., and Buddy Rogers are making one called "The Sea Witch." Sounds like Halloween around the corner.

Incidentally, Ferde Grofe, Sr., will be represented on the preview premiere bill with "Sleeping Beauty" for the benefit of Lend-a-Hand on Feb. 10 at the Sheridan Theater. His Grand Canyon Suite has been translated into pictorial terms and made into a featurette by Walt Disney.

Some of the Grofe arrangement was used in "Fantasia," which Disney made more than 10 years ago and which pioneered with stereophonic processes just coming into use.

Tickets for the Lend-a-Hand benefit showing of the $6,000,000 wide-screen film may be had at the Sheridan and Florida Theaters or at The Miami Herald.

Cuba Cuts Off Civil Liberties

Move Designed To Speed Trials

HAVANA, Cuba — (UPI) — The Cuban government suspended three articles of the constitution for 90 days Friday to give revolutionary tribunals sweeping jurisdiction over "war criminals" and to speed trials.

The action will let revolutionary authorities arrest and hold suspects for more than 72 hours without producing them in court and will permit the tribunals to try civilian as well as military defendants.

The trials were scheduled to be resumed in Havana's Cabana fortress and nearby Camp Columbia on an accelerated basis. Foremost defendent was "war criminal No. 3," Lt. Col. Ricardo L. Grao.

Simultaneously, the supreme military tribunal was summoned to hear appeals of the top two "war criminals," Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco and Maj. Pedro Morejon Valdes.

Informed sources predicted the appeals would be rejected and the two men would be shot at dawn.

Firing squads Friday executed one soldier and four members of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer's private army in Manzanillo. They were convicted of being "war assassins."

The council of ministers moved to legalize gambling again in the same session in which it suspended the constitutional guarantees.

Meeting until nearly dawn—much of Cuba's official business is conducted at night to escape the daytime heat — the ministers designated a high-level three-man commission to draft a new gambling law.

Revolutionary Leader Fidel Castro has said that if the casinos were reopened, "respectable businessmen" would have to operate them, no Cubans could gamble in them and the government would get 50 to 70 per cent of the take.

This appeared to mean the old Las Vegas crowd that operated the casinos under President Fulgencio Batista was out.

Castro and President Manuel Urrutia had opposed any organized gambling under the new regime, but apparently pressure from about 10,000 Cubans who benefit directly or indirectly from the casinos, plus their value as a tourist attraction, changed their minds.

Palace Secretary Luis Buch put out a formal announcement denying Urrutia intended to resign. He characterized rumors that he was leaving as designed to "create confusion."

Ex-President Carlos Prio Socarras threw his whole-hearted support behind the provisional government Friday and said he and Castro had no differences. He said Castro's movement was making steady progress in eliminating Communists who infiltrated labor leadership under Batista.

Progress Puts Its Foot Inside Salerno's Door

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

SALERNO — It's nice to be able to report that my favorite to-heck-with-progress town is still resisting nobly—in the face of swelling odds.

How much longer they can hold the line is debatable. The bulldozers are clanking and puffing all around the town's perimeter. One enterprising real estate operator has cut a big canal into Manatee Pocket, around which the town lies.

There's more huffing and puffing over on Rocky Point, within rifle shot of the St. Lucie inlet.

The commercial fishermen, who make up the core of this town's year around population, remain quite unimpressed. Most of them still hold to the theory that paint is stuff you must put on boats, but not necessarily on houses.

Only real shocker of the downtown area is the huge and modernistic Salerno Apartment Motel, which looks about as out of place as a Park Ave. dowager tieing one on in a back country juke joint.

Business there appeared far from brisk.

Friends said that the type of people who come to Salerno as tourists—sports fishermen, artists, writers and other seekers of the "different"—prefer the more simple local accommodations.

One rambling old fish house has given up the ghost and its site now is occupied by the new and shiny Manatee Marina with modern cottages, a boat ramp and complete marine service.

But places like the long established Fishin' Hole and Pirates Cove Hotel still draw the faithful, the ones who come here year after year. Trailer folks predominate at the Fishin' Hole, although there is also a brisk trade in cottage and boat rentals.

The Manatee Marina was financed by the fellow who makes those vibrating chairs, and as the local folks watched the big place take form there were a lot of gags about how efficient they must be in shaking money out of their purchasers.

My longtime friend here, Lee Frazier, the fellow who gained immortal fame by sawing a boat in two when he and his partner argued about its ownership, has pulled up and gone. No one was quite sure where, but there was a report that he decided the town was getting "too danged grown up."

Lee's murals still decorate one of the downtown bistros. The fellow held to the theory that no picture was worth painting if it required anything smaller than a three inch brush.

COCOA — The USS Observation Island — first ship equipped to fire the Navy's Polaris missile — will dock at Port Canaveral for the first time Monday.

The recently commissioned ship is to be permanently assigned to the port in mid-February.

Its 400 officers and men and their families will become residents of central Brevard for the duration of the Polaris program which is expected to last at least another three years.

The Observation Island is 16,100-ton ship which is 563 feet long. It is a converted Mariner class cargo vessel.

Capt. Leslie M. Slack is commanding officer of the ship.

Colombia's Ex-Dictator Well-Heeled

BOGOTA, Colombia—(UPI)—Former Dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla admitted under direct questioning by a senate prosecutor that his personal fortune was increased by presents accepted from both Colombian and foreign citizens while he was president.

He also admitted that he filed no income tax returns or kept books on a cattle business owned by himself and other members of his family.

The interrogation was conducted by Sen. Carlos Lleras Restrepo, head of the Liberal Party. Rojas Pinilla is being tried by the senate on charges of abuse of power, violation of the constitution and undignified conduct while in office.

The former dictator burst into a rage when told to stand up to answer the questions asked him. He shouted that he should be shown respect as a former president of Colombia. However, he then stood up to answer every time he was questioned.

Under Lleras Restrepo's grilling, Rojas Pinilla contradicted himself several times, hesitated and eluded direct answers to several questions.

Sen. Green Bows Out Of Post

Committee Chief, 91, Lightens Load

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday accepted the resignation of Sen. Theodore F. Green (D., R.I.) as its chairman.

Green, at 91 the oldest member of the Senate, asked to be relieved of his chairmanship because of failing eyesight and hearing.

After a hastily summoned closed meeting of the committee, members said they had unanimously urged Green to reconsider his resignation, but he declined to do so.

A new chairman was not elected at the meeting, but Sen. J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.) is the next ranking Democratic member in seniority and his election is expected to be only a formality.

Fulbright already is chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, but presumably would relinquish that post to head the Foreign Relations Committee.

Fulbright gave reporters a rundown on his views after the Green resignation was announced.

He called on the administration to "get off dead center" in its relations with Russia and Communist China and stuck to his past criticism of the Eisenhower foreign policies as "inadequate, outmoded and misdirected."

Fulbright said the U.S. should offer to negotiate with Russia and China on such issues as West Berlin, Korea, Viet Nam and Formosa.

Green wrote Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas that "while I have the physical stamina to carry on as chairman, I am forced to conclude that it will be a long while before my eyesight has been fully restored and this handicap removed."

The Providence (R.I.) Journal had called editorially Thursday for Green to step down from the chairmanship. The editorial said it believed Green lacked the physical strength and was too old to hold the important post at this time.

Green's letter to Johnson said "as we both well know, my decision to resign is not based upon misleading newspaper articles or slanted editorials by a few callous newspaper writers."

25th Thor Roars Off On Full-Range Test

CAPE CANAVERAL — (AP) — The nation's 25th Thor intermediate range ballistic missile surged up Friday night on the roaring start of another full-range space test.

The powerful Thor — already on operational alert status with NATO forces in England — shot skyward from a cascade of white flame and smoke at 8:53 p.m. The blastoff appeared to run smoothly in contrast with the last shoot Dec. 20 when the 65-foot war rocket blew apart in spectacular style, high in the sky.

The Thor was blinking as it climbed. Once again it was equipped with a huge light capable of generating 17 million candlepower.

As the Douglas weapon reached spaceward huge ballistic tracking cameras stationed at strategic spots along the range zeroed in on the flashing light.

The cameras record the missile's space trip with pinpoint accuracy. The launching was another 1,700 statute mile full-range shot. Thor was designed for this distance but it once traveled as far as 2,600 miles on an earlier test.

North Florida Will Get Cold

A south-bound cold wave will push into North Florida today — but the Gold Coast area won't be hit, the weatherman said Friday.

Rain was also forecast for northernmost Florida.

Everywhere else in Florida, the weatherman said, temperatures will remain in the high 60s to low 80s, with clear skies.

Proud to Be Chosen

2 Pilots Named Space Candidates

FAIRBANKS, Alaska —(AP)— Bewildered but proud, two veteran Air Force test pilots are trying to digest the news that they might soon swap their super-sonic jet planes for a spaceship.

Capt. Bogan

. . . 'hard to believe'

Capt. Bradbury

. . . wife doesn't know

Capt. Tom Bogan, 35, and Capt. William Bradbury, 33, were informed that they had been chosen with 108 other men as candidates for man's first venture to outer space.

Their names were the first to be released after the spaceman program was announced Tuesday by Keith Glennan, U.S. space chief.

"It was pretty hard to believe," Bogan said and Bradbury nodded in agreement.

The two pilots were interviewed by News Director Ken Conner of Radio Station KFRB, who had learned of the men's selection for the space project from an undisclosed news source. Air Force officials confirmed it.

Bogan and Bradbury are on temporary duty at Eielson Air Force Base near here from Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Bogan flies an F106 in subzero temperature tests while Bradbury speed tests an F101B.

Bogan, of Goodland, Ind., and Bradbury, who hails from Houston, Tex., told Conner they have had no special training as yet for the space venture. But both have more than double the required 1,500 flying hours and are within the maximum height of 5 feet 11 inches.

"My six-year-old daughter is just learning to say jet airplane," Bradbury said thoughtfully, "and would not realize what the mission involves."

The two pilots are married but their wives do not yet know of their husbands' candidacy as U.S. spacemen.

UF to Admit Another Negro

GAINESVILLE — (AP) — The University of Florida said Friday it will admit a Negro in-service teacher to the graduate school for the second semester beginning Feb. 9.

University officials declined to disclose the student's name in advance of registration.

The new student will be the second Negro to enter the university, George Starke Jr., 27, of Orlando, son of a Sanford physician enrolled in the college of law Sept. 15.

The University's announcement followed close on a statement by Gov. LeRoy Collins that the 1959 legislature ought to consider closing graduate schools at Florida A&M University at Tallahassee.

Debbie Asks Early Trial

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Debbie Reynolds Friday asked for early trial of her suit for divorce from Eddie Fisher and the date was set as Feb. 17.

Her attorney told the court the two have reached a property settlement, terms undisclosed. He said she wants an early divorce so she can go to Spain at the end of the month to make a movie.

The screen beauty and the crooner split last year over the latter's attentions to Actress Elizabeth Taylor. Eddie and Liz have been frequent companions since.

When Miss Reynolds filed her suit last December she did not mention Miss Taylor. Her charge was cruelty of an unspecified nature. Fisher is not contesting the action.

Titanic's Death Toll Was 1,517

By United Press International

The ramming of an iceberg by a Danish freighter in the North Atlantic Friday was reminiscent of the sinking of the liner Titanic in 1912 — the worst peace-time ship disaster in recent history.

The $7,500,000 Titanic, described by its builders as unsinkable, was on its maiden voyage from England to the U.S. when it struck an iceberg off Newfoundland.

A total of 1,517 persons, including John Jacob Astor and others prominent in business, industry and society, lost their lives. The liner Carpathia, which heard the Titanic's SOS, rescued about 706 persons from the water and from lifeboats.

The same year that the Titanic sank the Japanese steamship Kickermaru went down off the coast of Japan. That disaster killed 1,000 persons.

The collision of the liner Andrea Doria and the Stockholm off Nantucket island on July 25, 1956, was the last major ship disaster in the Atlantic. The Andrea Doria sank with a loss of 50 lives.

Other major ship disasters have included:

Collision of the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Ireland with a Danish collier in the St. Lawrence river in 1914, with a loss of 1,024 lives.

Sinking of the Chinese steamer Hain Yu off the China coast in 1916, with a loss of 1,000 lives.

Sinking of the steamer Hong Kong off the China coast after hitting a rock in 1921, with a loss of 1,200 lives.

Trawler Stands By Helplessly

Rescue Blocked By Raging Seas

By Herald Wire Services

HALIFAX, N.S. — A small Danish ship on her maiden voyage with 130 persons aboard struck an iceberg off Greenland today. She was slowly sinking while a small trawler nearby, thwarted by fog and heavy seas, stood by helpless to aid her.

The stricken ship, the 2,875-ton Hans Hedtoft, was going down about 600 miles from the North Atlantic graveyard of the Titanic, in an uncanny parallel to one of history's great disasters.

"Slowly sinking and need immediate assistance," was the last word from the stricken vessel, the Hans Hedtoft, whose skipper is reputed to be the greatest of all his nation's Arctic navigators.

Reports from Copenhagen said an American Air Force helicopter was hovering above the ship.

The Titanic also was on its maiden voyage when it struck an iceberg on April 14, 1912, with a loss of 1,517 lives. The sinking of the Titanic occurred off the coast of Newfoundland while the ship was en route from Southampton, England, to New York.

The Royal Greenland Trade Department, operator of the Hans Hedtoft, said the 288-foot ship was completed last Dec. 19 and was believed to be making its way back to Copenhagen after several stops in Greenland on its first voyage.

The vessel had made several trial runs previously. It was under the command of P. L. Rasmussen.

The Hans Hedtoft's first call for help was heard at 11:54 a.m. Friday. The ship said it had rammed an iceberg that slashed its hull near the engine room and was "filling fast" with water.

The stricken vessel gave its position as approximately 59.5 degrees north and 43 west, about 37 miles south-southwest of Cape Farewell, Greenland.

The U. S. Air Force ordered its air-sea rescue squadron at Goose Bay to give any help it could. U. S. units at the Keflavik Air Base near Reykjavik, Iceland, also were alerted, and Danish naval forces at Groennedal, Greenland, said they were standing by.

All ports in the vicinity of the crippled ship were reported iced in.

Danish shipbuilders, who pooled their know-how to build the Hedtoft for their government, regarded her as the

Russia 5 Years Ahead On ICBMs, Expert Says

Von Braun Reports To Senate

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Dr. Wernher von Braun said Friday it would take the U.S. five years to overtake Russia in the intercontinental ballistic missile field even if this country decided to go all out.

The German-born rocket expert, head of developmental work at the Army's Ballistic Missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., told Senate investigators he was speaking from a technological standpoint, without reference to numbers of ICBM's.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy testified Thursday that Russia will have more ICBM's in a year or two because this country is not trying to match the Soviet missile for missile. He said neither nation now has an "operational" ICBM.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) said that McElroy was "not correct" when he said Thursday the U.S. would have a squadron of intercontinental ballistic missiles ready for use on the west coast in July.

Symington, a former Air Force secretary, said "there is no plan to have anything like one operational squadron of ICBM's in July of this year."

Von Braun, referring to peaceful space exploration, also said it would take the U.S. a year to overtake Russia in that field even if the Soviets stood still during that time.

Von Braun joined Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the Federal Space Agency, in testifying before the Senate Space-Preparedness Committee that Russia is ahead of the U.S. in space exploration.

Glennan said it was reasonable to assume that Russia's great rocket power had shot the Soviets a year and a half ahead. Like others, he said it is in rocket thrust that the Soviets enjoy an advantage. Glennan said this country is equal in most other fields and is working with wartime speed on rockets.

As for ICBM's, Von Braun said that if Russia continues full speed ahead, it would take the U.S. five years to catch up — provided the U.S. decided on an accelerated program.

Von Braun asked for an additional $140,000,000 alone to speed construction of a cluster of Jupiter rockets. They would be used to hurl a militarily valuable communications satellite into orbit or to send tons of equipment deep into space.

The cluster would have one and a half million pounds of thrust. But according to committee testimony it would not be ready for three years under present planning.

Von Braun agreed with Glennan and two of Glennan's aides — Drs. Homer Stewart and W. H. Pickering — that there is nothing phony about Russis's claim that its "Lunik" rocket shot past the moon and is now orbiting the sun.

Police Say Tout Shot Wrong Man

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Maxim Gay, the crippled tout who pumped three bullets into John Madala, Hialeah Race Course security chief, meant to shoot Madala's brother instead, track authorities disclosed Friday.

The brother, Joseph Madala, is a member of the security force in charge of tip sheet operations.

Gay, an elderly tip sheet peddler, bent with arthritis, told investigators he sought revenge because the track had "taken away my living" by prohibiting sales on the premises.

"Joe was the one that Gay was looking for," revealed Everett Clay, track executive.

Witnesses to the shooting recalled that Gay later told Joseph Madala:

"You are the one I was trying to kill."

Track officials further noted that John Madala was not acquainted with Gay.

John had just finished talking with his brother at the track Thursday when Gay walked up and suddenly fired three .38 caliber slugs into the security director.

Madala's condition was listed as serious Friday at Doctor's Hospital, where doctors are treating him for bullet wounds in the abdomen, left side and left hand.

9 Die as Flames Hit Nursing Home

GLEN ELLYN, Ill. — (UPI) — Uncontrollable fire raged through an old, castle-like nursing home Friday, trapping elderly and crippled patients in their beds and killing at least nine persons.

The last charred body was taken from the ruins of the Glen Ellyn Acres Nursing Home Friday night, after flames swept the second floor of the rambling stucco and frame mansion.

Seven bodies, none identified, were found in the burned-out building. Another man was dead of burns on arrival at a hospital and Assistant Fire Chief Don Stoffregan, 58, suffered a fatal heart attack while manning a fire truck.

Fire Chief James Brody called off the search for more bodies after the discovery of the last victim huddled on the first floor near the chimney.

Ten patients and seven employes of the home were hospitalized with burns and other injuries.

The fire apparently started in the electrical wiring on the second floor of the home, an antique building known as "The Castle" which was believed to be almost 100 years old. Only the walls of the building were left standing. Damage was estimated at $50,000.

Nurses, orderlies and firemen carried the survivors, many of them screaming, from the building as flames leaped 40 feet into the air. Many of the patients were unable to walk. A 200-pound bedfast woman was too heavy to carry and had to be abandoned to the flames.

Firemen and orderlies told how they were unable to save old persons even though they reached their sides. In many cases, the would be rescuers were driven back by flames which licked at the victims' bodies.

safest and most modern of Arctic ships. She was designed to ram her way through the heavy pack ice around Greenland. She had all conceivable navigational and warnings instruments and her lifeboats were said to be the most modern of any merchant vessel afloat.

Search and rescue officers said transferring passengers and crewmen to the 167-foot trawler would be a hazardous operation in rough weather. They said anyone forced into the freezing Atlantic at this time of the year would last "just over 60 seconds."

The Coast Guard said winds were clocked at 35 knots and seas were running high, from 18 to 24 feet, in the vicinity of the battered freighter. Canadian air-sea rescue officers reported snow, fog and rain, and a ceiling of 100 feet. The weather bureau here said no break in the weather could be expected before today.

De Gaulle Renews Plea

PAIRS — (UP) — President Charles de Gaulle renewed Friday night his offer to Algerian rebel leaders to come to France and arrange a cease-fire in the four-year-old war.

". . . The war can lead to nothing but useless miseries. It certainly should end," De Gaulle told a nationwide radio audience.

"When?" he asked. "Why not quickly, in the honorable conditions that I have proposed?"

De Gaulle's reference was to his Oct. 23 offer to rebel leaders to come to France under safe conduct to discuss a cease-fire.

The rebels promptly rejected De Gaulle's offer at that time.

his umpteenth winter, and as enthusiastic about the old town as he always has been. Harold owns the big Lost Lake summer resort in New York state.

When that is locked up for the season he hurries down here and occupies a fisherman's little cottage he bought years ago on a street lined with drying fish nets and boats in various stages of disrepair. The inside is modernized. The outside remains untouched.

Harold is an ardent apostle of the let's-keep-things-simple school of thought, but he has done quite well on the splurge of real estate activities around the town. He did his buying in the years before everyone went crazy.

William M. Stanger, a resident here, is currently waging a one-man and apparently not quite successful campaign against juvenile delinquency. Probably these kids are no worse than the kids in other towns, but Stanger thinks there's a very broad sprinkling of young hellions.

In letters to The Stuart News, the county judge, the sheriff, and the prosecuting attorney, he charged that a house burned to the ground because some young so and so stole the gas out of the Volunteer Fire Department's truck.

With tongue in cheek, he listed a long list of other depredations the kids might try, virtually everything from pulling up young corn to poisoning the well at the orphanage.

Still another new touch here is a small but fine state park and boat-launching site where boats turn in from the main channel. The place bulges with family groups having fun.

O'Conner's Restaurant, whose beef stews we have touted the length of Florida, has been sold and is now the Pendora (it is NOT Pandora). Our local spy says the food is good, and at prices so low they would make a Miami restaurant keeper drop dead.

It's still a nice old town, but progress may get 'em yet.

'Not the End of It,' Say Flunked Students

By PHIL MEYER
Herald Staff Writer

A "mass meeting" of flunked physics students was called Friday at the University of Miami north campus.

Fifteen showed up.

The students, part of the 221 out of 319 who failed freshman physics, huddled under a spreading palm tree in the Anastasia Building courtyard and sympathized with each other.

"This isn't the end of it," said their leader, Oscar (Ozzie) New, who sported blue-tinted spectacles and a day's start toward a rebel-type beard.

"We've paid a total of $16,000 worth of tuition and there's nothing to show for it."

A few of the rebels broke for the shadows as a photographer, summoned by a tip on the mass meeting, appeared on the scene.

"See," said New. "No free speech. Afraid to be seen here."

One student in the group, sort of a non-conformist, admitted he had not flunked like the others. He'd gotten a C.

"I sure wish they would explain to me why I only got a C," he muttered glumly.

The little band tried to lay plans for its next move.

"If only they wouldn't ignore us," said New. "Why doesn't the administration say something?"

Another student had an idea. "Why don't we draw up a list of our grievances and present 'em to somebody," he said.

There were nods of assent.

New, notebook in hand, headed for an empty classroom to work on the list of grievances. A few followed him.

The rest straggled out and strolled across the campus, soaking up the afternoon sun.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

YOUR TOWN CRIER now is in the horse show business. Knowing we need about $300,000 a year to care for sick and crippled indigent children at Variety Children's Hospital, I just can't seem to say "no" when someone wants to help.

BELL

My horse show will be staged by South Miami Riding Club, Feb. 13-14-15. There's a prior show at Dinner Key Feb. 5-8, opening the Sunshine Circuit. The same champions then will shift to the South Miami grounds on Kendall Dr.

The South Miami horsemen want to help the hospital, which is in their sector of Greater Miami. Variety Club officers decided they'd rather not sponsor the show. So I feel honored that Walter Pierce and his South Miami group said "If you'll help us we'll give all the money to the hospital anyway." I will, so they will. I'm a sucker for horse shows anyway.

Now all I need are purchasers of trophies and boxes. The South Miami folks have worked so hard the show expenses are already in the bank. Every cent we take in goes to the hospital. Boxes are $35 for the three days, six chairs each. The parking space behind the box is an extra $5. Trophies are $25 or $50. It's deductible.

Scene Change

The old Everglades Hotel is under transformation into the new Everglades. And a little party Friday evening sort of set up the new idea, even if there were a few echoes from World War II.

The party was for Air Force men, here for the big show opening our new International airport. Col. Benjamin B. Cassiday Jr., deputy commander of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, represented the academy.

Maj. Gen. John W. Persons, commander of the famous 14th Flying Tiger Air Force; Col. Seth McKee, skipper of Homestead Air Force base; pilots of the famous Thunderbird precision flying team; missile wisemen from Cape Canaveral: They were all over the place in their military sartorial splendor.

Y'know, harking back to World War II, the Everglades had a far different military demeanor. It was taken over by the Navy and used as a barracks for enlisted men.

National Summary

Surges of Pacific winds across the Northwestern states have continued to spread moisture for light snow through the northern Rockies and into South Dakota and Nebraska while the build up of cool air over the plateau states has given snow thru eastern Nevada and stormy weather in the mountains of western Utah.

Clearing skies are expected over New England with colder weather from the Plains to the Atlantic and most of the Gulf states. A moist pattern across the southland will spread northward again Saturday offering chance of snow and sleet from Western Tennessee into portions of the lower Ohio Valley.

Snow flurries will be scattered over the Great Lakes and into the Northern and Central Appalachians.

Fair weather should remain in the Southwest with slightly cooler air settling into northern Airzona but in the cold pattern of fair skies over northern portions of the plains and Mississippi Valley temperatures are forecast as low as 35 below zero in Minnesota and North Dakota.

Periods of rainy weather are in view over the northern Pacific states with light rain reaching northern California during the night while showers of rain or snow are likely across the northern plateau region.

Merger Pushed Secretly

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

BUNGE

Melbourne — representatives from the four municipal governments and the rural areas of the beach, from Patrick Air Force Base to Sebastian Inlet, have held one meeting — and plan others—to mull the idea of creating a single large town, reliable sources told this column.

If anything like this should happen, Melbourne Beach, Indialantic, Satellite Beach, Indian Harbour Beach and the rural sections around them would be combined to form a municipality about 25 miles long and a mile wide.

This certainly would make one of the oddest shaped cities in the state, or maybe in the entire nation. The population is estimated to run between 6,000 and 10,000 persons, and property valuations are over 45 million dollars in this area.

THE TALKS on consolidation of the beach areas—interesting the four mayors and other persons — have been kept top secret. And nobody close to the group of negotiators seems to know the leader or leaders in the activity.

South Brevard County people advocating governmental consolidation feel that the beach type of consolidation probably will be the first step to formation of a Metro government. And the final step would be area consolidation.

Despite all the current talk about Metro and area consolidation, South Brevard leaders behind these ideas look for spotty or piece-meal consolidation to come first. Metro is seen as perhaps the next step, and the ultimate goal would be complete area consolidation. These possibilities now are being looked at on a long-range basis.

"If anything like area consolidation was attempted," one person explained, "there would be too much opposition to take on all at one time. So there probably will be so-called area consolidation battling first."

THERE HAS never before been so much harmony at Melbourne City Hall. In past years, things appeared peaceful to the stranger, but there was always that deep little vein of ill-feeling and unrest. Today, there is deep-rooted, genuine harmony.

One of the most important peacemakers is Mayor J. J. (Jeff) Spitznogle, whose thinking is shared by every member of the city commission.

Since this board has been in office — starting in December — there have been joint meetings in good spirits and with the idea in mind to pitch in and get a job done.

The results of this team spirit are starting to show up already. With the present officials in office only a little more than a month, a feasibility study has been turned in on sewer expansion—Melbourne's most pressing problem — and commissioners are starting to turn their sights on the next step.

Results of this team spirit also are showing up in other places, too.

Mixing Bid Is Denied By Judge

By ARTHUR JOHNSEY
Herald Staff Writer

Federal Judge Emett C. Choate turned down the request of a Negro attorney Friday to order the Palm Beach County School Board to begin integration at the Northboro School.

Choate said he will deny the motion of William M. Holland despite a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling in the same case at New Orleans that Florida school boards must make a "prompt and reasonable start to good faith compliance" with the U.S. Supreme Court integration mandate.

The judge said the Supreme Court's ruling since then, upholding Alabama's pupil assignment law—similar to the Florida law, changes the effect of the Court of Appeals decision.

Choate said that before taking final action in the case he would give Williams a chance to decide whether to amend his suit to challenge directly the Florida pupil assignment law, or to contend that Negroes seeking admittance to the school have complied with the law and the School Board has not.

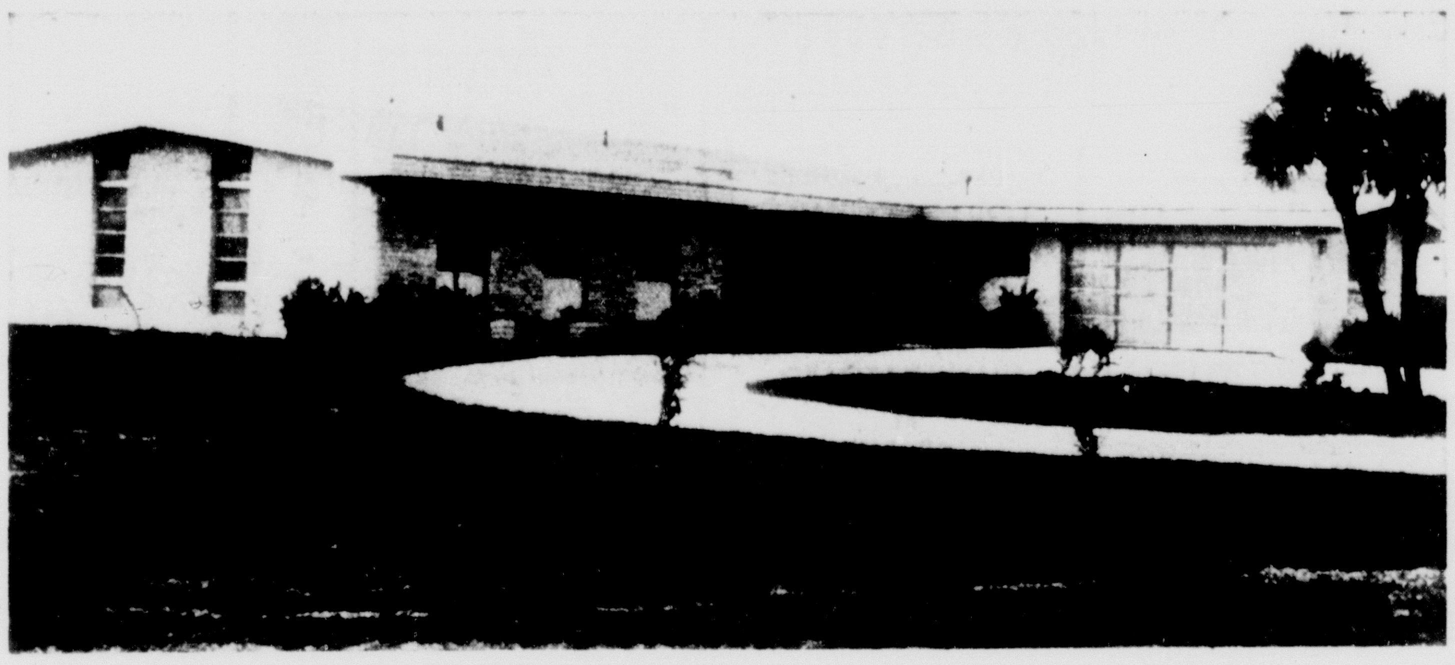
Attractive Duplexes House Most Enlisted Men at Capehart



This Large 2,000-Square-Foot Home Set Aside For Gen. Yates

Capehart Housing Units Credited For 85 Pct. Re-enlistments Rate

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

PATRICK AFB — Over 16 million dollars are being spent here for homes the Air Force thinks of as weapons in the battle for peace.

The nearly-complete 999-home Capehart Project is helping the service hang onto the hand-picked technicians stationed here for missile projects.

Since the first Capehart homes were opened last summer, reenlistments have jumped to 85 per cent from a low of 20 per cent. And Master Sgt. Harold C. Waddell, the reenlistment noncommissioned officer, says most of the increase can be pinned to Capehart.

"The project is solving the enlisted man's housing problem," explains Sgt. Waddell.

"This is the best housing I've ever had," says Technical Sgt. Bob Fry who just moved into the project.

Fry, his wife, three sons and a daughter moved into Capehart from a $90-a-month duplex in Indialantic.

Now they've got a three-bedroom air conditioned home complete with kitchen and laundry equipment.

"I don't have to worry about rent anymore," says Fry. "My housing allowance takes care of everything including the utility bills which were a backbreaker in Indialantic."

The Fry home is only medium sized for Capehart.

There the largest enlisted man's home boasts four bedrooms and would cost $25,000 if offered for private sale, according to Marshall E. Coggins, architectural engineer for the project.

Homes in the project range from a 2,000 square foot house for Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the Air Force Missile Test Center, (only a little bigger than the largest enlisted man's model) to a 908 square foot model which is the smallest enlisted man's type.

All have enclosed garages and the features of the Fry home. They are on completely landscaped lots.

All the homes also have the equivalent of two baths because of a unique arrangement in which two half-baths are connected by a combination tub and shower which can be closed off from the half baths.

Norman M. Giller of Miami Beach produced plans for all the homes under a $160,484 Air Force contract calling for design and supervision.

Florida Builders Inc. constructed the homes under 12 Giller basic plans which have enough exterior variations so no adjacent homes look alike.

The builders are also turning ont parks, recreational areas and a service-operated shopping center which will be part of the project.

Money for the work came from five Florida banks which loaned the funds under 100 per cent FHA guarantees. The Air Force is assuming the mortgages as the homes are completed.

Coggins, a Giller employe, and Maj. Glenn Anderson, Air Force project officer for the development, are seeing to it that all the homes are complete before the Air Force takes them over.

The two won't accept a house until it's got everything — including the hardware needed for drapes.

Situation 'Not Bad' in Martin County

Who Started Canals Feud? Not Us, Says Flood Control Director

By ED PFISTER
WPB Bureau Chief

WEST PALM BEACH — The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control district has been pretty much "an innocent bystander" in a feud it touched off between Martin and St. Lucie counties over plans for three canals.

George E. Dail Jr., executive director of the FCD, said Thursday the situation is nowhere as bad as Martin fork of the St. Lucie and believe it is.

The fued and its causes have been outlined in a series of articles by Herald Staff Writer Steve Trumbull, who said the two counties are tossing verbal barrages at each other.

Cause of the differences is that the FCD plans to have two of three canals it proposes to build empty into the north for of the St. Lucie and only one in St. Lucie County.

Martin thinks it has been put upon because it already has the heavy discharge from the St. Lucie River which it has frequently protested is ruining fishing and other sports in the Stuart area.

It thinks putting the discharge from two more canals into the St. Lucie River in Martin County and permitting St. Lucie County to get away with only one, is adding insult to injury.

But Director Dail thinks Martin may be getting itself all roiled up without too much reason.

He explained, "All the FCD plans to to is turn three waterways that are there right now into proper canals and put control structures in them so the flow of water will actually be controlled.

The main bone of contention at the moment, he said, is canal C-23a, which empties into the north fork of the St. Lucie. Attention has been focused on the canal because the FCD has already called for bids on the work.

Dail said under current FCD plans, the "canalization" of the two waterways emptying into the Martin County area should not cause Martin any additional trouble.

"Actually," he said, "the control structures which will go into the canals will provide a measure of protection because the flow of water into the St. Lucie can be regulated, whereas now there are no controls."

The canals that are causing all the furore include in addition to C-23a, the Belcher Canal in St. Lucie County in the Fort Pierce area, which on the records is known as C-25; and C-24, which also runs into the north fork of the St. Lucie in Martin County.

St. Lucie wants the canals to increase its drainage facilities. Martin County wants no more water pouring out to sea at Stuart.

Dail said "we have heard 'echoes' of the feud between the two counties over the situation but there has been no direct reaction. Largely we have followed it by reading the papers."

He called Trumbull's series of articles "very interesting" and "accurate."

Air Safety Program Is Studied

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — City officials hope to develop a safety program for fast growing Melbourne Airport that will make up for the lack of a Federal Aviation Agency control tower.

City Commissioner E. W. (Bill) Buss, aviation committee head, has been instructed by Mayor J. J. (Jeff) Spitznogle to work with C. A. McAllister, FAA station chief here, on drawing up landing and take-off regulations for aircraft using the local field.

This move follows an appeal made by McAllister to the city about the accident potential there, and the publication of several stories by The Herald which spotlighted the situation.

Melbourne and Patrick Air Force Base ground-to-air control zones nearly touch, and aviation people point out that circling aircaft often accidentally get in each other's zone.

Seventh Victim Is Claimed By Auto Accident

Car Hit Pipeline On Beach

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA BEACH — The seventh — and final — victim of Brevard County's worst auto accident died Friday.

Head injuries brought death to Patrick Costello, Orlando, who had not regained consciousness since the predawn Thursday crash on the ocean beach.

Five Orlando teenagers died instantly in the crash and a sixth died Thursday night.

The five were partially decapitated by an elevated sea water pipeline which sheared off the top of their car when they struck it at an estimated 75 mph at 2:50 a.m. Thursday.

The pipe, which was being used to "jet in" piling for a bulkhead project, crosses the beach at a point where driving is not allowed. It was marked by a red lantern, according to the contractor who installed it.

Just before the crash the death car passed several "no driving" signs.

Instantly killed were John E. Roquemore, 1100 Chichester; James E. Weaver, 209 Concord Ave.; Nickie H. Morgan, 1216 Heron Dr.; Kenneth L. D. Gardiner, 426 Faber Dr., all of Orlando; and Richard C. Knobler, whose address was not determined.

All were 18.

Kenneth Goepper, 19, of 2603 Harrison St., Orlando, died at 10:20 p.m. Thursday in Orange Memorial Hospital.

The death of Costello, 20, of 219 West Princeton St., Orlando, came at 6:20 a.m. Friday at the same hospital.

The death car was owned by Roquemore, but police have been unable to determine who was driving at the time of the crash.

Finish Survey

MELBOURNE — The Melbourne-Eau Gallie Business and Professional Women's Club has completed a survey of traffic signs and signals and street and highway markings in South Brevard County.

The local group was participating in a nationwide survey of the PBW Foundation in cooperation with the National Federation of BPW Clubs.

Assisting Mrs. Ruth McCord, health and safety chairman, were Melbourne City Manager Tevis Huguely, Eau Gallie City Manager Clark Maxwell, Mrs. Tevis Huguely, BPW president, Mrs. Edna Robinson, Mrs. Virginia Lay, Miss Helen Juettner and Miss Ruth Freckleton.

Board Advises

MELBOURNE—The Brevard County zoning Board has advised property owners having homes and buildings constructed to base payment of builders on the condition that the work first must be passed by county inspectors.

R. H. Berg, board chairman, said most sub-contractors work on a 50 per cent payment on "rough-in," and if the builder's work fails to pass county inspection after this fee is paid it is difficult to have corrections made.

Man Held In Theft Of $150

FORT PIERCE — A man identified as Claude S. Cornelius, 23, of Fort Pierce has been charged with grand larceny, after a hot pursuit by a winter visitor.

Cornelius' 16-year-old wife is now in juvenile detention.

Donald Potter, a visitor from Pennsylvania, had parked his car near the ocean. He said he heard a suspicious noise, found his pants and wallet had been removed from the car, and saw a vehicle speeding off.

Potter jumped in his car and began a horn-blowing pursuit. After about a mile, his pants were tossed out of the first car.

Potter investigated, and found his money had been taken from his wallet.

He jumped in his car again, and caught up with the other vehicle just north of town on U.S. 1. This time, he said a young woman handed him the money which was missing from the wallet.

Potter then telephoned the sheriff's department, and the fleeing car was located south of Fort Pierce.

The wallet contained around $150. Potter recovered pants, wallet, and money intact. Chief Deputy Lanie Norvell said Friday night that a grand largency charge is being placed against Cornelius.

Mrs. Batista Goes to N.Y.

DAYTONA BEACH —(UPI) — The wife of ousted Cuban President Fulgencio Batista and a young son have returned to New York City, it was reported Friday.

Mrs. Batista

Ben F. Brass, local attorney for the family, said Mrs. Marta Batista's son Roberto, is to have some dental work completed before the pair returns to the Batista home here.

Mrs. Batista, accompanied by two sons, arrived here last week from New York to visit her young daughter and another son, Fulgencio Jr. The daughter had been ill.

Ways Sought to Aid Superior Students

By THELMA FROSCHER
Herald Correspondent

VERO BEACH — Ways of giving more recognition to superior students are being sought by the Indian River County School Board.

In discussing the Vero Beach High School curriculum with Principal Perkins Marquess, at a special meeting Thursday, the board agreed that at least as much importance should be given the best students as the star athletes.

They agreed also that there is the same need here as in the rest of the United States for an appreciation of free education to be instilled in the students.

New courses added this year include accelerated English and mathematics for senior students.

New courses to be offered in September will include art, not now taught in the local high school. Enough students already have signed up for three classes, Marquess said.

A new health course will be added in September to the seventh and eighth grade curriculum.

The principal told the board that one of his greatest difficulties is in stabilizing the curriculum with a constantly changing faculty. This he attributed to the inadequacy of teachers' salaries.

The board dismissed Se[illegible]n Cobb, a Negro school bus dri[illegible] who was involved in an accident last week in which two persons were injured.

DeMille's Last Movie Advice: 'Dirt Not Always Pay Dirt'

Nightlife with George Bourke

DURING the past 18 months Joseph Laitin taped interviews with the greats of the film industry and is broadcasting the edited result over KNX radio in Hollywood this current weekend under the title of "The Changing Face of Hollywood." Some of the quotes are extremely interesting but none is more pertinent than the posthumous caution of Cecil B. DeMille who said: "Our greatest danger from within the industry is worship of the golden calf. Dirt is not necessarily pay dirt."

And exhibitions won't cheer Jane Russell's contribution to the forum: "If I could sit and see a good picture at home I would never go out," she is quoted out of context as saying. Always the kitchen cynic, Shelley Winters commented that: "The trouble (with the star system) is the way it's set up now, you become a star and then get enough money to study acting."

Treniers Join Variety Show

THE TRENIERS, one of the big hits of last year's Variety Show of Shows benefit at the Miami Beach Auditorium have agreed to try a repeat this year. They'll take time out from their chores at the Riot Room on the night of Feb. 5 to join Bob Hope in raising funds for the Variety Children's Hospital. Tickets are available at the auditorium or at the Variety Club, Miami Colonial Hotel for from $2.50 to $20 . . .

Claire Kelly, former wife of George DeWitt is under pressure from actor Perry Lopez to "Name That Time." For the wedding bells, that is . . . Roger Vadim, who discovered Brigitte Bardot, is hoping lightning will strike twice—he has a 15-year-old protege named Gillian Hills who is expected to make Bardot look like a plateau.

Brave fellow is Claude Chabrol, a French film-critic. He's turned producer! . . . Emerson Buckley, bearded musical conductor, is at the Algiers. Stay away from Havana, E.B., or they'll pin a 26th of July armband on you. Incidentally, Fidel Castro's $250-a-day suite at the Havana-Hilton is on the 23rd floor, three shy of the 26th.

Gale One of Greats of the Day

Claude Trenier
. . . benefit

Barbara McNair
. . . talent

Ferde Grofe, Sr.
. . . Disneyed

BETTER HURRY around to Ciro's to grab a look and a laugh at comedian Alan Gale. Alan is considering a stab at serious theater and if you know Alan's determination you know that the "stab" will be a successful operation. So enjoy him while you can without taking a trip to the Broadway theater belt. Gale is truly one of the great cafe performers of our time. Although he always has an act or three on his bills, just for variety, he is as much the one-man show as is Victor Borge, or Red Skelton. He dominates any room he is in with his alternating sallies of wisdom and wit.

Sid Kuller and company have been working overtime making adjustments on Copa City's "Jump for Joy," which, in its opening night version, was joyful but didn't have the "jump" you'd expect of a show boasting of the talents of Duke Ellington, Barbara McNair, Timmie Rodgers, Stump and Stumpy and other Negro show personalities.

One of the additions has been a frenzied production number featuring the primitive rhythms of song and dance which were the mainstay of every successful colored revue that ever hit the boards of theater or cafe.

Lend-a-Hand Tickets on Sale

ADD TITLE CHANGES: The SIM to DIER. SIM was the Military Intelligence Service of the Batista regime. DIER, its successor (accent on the first three letters?) is Department of Investigation of Revolutionary Army.

Producer Rex Carlton—didn't he make a movie here once with Lili St. Cyr? — is producing "Witchcraft." with Linda Christian and Robert Alda . . . And Ferde Grofe, Jr., and Buddy Rogers are making one called "The Sea Witch." Sounds like Halloween around the corner.

Incidentally, Ferde Grofe, Sr., will be represented on the preview premiere bill with "Sleeping Beauty" for the benefit of Lend-a-Hand on Feb. 10 at the Sheridan Theater. His Grand Canyon Suite has been translated into pictorial terms and made into a featurette by Walt Disney.

Some of the Grofe arrangement was used in "Fantasia," which Disney made more than 10 years ago and which pioneered with stereophonic processes just coming into use.

Tickets for the Lend-a-Hand benefit showing of the $6,000,000 wide-screen film may be had at the Sheridan and Florida Theaters or at The Miami Herald.

Governor OKs Printing Probe

Criticizes Present System

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. LeRoy Collins Friday gave his blessing to a legislative investigation of state printing practices and at the same time announced he intends to renew his efforts in the next Legislature for a broad central purchasing system.

The governor said that in both 1955 and 1957 he had recommended the creation of a broad purchasing procedure including printing, but that there was not enough support in the Legislature to get his program adopted.

The governor said that he does not approve of the present system which sets up a state purchasing commission, composed of the state Cabinet.

He will again recommend the creation of a commission composed of the state budget director as chairman, and two other members appointed by the governor, one upon recommendation of the Cabinet and one upon recommendation of the Legislative council.

Collins said that during his administration, he has attempted to make sure that bidding on all purchases, including printing, by agencies directly under his supervision are made by open competitive bidding.

The governor said that until 1957, state printing was regulated by a law which had been on the books since 1887. The law now provides that state printing must be done by Florida firms and subject to competitive bids.

State Rep. John E. Mathews Jr. of Jacksonville has announced that he will ask the 1959 Legislature to make a thorough study of printing practices by all state agencies and call for putting printing under a central purchasing system.

Collins said, "I have no feeling of opposition to that of any kind. I welcome such, especially if the committee is to be chairmaned by Rep. Mathews. But I hope it gets under way soon rather than be postponed until the Legislature convenes."

Collins said the six agencies under his direct supervision when he assumed office were the State Road Department, Industrial Commission, Hotel and Restaurant Commission, Motor Vehicle Bureau, Beverage Department and Department of Water Conservation.

Since then, the Development Commission has been added as a part of the governor's "little Cabinet."

The governor said he has asked each agency for a full report on their printing practices and that if any loose, careless or improper practices are detected, he will call for an immediate tightening of procedure under existing printing laws.

The governor said, however, that he was pleased to find that since 1951, the Motor Vehicle Bureau's costs for its biggest printing job dropped from $16 per thousand to $6.91 when the printing of vehicle registration cards was let on wide open bidding.

Prior to the time Collins took office in 1955, this job was given to the Rose Printing Co., just across the street from the state Capitol. The price ranged from $13 to $16 per thousand.

Collins said that since he took office, the low bidder had been in each case an out-of-town firm.

The governor also pointed out that with the exception of the Development Commission, which was not in existence in 1953, the other six agencies under his direct control have spent less money on printing, but have purchased 50 per cent more in quantity.

Collins was asked about the report of Charles Boogher, promotion director for the Development Commission, who said that on one occasion the representative of one firm brought along the bids of two of his competitors.

Collins said, "That doesn't sound like a very sound bid procedure."

Brother And Sister Reunited

JACKSONVILLE BEACH — (UPI) — It took a long time, but Miss Mary M. Baxley and her brother have reunited after a 30-year separation.

Miss Baxley and Phillip Baxley had not seen each other since 1928 when they lost their parents in Robeson County, N.C.

They were reared by different families in North Carolina but never saw each other during that period.

Miss Baxley came to Florida in 1942 and saved enough money to launch a search for the brother. With the help of a county welfare physician and nurse, Phillip was found in Lumberton, N.C.

First two of three submarines docking at Port Everglades for the weekend are berthed at Pier 4, just south of the SE 17th St. Causeway. They're the Cutlass, left, and Grampus. The Sirago arrived later. They'll be open to the public from 1 to 4 p.m. today and Sunday. Each carries about 90 men.

Plane Crash Kills Two UF Students

GAINESVILLE —(UPI)— The bodies of two University of Florida students who had been missing in their small private plane were found three miles west of Gainesville Friday afternoon.

The Federal Aviation Agency here said the bodies were found in the wreckage of their plane just one and one-half miles southwest of Stengel Field where they took off Thursday afternoon.

Richard Parker, 19, of Lake Alfred, and Phillip Gould, 22, Winter Haven, left a small air field near Gainesville about 1 p.m. Thursday headed for New Orleans for the weekend.

The Civil Air Patrol at Pensacola, where the Cessna 140 was to refuel, said the small yellow craft never landed, prompting a wide-spread search for the pair.

Heavy fog, which probably was a factor in the disappearance, hampered the four-state air search for several hours.

A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said the scheduled aerial hunt did not get started until afternoon. Earlier, ground parties were dispatched at all airports in an area between Gainesville and New Orleans.

Parker, son of J. H. Parker, a citrus grove caretaker, filed a flight plan by telephone from Stengle Field to the CAA in this city, some 40 miles to the west.

Beasley: Florida To Hold Race Line

TALLAHASSEE —(UPI)— House Speaker-Designate Thomas D. Beasley said Friday there is "no chance" the Legislature will seriously consider closing down graduate schools at the state Negro university.

"The people of Florida are willing to pay whatever is necessary to maintain segregation," Beasley declared.

The House leader, an outspoken segregationist from Walton County, expressed surprise that Gov. LeRoy Collins would suggest the Legislature consider closing schools at A&M University to save money.

"That would be giving in to pressure being put on the south to force integration," he declared. He said it also would be unfair to Negroes "because many of them are getting an education at A&M University they otherwise would not get.

Collins told the Budget Commission Thursday that the graduate program at the Negro university should be reappraised in the light of Florida's financial plight as well as the racial situation.

He asked for exact figures on student costs, but said he understood that six attorneys were graduated from the A&M Law School at a cost of $60,000 per student.

A&M President George Gore said, however, that the school had graduated 11 attorneys since it opened in 1950. He said he did not have exact per student costs, but believed it currently is running about $13,000 per student.

Beasley said abolishment of A&M graduate schools "would create a bad situation."

"I want to see segregation in all phases of education, elementary, junior high, high school, university and graduate level," he said.

Beasley said he saw no particular significance in the fact that one Negro enrolled without incident in the previously all-white University of Florida Law School last fall.

"One got in all right, but if we make it a wholesale proposition, it would be a horse of a different color," he said.

Collins and Budget Director Harry Smith referred to graduate schools at A&M in law, pharmacy, education and agriculture. But Gore said pharmacy and agriculture courses are under-graduate programs.

James Love of Quincy, chairman of the Board of Control of the university system, said his board does not plan to make any recommendation for or against closing the graduate schools.

"We will simply get the cost figures and present them to the Legislature with no recommendation," Love said.

New Trial Bid Eyed By King

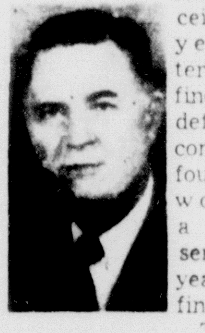
BARTOW —(P)— Harry E. King plans to seek a new trial on his conviction of conspiracy, one of several charges stemming from the former state senator's $10,000 payoff to a political opponent in 1956.

The stocky, greying Winter Haven lawyer said following the criminal court jury's verdict Thursday night:

"We're going to ask for a new trial. If we don't get it, we will go to the higher courts on appeal."

Although convicted on two counts of conspiracy to commit perjury, the verdict was a big victory for King. The jury acquitted him on two counts of subornation of perjury, much more serious charges.

Judge Roy Amidon withheld sentencing pending an appeal.



KING

King could receive a two-year prison term and $1,000 fine. Had the defendant been convicted on all four counts, he would have a maximum sentence of 42 years and $1,000 fine.

The jury's verdict carried a recommendation of mercy, which carries no mandatory action in this case.

Rose Firm Employs State Man

TALLAHASSEE — A state employe confirmed Friday that he holds down a part-time job for Rose Printing Co. — located just across the street from the state capitol — and which gets the bulk of the state's business.

Howard Friedman, information specialist for the Department of Education, said he is paid $100 a month for doing editorial work for the Rose firm but he said he performs those duties on his own time.

Friedman, who edits publications for the education department, said he has nothing to do with handling the department's printing. That, he said, is under supervision of Pat Chapman, an administrative assistant in the department.

Friedman said he had been a friend of Charles Rosenberg, president of the Rose Printing Co. since moving to Tallahassee 12 years ago and "I have nothing to hide. I do the work on my own time. I consider myself a career employe of the education department.

Gov. LeRoy Collins said he had no knowledge that any state employe is on the payroll of a printing firm doing business with the state.

"Generally it would not be good public policy if that were true. But I think it would depend on the integrity and character of the individual," Collins said.

A legislative investigation of state printing practices has been called for by State Rep. John Mathews and has been endorsed by Collins.

News stories two years ago identified Friedman as being active behind the scenes to assist Rosenberg in lobbying against the bill.

Friedman said such was not the case and his activity in the Legislature related only to matters of direct interest to the education department.

State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey said he knew that Friedman was helping Rosenberg, but he did not know if he were working for him as a personal favor or getting paid for it until Friedman recently told him he received $100 a month.

Bailey said "as far as I know this has not affected his working relationship in my office. As long as it does not do this, I am not too concerned."

Friedman receives $7,800 a year from the Department of Education and $110 a month for part-time work he does for State Comptroller Ray Green.

Group Asks Combine City-County Facilities

By ANNE WILDER
Herald Correspondent

FORT PIERCE — A new suggestion for St. Lucie County court house and jail expansion was proposed Thursday night by the Indian River Drive Association, when they asked the county to consider combining the county court house and jail with the city jail and city hall.

A capacity meeting approved the motion to make this recommendation to the County Commission.

The St. Lucie County Comsion is now working on plans to enlarge the present court house on South Second Street and erect a new jail, with the cost running up over a million dollars. Indian River Drive residents, at the meeting, pointed out that the city owns ample land for enlarging its jail; and that land is also available on North Seventh Street for both city and county administration offices.

The association recommendation made this week refers only to combining office buildings, not combining city and county functions.

At present the city is remodeling its city hall on Avenue A, and when this is done, the building will be enlarged as much as is possible on the site. Eventual city plans aim for concentration of the city administration on North 7th Street, along with the police and fire stations now there. The city owns a large city lot on 7th Street.

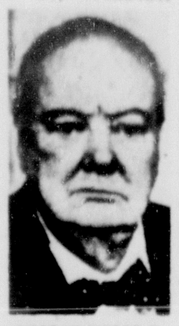
They'll Hang Winnie—His Art, That Is

LONDON —(AP)— Sir Winston Churchill now has reached the top in British art, the Conservative top, that is.



CHURCHILL

Sir Winston will have a one-man show at the Royal Academy of Art. 50 canvases on exhibit during the first two weeks in March. Many of the paintings have been on tour in the U.S., Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Only four other living artists have had one-man exhibitions at the famous gallery on Piccadilly — Augustus John, Sir Gerald Kelly, Sir Alfred Munnings and Leslie Brangyne. The Royal Academy is known for its conservative standards, and so is Sir Winston's painting.

Two Mothers With a Bond of Sorrow and Joy

Mrs. Tavarez

Mrs. Chionchio

NEW YORK —(AP)— Two mothers — with the common bond of deep sorrow and then great joy — met for the first time. They are Mrs. Frances Chionchio and Mrs. Jose Tavarez.

Lisa Rose Chionchio, kidnaped Jan. 2 from St. Peter's Hospital, and John Tavarez, stolen three weeks later from the family apartment, were born only three days apart. Lisa Rose is home with her parents. Johnny is being treated at Roosevelt Hospital for a slight cold.

Mrs. Tavarez was taken to the Brooklyn home of Mrs. Chionchio, where both women embraced and beamed at one another.

"What a beautiful little girl," Mrs. Tavarez exclaimed in Spanish, pointing at Lisa Rose.

The women told each other how they had prayed that their respective babies would be restored to their homes.

Actress Hepburn Hurts a Little

Audrey and Horse
. . . before the spill

DURANGO, Mexico —(AP)— "I only hurt when I laugh," Audrey Hepburn told visitors, "so don't say anything funny."

X-rays indicate the 29-year-old actress suffered two fractured vertebrae Wednesday when she was thrown from a horse during filming of the Western "Unforgiven." Shooting of the movie was suspended for at least two weeks.

Miss Hepburn was being kept immobile in bed at the home she rented here.

Miss Hepburn was galloping an Arabian stallion along a river bank 16 miles from Durango when camera trouble developed. Someone yelled "cut!" The horse stopped abruptly and she was pitched over its head.

His Slap Puts End to Romance

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. —(AP)— A roughhouse scene that wasn't in any script seems to have broken up the engagement of Comedienne Joan Davis and her fiance.

JOAN

Miss Davis, 46, had Real Estate Agent Harvey Stock, 35, arrested on a misdemeanor complaint charging assault and battery. She protested that a slap he gave her was much too hard to be called a love tap.

At her Palm Springs home, Miss Davis was asked if they are still engaged.

"It doesn't look that way, does it?" she replied sadly.

Bond or Jail, So He Settles

MELBOURNE, Australia —(AP)— Ave Gardner's visiting Italian boy friend got out of a troublesome lawsuit by agreeing to go ahead with a show in Melbourne Stadium Feb. 7.

Italian Movie Star Walter Chiari came to Australia 12 days ago to see Miss Gardner, who is making a movie. He agreed to star in the show, then remembered a TV commitment in Rome.

Chiari said he would come back in a month to do the Melbourne show. But the sponsors demanded and got a court order requiring Chiari to post 1,000 pounds ($2,240) bond or go to jail.

Several hours before he was due to catch a Rome-bound plane, Chiari reached an out-of-court agreement. He decided his TV commitments in Italy could wait until Feb. 13.

Thrill Killer Hospitalized

HOUSTON, Tex. —(AP)— Diana Daye Humphries, 16, who killed her brother because nothing exciting happened around their home was sent to a state hospital at Austin for an indefinite period.

The commitment order wasn't contested. Robert D. Humphries Jr., 14, was shot to death Sept. 10.

"I was bored," Diana said in a signed statement to officers. "All we do is eat, sleep and watch TV."

Naples Notes

Extension Of Water Is Legal

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

Despite indications Wednesday that it would be illegal for the City of Naples to extend its water system into East Naples, the city has the right to do so.

MORGAN

The charter on Page 11, Item 38, says the city may "purchase, own, construct, lease, rent, operate, establish, maintain and regulate . . . waterworks, wells of water . . . all of which may be acquired by purchase, lease, gift or by exercise of the right of eminent domain . . . alone or in conjunction with Collier County . . . and such property may be either within or without the limits of the city."

It is not clear but it seems unlikely present water revenue certificates would limit such an extension. Certainly it seems more logical for the city, with an operating, equipped and trained water department, to handle such an extension to Shadowlawn School than it would be for the County or School Boards to set up duplicate departments.

Cut-Rate

CITY HALL must now be assuming the charter will be changed. Copies of the old 1949 charter, lacking several important amendments made in the past 10 years, are on cut-rate sale at 50 cents.

The "auditing recommendations" by Morgan, Altemus and Barrs are due and should help the rewriting job considerably. The general revision has been under discussion over a year.

Wards in Works

PLANS ARE being considered by several groups to have a ward system in the City of Naples. However, the organization this week of a Lake Park neighborhood group has no connection with the ward proposal says Harry W. Clouser, temporary chairman.

The Lake Park group is for neighborhood betterment, "not political purposes," says Clouser.

However, other groups with political ideas in both "project" areas and along the Gold Coast, are taking up the ward proposal as an incentive to provide better representation.

'Fatted' Palms

WHEN THE Tamiami Trail is widened from Central Ave. north, the royal palms will be taken out and sold. Manager Fred Lowdermilk explained at a recent Council meeting that he is already fattening up the 880 trees along the route with extra fertilizer so they'll bring the city the best possible price.

Charge Filed In Marathon Shooting

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — Warren L. Adams, 38, Marathon Negro, was charged Friday with first degree murder in the shooting of Myrtle Ingraham, 34, the legal wife of a Miami colored man.

Peace Justice Roy Hamlin issued the murder warrant against Adams late Friday afternoon. The woman died Thursday in Monroe General Hospital.

Adams is being held in the Monroe County jail without bond pending a coroner's inquest the week of Feb. 9 in Hamlin's court.

Adams was arrested the night of Jan. 24 after neighbors reported the shooting in his home at the Marathon Carver Apartments.

'The Traitor' Casts Real-Life Navy People in Spy Play

When Casting Calls For Navy Types, Key West Players Have It Made

By HARRY CAICEDO
Key West Bureau Chief

KEY WEST — When it comes to casting a play loaded with Navy characters, the Key West Players have no problem at all.

The source of amateur actors among the Navy's large installation here appears inexhaustible — as illustrated by the Players' current production of Herman Wouk's "The Traitor."

The play, a story about espionage and Naval intelligence, calls for a cast of 13, half of them portraying roles as Navy people.

Every one of these parts is filled by a Naval officer or enlisted man stationed here.

Capt. Gallagher, head of an intelligence team, is played by W. D. Michael, a real-life Navy skipper of the USS Gilmore. His assistant in the play is Lt. John Henderson, who offstage is Lt. John MacKenzie of Submarine Squadron 12.

Retired Chief Bill Dickerson is a chief in the play and Hospital Corpsman Edwin Ek is called upon to go through the motions of emergency treatment on stage just as he would in reality.

In fact, of the entire cast, there is only one player who isn't Navy connected in some way.

"It's like being captain of a ship," says Director Emily Goddard, wife of a retired Navy commander. "I give the orders and everyone follows them beautifully."

"The Traitor" is the 64th production in 19 seasons of the Key West Players, which, incidentally, isn't a Navy group. The play opens Monday at the Little Barn Theatre for a week's run.

Mixing Bid Is Denied By Judge

By ARTHUR JOHNSEY
Herald Staff Writer

Federal Judge Emett C. Choate turned down the request of a Negro attorney Friday to order the Palm Beach County School Board to begin integration at the Northboro School.

Choate said he will deny the motion of William M. Holland despite a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling in the same case at New Orleans that Florida school boards must make a "prompt and reasonable start to good faith compliance" with the U.S. Supreme Court integration mandate.

The judge said the Supreme Court's ruling since then, upholding Alabama's pupil assignment law—similar to the Florida law, changes the effect of the Court of Appeals decision.

Choate said that before taking final action in the case he would give Williams a chance to decide whether to amend his suit to challenge directly the Florida pupil assignment law, or to contend that Negroes seeking admittance to the school have complied with the law and the School Board has not.

Williams filed the suit seeking to have his eight-year-old son admitted to the Northboro School.

The New Orleans court ruled in September that responsibility to see that no child is deprived of his rights rests with school boards, and that it is up to district courts to require "good faith compliance" with the desegregation mandate of the Supreme Court.

The ruling reversed an earlier decision in the case by Choate.

At the Friday hearing, Williams sought to have Choate order integration at the Northboro school on the basis of the New Orleans decision.

Seventh Victim Is Claimed By Auto Accident

Car Hit Pipeline On Beach

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA BEACH — The seventh — and final — victim of Brevard County's worst auto accident died Friday.

Head injuries brought death to Patrick Costello, Orlando, who had not regained consciousness since the predawn Thursday crash on the ocean beach.

Five Orlando teenagers died instantly in the crash and a sixth died Thursday night.

The five were partially decapitated by an elevated sea water pipeline which sheared off the top of their car when they struck it at an estimated 75 mph at 2:50 a.m. Thursday.

The pipe, which was being used to "jet in" piling for a bulkhead project, crosses the beach at a point where driving is not allowed. It was marked by a red lantern, according to the contractor who installed it.

Just before the crash the death car passed several "no driving" signs.

Instantly killed were John E. Roquemore, 1100 Chichester; James E. Weaver, 209 Concord Ave.; Nickie H. Morgan, 1216 Heron Dr.; Kenneth L. D. Gardiner, 426 Faber Dr., all of Orlando; and Richard C. Knobler, whose address was not determined.

All were 18.

Kenneth Goepper, 19, of 2603 Harrison St., Orlando, died at 10:20 p.m. Thursday in Orange Memorial Hospital.

The death of Costello, 20, of 219 West Princeton St., Orlando, came at 6:20 a.m. Friday at the same hospital.

The death car was owned by Roquemore, but police have been unable to determine who was driving at the time of the crash.

Islamorada Accountant Free on Bail

Herald Bureau

ISLAMORADA — An accountant charged with passing $10,500 worth of bad checks in this Upper Keys community where he made his home, was given a chance Friday to settle the complaints against him.

Peace Justice George Rawlins cut the bond required from C. Charles Smith, 36, from $19,000 to $1,000. Local residents posted the bond after appeals from Smith's friends brought agreement among the six business people who complained that they cashed the worthless checks.

Rawlins said that Marie Dressing, local real estate broker, had been named administrator to take bids on Smith's house and if the complainants agreed, to sell it and use the money to settle their claims.

The complainants apparently intend to withdraw charges if the debts are satisfied, Rawlins said. If not, the hearing will continue and Rawlins will either dismiss charges or turn Smith over to a higher court for trial.

Rawlins said that Smith's attorney entered a plea of not guilty at the hearing Friday. Smith, who has made his home in Islamorada with his wife and two children and kept books for several local businesses for some time, offered no explanation about the charges.

The case came to light Tuesday when Ernest Poucher a Supermarket operator, and George and Irene Pinder, complained that Smith's checks, drawn on the Coral Gables First National Bank, had bounced, Rawlins said.

By Friday afternoon, he added, four other local businesses had entered similar complaints.

Gallahue Denies 'Deadline' Report

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES — A hot denial was made Friday from Indianapolis by Dudley Gallahue that he had set any deadline on his offer to provide a branch courthouse for Collier County.

Rumors of an ultimatum by Gallahue were widely circulated in Naples Friday afternoon. A special meeting of the county commission Monday at 2 p.m. will consider Gallahue's proposed courthouse lease.

"There is no deadline," said Gallahue. "They can take six months if they have to. This is malicious and unfair. There is no time limit," he told the Herald Bureau by telephone from Indianapolis.

Gallahue has offered a site in the center of Naples and offered to build a $65,000 branch courthouse on it. The cost would be recovered in rent over a ten-year period.

The lease calling for the 10-year agreement and a 10-year option renewal will be considered Monday.

A counter-offer for 20 acres on the Naples-Imokalee road had been made by B. W. Morris Jr.

Islands to Get Microwave Calls

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — Micro-wave transmission of telephone calls to Marco Island and the Isles of Capri will be begun within a few days by the Inter-County Telephone System.

Manager Carl Holbrook said Thursday that a reflector has already been installed on the firm's Naples tower to handle calls beamed from an 85 foot tower on Marco.

Jailed Man Says Home In Naples

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — Collier County law enforcement officers said Friday they have no record of an Edward E. Lynn, 31, who gave Naples as his home when arrested in connection with a $15,000 jewelry theft at Blytheville, Ark. He is not listed in local directories.

Lynn was arrested in Morgantown, Ky., and held for Arkansas authorities. Kentucky State Police said his arrest in Morgantown on a storehouse breaking charge may clear up a series of robberies in four states.

He was picked up on charges of stealing several shotguns from a Morgantown hardware store recently.

Police said Lynn had been staying in a Hopkinsville, Ky., motel and pawning jewelry and other items to obtain funds. Recovered jewelry reportedly stolen in Arkansas was valued at $10,000.

The Butler County, Ky., Sheriff's Office said Lynn also has been charged in a federal warrant with automobile theft and interstate transportation of a stolen automobile.

FLORIDA ESCAPEE grins broadly for his mother at Toronto, where he awaits a decision on whether he must return to Florida to face escape charges. Kenneth William Brymer, 20, of Toronto, swam an alligator-infested swamp in 1957, fleeing a road gang at Raiford. He had served two years of a 20-year breaking and entering sentence. He was rearrested Tuesday in Toronto after serving two years in a penitentiary there for breaking and entering and auto theft.

Shoplifting Charged

3 Women Tourists Booked at City Jail

FORT LAUDERDALE —(UPI)— Judge John Douglass extended Friday a one-week vacation for three Minnesota women to 38 days in the city jail and fined each $100 on charges of shoplifting.

While their husbands went fishing Thursday, Mrs. Myrtle Cecka, 47, and Mrs. Hattie Lund, 42, both of Austin, Minn., and Mrs. Lillian Marie Tongen, 46, Zumbrota, Minn., went shopping.

The trouble was, the women failed to pay for a total of $79.84 worth of goods they took from a downtown clothing store, police testified.

Husbands of the three women protested they would lose their jobs if they failed to return home at the end of the week.

Judge Douglass told the men they could go back to Minnesota but would have to leave their wives behind to serve their sentences.

DeMille's Last Movie Advice: 'Dirt Not Always Pay Dirt'

Nightlife with George Bourke

DURING the past 18 months Joseph Laitin taped interviews with the greats of the film industry and is broadcasting the edited result over KNX radio in Hollywood this current weekend under the title of "The Changing Face of Hollywood." Some of the quotes are extremely interesting but none is more pertinent than the posthumous caution of Cecil B. DeMille who said: "Our greatest danger from within the industry is worship of the golden calf. Dirt is not necessarily pay dirt."

And exhibitions won't cheer Jane Russell's contribution to the forum: "If I could sit and see a good picture at home I would never go out," she is quoted out of context as saying. Always the kitchen cynic, Shelley Winters commented that: "The trouble (with the star system) is the way it's set up now, you become a star and then get enough money to study acting."

Treniers Join Variety Show

THE TRENIERS, one of the big hits of last year's Variety Show of Shows benefit at the Miami Beach Auditorium have agreed to try a repeat this year. They'll take time out from their chores at the Riot Room on the night of Feb. 5 to join Bob Hope in raising funds for the Variety Children's Hospital. Tickets are available at the auditorium or at the Variety Club, Miami Colonial Hotel for from $2.50 to $20 . . .

Claire Kelly, former wife of George DeWitt is under pressure from actor Perry Lopez to "Name That Time." For the wedding bells, that is . . . Roger Vadim, who discovered Brigitte Bardot, is hoping lightning will strike twice—he has a 15-year-old protege named Gillian Hills who is expected to make Bardot look like a plateau.

Brave fellow is Claude Chabrol, a French film-critic. He's turned producer! . . . Emerson Buckley, bearded musical conductor, is at the Algiers. Stay away from Havana, E.B., or they'll pin a 26th of July armband on you. Incidentally, Fidel Castro's $250-a-day suite at the Havana-Hilton is on the 23rd floor, three shy of the 26th.

Gale One of Greats of the Day

BETTER HURRY around to Ciro's to grab a look and a laugh at comedian Alan Gale. Alan is considering a stab at serious theater and if you know Alan's determination you know that the "stab" will be a successful operation. So enjoy him while you can without taking a trip to the Broadway theater belt. Gale is truly one of the great cafe performers of our time. Although he always has an act or three on his bills, just for variety, he is as much the one-man show as is Victor Borge, or Red Skelton. He dominates any room he is in with his alternating sallies of wisdom and wit.

Sid Kuller and company have been working overtime making adjustments on Copa City's "Jump for Joy," which, in its opening night version, was joyful but didn't have the "jump" you'd expect of a show boasting of the talents of Duke Ellington, Barbara McNair, Timmie Rodgers, Stump and Stumpy and other Negro show personalities.

One of the additions has been a frenzied production number featuring the primitive rhythms of song and dance which were the mainstay of every successful colored revue that ever hit the boards of theater or cafe.

Lend-a-Hand Tickets on Sale

ADD TITLE CHANGES: The SIM to DIER. SIM was the Military Intelligence Service of the Batista regime. DIER, its successor (accent on the first three letters?) is Department of Investigation of Revolutionary Army.

Producer Rex Carlton—didn't he make a movie here once with Lili St. Cyr? — is producing "Witchcraft." with Linda Christian and Robert Alda . . . And Ferde Grofe, Jr., and Buddy Rogers are making one called "The Sea Witch." Sounds like Halloween around the corner.

Incidentally, Ferde Grofe, Sr., will be represented on the preview premiere bill with "Sleeping Beauty" for the benefit of Lend-a-Hand on Feb. 10 at the Sheridan Theater. His Grand Canyon Suite has been translated into pictorial terms and made into a featurette by Walt Disney.

Some of the Grofe arrangement was used in "Fantasia," which Disney made more than 10 years ago and which pioneered with stereophonic processes just coming into use.

Tickets for the Lend-a-Hand benefit showing of the $6,000,000 wide-screen film may be had at the Sheridan and Florida Theaters or at The Miami Herald.

Cuba Cuts Off Civil Liberties

Move Designed To Speed Trials

HAVANA, Cuba — (UPI) — The Cuban government suspended three articles of the constitution for 90 days Friday to give revolutionary tribunals sweeping jurisdiction over "war criminals" and to speed trials.

The action will let revolutionary authorities arrest and hold suspects for more than 72 hours without producing them in court and will permit the tribunals to try civilian as well as military defendants.

The trials were scheduled to be resumed in Havana's Cabana fortress and nearby Camp Columbia on an accelerated basis. Foremost defendent was "war criminal No. 3," Lt. Col. Ricardo L. Grao.

Simultaneously, the supreme military tribunal was summoned to hear appeals of the top two "war criminals," Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco and Maj. Pedro Morejon Valdes.

Informed sources predicted the appeals would be rejected and the two men would be shot at dawn.

Firing squads Friday executed one soldier and four members of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer's private army in Manzanillo. They were convicted of being "war assassins."

The council of ministers moved to legalize gambling again in the same session in which it suspended the constitutional guarantees.

Meeting until nearly dawn—much of Cuba's official business is conducted at night to escape the daytime heat — the ministers designated a high-level three-man commission to draft a new gambling law.

Revolutionary Leader Fidel Castro has said that if the casinos were reopened, "respectable businessmen" would have to operate them, no Cubans could gamble in them and the government would get 50 to 70 per cent of the take.

This appeared to mean the old Las Vegas crowd that operated the casinos under President Fulgencio Batista was out.

Castro and President Manuel Urrutia had opposed any organized gambling under the new regime, but apparently pressure from about 10,000 Cubans who benefit directly or indirectly from the casinos, plus their value as a tourist attraction, changed their minds.

Palace Secretary Luis Buch put out a formal announcement denying Urrutia intended to resign. He characterized rumors that he was leaving as designed to "create confusion."

Ex-President Carlos Prio Socarras threw his whole-hearted support behind the provisional government Friday and said he and Castro had no differences. He said Castro's movement was making steady progress in eliminating Communists who infiltrated labor leadership under Batista.

Effective Sunday, February 1, the price of The Miami Herald Sunday edition will be 20 cents. This is the first Sunday increase in 13 years.

Expanded editorial coverage, plus greatly increased costs of newsprint, larger payrolls and higher printing and distribution costs account for the change.

The seven-day weekly home delivered rate will be 50 cents. Your carrier and street vendors will share in this increase.

Old Town Resists Nobly

Progress Puts Its Foot Inside Salerno's Door

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

SALERNO — It's nice to be able to report that my favorite to-heck-with-progress town is still resisting nobly—in the face of swelling odds.

How much longer they can hold the line is debatable. The bulldozers are clanking and puffing all around the town's perimeter. One enterprising real estate operator has cut a big canal into Manatee Pocket, around which the town lies.

There's more huffing and puffing over on Rocky Point, within rifle shot of the St. Lucie inlet.

The commercial fishermen, who make up the core of this town's year around population, remain quite unimpressed. Most of them still hold to the theory that paint is stuff you must put on boats, but not necessarily on houses.

OFFBEAT
with Steve Trumbull
FLORIDA

Only real shocker of the downtown area is the huge and modernistic Salerno Apartment Motel, which looks about as out of place as a Park Ave. dowager tieing one on in a back country juke joint.

Business there appeared far from brisk.

Friends said that the type of people who come to Salerno as tourists—sports fishermen, artists, writers and other seekers of the "different"—prefer the more simple local accommodations.

One rambling old fish house has given up the ghost and its site now is occupied by the new and shiny Manatee Marina with modern cottages, a boat ramp and complete marine service.

But places like the long established Fishin' Hole and Pirates Cove Hotel still draw the faithful, the ones who come here year after year. Trailer folks predominate at the Fishin' Hole, although there is also a brisk trade in cottage and boat rentals.

The Manatee Marina was financed by the fellow who makes those vibrating chairs, and as the local folks watched the big place take form there were a lot of gags about how efficient they must be in shaking money out of their purchasers.

My longtime friend here, Lee Frazier, the fellow who gained immortal fame by sawing a boat in two when he and his partner argued about its ownership, has pulled up and gone. No one was quite sure where, but there was a report that he decided the town was getting "too danged grown up."

Lee's murals still decorate one of the downtown bistros. The fellow held to the theory that no picture was worth painting if it required anything smaller than a three inch brush.

Boy Admits Bombing Hoax Call

More Broward News Pages 1B, 9A

By PAT MANGAN
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — A 13-year-old boy who didn't want to be "chicken" made the hoax telephone call warning of a bomb planted in Sunrise Junior High School, police said Friday.

The school was emptied for two hours Thursday morning while 14 policemen and eight firemen searched for the nonexistent bomb.

Detective Henry McHale said the boy, a student at Everglades Junior High, confessed to his school principal after hearing that someone else was going to be accused of making the call.

McHale said the boy was with a group of 12 to 15-year-olds waiting for a school bus at N. Andrews Ave. and 37th St. when the call was made from an outside booth.

The detective said the boys had devised a way to make telephone calls with pennies instead of dimes and were "practicing" when a taunt of "you're chicken" led the boy to make the bomb call to the telephone company.

Others in the group also were questioned. The youngsters will be turned over to juvenile authorities today.

Subzero Cold Hits North

CHICAGO — (AP) — A solid punch of zero cold slammed into the midcontinent Friday, sending a sharp chill across the country from the northern plains to the Atlantic coast.

The new cold snap was expected to skid temperatures to 35 below zero in northern Minnesota and North Dakota and the 30s in Louisiana and Mississippi. The mercury remained below zero at midday from the northern Rockies to Lake Superior, and subzero readings were in prospect for much of the upper Midwest and northern Great Lakes region.

Rains measuring up to .75 inch in Pennsylvania caused concern in the Meadville area, scene of serious flooding last week. A rapid rise in the Scioto River — to near flood stage — was predicted in La Rue, Ohio.

Sen. Green Bows Out Of Post

Committee Chief, 91, Lightens Load

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday accepted the resignation of Sen. Theodore F. Green (D., R.I.) as its chairman.

Green, at 91 the oldest member of the Senate, asked to be relieved of his chairmanship because of failing eyesight and hearing.

After a hastily summoned closed meeting of the committee, members said they had unanimously urged Green to reconsider his resignation, but he declined to do so.

A new chairman was not elected at the meeting, but Sen. J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.) is the next ranking Democratic member in seniority and his election is expected to be only a formality.

Fulbright already is chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, but presumably would relinquish that post to head the Foreign Relations Committee.

Fulbright gave reporters a rundown on his views after the Green resignation was announced.

He called on the administration to "get off dead center" in its relations with Russia and Communist China and stuck to his past criticism of the Eisenhower foreign policies as "inadequate, outmoded and misdirected."

Fulbright said the U.S. should offer to negotiate with Russia and China on such issues as West Berlin, Korea, Viet Nam and Formosa.

Green wrote Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas that "while I have the physical stamina to carry on as chairman, I am forced to conclude that it will be a long while before my eyesight has been fully restored and this handicap removed."

The Providence (R.I.) Journal had called editorially Thursday for Green to step down from the chairmanship. The editorial said it believed Green lacked the physical strength and was too old to hold the important post at this time.

Green's letter to Johnson said "as we both well know, my decision to resign is not based upon misleading newspaper articles or slanted editorials by a few callous newspaper writers."

25th Thor Roars Off On Full-Range Test

CAPE CANAVERAL — (AP) — The nation's 25th Thor intermediate range ballistic missile surged up Friday night on the roaring start of another full-range space test.

The powerful Thor — already on operational alert status with NATO forces in England — shot skyward from a cascade of white flame and smoke at 8:53 p.m. The blastoff appeared to run smoothly in contrast with the last shoot Dec. 20 when the 65-foot war rocket blew apart in spectacular style, high in the sky.

The Thor was blinking as it climbed. Once again it was equipped with a huge light capable of generating 17 million candlepower.

As the Douglas weapon reached spaceward huge ballistic tracking cameras stationed at strategic spots along the range zeroed in on the flashing light.

The cameras record the missile's space trip with pinpoint accuracy. The launching was another 1,700 statute mile full-range shot. Thor was designed for this distance but it once traveled as far as 2,600 miles on an earlier test.

North Florida Will Get Cold

A south-bound cold wave will push into North Florida today — but the Gold Coast area won't be hit, the weatherman said Friday.

Rain was also forecast for northernmost Florida.

Everywhere else in Florida, the weatherman said, temperatures will remain in the high 60s to low 80s, with clear skies.

UF to Admit Another Negro

GAINESVILLE — (AP) — The University of Florida said Friday it will admit a Negro in-service teacher to the graduate school for the second semester beginning Feb. 9.

University officials declined to disclose the student's name in advance of registration.

The new student will be the second Negro to enter the university. George Starke Jr., 27, of Orlando, son of a Sanford physician enrolled in the college of law Sept. 15.

The University's announcement followed close on a statement by Gov. LeRoy Collins that the 1959 legislature ought to consider closing graduate schools at Florida A&M University at Tallahassee.

Proud to Be Chosen

2 Pilots Named Space Candidates

FAIRBANKS, Alaska —(AP)— Bewildered but proud, two veteran Air Force test pilots are trying to digest the news that they might soon swap their super-sonic jet planes for a spaceship.

Capt. Bogan
. . . 'hard to believe'

Capt. Bradbury
. . . wife doesn't know

Capt. Tom Bogan, 35, and Capt. William Bradbury, 33, were informed that they had been chosen with 108 other men as candidates for man's first venture to outer space.

Their names were the first to be released after the spaceman program was announced Tuesday by Keith Glennan, U.S. space chief.

"It was pretty hard to believe," Bogan said and Bradbury nodded in agreement.

The two pilots were interviewed by News Director Ken Conner of Radio Station KFRB, who had learned of the men's selection for the space project from an undisclosed news source. Air Force officials confirmed it.

Bogan and Bradbury are on temporary duty at Eielson Air Force Base near here from Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Bogan flies an F106 in subzero temperature tests while Bradbury speed tests an F101B.

Bogan, of Goodland, Ind., and Bradbury, who hails from Houston, Tex., told Conner they have had no special training as yet for the space venture. But both have more than double the required 1,500 flying hours and are within the maximum height of 5 feet 11 inches.

"My six-year-old daughter is just learning to say jet airplane," Bradbury said thoughtfully, "and would not realize what the mission involves."

The two pilots are married but their wives do not yet know of their husbands' candidacy as U.S. spacemen.

Debbie Asks Early Trial

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Debbie Reynolds Friday asked for early trial of her suit for divorce from Eddie Fisher and the date was set as Feb. 17.

Her attorney told the court the two have reached a property settlement, terms undisclosed. He said she wants an early divorce so she can go to Spain at the end of the month to make a movie.

The screen beauty and the crooner split last year over the latter's attentions to Actress Elizabeth Taylor. Eddie and Liz have been frequent companions since.

When Miss Reynolds filed her suit last December she did not mention Miss Taylor. Her charge was cruelty of an unspecified nature. Fisher is not contesting the action.

Titanic's Death Toll Was 1,517

By United Press International

The ramming of an iceberg by a Danish freighter in the North Atlantic Friday was reminiscent of the sinking of the liner Titanic in 1912 — the worst peace-time ship disaster in recent history.

The $7,500,000 Titanic, described by its builders as unsinkable, was on its maiden voyage from England to the U.S. when it struck an iceberg off Newfoundland.

A total of 1,517 persons, including John Jacob Astor and others prominent in business, industry and society, lost their lives. The liner Carpathia, which heard the Titanic's SOS, rescued about 706 persons from the water and from lifeboats.

The same year that the Titanic sank the Japanese steamship Kickermaru went down off the coast of Japan. That disaster killed 1,000 persons.

The collision of the liner Andrea Doria and the Stockholm off Nantucket island on July 25, 1956, was the last major ship disaster in the Atlantic. The Andrea Doria sank with a loss of 50 lives.

Other major ship disasters have included:

Collision of the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Ireland with a Danish collier in the St. Lawrence river in 1914, with a loss of 1,024 lives.

Sinking of the Chinese steamer Hain Yu off the China coast in 1916, with a loss of 1,000 lives.

Sinking of the steamer Hong Kong off the China coast after hitting a rock in 1921, with a loss of 1,200 lives.

Trawler Stands By Helplessly

Rescue Blocked By Raging Seas

By Herald Wire Services

HALIFAX, N.S. — A small Danish ship on her maiden voyage with 130 persons aboard struck an iceberg off Greenland Friday. She was slowly sinking while a small trawler nearby, thwarted by fog and heavy seas, stood by helpless to aid her.

The stricken ship, the 2,875-ton Hans Hedtoft, was going down about 600 miles from the North Atlantic graveyard of the Titanic, in an uncanny parallel to one of history's great disasters.

"Slowly sinking and need immediate assistance," was the last word from the stricken vessel, the Hans Hedtoft, whose skipper is reputed to be the greatest of all his nation's Arctic navigators.

Reports from Copenhagen said an American Air Force helicopter was hovering above the ship.

The Titanic also was on its maiden voyage when it struck an iceberg on April 14, 1912, with a loss of 1,517 lives. The sinking of the Titanic occurred off the coast of Newfoundland while the ship was en route from Southampton, England, to New York.

The Royal Greenland Trade Department, operator of the Hans Hedtoft, said the 288-foot ship was completed last Dec. 19 and was believed to be making its way back to Copenhagen after several stops in Greenland on its first voyage.

The vessel had made several trial runs previously. It was under the command of P. L. Rasmussen.

The Hans Hedtoft's first call for help was heard at 11:54 a.m. Friday. The ship said it had rammed an iceberg that slashed its hull near the engine room and was "filling fast" with water.

The stricken vessel gave its position as approximately 59.5 degrees north and 43 west, about 37 miles south-southwest of Cape Farewell, Greenland.

The U. S. Air Force ordered its air-sea rescue squadron at Goose Bay to give any help it could. U. S. units at the Keflavik Air Base near Reykjavik, Iceland, also were alerted, and Danish naval forces at Groennedal, Greenland, said they were standing by.

All ports in the vicinity of the crippled ship were reported iced in.

Danish shipbuilders, who pooled their know-how to build the Hedtoft for their government, regarded her as the

Von Braun Reports To Senate

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Dr. Wernher von Braun said Friday it would take the U.S. five years to overtake Russia in the intercontinental ballistic missile field even if this country decided to go all out.

The German-born rocket expert, head of developmental work at the Army's Ballistic Missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., told Senate investigators he was speaking from a technological standpoint, without reference to numbers of ICBM's.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy testified Thursday that Russia will have more ICBM's in a year or two because this country is not trying to match the Soviet missile for missile. He said neither nation now has an "operational" ICBM.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) said that McElroy was "not correct" when he said Thursday the U.S. would have a squadron of intercontinental ballistic missiles ready for use on the west coast in July.

Symington, a former Air Force secretary, said "there is no plan to have anything like one operational squadron of ICBM's in July of this year."

Von Braun, referring to peaceful space exploration, also said it would take the U.S. a year to overtake Russia in that field even if the Soviets stood still during that time.

Von Braun joined Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the Federal Space Agency, in testifying before the Senate Space-Preparedness Committee that Russia is ahead of the U.S. in space exploration.

Glennan said it was reasonable to assume that Russia's great rocket power had shot the Soviets a year and a half ahead. Like others, he said it is in rocket thrust that the Soviets enjoy an advantage. Glennan said this country is equal in most other fields and is working with wartime speed on rockets.

As for ICBM's, Von Braun said that if Russia continues full speed ahead, it would take the U.S. five years to catch up — provided the U.S. decided on an accelerated program.

Von Braun asked for an additional $140,000,000 alone to speed construction of a cluster of Jupiter rockets. They would be used to hurl a militarily valuable communications satellite into orbit or to send tons of equipment deep into space.

The cluster would have one and a half million pounds of thrust. But according to committee testimony it would not be ready for three years under present planning.

Von Braun agreed with Glennan and two of Glennan's aides — Drs. Homer Stewart and W. H. Pickering — that there is nothing phony about Russis's claim that its "Lunik" rocket shot past the moon and is now orbiting the sun."

Police Say Tout Shot Wrong Man

By DOM BONAFEDE

Maxim Gay, the crippled tout who pumped three bullets into John Madala, Hialeah Race Course security chief, meant to shoot Madala's brother instead, track authorities disclosed Friday.

The brother, Joseph Madala, is a member of the security force in charge of tip sheet operations.

Gay, an elderly tip sheet peddler, bent with arthritis, told investigators he sought revenge because the track had "taken away my living" by prohibiting sales on the premises.

"Joe was the one that Gay was looking for," revealed Everett Clay, track executive.

Witnesses to the shooting recalled that Gay later told Joseph Madala:

"You are the one I was trying to kill."

Track officials further noted that John Madala was not acquainted with Gay.

John had just finished talking with his brother at the track Thursday when Gay walked up and suddenly fired three .38 caliber slugs into the security director.

Madala's condition was listed as serious Friday at Doctor's Hospital, where doctors are treating him for bullet wounds in the abdomen, left side and left hand.

9 Die as Flames Hit Nursing Home

GLEN ELLYN, Ill. — (UPI) — Uncontrollable fire raged through an old, castle-like nursing home Friday, trapping elderly and crippled patients in their beds and killing at least nine persons.

The last charred body was taken from the ruins of the Glen Ellyn Acres Nursing Home Friday night, after flames swept the second floor of the rambling stucco and frame mansion.

Seven bodies, none identified, were found in the burned-out building. Another man was dead of burns on arrival at a hospital and Assistant Fire Chief Don Stofferegan, 58, suffered a fatal heart attack while manning a fire truck.

Fire Chief James Brody called off the search for more bodies after the discovery of the last victim huddled on the first floor near the chimney.

Ten patients and seven employes of the home were hospitalized with burns and other injuries.

The fire apparently started in the electrical wiring on the second floor of the home, an antique building known as "The Castle" which was believed to be almost 100 years old. Only the walls of the building were left standing. Damage was estimated at $50,000.

Nurses, orderlies and firemen carried the survivors, many of them screaming, from the building as flames leaped 40 feet into the air. Many of the patients were unable to walk. A 200-pound bedfast woman was too heavy to carry and had to be abandoned to the flames.

Firemen and orderlies told how they were unable to save old persons even though they reached their sides. In many cases, the would be rescuers were driven back by flames which licked at the victims' bodies.

De Gaulle Renews Plea

PAIRS — (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle renewed Friday night his offer to Algerian rebel leaders to come to France and arrange a cease-fire in the four-year-old war.

". . . The war can lead to nothing but useless miseries. It certainly should end," De Gaulle told a nationwide radio audience.

"When?" he asked. "Why not quickly, in the honorable conditions that I have proposed?"

De Gaulle's reference was to his Oct. 23 offer to rebel leaders to come to France under safe conduct to discuss a cease-fire.

The rebels promptly rejected De Gaulle's offer at that time.

safest and most modern of Arctic ships. She was designed to ram her way through the heavy pack ice around Greenland. She had all conceivable navigational and warnings instruments and her lifeboats were said to be the most modern of any merchant vessel afloat.

Search and rescue officers said transferring passengers and crewmen to the 167-foot trawler would be a hazardous operation in rough weather. They said anyone forced into the freezing Atlantic at this time of the year would last "just over 60 seconds."

The Coast Guard said winds were clocked at 35 knots and seas were running high, from 18 to 24 feet, in the vicinity of the battered freighter. Canadian air-sea rescue officers reported snow, fog and rain, and a ceiling of 100 feet. The weather bureau here said no break in the weather could be expected before today.

When that is locked up for the season he hurries down here and occupies a fisherman's little cottage he bought years ago on a street lined with drying fish nets and boats in various stages of disrepair. The inside is modernized. The outside remains untouched.

Harold is an ardent apostle of the let's-keep-things-simple school of thought, but he has done quite well on the splurge of real estate activities around the town. He did his buying in the years before everyone went crazy.

William M. Stanger, a resident here, is currently waging a one-man and apparently not quite successful campaign against juvenile delinquency. Probably these kids are no worse than the kids in other towns, but Stanger thinks there's a very broad sprinkling of young hellions.

With tongue in cheek, he listed a long list of other depredations the kids might try, virtually everything from pulling up young corn to poisoning the well at the orphanage.

Still another new touch here is a small but fine state park and boat-launching site where boats turn in from the main channel. The place bulges with family groups naving fun.

'Not the End of It,' Say Flunked Students

By PHIL MEYER
Herald Staff Writer

A "mass meeting" of flunked physics students was called Friday at the University of Miami north campus.

Fifteen showed up.

The students, part of the 221 out of 319 who failed freshman physics, huddled under a spreading palm tree in the Anastasia Building courtyard and sympathized with each other.

"This isn't the end of it," said their leader, Oscar (Ozzie) New, who sported blue-tinted spectacles and a day's start toward a rebel-type beard.

"We've paid a total of $16,000 worth of tuition and there's nothing to show for it."

A few of the rebels broke for the shadows as a photographer, summoned by a tip on the mass meeting, appeared on the scene.

"See," said New. "No free speech. Afraid to be seen here."

One student in the group, sort of a non-conformist, admitted he had not flunked like the others. He'd gotten a C.

"I sure wish they would explain to me why I only got a C," he muttered glumly.

The little band tried to lay plans for its next move.

"If only they wouldn't ignore us," said New. "Why doesn't the administration say something?"

Another student had an idea. "Why don't we draw up a list of our grievances and present 'em to somebody," he said.

There were nods of assent.

New, notebook in hand, headed for an empty classroom to work on the list of grievances. A few followed him.

The rest straggled out and strolled across the campus, soaking up the afternoon sun.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

BELL

YOUR TOWN CRIER now is in the horse show business. Knowing we need about $300,000 a year to care for sick and crippled indigent children at Variety Children's Hospital, I just can't seem to say "no" when someone wants to help.

My horse show will be staged by South Miami Riding Club, Feb. 13-14-15. There's a prior show at Dinner Key Feb. 5-8, opening the Sunshine Circuit. The same champions then will shift to the South Miami grounds on Kendall Dr.

The South Miami horsemen want to help the hospital, which is in their sector of Greater Miami. Variety Club officers decided they'd rather not sponsor the show. So I feel honored that Walter Pierce and his South Miami group said "If you'll help us we'll give all the money to the hospital anyway." I will, so they will. I'm a sucker for horse shows anyway.

Now all I need are purchasers of trophies and boxes. The South Miami folks have worked so hard the show expenses are already in the bank. Every cent we take in goes to the hospital. Boxes are $35 for the three days, six chairs each. The parking space behind the box is an extra $5. Trophies are $25 or $50. It's deductible.

Scene Change

The old Everglades Hotel is under transformation into the new Everglades. And a little party Friday evening sort of set up the new idea, even if there were a few echoes from World War II.

The party was for Air Force men, here for the big show opening our new International airport. Col. Benjamin B. Cassiday Jr., deputy commander of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, represented the academy.

Maj. Gen. John W. Persons, commander of the famous 14th Flying Tiger Air Force; Col. Seth McKee, skipper of Homestead Air Force base; pilots of the famous Thunderbird precision flying team; missile wisemen from Cape Canaveral: They were all over the place in their military sartorial splendor.

Y'know, harking back to World War II, the Everglades had a far different military demeanor. It was taken over by the Navy and used as a barracks for enlisted men.

Forecasts

INDIAN RIVER AREA—Fair with little change in temperature Saturday and Saturday night. Early morning fog in the immediate vicinity of the coast. High Saturday in the low 80's, low Sunday morning about 65. Variable, mostly East and Southeast winds, 5-12 mph.

NAPLES AND LAKE OKEECHOBEE AREAS — Fair with little change in temperature Saturday and Saturday night. High Saturday in the low 80's, low Sunday morning about 65. Variable, mostly East and Southeast winds, 5-12 mph.

FORT LAUDERDALE, PALM BEACH AND KEYS AREAS — Fair with little change in temperature Saturday and Saturday night. High Saturday near 80, low Sunday morning 65-70. East and Southeast winds, 5-15 mph.

MARINE — Jacksonville through the Florida Straits and East Gulf: Variable winds at five to 12 miles an hour extreme north, and east to southeast winds from 10 to 20 miles an hour elsewhere. Fair except some fog extreme north portion early today.

WESTERN CARIBBEAN — Easterly winds at 10 to 20 miles an hour except occasionally northeasterly at 25 miles an hour extreme south. Partly cloudy with a few isolated showers.

UPPER WEST COAST AND TALLAHASSEE AREA — Cloudy with scattered showers and little temperature change. High 65 to 70. Variable winds at five to 12 miles an hour.

National Summary

Burges of Pacific winds across the Northwestern states have continued to spread moisture for light snow through the northern Rockies and into South Dakota and Nebraska while the build up of cool air over the plateau states has given snow thru eastern Nevada and stormy weather in the mountains of western Utah.

Clearing skies are expected over New England with colder weather from the Plains to the Atlantic and most of the Gulf states. A moist pattern across the southland will spread northward again Saturday offering chance of snow and sleet from Western Tennessee into portions of the lower Ohio Valley.

Snow flurries will be scattered over the Great Lakes and into the Northern and Central Appalachians.

Fair weather should remain in the Southwest with slightly cooler air settling into northern Airzona but in the cold pattern of fair skies over northern portions of the plains and Mississippi Valley temperatures are forecast as low as 35 below zero in Minnesota and North Dakota.

Periods of rainy weather are in view over the northern Pacific states with light rain reaching northern California during the night while showers of rain or snow are likely across the northern plateau region.

Wide Search Pressed for Busy Burglar

One Night's Work Nets Him $7,600

By DUANE JONES
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — City police continued their search Friday for a "rabbit-like" burglar who broke into six Coral Ridge homes and an apartment house Thursday night and fled with an estimated $7,600 in cash and jewels.

Detectives believe the burglar is the same one who broke into seven other homes on Coconut Isle and Middle River Dr. Tuesday night.

Thursday's loss, first estimated at $12,000, was revised Friday afternoon when one of the victims found a jeweled wristwatch and diamond ring valued at $2,500.

Mrs. Myra Wheat, 1725 NE 26th Ave., said she found the watch in a purse and the ring under a bed. But the burglar did get away with a $2,500 diamond bracelet.

"My loss wasn't too great, but I was scared to death for a while," she said.

Mrs. Wheat and her husband were having dinner with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Burns, 2409 NE 12th St., at a local restaurant when the burglary occurred.

The Burns' home also was entered, but nothing was taken except a police revolver.

Mrs. Robert Dorsey, 2401 Middle River Dr., was being honored at a birthday party at a N. Federal Hwy. restaurant when the burglar broke into her home and fled with $67.

"I was very lucky," she said. "A steel filing cabinet was damaged, but the money was the only thing taken. It was a birthday I won't easily forget. Police were here until 3 a.m. getting fingerprints."

Four pieces of jewelry valued at $5,000 were stolen from the Victor Belotti home, 1727 Middle River Dr. The Belottis also had gone out for dinner, and discovered the burglary when they returned about 7:20 p.m.

Albert Blinn, 1523 Middle River Dr., reported $25 missing. He said the burglar apparently used a heavy bar to force open a door leading to a terrace.

"I'm not sure, but I think he was still in the house when we drove up about 9 p.m.," Blinn said. He added that the damaged door would have to be replaced.

John Read, 2133 Middle River Dr., reported 50 pennies missing from his home, and the manager of the Casa Coral Apartments, 1510 NE 26th Ave. told police nothing was taken from his place.

One of the city's largest manhunts was underway shortly after 7:30 p.m. Thursday when Patrolman Edwin Yost, investigating the burglary at the Belotti residence, spotted a fleeing man vaulting a fence.

Yost notified headquarters and was soon joined by an estimated 75 police officers, auxiliary police, harbor patrolmen and private yachtsmen.

A number of off-duty policemen joined in the all-night search which ended at 8 a.m. Friday.

Yost described the burglar as about 30 years old, medium height, blond hair and wearing dark clothing. He was last seen in the 2500 block of Middle River Dr.

Only Two Seek Post On Bridge

HOLLYWOOD — There are only two applicants for the post of coordinator on the Sheridan St. bridge project, City Manager Joseph W. Watson said Friday.

Col. Albert B. Jones, a retired military engineer, has withdrawn his application.

"He is certainly qualified but he does not feel he can spend much time out of town," Watson said Col. Jones is 72.

The other written application on file is from Engineer Paul C. Vyff of Hollywood.

Former County Commissioner Tony Salvino is backed for the job by Mayor E. L. McMorrough.

Mericle Story Was in Error

MIRAMAR — The Herald erroneously reported Jan. 22 that Roy E. Mericle had been appointed building inspector by Mayor Charles Knapp, and that a heated debate followed the appointment.

Actually, David W. Mericle, son of Roy, had been appointed by Knapp, as reported in later articles. The Herald regrets the error.

FLORA Is Shaping Up

The idea put forward here a few weeks back for a cooperative business enterprise for retired people is developing in a highly interesting way.

A meeting on it was held at the Broward Bank auditorium this week with 42 people present representing a revealing cross-section of the county's retired population. There were a couple of accountants, a chemical engineer, a grocer, an ex-Army officer, a police chief, a food distributor, a former department store executive, a half dozen women, several sales executives, a mechanical engineer and a passel of others, including one man who came here a few years ago and has successfully started three different businesses.

The oldest was 79, and there were others in their 70's. Their interest in some sort of a cooperative or corporation, to which each would contribute experience as well as taking a financial interest, was genuine and stimulating . . .

New Idea May Set Pattern

THE MEETING WAS DEVOTED only to a general discussion of the idea. At this time their experience records are being sorted out, and another meeting will be held soon with a view to taking some concrete steps toward an organization. Currently, the tentative name is FLORA, ingeniously compounded from the initials of Fort Lauderdale Organized Retirees Association.

It looks from here like a very significant move, one which may set a pattern for others of a similar nature all over Florida . . .

HE MAY NOT KNOW IT YET, but friends of Bob Stephens, the president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, are talking him up as a good candidate for the City Commission. He's of that caliber, all right . . .

More About Weather Talk

PARTIALLY AS A RESULT of the comments here, and partially as a result of action by some other people, Southern Bell Telephone is going to start reporting to the major television and radio network centers of the country the state of the local weather.

It'll begin putting in these calls Tuesday at the sales clinic at the Galt Ocean Mile Hotel, taking the opportunity to demonstrate its new Direct Distance Dialing.

One concrete example of the erroneous impressions that northerners are getting about the weather involved Mrs. Arthur Summerfield, the wife of the postmaster general, who has a winter home here. She's in Washington, and tells friends here that she thought we were having frost on one of those nights when the commentators reported, "It's cold in Florida."

The problem seems to be that those Yankee TV weather reporters apply North Florida temperatures to the whole state.

The original comment in this space a few days ago suggesting that everyone notify northern friends that the weather is good brought a highly irate letter from Harry Hevenor of Fiesta Way.

He took off right scathingly about news writers who mislead people, and went from there to complaints about business pirates, hotel and apartment rates, mediocre restaurants, the cost of cabanas, the lack of entertainment for guests, the shabby appearance of Las Olas Blvd., the beach sidewalks that he says are now "hangouts for young ones on the make for trouble."

Some of the complaints deserve some attention, and it's unfortunate that the letter is too long to be detailed at this time . . .

Clergy, Civic Leaders Protest Strongly

Big Grocery Chains Decide To Stay Open on Sundays

Managers Of Some Complain

By ART ROBINSON
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Chain groceries in Fort Lauderdale, Wilton Manors and Pompano Beach will remain open Sundays starting this weekend.

The decision to keep them open drew strong protests from the clergy and some civic leaders.

Chain stores that will remain open are Food Fair, Stevens and Grand Union. Two Kwik Cheks, one in Wilton Manors and the other at 900 W. Sunrise Blvd., also will be open.

The remaining Kwik Cheks and A & P Stores will be closed, but the managers expected their stores to join the others next week.

Most managers of stores that will remain open said they were strongly against it but had no part in the decision, which was made at headquarters in Miami. Some said they'll now be working seven days a week.

One weary Food Fair manager said, "Isn't six days enough?"

The Rev. James Keogh of St. Clement's Catholic Church in Wilton Manors, where the move to keep the stores open started, said the decision was a violation for both Catholics and non-Catholics of the first commandment, to keep the Sabbath holy.

"I've been called by several people who work in the supermarkets who said they don't want to work on Sunday," he said.

"It's utterly and absolutely unrequired."

The Rev. Clarence Stauffer of First Christian Church of Wilton Manors said he and other ministers were strongly opposed. George McAfee, president of the Wilton Manors Civic Association, said there seemed to be sentiment against it in the city.

Managers said the movement to remain open Sunday started with the Stevens Market, where signs appeared notifying customers the store would be open Sunday from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The manager, James Eckert, said:

"You get a tourist type of business here, and there is a tremendous number of people coming here on Sunday trying to get in."

He noted that Manor Market, in which Wilton Manors Mayor Frank Starling is a partner, stays open Sunday.

Shortly after Stevens put up its signs, the Grand Union in Wilton Manors announced it was staying open.

After that the seven Food Fair outlets in Fort Lauderdale and Wilton Manors and another in Pompano Beach notified their customers they would be open Sunday.

Fireworks Flare At Arraignments Of 'Porky,' Gunn

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Criminal Court trial dates were set Friday for James Gunn, Donald Baines and Chris di Bona over the peppery protests of defense Attorney Ray Sandstrom.

Overruled on his objections to the trio's arraignment, Sandstrom told his clients to stand mute after Prosecutor Wallace Allbritton read the charges.

Judge Louis Weissing proceeded to enter pleas of not guilty. "I want to get these cases finished with," he said.

He set Feb. 23 for Gunn's trial on a charge of receiving stolen property; March 2 and 9 for Baines on two similar counts; and March 30 for di Bona on a breaking and entering charge.

Sandstorm indicated he will seek postponements.

The arraignments took place after Sandstorm argued motions for a list of witnesses and a bill of particulars in each case.

The judge told Allbritton to provide lists of witnesses on whose testimony the charges were based. The lists will not necessarily name all the witnesses who will appear.

Weissing granted three of the requests for details in Gunn's case, but denied bills of particulars for Baines and di Bona.

Sandstrom argued that the defendants were unable to enter a plea without full notice of the charges. He repeated his claim that they were unlawfully deprived of their right to a preliminary hearing.

In an unusual move, Sandstorm asked for his clients to be present when the jury panels for their trial are drawn.

Weissing replied that the jurors for Gunn's trial were already picked. The selection for Baines' trial will be made at 3 p.m. Tuesday, he said.

Gunn is charged with receiving jewelry stolen from John Pulda's home by Darwin Cunningham, who was sentenced to five years in prison. Baines is accused of receiving property that di Bona is suspected of taking from James L. Babbitt's home, 3213 SW 15th Ct.

A "fence" charge against di Bona was quashed Wednesday, but is due to be refiled.

Suits Name 2 Attorneys

FORT LAUDERDALE — A Circuit Court suit Friday charged Attorney Warren Windle with owing a printing company $3,612.78 for his law library.

West Publishing Co., of St. Paul, Minn., claimed that it sold the books to Windle in 1953 and 1954. The firm is represented by Abrams and Anton of Hollywood.

Another suit filed involves Attorney Elmer Roberts. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Trilck, through Attorney Ken Stevens, claim that Mr. and Mrs. Roberts owe them $2,449.38 plus interest on a $2,500 promissory note.

Mix Bid Rejected By Court

By ARTHUR JOHNSEY
Herald Staff Writer

Federal Judge Emett C. Choate turned down the request of a Negro attorney Friday to order the Palm Beach County School Board to begin integration at the Northboro School.

Choate said he will deny the motion of William M. Holland despite a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling in the same case at New Orleans that Florida school boards must make a "prompt and reasonable start to good faith compliance" with the U.S. Supreme Court integration mandate.

The judge said the Supreme Court's ruling since then, upholding Alabama's pupil assignment law—similar to the Florida law, changes the effect of the Court of Appeals decision.

Choate said that before taking final action in the case he would give Williams a chance to decide whether to amend his suit to challenge directly the Florida pupil assignment law, or to contend that Negroes seeking admittance to the school have complied with the law and the School Board has not.

The New Orleans court ruled in September that responsibility to see that no child is deprived of his rights rests with school boards, and that it is up to district courts to require "good faith compliance" with the desegregation mandate of the Supreme Court.

The ruling reversed an earlier decision in the case by Choate.

Grand Jury Hears Rule

Port Probe Report Ready Next Week

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE—The Grand Jury recessed its Port Everglades inquiry Friday afternoon until Feb. 5.

It will then reassemble for the primary purpose of issuing a report, Foreman Harold Robertson said.

The jury has probed the handling of building and insurance awards at the port.

"We've concluded the investigation — up to a point," Robertson said.

On Friday the jury talked again with Contractor Frank Rule, who performed two large port projects given through unadvertised change-of-work orders. Some of Rule's records were presented.

The only other witness to appear was Paul Vyff, an engineer active in the Broward County Taxpayers League. Vyff regularly attends port meetings.

N. Broward: Check Before You Dial

Herald Bureau

POMPANO BEACH—You'd better reach for that telephone directory before you start dialing your phone Sunday.

Because some 4,700 telephones in the northeast part of Pompano Beach, Lighthouse Point, and Hillsboro Beach will be sporting new numbers.

The change takes effect at one minute past midnight Saturday, when Southern Bell cuts in its new $1.5 million Whitehall exchange. The service will be from a modern, three-story phone building at 1250 N. Federal Hwy.

Patrons served by the Whitehall exchange will be able to dial long distance calls directly to all parts of the nation, including Hawaii and Alaska.

Most of the numbers that have changed with the new addition, lie in the area north of Atlantic Blvd. and east of Federal Hwy.

Police Hunt Missing Child

HOLLYWOOD — Police Friday night were searching for a six-year old Negro girl, reported missing from her home since Thursday afternoon.

Investigators said the child's mother, Ernestine Williams, 2230 Pershing St., did not notify police of her daughter's disappearance until Friday. Officers said the woman told them she had thought the child, Barbara, was visiting an aunt who lives nearby.

Investigators were checking a canal, about six blocks from the Williams home, late Friday.

Shoplifting Charged

3 Women Tourists Booked at City Jail

FORT LAUDERDALE —(UPI)— Judge John Douglass extended Friday a one-week vacation for three Minnesota women to 38 days in the city jail and fined each $100 on charges of shoplifting.

While their husbands went fishing Thursday, Mrs. Myrtle Cecka, 47, and Mrs. Hattie Lund, 42, both of Austin, Minn., and Mrs. Lillian Marie Tongen, 46, Zumbrota, Minn., went shopping.

The trouble was, the women failed to pay for a total of $79.84 worth of goods they took from a downtown clothing store, police testified.

Husbands of the three women protested they would lose their jobs if they failed to return home at the end of the week.

Judge Douglass told the men they could go back to Minnesota but would have to leave their wives behind to serve their sentences.

DeMille's Last Movie Advice: 'Dirt Not Always Pay Dirt'

Nightlife with George Bourke

DURING the past 18 months Joseph Laitin taped interviews with the greats of the film industry and is broadcasting the edited result over KNX radio in Hollywood this current weekend under the title of "The Changing Face of Hollywood." Some of the quotes are extremely interesting but none is more pertinent than the posthumous caution of Cecil B. DeMille who said: "Our greatest danger from within the industry is worship of the golden calf. Dirt is not necessarily pay dirt."

And exhibitions won't cheer Jane Russell's contribution to the forum: "If I could sit and see a good picture at home I would never go out," she is quoted out of context as saying. Always the kitchen cynic, Shelley Winters commented that: "The trouble (with the star system) is the way it's set up now, you become a star and then get enough money to study acting."

Treniers Join Variety Show

THE TRENIERS, one of the big hits of last year's Variety Show of Shows benefit at the Miami Beach Auditorium have agreed to try a repeat this year. They'll take time out from their chores at the Riot Room on the night of Feb. 5 to join Bob Hope in raising funds for the Variety Children's Hospital. Tickets are available at the auditorium or at the Variety Club, Miami Colonial Hotel for from $2.50 to $20 . . .

For the wedding bells, that is . . . Roger Vadim, who discovered Brigitte Bardot, is hoping lightning will strike twice—he has a 15-year-old protege named Gillian Hills who is expected to make Bardot look like a plateau.

Brave fellow is Claude Chabrol, a French film-critic. He's turned producer! . . . Emerson Buckley, bearded musical conductor, is at the Algiers. Stay away from Havana, E.B., or they'll pin a 26th of July armband on you. Incidentally, Fidel Castro's $250-a-day suite at the Havana-Hilton is on the 23rd floor, three shy of the 26th.

Gale One of Greats of the Day

BETTER HURRY around to Ciro's to grab a look and a laugh at comedian Alan Gale. Alan is considering a stab at serious theater and if you know Alan's determination you know that the "stab" will be a successful operation. So enjoy him while you can without taking a trip to the Broadway theater belt. Gale is truly one of the great cafe performers of our time. Although he always has an act or three on his bills, just for variety, he is as much the one-man show as is Victor Borge, or Red Skelton. He dominates any room he is in with his alternating sallies of wisdom and wit.

One of the additions has been a frenzied production number featuring the primitive rhythms of song and dance which were the mainstay of every successful colored revue that ever hit the boards of theater or cafe.

Lend-a-Hand Tickets on Sale

ADD TITLE CHANGES: The SIM to DIER. SIM was the Military Intelligence Service of the Batista regime. DIER, its successor (accent on the first three letters?) is Department of Investigation of Revolutionary Army.

Producer Rex Carlton—didn't he make a movie here once with Lili St. Cyr? — is producing "Witchcraft," with Linda Christian and Robert Alda . . . And Ferde Grofe, Jr., and Buddy Rogers are making one called "The Sea Witch." Sounds like Halloween around the corner.

Incidentally, Ferde Grofe, Sr., will be represented on the preview premiere bill with "Sleeping Beauty" for the benefit of Lend-a-Hand on Feb. 10 at the Sheridan Theater. His Grand Canyon Suite has been translated into pictorial terms and made into a featurette by Walt Disney.

Some of the Grofe arrangement was used in "Fantasia," which Disney made more than 10 years ago and which pioneered with stereophonic processes just coming into use.

Tickets for the Lend-a-Hand benefit showing of the $6,000,000 wide-screen film may be had at the Sheridan and Florida Theaters or at The Miami Herald.

Dreamboats All

These six dreamboats will grace a single boat in Sunday's annual Fort Lauderdale Boat Parade, which starts at 1:30 p.m. at the SE 17th St. Causeway. One of them will be chosen next Thursday as Miss Dreamboat at the opening of the Boat and Sports Show. From left, they're Marilyn Ehrhardt, Alice Schmidt, Ginger Dunning, Joan Perry, Kathy Magda and Nancy Furnish.

Bet Taker Admits Forgery

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Mrs. Audrey Hrivnak, Dania Jai-Alai betting commissioner, pleaded guilty Friday in Criminal Court to forging an American Express money order.

The tall, 32-year-old blonde shook with emotion as Judge Louis Weissing intoned: "The court adjudges you to be guilty," and released her on bond pending a pre-sentence investigation.

Scantily clad when arrested Thursday, Mrs. Hrivnak appeared in court in a long-sleeved white blouse, a full black skirt, and high-heeled open shoes.

She clutched a handkerchief in her hand, and wept. Her plea was almost inaudible.

Prosecutor Wallace Allbritton dropped a second charge when she admitted the first. There were 10 possible counts, he said.

Officials said that Mrs. Hrivnak appeared to have no past record. She confessed to changing a money order from one to four dollars.

Temple OKs Sale to City

HOLLYWOOD — The congregation of Temple Sinai has approved sale of the present facilities to the City of Hollywood for $75,000.

The city has been awaiting the temple's final approval before closing the deal.

Jack Yeslow, chairman of the temple building committee, said the $75,000 would help finance the new temple on Johnson St.

Happy With Rallies

Our Kids Impress World Evangelist

By HENRY KINNEY
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Broward County's teenagers have made a favorable impression on Jack Wyrtzen, world-traveling youth evangelist who is conducting a series of services at the National Guard armory.

"The respect they have shown us and the response they've given us when we've spoken in the schools has been fine," the New Yorker, an ex-insurance agent, said.

"You don't always find that up north. In some of the schools they'd hoot you off the stage."

He added, however: "Once you get through to them, through that shell they have around them, they'll accept you."

Jack Wyrtzen
... evangelist

Wyrtzen began his three-day rally, arranged by the Christian Businessmen's Committee, Thursday night. It will continue through today with a children's rally at 10 a.m. and the final service at 7 p.m.

Director of the Word of Life Fellowship and of a group of three Christian education camps at Schroon Lake, N.Y., Wyrtzen told the businessmen's committee at a luncheon Friday:

"Our young people are in a fog today. They don't know which way to turn." He related instances in which leaders of New York teenage gangs had been brought to his camps and stayed to become members of the staff.

This Mother Knows Meaning of Heart Drive

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — A Fort Lauderdale mother whose daughter and father have heart disease is among local residents participating in the upcoming Heart Sunday fund drive.

She is Mrs. Evelyn Salisbury, 1047 NE 11th Ave. Her eight-year-old daughter was born with rheumatic fever and her father, L. G. Bruhn, has suffered three heart attacks.

"I volunteer my services because I know of the hope the Heart Association can give thousands of heart victims in the U.S.," Mrs. Salisbury said.

Her father, a resident of Eustis, Fla., is to be here this month and will help count contributions received on Heart Sunday, Feb. 22.

Mrs. Salisbury has been active in the local Heart Chapter for several years.

FORT LAUDERDALE — The Bailley Road Volunteer Fire Department will hold its first annual pit barbecue at Broadview Country Club Estates, one-half mile north of Prospect Rd. on SR 7, today. The event continues from noon until nine.

7th Victim Dies After Car Crash

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA BEACH — The seventh — and final — victim of Brevard County's worst auto accident died Friday.

Head injuries brought death to Patrick Costello, Orlando, who had not regained consciousness since the predawn Thursday crash on the ocean beach.

Five Orlando teenagers died instantly in the crash and a sixth died Thursday night.

The five were partially decapitated by an elevated sea water pipeline which sheared off the top of their car when they struck it at an estimated 75 mph at 2:50 a.m. Thursday.

The pipe, which was being used to "jet in" piling for a bulkhead project, crosses the beach at a point where driving is not allowed. It was marked by a red lantern, according to the contractor who installed it.

Just before the crash the death car passed several "no driving" signs.

Instantly killed were John E. Roquemore, 1100 Chichester; James E. Weaver, 209 Concord Ave.; Nickie H. Morgan, 1216 Heron Dr.; Kenneth L. D. Gardiner, 426 Faber Dr., all of Orlando; and Richard C. Knobler, whose address was not determined.

All were 18.

Kenneth Goepper, 19, of 2603 Harrison St., Orlando, died at 10:20 p.m. Thursday in Orange Memorial Hospital.

The death of Costello, 20, of 219 West Princeton St., Orlando, came at 6:20 a.m. Friday at the same hospital.

The death car was owned by Roquemore, but police have been unable to determine who was driving at the time of the crash.

Square Feet Donations Asked

HOLLYWOOD—Squares are in with the Hollywood Little Theater.

The group's Square Foot Club is launching a membership campaign in connection with the "Reluctant Debutante," opening at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Little Theater.

Membership entitles you to one square foot of the Hollywood Little Theater. Funds will be used to complete the building.

County Studies Bills

Readying Them For Legislature

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — County commissioners Friday informally discussed a parcel of bills for recommendation to the legislative delegation.

The tentative ideas will be debated again Tuesday, chairman George Petersen said.

"Some affect the whole state," he noted. "We're not trying to usurp the legislators' prerogative, but we want to show our support.

"Some improvements would require taxation or assessments by district to be fair to unaffected residents," Petersen continued.

An amendment to the Old Age Assistance act should save the county $100,000 a year and provide better care for indigents, he said.

Other measures under consideration, Petersen added, would:

REQUIRE solvent adults to support children and parents.

EXTEND the period of unemployment compensation benefits from 16 to 26 weeks.

LIMIT the small-loan interest rate to 20 per cent. It's now 42 per cent, Petersen said.

ELIMINATE sewage effluence disputes by subjecting all sewage and water plans to county approval.

AUTHORIZE the county to make contracts for needed utility improvements, and to remove drainage obstacles.

CONTROL the speed of trains and watercraft.

PREVENT arbitrary changes of private utility rates.

ESTABLISH a lot-clearing program in populous county areas.

AMEND the enabling zoning act to allow enforcement of regulations, invluding a veto on parking trucks in residential areas.

ALLOW the county to operate parking lots for income, and to put in street lights in residential areas.

SET UP fire zones where requested with equipment and personnel.

SOLVE the problem of getting water from secondary to primary drainage areas.

The commission is also supporting a home rule proposal, and recognizes the need for a regional planning board, Petersen said.

Judge Hits At Law On Search

POMPANO BEACH — A state law, which if followed to the letter would require bartenders to search their patrons before letting them enter the bar, was termed "a vicious law" by Acting City Judge Stephen A. Martin Jr. Friday. But he said he had no recourse other than to uphold it.

The judge said he looked forward to an appeal Attorney William Sanders said he would file in a higher court.

Saunders represented Julius Pinkney, Negro bartender, who was found guilty of allowing whiskey to be consumed in a place licensed only for beer and wine—although court testimony showed he had no knowledge of the event.

Pinkney was arrested Dec. 27 when local police and the state beverage agent raided Laura's Bar on Hammondville Rd. A search of patrons revealed a bottle of the "illegal" whiskey.

Martin said that under a strict interpretation of the statute, Pinkney had "permitted" the whiskey on the premises even though he knew nothing about it.

Pinkney was fined only $5 court costs on his conviction.

They'll Hang Winnie—His Art, That Is

LONDON —(AP)— Sir Winston Churchill now has reached the top in British art, the Conservative top, that is.

CHURCHILL

Sir Winston will have a one-man show at the Royal Academy of Art, 50 canvases on exhibit during the first two weeks in March. Many of the paintings have been on tour in the U.S., Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Only four other living artists have had one-man exhibitions at the famous gallery on Piccadilly — Augustus John, Sir Gerald Kelly, Sir Alfred Munnings and Leslie Brangyne. The Royal Academy is known for its conservative standards, and so is Sir Winston's painting.

Actress Hepburn Hurts a Little

DURANGO, Mexico —(AP)— "I only hurt when I laugh," Audrey Hepburn told visitors, "so don't say anything funny."

X-rays indicate the 29-year-old actress suffered two fractured vertebrae Wednesday when she was thrown from a horse during filming of the Western "Unforgiven." Shooting of the movie was suspended for at least two weeks.

Miss Hepburn was being kept immobile in bed at the home she rented here.

Miss Hepburn was galloping an Arabian stallion along a river bank 16 miles from Durango when camera trouble developed. Someone yelled "cut!" The horse stopped abruptly and she was pitched over its head.

His Slap Puts End to Romance

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. —(AP)— A roughhouse scene that wasn't in any script seems to have broken up the engagement of Comedienne Joan Davis and her fiance.

JOAN

Miss Davis, 46, had Real Estate Agent Harvey Stock, 35, arrested on a misdemeanor complaint charging assault and battery. She protested that a slap he gave her was much too hard to be called a love tap.

At her Palm Springs home, Miss Davis was asked if they are still engaged.

"It doesn't look that way, does it?" she replied sadly.

Bond or Jail, So He Settles

MELBOURNE, Australia —(AP)— Ave Gardner's visiting Italian boy friend got out of a troublesome lawsuit by agreeing to go ahead with a show in Melbourne Stadium Feb. 7.

Italian Movie Star Walter Chiari came to Australia 12 days ago to see Miss Gardner, who is making a movie. He agreed to star in the show, then remembered a TV commitment in Rome.

. . . before the spill

Chiari said he would come back in a month to do the Melbourne show. But the sponsors demanded and got a court order requiring Chiari to post 1,000 pounds ($2,240) bond or go to jail.

• PEOPLE •

Several hours before he was due to catch a Rome-bound plane, Chiari reached an out-of-court agreement. He decided his TV commitments in Italy could wait until Feb. 13.

Thrill Killer Hospitalized

HOUSTON, Tex. —(AP)— Diana Daye Humphries, 16, who killed her brother because nothing exciting happened around their home was sent to a state hospital at Austin for an indefinite period.

The commitment order wasn't contested. Robert D. Humphries Jr., 14, was shot to death Sept. 10.

"I was bored," Diana said in a signed statement to officers. "All we do is eat, sleep and watch TV."

Breakfast Nude Just Too Much

FORT WORTH, Tex. —(UPI)— Mrs. Jessie Hicks told the judge she didn't mind when her 76-year-old husband didn't dress for dinner, but it was too much when he came for his toast and coffee each morning in the nude. She won a divorce.

Two Mothers With a Bond of Sorrow and Joy

Mrs. Tavarez

Mrs. Chionchio

NEW YORK —(AP)— Two mothers — with the common bond of deep sorrow and then great joy — met for the first time. They are Mrs. Frances Chionchio and Mrs. Jose Tavarez.

Lisa Rose Chionchio, kidnaped Jan. 2 from St. Peter's Hospital, and John Tavarez, stolen three weeks later from the family apartment, were born only three days apart. Lisa Rose is home with her parents. Johnny is being treated at Roosevelt Hospital for a slight cold.

Mrs. Tavarez was taken to the Brooklyn home of Mrs. Chionchio, where both women embraced and beamed at one another.

"What a beautiful little girl," Mrs. Tavarez exclaimed in Spanish, pointing at Lisa Rose.

The women told each other how they had prayed that their respective babies would be restored to their homes.

Cuba Cuts Off Civil Liberties

Move Designed To Speed Trials

HAVANA, Cuba — (UPI) — The Cuban government suspended three articles of the constitution for 90 days Friday to give revolutionary tribunals sweeping jurisdiction over "war criminals" and to speed trials.

The action will let revolutionary authorities arrest and hold suspects for more than 72 hours without producing them in court and will permit the tribunals to try civilian as well as military defendants.

The trials were scheduled to be resumed in Havana's Cabana fortress and nearby Camp Columbia on an accelerated basis. Foremost defendent was "war criminal No. 3," Lt. Col. Ricardo L. Grao.

Simultaneously, the supreme military tribunal was summoned to hear appeals of the top two "war criminals," Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco and Maj. Pedro Morejon Valdes.

Informed sources predicted the appeals would be rejected and the two men would be shot at dawn.

Firing squads Friday executed one soldier and four members of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer's private army in Manzanillo. They were convicted of being "war assassins."

The council of ministers moved to legalize gambling again in the same session in which it suspended the constitutional guarantees.

Meeting until nearly dawn—much of Cuba's official business is conducted at night to escape the daytime heat — the ministers designated a high-level three-man commission to draft a new gambling law.

Revolutionary Leader Fidel Castro has said that if the casinos were reopened, "respectable businessmen" would have to operate them, no Cubans could gamble in them and the government would get 50 to 70 per cent of the take.

This appeared to mean the old Las Vegas crowd that operated the casinos under President Fulgencio Batista was out.

Castro and President Manuel Urrutia had opposed any organized gambling under the new regime, but apparently pressure from about 10,000 Cubans who benefit directly or indirectly from the casinos, plus their value as a tourist attraction, changed their minds.

Palace Secretary Luis Buch put out a formal announcement denying Urrutia intended to resign. He characterized rumors that he was leaving as designed to "create confusion."

Ex-President Carlos Prio Socarras threw his whole-hearted support behind the provisional government Friday and said he and Castro had no differences. He said Castro's movement was making steady progress in eliminating Communists who infiltrated labor leadership under Batista.

Old Town Resists Nobly

Progress Puts Its Foot Inside Salerno's Door

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

SALERNO — It's nice to be able to report that my favorite to-heck-with-progress town is still resisting nobly—in the face of swelling odds.

How much longer they can hold the line is debatable. The bulldozers are clanking and puffing all around the town's perimeter. One enterprising real estate operator has cut a big canal into Manatee Pocket, around which the town lies.

There's more huffing and puffing over on Rocky Point, within rifle shot of the St. Lucie inlet.

The commercial fishermen, who make up the core of this town's year around population, remain quite unimpressed. Most of them still hold to the theory that paint is stuff you must put on boats, but not necessarily on houses.

Only real shocker of the downtown area is the huge and modernistic Salerno Apartment Motel, which looks about as out of place as a Park Ave. dowager tieing one on in a back country juke joint.

Business there appeared far from brisk.

Friends said that the type of people who come to Salerno as tourists—sports fishermen, artists, writers and other seekers of the "different"—prefer the more simple local accommodations.

One rambling old fish house has given up the ghost and its site now is occupied by the new and shiny Manatee Marina with modern cottages, a boat ramp and complete marine service.

But places like the long established Fishin' Hole and Pirates Cove Hotel still draw the faithful, the ones who come here year after year. Trailer folks predominate at the Fishin' Hole, although there is also a brisk trade in cottage and boat rentals.

The Manatee Marina was financed by the fellow who makes those vibrating chairs, and as the local folks watched the big place take form there were a lot of gags about how efficient they must be in shaking money out of their purchasers.

My longtime friend here, Lee Frazier, the fellow who gained immortal fame by sawing a boat in two when he and his partner argued about its ownership, has pulled up and gone. No one was quite sure where, but there was a report that he decided the town was getting "too danged grown up."

Lee's murals still decorate one of the downtown bistros. The fellow held to the theory that no picture was worth painting if it required anything smaller than a three inch brush.

Harold Kline, another friend and who sometimes doubles as my local spy here, is back for

School Unit OKs Seven New Sites

More Palm Beach News, Pages 1B, 9A

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The Palm Beach County School Board Friday OKd seven prospective school sites in Westward Expansion, a "city within a city" development on West Palm's western outskirts.

Totaling about 80 acres, the properties would serve as sites for four elementary schools, one junior-senior high, one junior high, and an addition to the present Roosevelt Elementary.

The action means that Westward developers will reserve the land for the School Board. Price and other details will be worked out later.

The School Board Friday also referred for study 10 bids on a three-classroom and cafetorium addition to Belvedere School. Apparent low bidder was Acme Maintenance Co., at $99,850.

The board was informed that Palm Beach Junior College is launching a new two-year professional nursing program in cooperation with Good Samaritan Hospital this fall.

The junior college and Good Samaritan have had an affiliated program on a three-year nursing course for the last 10 years.

John F. Wymer Jr., Good Samaritan administrator, in a memo to the board wrote: "This relatively new and modern concept in nursing education envisions an increased enrollment and consequently more registered nurses to fulfill the great need presently existing in our country."

Classroom instruction will be given at the college and all clinical experience will be given at Good Samaritan. The hospital, meanwhile, will continue its present three-year course until all students now enrolled have completed their work.

Sen. Green Bows Out Of Post

Committee Chief, 91, Lightens Load

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday accepted the resignation of Sen. Theodore F. Green (D., R.I.) as its chairman.

Green, at 91 the oldest member of the Senate, asked to be relieved of his chairmanship because of failing eyesight and hearing.

After a hastily summoned closed meeting of the committee, members said they had unanimously urged Green to reconsider his resignation, but he declined to do so.

A new chairman was not elected at the meeting, but Sen. J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.) is the next ranking Democratic member in seniority and his election is expected to be only a formality.

Fulbright already is chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, but presumably would relinquish that post to head the Foreign Relations Committee.

Fulbright gave reporters a rundown on his views after the Green resignation was announced.

He called on the administration to "get off dead center" in its relations with Russia and Communist China and stuck to his past criticism of the Eisenhower foreign policies as "inadequate, outmoded and misdirected."

Fulbright said the U.S. should offer to negotiate with Russia and China on such issues as West Berlin, Korea, Viet Nam and Formosa.

Green wrote Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas that "while I have the physical stamina to carry on as chairman, I am forced to conclude that it will be a long while before my eyesight has been fully restored and this handicap removed."

The Providence (R.I.) Journal had called editorially Thursday for Green to step down from the chairmanship. The editorial said it believed Green lacked the physical strength and was too old to hold the important post at this time.

Green's letter to Johnson said "as we both well know, my decision to resign is not based upon misleading newspaper articles or slanted editorials by a few callous newspaper writers."

25th Thor Roars Off On Full-Range Test

CAPE CANAVERAL — (AP) — The nation's 25th Thor intermediate range ballistic missile surged up Friday night on the roaring start of another full-range space test.

The powerful Thor — already on operational alert status with NATO forces in England — shot skyward from a cascade of white flame and smoke at 8:53 p.m. The blastoff appeared to run smoothly in contrast with the last shoot Dec. 20 when the 65-foot war rocket blew apart in spectacular style, high in the sky.

The Thor was blinking as it climbed. Once again it was equipped with a huge light capable of generating 17 million candlepower.

As the Douglas weapon reached spaceward huge ballistic tracking cameras stationed at strategic spots along the range zeroed in on the flashing light.

The cameras record the missile's space trip with pinpoint accuracy. The launching was another 1,700 statute mile full-range shot. Thor was designed for this distance but it once traveled as far as 2,600 miles on an earlier test.

UF to Admit Another Negro

The University's announcement followed close on a statement by Gov. LeRoy Collins that the 1959 legislature ought to consider closing graduate schools at Florida A&M University at Tallahassee.

2 Pilots Named Space Candidates

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — (AP) — Bewildered but proud, two veteran Air Force test pilots are trying to digest the news that they might soon swap their super-sonic jet planes for a spaceship.

Capt. Bogan

. . . 'hard to believe'

Capt. Bradbury

. . . wife doesn't know

Capt. Tom Bogan, 35, and Capt. William Bradbury, 33, were informed that they had been chosen with 108 other men as candidates for man's first venture to outer space.

Their names were the first to be released after the spaceman program was announced Tuesday by Keith Glennan, U.S. space chief.

"It was pretty hard to believe," Bogan said and Bradbury nodded in agreement.

The two pilots were interviewed by News Director Ken Conner of Radio Station KFRB, who had learned of the men's selection for the space project from an undisclosed news source. Air Force officials confirmed it.

Bogan and Bradbury are on temporary duty at Eielson Air Force Base near here from Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Bogan flies an F106 in subzero temperature tests while Bradbury speed tests an F101B.

Bogan, of Goodland, Ind., and Bradbury, who hails from Houston, Tex., told Conner they have had no special training as yet for the space venture. But both have more than double the required 1,500 flying hours and are within the maximum height of 5 feet 11 inches.

"My six-year-old daughter is just learning to say jet airplane," Bradbury said thoughtfully, "and would not realize what the mission involves."

The two pilots are married but their wives do not yet know of their husbands' candidacy as U.S. spacemen.

Debbie Asks Early Trial

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Debbie Reynolds Friday asked for early trial of her suit for divorce from Eddie Fisher and the date was set as Feb. 17.

Her attorney told the court the two have reached a property settlement, terms undisclosed. He said she wants an early divorce so she can go to Spain at the end of the month to make a movie.

The screen beauty and the crooner split last year over the latter's attentions to Actress Elizabeth Taylor. Eddie and Liz have been frequent companions since.

When Miss Reynolds filed her suit last December she did not mention Miss Taylor. Her charge was cruelty of an unspecified nature. Fisher is not contesting the action.

Titanic's Death Toll Was 1,517

By United Press International

The ramming of an iceberg by a Danish freighter in the North Atlantic Friday was reminiscent of the sinking of the liner Titanic in 1912 — the worst peace-time ship disaster in recent history.

The $7,500,000 Titanic, described by its builders as unsinkable, was on its maiden voyage from England to the U.S. when it struck an iceberg off Newfoundland.

A total of 1,517 persons, including John Jacob Astor and others prominent in business, industry and society, lost their lives. The liner Carpathia, which heard the Titanic's SOS, rescued about 706 persons from the water and from lifeboats.

The same year that the Titanic sank the Japanese steamship Kickermaru went down off the coast of Japan. That disaster killed 1,000 persons.

The collision of the liner Andrea Doria and the Stockholm off Nantucket island on July 25, 1956, was the last major ship disaster in the Atlantic. The Andrea Doria sank with a loss of 50 lives.

Other major ship disasters have included:

Collision of the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Ireland with a Danish collier in the St. Lawrence river in 1914, with a loss of 1,024 lives.

Sinking of the Chinese steamer Hain Yu off the China coast in 1916, with a loss of 1,000 lives.

Sinking of the steamer Hong Kong off the China coast after hitting a rock in 1921, with a loss of 1,200 lives.

Trawler Stands By Helplessly

Rescue Blocked By Raging Seas

By Herald Wire Services

HALIFAX, N.S. — A small Danish ship on her maiden voyage with 130 persons aboard struck an iceberg off Greenland Friday. She was slowly sinking while a small trawler nearby, thwarted by fog and heavy seas, stood by helpless to aid her.

The stricken ship, the 2,875-ton Hans Hedtoft, was going down about 600 miles from the North Atlantic graveyard of the Titanic, in an uncanny parallel to one of history's great disasters.

"Slowly sinking and need immediate assistance," was the last word from the stricken vessel, the Hans Hedtoft, whose skipper is reputed to be the greatest of all his nation's Arctic navigators.

Reports from Copenhagen said an American Air Force helicopter was hovering above the ship.

The Titanic also was on its maiden voyage when it struck an iceberg on April 14, 1912, with a loss of 1,517 lives. The sinking of the Titanic occurred off the coast of Newfoundland while the ship was en route from Southampton, England, to New York.

The Royal Greenland Trade Department, operator of the Hans Hedtoft, said the 288-foot ship was completed last Dec. 19 and was believed to be making its way back to Copenhagen after several stops in Greenland on its first voyage.

The vessel had made several trial runs previously. It was under the command of P. L. Rasmussen.

The Hans Hedtoft's first call for help was heard at 11:54 a.m. Friday. The ship said it had rammed an iceberg that slashed its hull near the engine room and was "filling fast" with water.

The stricken vessel gave its position as approximately 59.5 degrees north and 43 west, about 37 miles south-southwest of Cape Farewell, Greenland.

The U. S. Air Force ordered its air-sea rescue squadron at Goose Bay to give any help it could. U. S. units at the Keflavik Air Base near Reykjavik, Iceland, also were alerted, and Danish naval forces at Groennedal, Greenland, said they were standing by.

All ports in the vicinity of the crippled ship were reported iced in.

Danish shipbuilders, who pooled their know-how to build the Hedtoft for their government, regarded her as the

Russia 5 Years Ahead On ICBMs, Expert Says

Von Braun Reports To Senate

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Dr. Wernher von Braun said Friday it would take the U.S. five years to overtake Russia in the intercontinental ballistic missile field even if this country decided to go all out.

The German-born rocket expert, head of developmental work at the Army's Ballistic Missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., told Senate investigators he was speaking from a technological standpoint, without reference to numbers of ICBM's.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy testified Thursday that Russia will have more ICBM's in a year or two because this country is not trying to match the Soviet missile for missile. He said neither nation now has an "operational" ICBM.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) said that McElroy was "not correct" when he said Thursday the U.S. would have a squadron of intercontinental ballistic missiles ready for use on the west coast in July.

Symington, a former Air Force secretary, said "there is no plan to have anything like one operational squadron of ICBM's in July of this year."

Von Braun, referring to peaceful space exploration, also said it would take the U.S. a year to overtake Russia in that field even if the Soviets stood still during that time.

Von Braun joined Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the Federal Space Agency, in testifying before the Senate Space-Preparedness Committee that Russia is ahead of the U.S. in space exploration.

Glennan said it was reasonable to assume that Russia's great rocket power had shot the Soviets a year and a half ahead. Like others, he said it is in rocket thrust that the Soviets enjoy an advantage. Glennan said this country is equal in most other fields and is working with wartime speed on rockets.

As for ICBM's, Von Braun said that if Russia continues full speed ahead, it would take the U.S. five years to catch up — provided the U.S. decided on an accelerated program.

Von Braun asked for an additional $140,000,000 alone to speed construction of a cluster of Jupiter rockets. They would be used to hurl a militarily valuable communications satellite into orbit or to send tons of equipment deep into space.

The cluster would have one and a half million pounds of thrust. But according to committee testimony it would not be ready for three years under present planning.

Von Braun agreed with Glennan and two of Glennan's aides — Drs. Homer Stewart and W. H. Pickering — that there is nothing phony about Russis's claim that its "Lunik" rocket shot past the moon and is now orbiting the sun.

Police Say Tout Shot Wrong Man

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Maxim Gay, the crippled tout who pumped three bullets into John Madala, Hialeah Race Course security chief, meant to shoot Madala's brother instead, track authorities disclosed Friday.

The brother, Joseph Madala, is a member of the security force in charge of tip sheet operations.

Gay, an elderly tip sheet peddler, bent with arthritis, told investigators he sought revenge because the track had "taken away my living" by prohibiting sales on the premises.

"Joe was the one that Gay was looking for," revealed Everett Clay, track executive.

Witnesses to the shooting recalled that Gay later told Joseph Madala:

"You are the one I was trying to kill."

Track officials further noted that John Madala was not acquainted with Gay.

John had just finished talking with his brother at the track Thursday when Gay walked up and suddenly fired three .38 caliber slugs into the security director.

Madala's condition was listed as serious Friday at Doctor's Hospital, where doctors are treating him for bullet wounds in the abdomen, left side and left hand.

9 Die as Flames Hit Nursing Home

GLEN ELLYN, Ill. — (UPI) — Uncontrollable fire raged through an old, castle-like nursing home Friday, trapping elderly and crippled patients in their beds and killing at least nine persons.

The last charred body was taken from the ruins of the Glen Ellyn Acres Nursing Home Friday night, after flames swept the second floor of the rambling stucco and frame mansion.

Seven bodies, none identified, were found in the burned-out building. Another man was dead of burns on arrival at a hospital and Assistant Fire Chief Don Stofferegan, 58, suffered a fatal heart attack while manning a fire truck.

Fire Chief James Brody called off the search for more bodies after the discovery of the last victim huddled on the first floor near the chimney.

Ten patients and seven employes of the home were hospitalized with burns and other injuries.

The fire apparently started in the electrical wiring on the second floor of the home, an antique building known as "The Castle" which was believed to be almost 100 years old. Only the walls of the building were left standing. Damage was estimated at $50,000.

Nurses, orderlies and firemen carried the survivors, many of them screaming, from the building as flames leaped 40 feet into the air. Many of the patients were unable to walk. A 200-pound bedfast woman was too heavy to carry and had to be abandoned to the flames.

Firemen and orderlies told how they were unable to save old persons even though they reached their sides. In many cases, the would be rescuers were driven back by flames which licked at the victims' bodies.

De Gaulle Renews Plea

PAIRS — (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle renewed Friday night his offer to Algerian rebel leaders to come to France and arrange a cease-fire in the four-year-old war.

". . . The war can lead to nothing but useless miseries. It certainly should end," De Gaulle told a nationwide radio audience.

"When?" he asked. "Why not quickly, in the honorable conditions that I have proposed?"

De Gaulle's reference was to his Oct. 23 offer to rebel leaders to come to France under safe conduct to discuss a cease-fire.

The rebels promptly rejected De Gaulle's offer at that time.

safest and most modern of Arctic ships. She was designed to ram her way through the heavy pack ice around Greenland. She had all conceivable navigational and warnings instruments and her lifeboats were said to be the most modern of any merchant vessel afloat.

Search and rescue officers said transferring passengers and crewmen to the 167-foot trawler would be a hazardous operation in rough weather. They said anyone forced into the freezing Atlantic at this time of the year would last "just over 60 seconds."

The Coast Guard said winds were clocked at 35 knots and seas were running high, from 18 to 24 feet, in the vicinity of the battered freighter. Canadian air-sea rescue officers reported snow, fog and rain, and a ceiling of 100 feet. The weather bureau here said no break in the weather could be expected before today.

his umpteenth winter, and as enthusiastic about the old town as he always has been. Harold owns the big Lost Lake summer resort in New York state.

When that is locked up for the season he hurries down here and occupies a fisherman's little cottage he bought years ago on a street lined with drying fish nets and boats in various stages of disrepair. The inside is modernized. The outside remains untouched.

Harold is an ardent apostle of the let's-keep-things-simple school of thought, but he has done quite well on the splurge of real estate activities around the town. He did his buying in the years before everyone went crazy.

William M. Stanger, a resident here, is currently waging a one-man and apparently not quite successful campaign against juvenile delinquency. Probably these kids are no worse than the kids in other towns, but Stanger thinks there's a very broad sprinkling of young hellions.

In letters to The Stuart News, the county judge, the sheriff, and the prosecuting attorney, he charged that a house burned to the ground because some young so and so stole the gas out of the Volunteer Fire Department's truck.

With tongue in cheek, he listed a long list of other depredations the kids might try, virtually everything from pulling up young corn to poisoning the well at the orphanage.

Still another new touch here is a small but fine state park and boat-launching site where boats turn in from the main channel. The place bulges with family groups having fun.

O'Conner's Restaurant, whose beef stews we have touted the length of Florida, has been sold and is now the Pendora (it is NOT Pandora). Our local spy says the food is good, and at prices so low they would make a Miami restaurant keeper drop dead.

It's still a nice old town, but progress may get 'em yet.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

YOUR TOWN CRIER now is in the horse show business. Knowing we need about $300,000 a year to care for sick and crippled indigent children at Variety Children's Hospital, I just can't seem to say "no" when someone wants to help.

BELL

My horse show will be staged by South Miami Riding Club, Feb. 13-14-15. There's a prior show at Dinner Key Feb. 5-8, opening the Sunshine Circuit. The same champions then will shift to the South Miami grounds on Kendall Dr.

The South Miami horsemen want to help the hospital, which is in their sector of Greater Miami. Variety Club officers decided they'd rather not sponsor the show. So I feel honored that Walter Pierce and his South Miami group said "If you'll help us we'll give all the money to the hospital anyway." I will, so they will. I'm a sucker for horse shows anyway.

Now all I need are purchasers of trophies and boxes. The South Miami folks have worked so hard the show expenses are already in the bank. Every cent we take in goes to the hospital. Boxes are $35 for the three days, six chairs each. The parking space behind the box is an extra $5. Trophies are $25 or $50. It's deductible.

Scene Change

The old Everglades Hotel is under transformation into the new Everglades. And a little party Friday evening sort of set up the new idea, even if there were a few echoes from World War II.

The party was for Air Force men, here for the big show opening our new International airport. Col. Benjamin B. Cassiday Jr., deputy commander of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, represented the academy.

Maj. Gen. John W. Persons, commander of the famous 14th Flying Tiger Air Force; Col. Seth McKee, skipper of Homestead Air Force base; pilots of the famous Thunderbird precision flying team; missile wisemen from Cape Canaveral: They were all over the place in their military sartorial splendor.

Y'know, harking back to World War II, the Everglades had a far different military demeanor. It was taken over by the Navy and used as a barracks for enlisted men.

'Not the End of It,' Say Flunked Students

By PHIL MEYER
Herald Staff Writer

A "mass meeting" of flunked physics students was called Friday at the University of Miami north campus.

Fifteen showed up.

The students, part of the 221 out of 319 who failed freshman physics, huddled under a spreading palm tree in the Anastasia Building courtyard and sympathized with each other.

"This isn't the end of it," said their leader, Oscar (Ozzie) New, who sported blue-tinted spectacles and a day's start toward a rebel-type beard.

"We've paid a total of $16,000 worth of tuition and there's nothing to show for it."

A few of the rebels broke for the shadows as a photographer, summoned by a tip on the mass meeting, appeared on the scene.

"See," said New. "No free speech. Afraid to be seen here."

One student in the group, sort of a non-conformist, admitted he had not flunked like the others. He'd gotten a C.

"I sure wish they would explain to me why I only got a C," he muttered glumly.

The little band tried to lay plans for its next move.

"If only they wouldn't ignore us," said New. "Why doesn't the administration say something?"

Another student had an idea. "Why don't we draw up a list of our grievances and present 'em to somebody," he said.

There were nods of assent.

New, notebook in hand, headed for an empty classroom to work on the list of grievances. A few followed him.

The rest straggled out and strolled across the campus, soaking up the afternoon sun.

National Summary

Surges of Pacific winds across the Northwestern states have continued to spread moisture for light snow through the northern Rockies and into South Dakota and Nebraska while the build up of cool air over the plateau states has given snow thru eastern Nevada and stormy weather in the mountains of western Utah.

Clearing skies are expected over New England with colder weather from the Plains to the Atlantic and most of the Gulf states. A moist pattern across the southland will spread northward again Saturday offering chance of snow and sleet from Western Tennessee into portions of the lower Ohio Valley.

Snow flurries will be scattered over the Great Lakes and into the Northern and Central Appalachians.

Fair weather should remain in the Southwest with slightly cooler air settling into northern Airzona but in the cold pattern of fair skies over northern portions of the plains and Mississippi Valley temperatures are forecast as low as 35 below zero in Minnesota and North Dakota.

Periods of rainy weather are in view over the northern Pacific states with light rain reaching northern California during the night while showers of rain or snow are likely across the northern plateau region.

Martin Situation 'Not Bad'

Who Started Canal Feud? Not Us, Says FCD Chief

By ED PFISTER
WPB Bureau Chief

WEST PALM BEACH — The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control district has been pretty much "an innocent bystander" in a feud it touched off between Martin and St. Lucie counties over plans for three canals.

George E. Dail Jr., executive director of the FCD, said Thursday the situation is nowhere as bad as Martin fork of the St. Lucie and believe it is.

The fued and its causes have been outlined in a series of articles by Herald Staff Writer Steve Trumbull, who said the two counties are tossing verbal barrages at each other.

Cause of the differences is that the FCD plans to have two of three canals it proposes to build empty into the north for of the St. Lucie and only one in St. Lucie County.

Martin thinks it has been put upon because it already has the heavy discharge from the St. Lucie River which it has frequently protested is ruining fishing and other sports in the Stuart area.

It thinks putting the discharge from two more canals into the St. Lucie River in Martin County and permitting St. Lucie County to get away with only one, is adding insult to injury.

But Director Dail thinks Martin may be getting itself all roiled up without too much reason.

He explained, "All the FCD plans to to is turn three waterways that are there right now into proper canals and put control structures in them so the flow of water will actually be controlled.

The main bone of contention at the moment, he said, is canal C-23a, which empties into the north fork of the St. Lucie. Attention has been focused on the canal because the FCD has already called for bids on the work.

Dail said under current FCD plans, the "canalization" of the two waterways emptying into the Martin County area should not cause Martin any additional trouble.

"Actually," he said, "the control structures which will go into the canals will provide a measure of protection because the flow of water into the St. Lucie can be regulated, whereas now there are no controls."

The canals that are causing all the furore include in addition to C-23a, the Belcher Canal in St. Lucie County in the Fort Pierce area, which on the records is known as C-25; and C-24, which also runs into the north fork of the St. Lucie in Martin County.

St. Lucie wants the canals to increase its drainage facilities. Martin County wants no more water pouring out to sea at Stuart.

Dail said "we have heard 'echoes' of the feud between the two counties over the situation but there has been no direct reaction. Largely we have followed it by reading the papers."

He called Trumbull's series of articles "very interesting" and "accurate."

On Ad Board Stand

Williams Called 'Way Out of Line'

By ED PFISTER
WPB Bureau Chief

WEST PALM BEACH — Mayor Horace S. Miller Friday slapped back at former acting City Attorney John R. Williams for his criticism of the City Commission.

Miller said Williams "is way out of line and is expressing one man's opinion that doesn't agree with that of several prominent attorneys the commissioners have consulted."

Williams earlier in the week accused all but one member of the board of "flabbiness" for not coming to the aid of Commissioner Sylvan Burdick in criticism of the Advertising Commission.

He said the commission had to settle the question revolving around appropriations for the Board and contended every member of the board had been determined in August to make a thorough study of the issue.

Mayor Miller said that so far as the members of the City Commission are concerned, the issue of the Advertising Commission appropriations was settled long ago.

He charged only Commissioner Burdick was keeping it alive and implied his object was to "get publicity."

The mayor pointed out that St. Petersburg appropriates over $200,000 for the Chamber of Commerce and that he feels the West Palm Beach Commission procedure is strictly legal.

The mayor also took the view that Williams has been upset ever since the city commission last August apparently shrugged off his opinions.

The attorney served during a period when City Attorney Egbert Beall was out of the city, and among other things ruled that then City Manager Keith R. Chinn could not appoint himself director of public works.

5 Nominated To Academy

U.S. Rep. Paul G. Rogers of the Sixth District of Florida Friday announced his nominations to the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

Among the young men nominated from the Sixth District are:

Jay Freeman, won of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Freeman, 637 S. Main St., Belle Glade.

George McElhenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. McElhenny Sr., Pahokee.

Robert Marshall, son of Mrs. Priscilla Marshall, 134 W. 27th St., Riviera Beach.

Dan Nielsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erik R. Nielsen, 432 W. 14th St., Riviera Beach.

Rober Svoboda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Soboda, 917 N C St., Lake Worth.

Oldster Recreation Urged

Rockin' Chair's Got 'Em

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The oldsters in this town don't want to sit and rock.

But, according to City Commissioner L. W. Kelloway, old rockin' chair's got them anyway.

KELLOWAY

"There's not enough for the old folks to do," he lamented Friday.

He advocated square dances for oldsters who are still full of verve and dash. "You know those dances where they holler. We could have those in city park or one of the recreation centers," the commissioner said.

Kelloway claimed the city's Recreation Department was laying too much stress on youth activities to the virtual exclusion of programs for the rocking chair set.

"Oh, they have shuffleboard and lawn bowling, but it's inadequate," he said.

Kelloway reported he had received complaints from oldsters about the dull doings in West Palm Beach.

"These people have a lot of time on their hands. They want things to do," he said. "With a little incentive from the Recreation Department, they'd do things on their own."

Kelloway classed people "60 or above" in the rocking chair set. "We're doing plenty for the kids. We have tennis, swimming pools, slides, rides and everything else," he said.

Kelloway contended the youth programs were now fully adequate and should not be expanded further. "We have to concentrate on stuff for the old folks now," he said.

"We don't want to compete with St. Petersburg," Kelloway continued, "but we do have a certain number of retired people here and we should take care of them."

The commissioner said the city could get the oldsters out of their rocking chairs by spending a "minimum" of money to expand recreational programs.

Unit Gets Gift

A gift of $15,000 for the establishment of a special permanent fund has been made to The International Oceanographic Foundation by Mr. and Mrs. H. Tyson Lykes of Palm Beach.

The gift will be known as the H. Tyson Lykes Fund for Education and Research in the Marine Sciences.

Nobody Here But Us Poachers

'Flying Dutchman' Sails Again

By BILL BECK
Herald Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — You might call this a "fishy story."

Apparently involved are a state conservation agent, five poachers and a ghostly Coast Guard boat on the order of the "Flying Dutchman."

It began around 1 a.m. Friday when Conservation Agent Ronald Purdom spotted five poachers setting illegal nets in Lake Worth near Little Peanut Island.

As he watched and inched his way closer, Purdom said he saw the men make their way to Big Peanut Island and start to unload fish from their boat.

He ordered them to halt. Instead they took to their heels, ran across the island, dived into the channel and started swimming the 350 yards across to the mainland.

With the aid of his field glasses, Purdom said he saw a Coast Guard boat, "or a boat that looked exactly like a Coast Guard boat," pick up the men in the middle of the channel and let them off on the mainland at Riviera Beach.

"I called the Riviera Beach police," Purdom said, "and they in turn called the Coast Guard and were informed that a patrol boat had picked up five men who said they were forced to swim for it when the bottom of their boat fell out."

Contacted later, the Coast Guard said it had no record of having a patrol boat out at that time of the morning. The officer of the day said, "If a patrol boat had picked up anyone we'd have a record of it, along with the names of the persons rescued."

The dispatcher at the Riviera Beach Police Dept. said he could find no record on his log of any conversation with Purdom or with the Coast Guard.

Spokesmen for both agencies allowed, "It could have happened the way Purdom said, but we don't know anything about it."

Meanwhile Purdom fumed, "Imagine any big organization not keeping daily records. I think that's pretty shoddy."

Even if he doesn't have any confirmation, at least Purdom has 400 yards of net, a 14-foot inboard motorboat and 600 pounds of assorted fish.

Well, anyway, he has the net and boat. He gave the fish to the County Home.

'Cheap' Parking Urged

WPB Downtown Business Off

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — Moderately-priced off-street parking in West Palm Beach would beef up downtown business by 10 to 20 per cent.

Ben Wolfson, president of the Retail Merchants Division, Chamber of Commerce, said Friday the lack of "cheap" parking was losing merchants roughly 10 to 20 per cent of their business.

"We can't keep taking it," Wolfson said.

He predicted that if off-street parking facilities were not provided in a year "the foundations of the downtown business area will go to pot."

The city commission recently created a Parking Committee to work out a plan to provide "cheap" parking in the heart of downtown. Attempts in the past to expand parking facilities have come to naught.

Wolfson pointed out that downtown parking was not the only problem but contended it had priority.

"The largest shopping area is downtown," he said. "We've got to keep it as is."

However, he added, a long-range plan would also include proposed parking facilities for smaller trading areas in outlying sections of the city.

Easy parking encourages more window shopping, he said. "And when people come to look they end up spending," Wolfson said.

Federal Judge Denies School Integration Bid

PB Negro Sought Admission

By ARTHUR JOHNSEY
Herald Staff Writer

Federal Judge Emett C. Choate turned down a request of a Negro attorney Friday to order the Palm Beach County School Board to end segregation now at Northboro School.

He made it clear he would deny — if lawyers persisted in pressing for it — a motion on behalf of William Holland, Negro lawyer suing on behalf of his son, for summary integration.

But Judge Choate suggested several other courses of action by which they might amend their complaint and keep the case alive.

Attorneys for Holland and his eight-year-old son sought the order for integration. They said it should follow the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling in the same case at New Orleans last September.

The Circuit Court ruled that Florida school boards must make a "prompt and reasonable start to good faith compliance" with the U.S. Supreme Court integration mandate.

The ruling reversed an original ruling by Judge Choate in the case.

But Judge Choate said Friday the Supreme Court's subsequent ruling upholding Alabama's pupil assignment law — similar to the Florida law — changed the legal situation.

Before taking final action in the case, Choate said, he will give Holland a chance to decide whether to challenge Florida's pupil assignment law directly, or to attempt to gain admission for the child under the state's law.

The New Orleans court ruled that responsibility to see that no child is deprived of his rights rests with school boards, and that it is up to district courts to require "good faith compliance" with the desegregation mandate.

The judge said, "I'll hold now the Pupil Assignment Act hasn't been complied with by your client."

Application on behalf of the Holland child was made to the School Board but no effort had been made to appeal from the ruling denying admission. The pupil assignment law provides avenues of appeal from a local board decision to a state board and to the state courts.

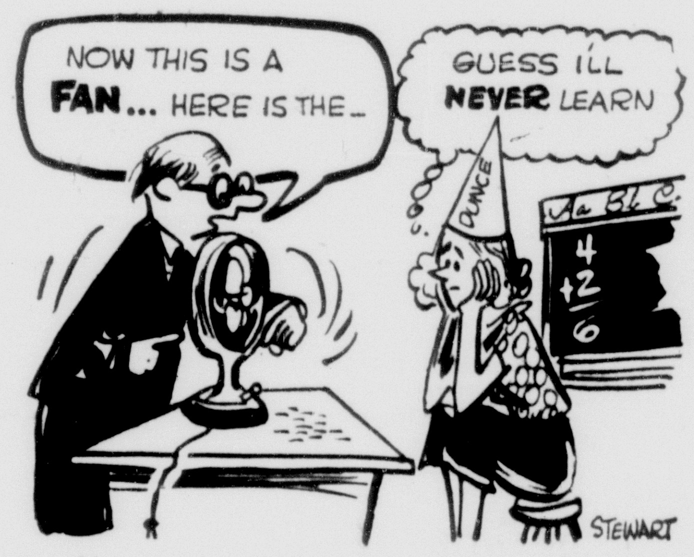
Talking informally with attorneys, the judge suggested that another application might be made for admission during the second semester.

If the child is turned down again, the appeal could be taken and denial of admission then could be tested in the courts on the basis of whether the state's administrative machinery led to a denial of the child's rights.

A Heated Argument

To Fan or Not to Fan?

By ROSE ALLEGATO
Herald Bureau



WEST PALM BEACH — Does classroom comfort count?

Palm Beach County School Board members, sitting in their air-conditioned meeting room, argued Friday about the long hot summer in public school classrooms.

The point in dispute: fans.

Ralph Kettler, school board chairman, argued that the school system was wasting taxpayers money on fans.

"The teachers don't know how to use them. Fans are ineffective unless operated properly," Kettler said.

Harold Turner, Delray member, insisted, "You can teach any child to use a fan. It's elemental. We definitely need a cooling system. Comfort ups efficiency."

Kettler said that all efforts to teach teachers to use the fans properly have failed.

"One in 10 rooms are not operating them right. The wrong windows are open and the doors are open," Kettler said.

The issue came up over installing fans in a three-classroom addition to Lakeshore Elementary School. Kettler wanted to leave them out. Turner and Thurman Knight wanted them in. Member Jack Horner was non-committal, observing only "There is a great difference of opinion."

Knight, a member from the Glades district, said, "It might be cooler on the coast but it is terribly hot where we are." He contended that unless the school board provided wall fans, other portable cooling devices would be brought into the classrooms.

"They can be dangerous. Children can get their hands caught in them," Knight said.

The matter was finally referred to Supt. Howell Watkins for study and recommendation.

Watkins defended teachers, pointing out that it often was the students who opened the wrong windows.

"We could have a campaign on how to use the fans," he suggested.

Cuban Embargo Cuts Speculation in Pesos

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — By limiting to $50 the amount of pesos that can be taken into Cuba, Fidel Castro's government apparently has put a quick stop to speculation in Cuban currency.

He may also have cut off a supply of funds for refugees from the Batista regime who fled to this country heeled only with Cuban money.

Attorney William E. Chester said Friday an advertisement offering to buy pesos at a discount had been placed in The Miami Herald by a client of his whom he did not identity.

He said the object was to make some money by cashing in the pesos in Cuba.

But he said when the Castro embargo on bringing in Cuban money over $50 was put on Thursday, it made the purchase of pesos less profitable.

Previously larger amounts of Cuban money—recently up to $100—could be taken into Cuba. Chester said the picture had been changing almost every day and pointed out the banks in this county were not accepting Cuban money.

More than 40 of the Batista refugees are residing in and about the Palm Beaches.

Pilot Sues Over Hole in Taxi Strip

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — A Palm Beach County man who said he cracked up his twin-engine plane in a hole on a taxi strip at the county's Lantana Airport is suing Palm Beach County for $12,000.

The suit was brought by Curt G. Joa in the name of his corporation, Curt J. Joa Inc. He alleged the incident occurred on Feb. 14, 1958, at 6:55 p.m.

He charges the county "negligently and carelessly" failed to provide any lights, markers, or other warning devices at the deep hole. He termed it a dangerous and hazardous condition."

Joa said he taxied his plane into the hole because he was "unable to see and avoid it."

His plane was "wrecked and damaged" to the tune of $8,485, he said. He lost use of the plane during its repair, he said, and asks $12,000 and trial by jury.

Oilman Buys Tract In PB for $1,600,000

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH—Texas Oilman N. B. Hunt, one of America's wealthiest men, Friday completed the initial phase of a seven million dollar investment in local real estate.

Hunt paid $1,600,000 for 640 acres near the intersection of Donald Ross Rd. and State Rd. A1A.

Seller was Bernard Jay of Palm Beach, representative for a group of New York and Palm Beach investors.

Negotiations for the purchase of three adjoining tracts, which have a price tag in the neighborhood of $5,500,000, are scheduled to be completed next week, according to Arthur Murray, executive vice president of A. E. and R. F. Raidle, Palm Beach realtors.

Hunt is president of Hunt Oil Co. of Dallas, Tex.

Miamian Killed

SOUTH BAY — (AP) — A 65-year-old Miami woman was killed last night when the car in which she was riding collided with a tractor-trailer on U.S. 27, 12 miles south of this Lake Okeechobee community.

Mrs. Gates Ferguson, 725 NE 22nd St., died of head injuries, the highway patrol said. Her husband was admitted to Belle Glade Hospital with a broken hip.

DeMille's Last Movie Advice: 'Dirt Not Always Pay Dirt'

Nightlife with George Bourke

DURING the past 18 months Joseph Laitin taped interviews with the greats of the film industry and is broadcasting the edited result over KNX radio in Hollywood this current weekend under the title of "The Changing Face of Hollywood." Some of the quotes are extremely interesting but none is more pertinent than the posthumous caution of Cecil B. DeMille who said: "Our greatest danger from within the industry is worship of the golden calf. Dirt is not necessarily pay dirt."

And exhibitions won't cheer Jane Russell's contribution to the forum: "If I could sit and see a good picture at home I would never go out," she is quoted out of context as saying. Always the kitchen cynic, Shelley Winters commented that: "The trouble (with the star system) is the way it's set up now, you become a star and then get enough money to study acting."

Treniers Join Variety Show

THE TRENIERS, one of the big hits of last year's Variety Show of Shows benefit at the Miami Beach Auditorium have agreed to try a repeat this year. They'll take time out from their chores at the Riot Room on the night of Feb. 5 to join Bob Hope in raising funds for the Variety Children's Hospital. Tickets are available at the auditorium or at the Variety Club, Miami Colonial Hotel for from $2.50 to $20 . . .

Claire Kelly, former wife of George DeWitt is under pressure from actor Perry Lopez to "Name That Time." For the wedding bells, that is . . . Roger Vadim, who discovered Brigitte Bardot, is hoping lightning will strike twice—he has a 15-year-old protege named Gillian Hills who is expected to make Bardot look like a plateau.

Brave fellow is Claude Chabrol, a French film-critic. He's turned producer! . . . Emerson Buckley, bearded musical conductor, is at the Algiers. Stay away from Havana, E.B., or they'll pin a 26th of July armband on you. Incidentally, Fidel Castro's $250-a-day suite at the Havana-Hilton is on the 23rd floor, three shy of the 26th.

Gale One of Greats of the Day

BETTER HURRY around to Ciro's to grab a look and a laugh at comedian Alan Gale. Alan is considering a stab at serious theater and if you know Alan's determination you know that the "stab" will be a successful operation. So enjoy him while you can without taking a trip to the Broadway theater belt. Gale is truly one of the great cafe performers of our time. Although he always has an act or three on his bills, just for variety, he is as much the one-man show as is Victor Borge, or Red Skelton. He dominates any room he is in with his alternating sallies of wisdom and wit.

Claude Trenier
. . . benefit

Barbara McNair
. . . talent

Ferde Grofe, Sr.
. . . Disneyed

Sid Kuller and company have been working overtime making adjustments on Copa City's "Jump for Joy," which, in its opening night version, was joyful but didn't have the "jump" you'd expect of a show boasting of the talents of Duke Ellington, Barbara McNair, Timmie Rodgers, Stump and Stumpy and other Negro show personalities.

One of the additions has been a frenzied production number featuring the primitive rhythms of song and dance which were the mainstay of every successful colored revue that ever hit the boards of theater or cafe.

Lend-a-Hand Tickets on Sale

ADD TITLE CHANGES: The SIM to DIER. SIM was the Military Intelligence Service of the Batista regime. DIER, its successor (accent on the first three letters?) is Department of Investigation of Revolutionary Army.

Producer Rex Carlton—didn't he make a movie here once with Lili St. Cyr? — is producing "Witchcraft," with Linda Christian and Robert Alda . . . And Ferde Grofe, Jr., and Buddy Rogers are making one called "The Sea Witch." Sounds like Halloween around the corner.

Incidentally, Ferde Grofe, Sr., will be represented on the preview premiere bill with "Sleeping Beauty" for the benefit of Lend-a-Hand on Feb. 10 at the Sheridan Theater. His Grand Canyon Suite has been translated into pictorial terms and made into a featurette by Walt Disney.

Some of the Grofe arrangement was used in "Fantasia," which Disney made more than 10 years ago and which pioneered with stereophonic processes just coming into use.

Tickets for the Lend-a-Hand benefit showing of the $6,000,000 wide-screen film may be had at the Sheridan and Florida Theaters or at The Miami Herald.
